Castro Raps Acquittal, 45 Face Retrial

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday denounced a Santiago tribunal's acquittal of 45 airmen of mass murder charges as "a great error" and a service to ex-Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Prosecutor Lt. Antonio Cejas already has appealed the verdict and the airmen are in jail pending a new trial to be held in a few days before another tribunal.

Castro said in a statement published by Revolucion, organ of the revolutionary government, that the prosecution has as much right of appeal as the defense "if the sentence is not just."

Demonstrators ranged through Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, shouting protests against the acquittal. The protests abated after announcement of the prosecution's appeal.

The court held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of Batista's campaign against Castro.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente Province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

Fidel Plans U.S. Visit In April

NEW ORLEANS — (AP) — Fidel Castro, prime minister of Cuba, on April 17 will make his first visit to the U.S. since he overthrew the Batista Regime.

George W. Healy Jr., president of the American Society of the Newspaper Editors, said Tuesday he had received a definite acceptance from Castro of the society's invitation to speak at its annual meeting in Washington.

The cablegram received here by Healy read:

"I accept a cordial invitation which you have sent me in behalf of the American Society of Newspaper Editors to address your convention in Washington April 17th.

"The Cuban embassy in Washington will furnish you with the information you request about the persons who will accompany me as soon as practicable."

The message was signed "Fidel Castro."

Missourians Elect Demo

KANSAS CITY — (AP) — William J. Randall, a Democrat, was elected to Congress from the fourth Missouri district Tuesday to succeed the late George H. Christopher, also a Democrat, who died last Jan. 23.

Unofficial returns from 347 of 445 precincts in the special election gave Randall 23,353 votes to 16,513 for William R. McKee Jr., his Republican opponent.

McElroy to Quit Late This Year

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Defense Secretary Neil H. McElroy probably will resign late this year unless President Eisenhower presses him to stay on, informed sources said Tuesday.

When he leaves the post, McElroy is expected to return to Proctor and Gamble, the soap company with which he was associated for 32 years before he was sworn in as head of the nation's military establishment on Oct. 9. 1957.

Lou Costello

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Actor Lou Costello, 53, died Tuesday of a heart attack in a Beverly Hills hospital.

The veteran comedian suffered a heart attack a week ago and seemed to be improving, his manager, Eddie Sherman, said.

However, Costello suffered another attack Tuesday, which was fatal.

Sherman said Costello's wife, Ann, was visiting him and left just before he died at 6:55 p.m. Miami time.

He said the attack a week ago was followed by a blood clot.

ABBOTT

One of the first to be informed was his long-time partner in comedy and close friend, Bud Abbott.

When told of Costello's death, he sobbed and in a barely understandable voice said — "I can't talk now, call me back later please.

"I was sitting here watching re-runs of our old TV show," Abbott cried. "We were doing the 'Who's on First' bit. And I was laughing my head off. Then

Yanks Hide in Bolivia

Embassy Staff Flees Rioters

LA PAZ, Bolivia —(AP)— The U.S. embassy staff here went into hiding Tuesday to escape demonstrations set off by a Time Magazine article that enraged Bolivians. The Bolivian government itself was harassed by a tin miners' strike.

The embassy personnel were reported to have slipped out under guard and taken refuge near the seething two-mile-high capital.

Meanwhile, police in Bogota, Colombia, battled thousands of students Tuesday in a revival of the political warfare that has ravaged that country for a decade. The mobs screamed accusations against the regime of President Alberto Lleras Camargo.

Authorities claimed they had rioters under control Tuesday night.

The cabinet met in emergency session. Bogota's streets were littered with broken glass, stones and automobile tires. Dozens of rioters were reported under arrest.

In a nationwide broadcast, Lleras urged students not to take part in the demonstrations. He blamed Communists and opposition leaders for the disorders.

He also linked the agitators with friends of former Dictator Gustavo Rojas Pinilla, who is now being tried by the Colombian senate. During the past week Rojas has used his trial as a tribunal to attack the Lleras government.

Bolivian officials and businessmen paraded late Tuesday past the Government Palace in a new demonstration against the Time Magazine article. The article quotes a member of the U. S. embassy as suggesting the country solve its troubles by being split up among its neighbors.

One man was killed in Tuesday's flare-up. Dr. Juan Maldonado, a dentist, was caught in the middle of a clash between demonstrators and police. He died of injuries in a La Paz hospital shortly afterward.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official. It said he made the following assertion as a "wisecrack":

"The only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

(In Washington, Acting Secretary of State Christian Herter told Ambassador Manuel Barrau that "relations between the U.S. and Bolivia and the attitude we have demonstrated to both government and the people of Bolivia belie any such statement."

(Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N.H.) told newsmen he favored sending U.S. troops to La Paz if mob violence continues. He also said foreign aid to the country should be stopped).

Time's article said only U.S. aid has saved Bolivia from economic catastrophe since the uprising of 1952 rushed the nation "straight from semi-feudalism into South America's most advanced social revolution."

In New York, Henry R. Luce, editor-in-chief of Time, issued a statement expressing regret that a story in his magazine had "been made the occasion for expressions of unfriendliness toward the U.S." He said the story "was a factual analysis of Bolivia's economic difficulties."

It's Our First Breakthrough of Earth's Gravity

By JOHN W. FINNEY
The New York Times Service

WASHINGTON — America's Pioneer IV, a small, gold-plated capsule of instruments, soared toward the vicinity of the moon Tuesday night, on the way to an orbital rendezvous with the sun.

After a year of planning and four successive failures, the U.S. finally succeeded in breaking the bonds of the earth's gravity and sending a rocket payload into outer space.

The 13.4-pound Pioneer IV, launched by a 60-ton Army rocket from Cape Canaveral early Tuesday morning, was following an S-shaped trajectory. It was expected to pass the moon at a distance of 38,000 miles and go on into an elliptical orbit around the sun.

By early Tuesday night, the lunar capsule had completed 118,852 miles on its 250,000-mile trip to the vicinity of the moon, thus going farther into space than any previous U.S. rocket.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration, which sponsored the successful lunar probe experiment, predicted Pioneer IV would pass by the moon at 2 p.m. today — some 38 hours after it left the launching pad.

As a scientific experiment, Pioneer IV was pronounced an unqualified success" by Space Administrator officials. Its instruments and small, battery-powered radio transmitter were reported working perfectly, sending back a stream of new information about radiation in space.

The Pioneer lunar probe program, first authorized by the Defense Department in March a year ago, had failed, however, in one of its principal objectives of having the U.S. first in the race to the vicinity of the moon. Instead the trail was blazed in January by the Soviet Union, which sent a much heavier payload — the 795-pound 'Lunik' to 4,660 miles from the moon and then into orbit around the sun.

Starting last August, the Air Force had tried three times and the Army once to shoot a rocket to the moon, only to have the rocket misfire or to have the payload come tumbling back to earth. Success finally came belatedly on the last of the originally-authorized lunar probe attempts.

President Eisenhower, who was informed of the launching on arising Tuesday morning, sent his "warm congratulations" to the Space Administration and Army team for their "splendid achievement."

The successful launching, Eisenhower said in a letter to Dr. T. Keith Glennan, director of the Space Administration, "marks yet another major step in scientific space exploration.

"The scientific information that is being sent back by its instruments should provide important additions to man's

Girl, 11, Offers Ike Her $61

By EDDIE GONG
Herald Staff Writer

Kathy Hewitt, 11, grew concerned when she heard about the national debt.

She concluded that grownups weren't going to do anything but let it get bigger and bigger.

So Kathy took action. Steering clear of the complexities of higher economics, Kathy took the direct approach in a letter to President Eisenhower.

She offered the President her $61 in life savings, and added: "You don't have to pay it back."

That wasn't easy for Kathy, daughter of Mr. and Mrs Harry E. Hewitt of 12445 SW 46th St. A fifth grader at Royal Palm Elementary School, Kathy has been saving up to buy a horse.

But she told Ike the horse didn't matter if the country was going bankrupt.

Tuesday, the White House answered Kathy. Ike was grateful, said Presidential Assistant Wilton B. Persons, but he wants Kathy to keep her money and buy the horse — which will cost $600 in all.

Grownups, the letter said, should worry about the national debt.

"The President wants me to explain to you," Persons told Kathy, "that young people do their part by being good citizens."

Feeling a little better about the state of the economy, Kathy put the money back in her bank account.

"But I still believe that our country is more important than luxury," Kathy said.

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Senate Interior and Insular Affairs Committee Tuesday unanimously approved and sent to the Senate a bill to make Hawaii the 50th state.

New Cold Pushing Into State

A new cold front pushing into North Florida may bring showers and a bit cooler weather to Miami late today.

But the Weather Bureau said Tuesday that even if it does get chilly again tonight, it won't be bad.

The chill from a cold front that drifted over South Florida during the weekend was blown off Tuesday by south and southeasterly winds. Temperatures during the day pushed well into the 70s after Tuesday morning lows ranging from 42 at South Miami to 52 at Miami Beach.

It wasn't expected to go below 60 in the Miami area Tuesday night, and more warm temperatures were forecast for today. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said weathermen weren't sure how much the new cold front would affect Miami later in the day and tonight.

In North Florida, temperatures Tuesday morning hit a low of 34 at Ocala, then warmed up to the 70s during the day. Tonight and Thursday morning, the Weather Bureau said, temperatures might be "near the danger point" in the northern part of the state because of the new front.

'Featherbedding' Rapped

Engineers Union Hits 4-Man Crew

WASHINGTON—(AP)—A labor union, accusing another of feather-bedding, Tuesday asked the government to determine that a fourth crewman aboard jet airplanes is not only unnecessary but unsafe.

George R. Petty Jr., president of the Flight Engineers International Union, made the request to the Federal Aviation Agency.

He coupled this with a demand that another government agency, the Civil Aeronautics Board, cancel airmail payments to three airlines. He said they are wasting money by carrying a fourth crewmen on jet planes.

Petty said that American Airlines, Eastern Air Lines and Pan American World Airways, by employing a third pilot and flight engineer as a four-man crew aboard new jets, are "using taxpayers' money to pay for a featherbedding demand imposed by the Air Line Pilots Assn."

Featherbedding is the practice of requiring more employes than are needed to do the work at hand.

Petty's engineers union and the Air Line Pilots Association have been in a running fued for some time. Petty's group contends that the ALPA has been seeking to put the engineers out of business and take over Flight Engineer Union representation in a single airline operating worker union.

The rash of airline strikes last fall was pitched in part around this feud. The ALPA claimed engineers should have pilot training.

Major airlines have settled on a basis that adds a third pilot to jet crews, in addition to the flight engineer.

Petty wrote retired Gen. Elwood R. Quesada, head of the Federal Aviation Agency, saying the flight engineers not only question the need for the third pilot in jet cockpits but said a third pilot might actually interfere with safe operation of jet planes.

Pilots File Suit Over Assessments

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Two airline pilots filed suit Tuesday charging that the Air Line Pilots Association officials' improperly assessed members to pay benefits to Capital and Eastern Air Lines pilots when they were idled last fall by strikes called by other unions.

The complaint asked that Federal District Court hold the assessments null and void, restrain union officials from fining or expelling members for non-payment, and order credited against future dues any payments that have been made under the assessments.

The suit was filed before Federal District Judge Philip L. Sullivan by James R. Eads of Sepulveda, Calif., a pilot for Trans World Airlines, and Lawrence S. Shapiro of Los Angeles, a pilot for United Air Lines.

It named as defendants Clarence N. Sayen, president of ALPA, and Don J. Smith, union treasurer.

New Pioneering Spirit Is Rejuvenating Old Areas

Miami Beach--Where What's Past Is Future

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

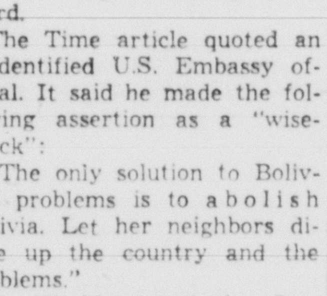
It's utterly unthinkable to most hep visitors to Miami Beach at the winter season peak to check into anything except the latest of hotels. Each year since World War II, as new palaces have sprung up literally out of the water, the affluent tourists have leap-frogged northward with the hotels on this most fabulous resort beach in the world. To be fashionable, one has had to be seen in the latest version of a French chateau or Arab harem.

But while by Miami Beach yardsticks the newest is automatically the best, this year on my annual trek to the sun I rebelled.

Back to the comparatively "unfashionable" southern area and into one of Miami Beach's oldest hotels I went. And there, to my delight, I not only rediscovered the charm, the dignity and spaciousness of an "ancient" Miami Beach inn; I also stumbled on an exciting new tale of pioneering.

Coming directly from Louisville, Ky., where businessmen are quibbling over the need for sprucing up structures dating from the 19th century, I still find it hard to believe that in Miami Beach, any luxury hotel over five years is no longer considered in the luxury class, any building over 15 years is "old," any in the 20-30 year group, no matter how grand, is an "antique!"

Nevertheless, this is a fact, as awesome as any other aspect about this place. Although the Roney Plaza, the hotel in which I stayed, would be a showplace in most other resort cities, here it is out of date.



SYLVIA -

Although it has been filled to capacity during this season of spectacularly good weather, rumors persist that the Roney will be significantly expanded so it can fight the brutal competition from the new marvels. And therein lies the story.

For what is starting to happen here is the rediscovery and rejuvenation of the original Miami Beach. Even as the fickle, fad-conscious tourists concentrate on new areas, astute financiers and businessmen are concentrating on revolutionizing the old.

In Miami Beach, the South Beach was developed first as the prime property in the 1920s but while its location is as superb as ever, the area has been deteriorating rapidly. Now, though, the largest construction venture in the entire state of Florida — a 1,600-room, 500-unit apartment building — is going up in this section, and business leaders believe this will spark a restoration of the South Shore as a region for permanent residents.

Says Nathan S. Gumenick, builder of the Southgate: "We will revive the South Beach with apartments in every income range. We'll prove you don't have to be a millionaire to live on the Beach, and by so doing we'll strengthen the Beach's entire economy.

In Miami proper, Biscayne

Ike Asks Mac to U.S. to Talk on Germany

President Wants Idea of How Far Russians Will Go

By the Associated Press

President Eisenhower Tuesday invited Britain's Prime Minister Harold Macmillan to Washington to discuss moves to block Russia's drive to force the Western Allies out of Berlin.

Macmillan is expected to accept promptly, probably flying to Washington late next week after visits to Paris and Bonn.

The White House said the British leader was asked to come at his convenience. It had been widely anticipated that Macmillan would come here to report on his talks with Russian Premier Nikita Khrushchev.

Officials said they expect Macmillan to give his appraisal of how far Khrushchev will go in his professed determination to end four-power rule in Berlin by May 27.

At about the same time the White House was disclosing the invitation to Macmillan, Moscow reiterated it intends to turn over to the Communist East Germans authority over the West's access routes to Berlin.

The timing appeared to some observers to be a deliberate slap at Macmillan, who returned to London Tuesday from a 10-day visit to Russia.

On his arrival in London, Macmillan said he and Russian leaders did not agree on many important issues, but he added:

"These talks were all the better for being frank . . . We did agree that these vital problems of Central Europe should be settled by negotiation and not by force."

Macmillan said an aim of his Washington, Bonn and Paris trips will be to "concert Allied views" on the future of Germany and on what to do if the Russians put the East Germans in control of access to West Berlin and seal off the city from the West.

An air of urgency surrounded the rapid preparations for Macmillan's tour of Allied capitals. Responsible British informants admitted Russia may negotiate a separate peace treaty with East Germany before any East-West foreign ministers' meeting.

Moscow radio Tuesday night disclosed details of a British-Soviet non-aggression treaty proposed to Prime Minister Macmillan during his visit to the Soviet Union.

The treaty would bind both sides in a 20-year pledge to refrain from attacking each other and to withhold assistance from any aggressor state.

There was a provision that "any European state as well as the United States of America" may join the treaty.

Khrushchev will arrive in Leipzig, East Germany, today for three days of strategy talks with East German leaders on the Berlin crisis.

The official purpose of his trip is to visit the spring fair there. Khrushchev will also address a mass meeting in Leipzig this afternoon.

Miami Asks Gas Tax Hike

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Miami City Commissioners asked the Dade legislative delegation Tuesday to support a one-cent additional gasoline tax—the money to remain in the municipality where collected.

Commissioner B. E. Hearn Sr. said the cities desperately need the revenue to cope with increasing wear and tear on streets.

"Other cities also are clamoring for this help," Hearn told legislators at the closing session of pre-legislative public hearings.

Dade County Metro officials have gone on record urging passage of a one-cent additional gasoline tax.

A warning that anti-Metro forces may attempt to upset Dade's metropolitan home rule was voiced by a spokeswoman for the Dade League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Charles Whiteacre urged legislators to be on guard and "protect us from any legislation which might take away the gains for which we have fought so hard."

Rep. Cliff Herrell said he had heard rumors of such legislation but had seen no bills which might jeopardize Metro.

Bob Hope Confident

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bob Hope entered Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday for examination of his ailing left eye, remarking confidently: "I'm going to be all right."

Dr. Algernon Reese, clinical professor of ophthalmology at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was waiting to examine Hope.

An aide said Hope still was able to play golf, one of his favorite sports, but was limited to nine holes three times a week.

The aide said Hope suffered an eye hemorrhage shortly after his return from an overseas tour of armed forces bases Dec. 29. The aide said the only sign of this hemorrhage was a slight dizziness which comes on with any sudden movement.

Admiral Warns Of Sub Warfare

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke said Tuesday a day-to-day possibility of Russian submarine warfare against the free world's ocean commerce demands constant alertness.

The chief of naval operations spoke of this possibility in an address at the Navy League's annual symposium on seapower. This year the two-day session is devoted to the subject to Anti-Submarine Warfare.

The Navy sent some of its top-ranking officials and experts on the subject to the symposium, including Rear Adm. Charles E. Weakley, executive officer for anti-submarine warfare readiness in the office of the chief of naval operations. The league is a civilian organization of Navy supporters.

Burke said that:

"We know that the employment of submarines by an enemy need not necessarily be confined to a major war. A war of naval attrition — of commerce attrition — fought almost exclusively at sea could pose a very serious problem for the free world.

"Enemy submarine action against free world shipping would not necessarily require the use of nuclear weapons. This makes the ever-present threat even more serious. It is a day-to-day possibility against which U.S. naval forces must be alert constantly, day and night, no matter where our ships sail."

The admiral also commented that to the threats of attacks on commerce there now has been added the menace posed by missile-launching submarines. This, said Burke, "brings the problem right to our homeland."

Dulles Given Atomic Gold

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Doctors gave Secretary of State John Foster Dulles an injection of radioactive gold Tuesday in a new attempt to control his abdominal cancer.

An announcement through the State Department said this treatment was decided upon by a panel of medical experts meeting at Walter Reed Hospital "to reinforce" his regular X-ray treatment.

The X-ray treatments from the Army hospital's million-volt machine will be resumed "in a few days," it was announced.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the radioactive gold was given in fluid form as an injection directly into the abdominal cavity.

9 Students Drown in Bus Plunge

TIFTON, Ga., —(UPI)— A school bus jammed with more than 80 Negroes plunged into a pond Tuesday, and authorities said at least nine were drowned.

Three children were hospitalized for effects of shock, exposure and minor injuries. The other frightened children who were pulled safely through windows of the bus were sent to their homes.

Driver Doyer Jones, 40, who had been making the bus route rounds for 23 years, said his bus hit two bumps in succession on the dirt road, causing him to lose control "unavoidably."

The bus turned over on its right side and plunged into the water. The vehicle was about two-thirds submerged.

The accident happened near the community of Brookfield, about seven miles east of Tifton.

Jones said he kicked out the window at the driver's seat mounted the overturned bus, kicked out other windows and hoisted to safety screaming children who were standing on top of other children.

"The larger ones were standing on the little small ones," Jones said. "That's what caused so much trouble. Those (the small ones) were the ones we lost."

Jones said two white men from nearby farm houses helped him lift some of the larger children through the windows. Someone reached a telephone and soon an array of emergency apparatus was put into use.

'Pioneer' Zips Near The Moon

knowledge of the universe," the President wrote.

Because of slight errors in aiming and velocity, the cone-shaped, 20-inch-long capsule will not pass quite as close to the moon as had been planned. The original hope had been that the payload would come within 15,000 to 20,000 miles of the moon, but tracking information, fed into an electronic computer at Pasadena, Calif., showed the vehicle would miss the moon by about 38,000 miles.

The rocket, however, fell some 95 miles per hour short of the planned velocity of 24,985 miles per hour. Even with this shortcoming, however, the payload exceeded by 305 miles an hour the velocity necessary for it to escape from the earth's gravitational pull and to soar out into space to become caught as an artificial asteroid of the sun.

The rocket also pointed itself at least one degree — and perhaps as much as two degrees — below the flat trajectory calculated to intercept the moon as it orbits in counter-clockwise direction around the earth.

As a result of the aiming and velocity errors, Pioneer IV will pass farther ahead of the moon and at a greater distance below it than had been planned. The lunar trip also will take four more hours than the original 34-hour estimate.

As it climbed into space, Pioneer IV was gradually being slowed down by the tug of the earth's gravity. By 5 p.m. Tuesday, for instance, the vehicle was travelling at a speed of 5,498 miles per hour and had reached an altitude of 118,852 miles above the earth's surface. Because of the wider-than-planned miss of the moon, Pioneer IV is not expected to be able to carry out some of its contemplated experiments.

There were no calculations of the satellite's position released after the early Tuesday evening figures.

Cat Lovers Give Arthur the Bird

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Arthur Godfrey raised the dander of cat owners Tuesday by complaining to his nationwide radio audience that cats were killing song birds and quail on his farm.

He brought the matter up by announcing the American Feline Society had sent him a letter addressed "Dear Friend of Cats" and asking him to join, despite several public complaints he had made about cats dining on his quail.

"This is a canard, to begin with," Godfrey said. "I want you to know I am no friend of cats. But I've got nothing against cats at all, except I don't want to catch them wandering around in our bird covers looking for quail."

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline Society, said his telephone began ringing immediately after the show and never stopped all day. Every call, he said, was a vigorous protest against Godfrey's charge.

"Mr. Godfrey hit a sensitive nerve when he alleged that cats are destroying song birds and covies of quail on his farm," Kendell declared. "It is not so, and we have considerable statistics to disprove Mr. Godfrey's statement."

Kendell cited a scientific report made on the examination of the contents of the stomachs of 193 cats killed in highway accidents in 1955. This report showed that the cats had consumed mice, rabbits, rats, table scraps, turtles, fish, pork, grasshoppers, chickens, grass, herbs and other matter, he said, but not one single bird.

"In all probability," Kendell said, "only man kills for sport while an animal kills generally only for food or out of fear."

Kendell claimed that no cat can move fast enough to capture an adult, healthy bird. All birds have such keen vision that it would be impossible for a cat to strike one down, even from behind, he said.

Beach Looks To Its Past For Future

Blvd. also was developed first as a key site for hotels and commercial buildings in the 1920s. It, too, has been rapidly losing out to newer sections in the mushrooming city.

Today, though, nearly every hotel along the Biscayne strip — the McAllister, the Columbus, the Colonial, etc. — has had its face lifted, re-lifted or even veiled entirely with a new exterior in the last few years. New buildings are going up as well. And now being finished is a complete overhaul of the Everglades Hotel, Miami's largest. Says its owner, Vaughan B. Connelly, who is pouring millions into the improvements: "Without this rebuilding, this area would be rushing headlong for ruin, but with it, we'll force an upgrading throughout the region to meet our competition. The whole section will be reinvigorated."

These are just two illustrations; I could submit many more. For in 30 years, this city has gone through cycles that usually aren't covered by cities in a century or more.

First came the feverish, speculative development of the '20s — a boom killed by the land crash later in that decade.

Then came this dazzling decade of the '50s — with its new skyscraper hotels year after year, its lush nightclubs, worldwide publicity.

Now comes the third phase and rebuilding of areas settled so short a time ago — a pioneering all over again.

Miami Beach truly is a city of fantasy. Here, even time has different dimensions, and the past becomes the future under our eyes.

Costello teamed with Abbott in 1930, after breaking into the entertainment business by the vaudeville route. The two formed one of Hollywood's most successful comedy teams, but Costello split with his partner recently and had not been active in the movies.

Costello was born in Paterson, N.J., and after working at a few odd jobs, including those of new boy, soda fountain clerk and salesman, he got a job in burlesque.

Teaming with Abbott, his first movie venture was the picture, "Caribbean Holiday." They made many films together and were among the top 10 money-making stars in the Motion Picture Hall of Fame poll from 1941 through 1944, and from 1948 through 1951.

The "Who's on First" baseball routine the two developed was one of the most famous in modern movie comedy and was played in person, too, before Presidents of the U.S.

Costello was working in a Brooklyn burlesque house when he and Abbott got together.

Their rise to fame was rapid after that.

Although it wasn't generally known, Costello was a standout basketball player for many years before he got interested in show business.

In later years, Costello devoted much of his time to youth work and set up a foundation for this purpose.

Fiery Crash Fatal to 27

CORTAZAR, Mexico—(UPI) — Twenty-seven persons were killed and seven others were injured seriously Tuesday when a passenger bus crashed into a stalled truck on the Pan American highway near this Guanajuato state town.

The bus burst into flames and most of the dead were burned beyond recognition.

Veteran Mayor Concedes Defeat

BALTIMORE — (AP) — Veteran Mayor Thomas D'Alesandro, seeking his fourth straight four-year term in office, Tuesday night conceded defeat to J. Harold Grady in the Democratic municipal primary election.

The handsome, 42-year-old state's attorney had piled up a commanding lead on the basis of unofficial returns from about two-thirds of the city's precincts. With 399 of the 572 polling places reporting, Grady had 67,598 votes to 49,876 for D'Alesandro.

It virtually assured Grady, a former FBI agent, of a smashing victory over the heretofore well-entrenched D'Alesandro political organization.

National Summary

Sunny mild weather across the southern half of the country produced 50 degree readings from Nevada to Kansas and 70s in Florida by noon and raised the mercury to 80 degrees at Thermal, California in mid forenoon. Most of the nation's precipitation was associated with cool air flowing across the Midwest into the Appalachians and cooling Pacific winds urged inland by high pressure off the Northwest coast.

Chilly 20 and 30 degree temperature ranges and numerous snow flurries were common through low pressure circulation extending from Canada across the Great Lakes region and a few showers drifted through the Ohio Valley. A narrow band of rain and snow stretched from New York state into Georgia and Alabama marking the cold front approaching sunny 50 and 60 degree warmth in the mid and south Atlantic states. Some rain reached into western sections of the Carolinas and Virginia by early afternoon and snow was noted in the hills as far south as Tennessee. By tomorrow cooler air will restore generally fair weather through he east and develop showers into southern Florida.

BURDINE'S

Writer Used Poem to Voice Faith

By JIM BISHOP

Go With God

The Bronte sisters, Emily Jane (1818-1848), Anne (1820-1849), and Charlotte (1816-1855), were the daughters of an Anglican clergyman of Irish birth. The sisters wrote under pseudonyms, and their identities were not generally known until after the deaths of Emily and Anne.

Emily Bronte overcame every sort of discouragement in becoming the author of one of the world's greatest novels, Wuthering Heights. In a poem that is a prayer, she expressed the faith that sustained her through life. These were the last lines she wrote for publication:

No coward soul is mine,
I see Heaven's glories shine,
And faith shines equal, arming me from fear.
O God within my breast,
Almighty, ever-present Deity!
Life — that in me has rest,
As I — undying Life — have power in Thee!
Vain are the thousand creeds,
That move men's hearts:
Unutterably vain; worthless as withered weeds,
Or idlest froth amid the boundless main,
To waken doubt in one
Holding so fast by Thine infinity;
So surely anchored on
The steadfast rock of immortality.
With wide-embracing love
Thy Spirit animates eternal years,
Pervades and broods above,
Changes sustains, dissolves, creates and rears.
Though earth and man were gone,
And suns and universes cease to be,
Every existence would exist in Thee.
There is not room for Death,
Nor atom that his might could render void;
Thou — Thou art Being and Breath,
And what Thou art may never be destroyed.

—Emily Bronte

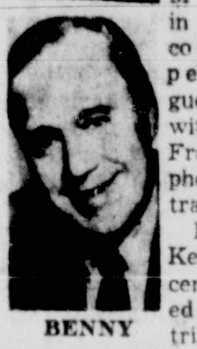
Fiddler Jack Benny's a Union Man Now

By the Associated Press

PEOPLE



BENNY

JACK BENNY has a Musicians' Union card now.

The comedian received an honorary membership card in the American Federation of Musicians in San Francisco during an appearance as guest violinist with the San Francisco Symphony Orchestra.

Herman D. Kenin, who recently succeeded James C. Petrillo as president of the AFM, and Charles H. Kennedy, president of San Francisco AFM Local 6, presented the gold card.

Benny's performance with the 100-piece symphony grossed $51,800 to benefit the orchestra's pension fund.

Queen Mother's Plans Slapped

A BRITISH PROTESTANT organization wrote Queen Mother Elizabeth in London that it doesn't like the idea of her calling on Pope John XXIII next month.

The Protestant Truth Society said in the letter that the visit "would be inconsistent with your position as mother of the queen who has declared herself by oath to be a faithful Protestant."

The queen mother plans a six-day visit to Rome April 20-26 on her way back from an African tour. The exact date of her audience with the Pope is not known yet.

Jerry's Son Is Steve Allen

SINGER JERRY LEE LEWIS' five-day-old son has been named Steve Allen Lewis in honor of the television star.

STEVE

Lewis said in Ferriday, La., that Allen helped his career actually and by inspiration.

Steve was born in a Ferriday Hospital Thursday. Lewis' 14-year-old wife, his cousin Myra, had watched her husband perform the night before in Baton Rouge. They raced back to Ferriday so their child could be born in her home town.

Lewis' marriage, his second, made headlines in London last year after authorities there objected to her youth.

Peron's Nelly To Be a Mom

NELLY RIVAS, who gained notoriety as ex-dictator Juan Peron's teen-age sweetheart, is expecting a baby in April.

NELLY

Nelly was only 13, the daughter of a poor Argentine living near the Presidential Palace, when Peron spotted her. He wooed her with furs and jewels that once had belonged to his late wife Eva. The romance became public when his love letters to the young girl were found after he was overthrown and went into exile.

At Last--He'll Lose Bullet

A WORLD WAR II veteran has entered St. Francis Hospital in Roslyn, N.Y. for an operation to remove a bullet from his heart that has been there for 14 years.

Christopher Geyer, 44, was fighting in Germany when he suffered a bullet wound in his chest. It left him paralyzed on the right side and caused complete loss of speech.

He recovered partially, and for many years felt no ill effects, but last December he suffered an attack.

Doctors suggested that modern methods of heart surgery probably could remove the bullet.

Save Battleship, Editor Urges

CARTHAGE, Tenn. —(UPI) — Carthage Courier Publisher Sam Neal proposed that Tennessee raise money to buy the battleship USS Tennessee from the Navy and save it from the scrap heap.

The Navy announced that it plans to scrap a number of obsolete mothballed vessels including the Tennessee. It was commissioned in 1920, and was badly damaged at Pearl Harbor but later participated in many Pacific engagements.

With Another Appointment

Now, Make Metro Work

UNLESS City Commissioner James W. High changes his mind about quitting, filling his seat on the Miami City Commission will be almost as important as the choice of the municipality's new chief executive.

It would be up to the three commissioners who voted together to fire Gen. E. A. Evans as city manager, thus prompting Mr. High to resign.

Their appointment of City Manager Ira Willard will be widely approved. An equally good successor to Commissioner High will convince people of their sincerity, and strengthen the commission for the job ahead.

TWO FIELDS for action are immediately open to the policy-making board of Miami, the core of this metropolitan area. One is to eliminate municipal traffic courts and let the new Metropolitan Court try all traffic cases arising inside the city limits. The other is issuing Metro inspection stickers for motor vehicles.

These may seem like small gestures. Their import will be large if they make clear that a majority of the Miami Commission won't stand for any more efforts to sabotage Metro but, on the contrary, is determined to make it succeed.

The Home Rule Charter makes the 11-man Metro Commission a legislature for all strictly local affairs of countywide scope. This board also is the policy-making body for a council-manager form of administration.

Several things are mandatory under the charter: a single countywide tax roll and unification of tax assessing and collecting by 1961; a single building code, and a single examining system for contractors and all others in the building trades.

The charter empowers Metro to take on other duties. There's countywide planning and coordination of zoning rules to effectuate the metropolitan plan. Another is uniform control of traffic, affirmed by the Florida Supreme Court.

AT THE SAME time, the charter guarantees the existence of the 26 municipalities here "so long as their electors desire." Voters inside city limits are given the exclusive right to change their municipal charters or abolish their cities.

It all adds up to a new form of local government able to unify countywide services and improvements, thus ending duplication, but permitting people inside city limits to tax themselves for "extras" if they want to.

Metro is 591 days old today. Its progress toward reality as "a central metropolitan government" has been slow. This has been due to heel-dragging in city halls and even in the courthouse.

Whole-hearted cooperation from the City of Miami now can advance the cause of efficiency and economy under Metro. That is what the people have been demanding.

The Impatient Americans

A LINE OF TYPE or two in London's respected Daily Mail offers Americans a mirror in which they may find an image.

Commenting on the Berlin crisis and Nikita Khrushchev's rude contributions to that event which so aroused the American cousin, The Daily Mail remarks:

> The Americans have less patience in these matters than the Europeans.

Is a part of our national character the quality of impatience? If so, it is both a strength and a weakness.

Young nations, like young folk, often are impetuous and anxious to get things done — by yesterday at the latest. The way the faces of American cities are remade almost from decade to decade is evidence not alone of over-population and rapid obsolescence but also of nervous vitality.

We are impatient, too, about courts and congresses, Presidents and policies, growth and prosperity, social ills and political infirmities. We make a huge fuss about them. We are accused of hurrying and scurrying in all directions and to no end.

By contrast, it is said of law observance in Britain that the words, "I'll come quietly," are the real basis of British political life.

WHAT OUR contemporary across the seas is trying to point out, however, is that the resolution of the affairs of nations is a solemn-moving thing, achieved by thinking through the great issues. And from a self-admitted nation of muddlers, that is quaint.

As we grow older as a nation the slower impulse is to meditate, to look toward the long and lasting view, and to arrange ourselves accordingly. That is why the State Department's institution of the problem paper, which is a synthesis of the best minds and which the public ought to share to a greater extent, is now standard equipment in shaping policy.

Of course, our patience can become exhausted. But when it operates in a framework of integrity, patriotism, humanity, a sense of history and the distinctions between right and wrong, it is a positive force of great national strength.

Ever Reaching For The Sun

A 13.4-POUND, gold-plated satellite was hurled from the launching pad at Cape Canaveral to probe the solar system in a trajectory around the sun. If all goes well, the United States has laid claim to a small segment of outer space, a whirling island in the eternal universe into which man's works, if not man himself, have now penetrated.

That Russia got there first is of little moment now. The spectacular launching in the Florida midnight was the logical sequel to a series of shoots, each of which added to our store of knowledge, each of which made the Cape's missile men a little more sure of ultimate success.

And now as the Pioneer IV proved its full competence in all the initial functionings of its 300,000-plus parts, the sights are raised and the probings into the unknown go forward. Immediately ahead in this audacious enterprise are an interplanetary probe toward cloud-shrouded Venus, the first penetration of man into space and a rocket hurled into orbit around the moon.

MISSILE LAUNCHING is becoming commonplace. Even as Pioneer IV arched into the sky, the Air Force was trying to track another satellite launched last week that is believed to be circling the earth in a polar orbit. The air is full of man-made moons, American and Russian, ranging from grapefruit-sized balls to giants weighing almost two tons.

The missile industry is booming. It is something to ponder about that the same rockets which lift the satellites into space are capable of delivering warheads of immense destructive power anywhere in the world. The United States, while pushing into space, is also concerned with security in our small cosmos and is giving the missile industry its greatest boom in history. Almost a half million persons have jobs in this industry which produces nothing tangible in a material way but is costing the nation some $6.5 billion this year.

What lies ahead as ambivalent man reaches for the sun while searching frantically for a way to prevent destruction on earth? He may conquer space only to discover that the answers he seeks so urgently lie within himself.

It Isn't The End

Then the closing of the Hialeah race meeting became the signal for hotels to prepare to shut up shop until a new crop of tourists could be harvested in the fall. Winter mansions were shuttered and the natives began moving out of the garage apartments into the homes they had rented out for the "season."

Hialeah closed its successful and eventful meeting yesterday. But the only rush north will be the one of horsemen and horse players to Gulfstream where a 43-day meeting opens today at the track Jimmy Donn rescued from oblivion and weeds, and made into a thing of prominence and beauty.

The track at Hallandale is 20 years old. Its 1939 opening was a sad affair of mishaps and intrigue. The inaugural meeting lasted just three days.

Some thought it never could be successful running the "late dates" that it does. But it has prospered under able management and a climate that has convinced folk of the folly of being in a hurry to get back home.

For 40 Cents, $100 A Year

WOULD IT be a good investment for a family of four to spend 40 cents to save $100 a year?

That's exactly the cost and the estimated saving to Miami families on practically everything they buy, meats, groceries, laundry service, taxi rides — most everything that can be weighed, counted or measured.

Thus a pat on the back is deserved by the city's efficient Weights and Measures Division, Administrator H. E. Howard and his small staff. It is fitting that the pat come this week on the 160th anniversary of passage of the nation's first weights and measures law and creation of the National Bureau of Standards.

The estimated savings here come in the periodic checks of scales, meters and zealous enforcement of laws on packaging and grading.

Some of these regulations have not been easy to put over. There was opposition when Mr. Howard first proposed an ordinance requiring that a merchant offering packaged meats or cheese, for instance, show the price per pound along with the price of the package and its weight, so a housewife might compare values.

Now the merchants like the regulations. They prevent fooling of the public by competitors not so scrupulous. And the public benefits at the table and in the pocketbook.

By The Way

As Y'all Know, It Was Rigged

THE CIVIL War Centennial Commission does not intend to refight that conflict, says Maj. Gen. Ulysses S. Grant III, the chairman.

Maybe that's good, maybe not. There's many a son of Dixie who is pretty sure about how a rematch would come out if promoted on the square.

Voice Of The People

'I Disagree Heartily, But--'

Editor The Herald: Controversy gives more life, vigor and interest to that last surviving link to the old New England town meeting. The Herald's "Voice of the People."

To that end, I want to take sharp issue with Harold A. Whitney's letter on the need for a hale and hearty Secretary of State.

He complains that former Secretaries George Marshall and Dean Acheson, despite their robust health, were an aid to Communism because of gross errors in statecraft in dealing with the U.S.S.R. and China. Inference is that Communism would be no threat nor trouble today if only a Dulles, "aware of Communist menace, and courageous in dealing with it," had held the reins throughout those fateful years.

Mr. Whitney further implies that an ill Dulles is too good a man to displace, and that it should be left to him to decide when, if and-or he should retire.

THE TROUBLE here, of course, is that both Mr. Eisenhower and Mr. Dulles have such a high opinion of the latter's indispensability that they will play the old refrain "while there's life, etc." for too long.

I doubt also that Mr. Whitney could find many unbiased historians who would credit Messrs. Marshall and Acheson only with misdeeds, or Mr. Dulles with that superior statecraft that could single handed have stopped Communism in its tracks.

History, of course, will decide over the years just how and where these three men rank. I'm afraid neither Mr. Whitney nor I are qualified to decide that question today.

But right or wrong, Mr. Whitney is helping develop public opinion by standing up in public and giving us his ideas. I disagree most heartily with what he says, but thank him for speaking out.

Filling Station Perils Property

Editor The Herald: I am a widow who came from the North. I invested the insurance left by my husband in a Normandy Isle apartment building, which I operate to earn my livelihood.

The vacant lot next to my property formerly had a high rating in zoning and was rezoned for a gas station, the lowest rating.

The zoning board voted for the gas station zoning despite the vehement protests of 65 property owners, despite the testimony of the head of the traffic department that it would create a traffic hazard, and despite the fact that there are at least four gas stations four or five blocks away.

Where's Logic Taking Risks?

Editor The Herald: It always amazed me how people will avoid logic to justify a position, even people in high ranking posts of the government such as Dr. Luriston S. Taylor, chief of the atomic and radiation division of the National Bureau of Standards.

What logic can apply to the statement that man must accept the risk of radiation? Should this "philosophy of risk" then be applied to such things as polio or cancer?

If we come up with the same answer as Dr. Taylor to these and other diseases then we would not bother to get shots for the prevention of these sickness, nor would we contribute to the Cancer or Heart Funds. After all, it is only a question of chance that we will be struck by these.

The analogy used by Dr. Taylor just isn't parallel. Whether an individual chooses to smoke and run the risk of lung cancer or whether a government decides to test or use nuclear weapons and annihilate mankind just can not be thought of in the same breath.

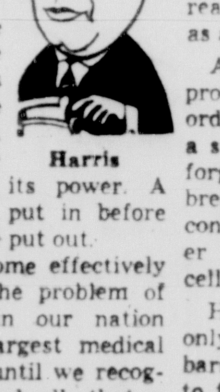
Will Power Not A Cure-All

By SYDNEY J. HARRIS

THERE IS nobody I wish any harm, but there are some persons who almost deserve to break both their legs in an accident — and then have the bystanders say to them, "Use your will power, just stand up and walk!"



Harris

Exhorting the "will" to use its power is as silly and futile as exhorting a dead automobile battery to use its power. A charge must be put in before any power can be put out.

We will not come effectively to terms with the problem of mental illness in our nation (which is the largest medical problem today) until we recognize, for once and all, that a person with crippled emotions is no more able to behave normally than a person with broken legs is able to walk normally.

We can walk with a strain or even with a sprain; we grit out teeth, summon our inner resolve, and take painful steps. But not with a major break — and if we try, it only gets worse.

* * *

WHAT obtuseness prevents most people from seeing that a fractured personality is as real, as painful and as disabling as a fractured femur?

A patient with deep emotional problems (I don't mean the ordinary kind we all have) is a slave bound in chains he has forged himself. He can no more break these chains by his own conscious volition than a prisoner can escape from a barred cell.

His "will power" can operate only after someone has cut the bars and shown the way out to freedom. To be locked within one's own distorted personality is the most cramping of solitary confinements.

Yet millions of decent, humane, well-meaning relatives and friends of such neurotic prisoners can offer them little more than the buck-up-and-take-a-grip-on-yourself treatment. And then these relatives and friends are resentful when this pathetic advice is not gratefully received and promptly acted upon.

* * *

THE BEST of modern theologians — such as the Protestant Reinhold Niebuhr, the Catholic Jacques Maritain, the Jewish Martin Buber — have understood this and have written about it sympathetically; but the great mass of "religious" laymen still cling to the naive belief that all a neurotic needs is "faith" or "courage" or "will power" to emerge from his dungeon into the sunlight of reality.

Each age has its own superstition, which it confuses with religion; and the superstition of our age is the stubborn conviction that a mental ailment can somehow be cured by moral means.

Behind The Front Page

Symbols Have Way Of Indexing Base

By JOHN PENNEKAMP

IN THOSE DAYS, it still was called the divorce evil, and studies were being made try to find a cure.

That was before Nevada, and later Florida, went into the business of easy divorces for economic gain, and divorce became a more or less accepted practice.

"What is the principal cause of divorce?" was the question frequently put to such authorities as Judges Ben Lindsey of Denver and Charles Hoffman of Cincinnati, contemporaries, who "wrote the book" for domestic relations court guidance.

Pennekamp

Their answers never were the sweeping, assured decisions of so many experts in today's related fields.

"It's hard to say," Judge Hoffman would respond.

He'd cite the example of a woman who complained that her husband annoyed her with his habit of chewing toothpicks. Another didn't like her husband's habit of tapping a pencil on the arm of his chair while reading.

Then there was the husband who didn't like his wife's addiction to Alice Blue color in dresses, and another who objected to his wife kicking off her shoes around the house.

* * *

"BUT," HE would say, "those aren't the underlying causes of divorce, although the testimony frequently isn't much more substantial.

"Such things are symbols that highlight themselves after more vital considerations have intruded.

"Decisions to ask for a divorce usually are the outgrowth of some development that has been going on for years, the full force of which has a way of symbolizing itself in an incidental thing.

"After a long experience a judge gets to know when more basic and fundamental matters are involved in spite of the relatively trivial testimony."

* * *

The fundamental opposition to him by a commission majority highlighted itself, for instance, in the Christmas cocktail party which he gave at his home and charged to his tax-paid expense account.

"That wasn't a city party," said one of the commissioners who attended. "The invitations were from the Evanses, not the City of Miami. And the party was at their home, not at the Miami Springs Country club or some other city-owned property."

It was emphasized again when the police blockades were thrown up in crowded Sunday traffic and the commissioners felt the brunt of public resentment.

"We weren't told ahead of hand," they explained, "but were asked to approve the blockades after the hell raising started."

Another instance was the decision last year to compel automobile owners to have their automobile hub caps numbered and registered.

That brought on objections approaching a mutiny. Again the commissioners felt they were carrying the punishment they did not evoke.

These, and similar situations had easy to understand, dramatic qualities which the citizen was ready to talk about.

* * *

IN THE PUBLIC scales they weighed heavily, having earlier provocation in the city manager's leadership in support of the tax finance campaign for the amendment to weaken Metropolitan Home Rule government.

Also, the almost overnight switch from the port plan offered by Evans' friend, Dr. George Fox Mott of Washington to the island building project in the bay on which some $500,000 of engineering fees already have been expended.

Where will General Evans go from here?

Relatively uninformed guesses would be:

He will be urged as the probable general manager of Interama, as successor to County Manager O. W. (Hump) Campbell if he is unseated; as a lobbyist in Tallahassee for the anti-Metro Florida League of Municipalities, the extra-gasoline tax advocates and similar movements.

Today And Tomorrow

Nation's Top Jobs Not For Amateurs

By WALTER LIPPMANN

THE NEWS that Secretary McElroy may be resigning in a few months raises a serious question about the prevailing standards of public service.

Lippmann

It appears that when the President approached Mr. McElroy about appointing him to what is surely one of the most difficult and most responsible offices in the government, they came to an understanding that Mr. McElroy might serve for a very limited period only. The reason for this seems to have been that Mr. McElroy could take only so much leave of absence from his business without sacrificing certain financial benefits for which he is eligible.

When we remember that what is at stake is the office of Secretary of Defense, it is necessary to ask whether Mr. McElroy should have laid down or that the President should have agreed to the conditions under which his appointment was made.

* * *

THIS LIMITED period of service was just about long enough for Mr. McElroy to begin to learn to be Secretary of Defense. He is a bright and intelligent man, but he had had no background of experience in the military establishment and no important experience in public life.

The Defense Department is an enormously complex organization, and the great issues on which the secretary must pass are highly technical ones in the field of strategy, tactics, engineering, production and research. Moreover, he is the key man in the relations between the armed services and Congress.

Eighteen months are perhaps enough for a reasonably good introduction to the work of the office. But, as Mr. McElroy's recent testimony before the congressional committee showed, while he has learned many lessons, yet he is far from having mastered the job.

* * *

NOW, WITH the problem of American armed power at the center of the world situation, Mr. McElroy is looking forward to leaving to go back home and make more money. A successor must be found who can then look forward to about 18 months in office before he goes home. Mr. McElroy expects to leave the job just as he is about ready to do it. His successor, if he comes from the outside, may be able to learn about the job just as the time comes for him to leave; if his successor is promoted from within the Department of Defense, he is more likely than not to be a caretaker and not much more.

All this adds up to the fact that with so much at stake a very serious office has not been treated seriously enough. This is against the national interest which requires a highly competent Secretary of Defense, and it is a bad example of how the public service should be valued by our people.

* * *

BROADLY speaking, there are two kinds of opinion as to how the highest offices of the government should be recruited. There are those who believe that for the most part, the big offices can be filled most successfully by men who have made a success in private business. The theory here is that there is no great difference between public and private life.

With the conspicuous exception of Secretary Dulles, who has combined a lifetime of public service with a highly successful law practice, President Eisenhower has shown a predilection for successful corporate executives.

* * *

THE OTHER school of opinion holds that the public service is in itself a vocation and a professional career and that it cannot be treated, like Sunday painting or Sunday golf, as an interlude for amateurs.

Those who think this way regard it as a fundamental fallacy to suppose that success in corporate business is preparation for success in the public business. They believe that on the whole it is better to fill the higher offices with men whose main work in life has been in politics and the public service.

Those of us who take this view believe that public service is a profession and an art which must be acquired by long experience in public life. For the art of governing men is a great art itself — perhaps the greatest as it surely is the most momentous, of all the arts, and a lifetime is not too long a time in which to learn it.

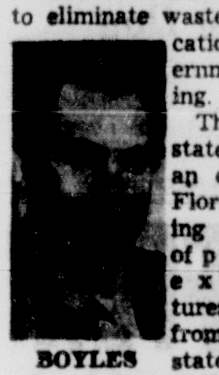
State Printing Costs High

Central Purchasing Appears the Remedy

(Last of a series)

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE - There is a trend among the states toward centralized purchasing to eliminate waste and duplication in government printing.



BOYLES

Thirty-two states have set an example for Florida by taking the control of printing expenditures away from individual state agencies.

Gov. LeRoy Collins has said he will ask the 1959 legislature to put printing under Florida's central purchasing system so that some degree of uniformity can be applied to printing purchases now handled by individual state agencies.

* * *

THE COMPLAINTS ARE:

Under Florida's antiquated printing law, competition does not always prevail and result in better prices because only two bids are required.

In some state agencies little effort is made to obtain bids from several printing firms.

There are no standardized procedures or ground rules within the law to prevent agencies from overbuying or duplicating expensive promotional booklets published by other state agencies.

A chain of printing corporations headed by one man or group, or a "closed club" of a few printers, can at the discretion of individual purchasing agents freeze out competition.

Since the moral obligation is on the purchasing agent and not the printer who is a private contractor operating under the existing law, there are varied procedures, some good and some bad, in the state's 127 different departments and agencies.

* * *

BIDS IN SOME CASES where only three printers bid, appeared to have been drawn up on the same typewriter. In one case a word was misspelled the same way on two bids although there was a slight difference in price.

The Council of State Governments reports that 43 states now have some degree of centralized purchasing.

Regulations of 32 states include printing among those supplies which must be centrally purchased.

In two states, the state plants, in addition to ordinary government printing, print some of the text books used in public schools.

But the overwhelming concensus among experts on government is toward central purchasing which would provide a screening agency to impartially approve or disapprove the printing of necessary or unnecessary publications and to regulate both quantity and quality.

Surveys also show that publications often designed to benefit only a specific group are distributed to that group at the expense of all taxpayers, subscription free.

One report to the Council of State Governments showed that attempts to achieve certain objectives result in the printing of publications of doubtful value. In these cases the same objectives can and are achieved by cheaper methods of reproduction.

* * *

A GLARING EXAMPLE of duplication of promotional effort is found in the Florida Development Commission and the Department of Agriculture.

Both handle a big volume of printing business and both distribute some of the state's fanciest publications.

* * *

Under central purchasing, a central purchasing director or commission could be held responsible for determining which agency should publish a book or whether it should be published at all.

Rep. John E. Mathews Jr. of Jacksonville has called for a legislative study of printing purchases, explaining he had received complaints from several printers that Rose Printing Co. and other Tallahassee firms gobbled up most of the state's business and they were not being given an opportunity to bid.

* * *

GOV. COLLINS FOUND that in six agencies directly under his office, printing cost had been reduced since 1955 through bid invitations to more printers, resulting in sharp competition.

Rose, and two independent firms, Bulkley - Newman and Artcraft however were invited to bid more consistently than other printers by the Florida Development Commission, Railroad and Public Utilities Commission and the State Department of Education.

Rose, which got $700,000 of the state's two million dollar printing business last year, had the edge in business awarded by those agencies.

Agency officials explain that because of proofreading and other production problems involved they got bids only from Tallahassee firms.

Although it is doubtful such necessity has a bearing on the bulk of state printing it is generally conceded to apply to legislative printing.

Rose holds the contract for printing senate and house journals after each day's session which must be on legislators' desks the next morning.

A Development Commission employe said in one case the sales manager for Rose Printing Co. delivered all three bids.

Collins said such practice would not be good public policy, although he had found NO evidence of law violations.

* * *

Opponents of centralized purchasing point out that under the present central purchasing system, bids are invited only on items costing $1,000 and must be advertised for on supplies costing more than $2,000.

The answer to that seems elementary and State Auditor Bryan Willis recommends that bids be required only for printing jobs over $50.

Critics of central purchasing forget the objective is not to fight the battle of any printers but to provide a uniform procedure for wisely spending the state's money.

There's a saying in the Pentagon that goes, "If you can't cook it, kiss it or mimeograph it, reorganize it."

CONSIDINE

The greatest Air Force in history is undergoing the pangs of the latter. It is changing man's role from that of steersman of a cumbersome flying machine to manipulator of "little black boxes" that cause missiles to accomplish miracles.

It is an agonizing reorganization that costs billions, frays nerves, torments the impatient, has made nervous wrecks here and there of men who were icy calm in combat.

Its reprisal force, the jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command, is largely outmoded, air officers have testified under oath. It will not have its first intercontinental ballistic missilebase — composed of 10 Atlas missiles and attendants — until at least Jan. 1, 1960. The base, at Camp Cook, Calif., will not be a "hard" base, i.e., the complicated gear for fueling and launching the even more complicated ICBM will be on the surface and susceptible to destruction from a Russian ICBM or a lesser missile lobbed inland from a Soviet submarine off the California coast.

* * *

Bomber Fleet Was Bad Bet

IT IS HAUNTED by past mistakes, briefly cheered by a few instances of visionary thinking that panned out.

It continued to invest heavily in a big bomber fleet long after the Russians drastically cut their own bomber production and bet their science, engineering and rubles on missiles.

It delayed its own serious rocket development until a long series of tests conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission produced an atomic bomb small enough to be packaged in a rocket nose-cone.

As for its vision, the Air Force owes such missile strength as it now possesses — and the promise of much more to come — to the findings of a board set up late in 1953 under the guidance of Trevor Gardner, then Air Force assistant secretary and top missile man. It was the Strategic Missiles Evaluation Committee out of which emerged the Atlas development group headed by the late John von Neumann, world famous mathematician and member of the AEC.

Today, Gardner is revered as the father of the probe that changed the mood and mission of the Air Force for all time to come. His group, the Nuclear Weapons Panel, called upon to project Air Force thinking into the 1960s, painted a vividly realistic picture of the shape of things to come.

* * *

Russia Jumped Early, Decisively

IT WAS NOT an easy step, the Air Force's first fumbling strides into the missile age. Tradition was tougher to alter than the shape and propulsion of the vehicle that would thereafter carry The Bomb fastest and farthest.

"You've got to remember how little we thought of the German V-2 at the end of the war," a harried Air Force colonel told me in the course of a chronological rundown of the service's coming-of-age.

"The Russians thought differently. They rounded up hundreds of them, dismantled the plants that produced them, commandeered a lot of the German scientists, engineers and technicians who had ideas about bigger and better missiles, and put everybody to work on V-E Day. We came home.

"We put our money and thinking into SAC, which was wise but did put us behind the Russians. We designed and built bombers around a nuclear bomb that would weigh tons. They had to be big enough to lift it and carry it thousands of miles. Remember the B-36? Ten engines and big as a football field. The B-52 is a whopper, too.

"Then they found a way to put all that power into something hardly bigger than your arm. We had to make the hard decision to change. Now we've reached the point where we must make our second hard decision. We've got to find the ways and the financial means of catching up with the Russians in ICBMs and create better weapons than they've got.

"We've got to build bases for these ICBMs that will withstand the initial attack which we'd have to take in the event of war. And we've got to do it faster than we've ever done anything in our lives."

* * *

The Man Who Carries Ball

THE COLONEL stood up suddenly. Maj. Gen. Bernard Schriever, the brilliant young Air Force missiles development chief, had entered the little room. He is a tall, sun-tanned man in his 40s, with grave wide-set eyes that show the weight of the great responsibility vested in him. But his nerves are super-steady, as his "scratch" rating in golf indicates.

"I have unique authority," he said calmly, when we asked him to describe his job. "My responsibility is the research and development of the hardware, the production of it, putting it in operation and supporting it. It would be simpler, I guess, just to say that my job is to 'get 'em working.'

"It calls for constant evaluation of the state of the art; constant risk. We've been experimenting with solid fuel propellants since 1956, for example, but our Minuteman, though technically feasible, is still some years away.

"We work very close to industry. I'd say industry is responsible for 95 per cent of the Air Force's development. But it needs us, too. It needs us for things it couldn't know about, such as logistics."

* * *

$7 Billion Spent For 'Complex'

THESE OTHER missiles born or gestating, are the fruit of Schriever's Space Technology Laboratories, a model of civilian-military teamwork. A "management complex," he calls it. More than seven billion dollars has been spent to date by the Air Force alone on its missiles program — three and a half times as much as was spent to develop the atomic bomb.

Bonn Hit By Whirl Of Events

By DAVID M. NICHOL
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

BONN, Germany — Bonn has so many sensations today it scarcely knows in what direction to look.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is leaving for Paris.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is coming to Leipzig.

Prof. Ludwig Erhard, economics minister who can claim much credit for West Germany's "economic miracle," may turn down the nomination to be the next federal president.

Two high officials closely associated with Dr. Adenauer in West Germany's frantic formative days are on trial for slander in a case which has politicians on edge.

Even the weather has been a considerable distraction. For several days it has been sunny with record temperatures.

* * *

Dr. Adenauer left by train last night for his third meeting with French Premier Charles de Gaulle. The two leaders—and to a much greater degree than many appreciate is possible, their countrymen—are getting along famously.

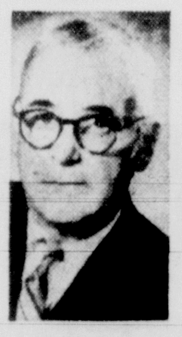
The Bonn-Paris axis is one of the firmest features of Europe's current political scene.

Obviously they will talk about Khrushchev and his plans for Germany in preparation for their individual meetings next week with Harold Macmillan.

Rebel May Represent Mounting Opposition

By EDWIN A. LAHEY
Chief of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Stanley Yankus, the Dowagiac (Mich.) farmer, had just finished telling a House subcommittee what he thought of the federal farm subsidy program.



LAHEY

"I wasn't just talking to these congressmen," he says. "I was trying to talk to all the people in America."

And as the 40-year-old chicken raiser strode to the office of his congressman, Clare Hoffman (R.), there were those in the hearing room who wondered whether Yankus had a pretty formidable snowball in the making.

It is the Michigan farmer's desire to destroy the farm program under which the government, through its support payments, has piled up 9 billion dollars worth of surplus food and fiber in warehouses all over the land.

"How do I know I'm right?" the aggressive Yankus says. "Because nothing I've done has violated the principles of the Ten Commandments, that's how."

* * *

He thinks the farmers under this act have made a crazy exchange of freedom for security, and he refuses to be bound by what the other farmers have done.

Yankus says the hundred acres in Cass County, Mich., where he raises chickens commercially are his. And no government bureaucrat is going to tell him how much wheat he can grow on his own land to feed his own chickens.

This attitude has brought him into constant turmoil with the agricultural act, because of the "wheat allotment" system that is part of the price support program.

* * *

AN INTERESTING aspect of Yankus is that he is not alone, by any means.

He speaks the thoughts of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is trying to cut back on the subsidy program.

And Yankus also speaks for hundreds of other individuals of the soil who have likewise defied the wheat planting regulations.

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The new space-probe launching may go a long way toward determining what science must do to assure safe space flight for man.

The key scientific experiment in Pioneer IV is designed to get fuller information about the possibly deadly "Great Radiation Belt" which was discovered during the past year.

And, one of the new twists in the current probe is one aimed at determining how much shielding will be required to reduce the radiation to a "tolerable level" for any animal—or human—in space flight.

The launching had four other objectives:

(1) THE QUEST to put a satellite in orbit around the sun as the Russians claimed they did early in January;

(2) TO GET NEW information about the moon as the space probe zooms past it;

(3) TO TEST a gadget which would play a key role in enabling the taking of television-type pictures of the moon in future flights; and

(4) TO FURTHER test a long-range communications system deemed capable at present of tracking a satellite to altitudes of more than 400,000 miles, almost twice the distance to the moon.

But the radiation experiment is the big deal from the standpoint of its importance in relation to man's hopes to explore space in manned spacecraft.

* * *

OBJECT OF inquiry is a belt of radiation — actually two belts — called the "Van Allen" belt. It's named for Dr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist who headed a research team that discovered the belt last year while analyzing data from two of the explorer satellites.

Later information on it was obtained in the partially successful flights of the Pioneer III space probes.

The source of this radiation is unknown; indeed, scientists don't yet know what kind of radiation it actually consists of.

But enough is known about its intensity to say that man could not safely fly within it without shielding protection.

And the big question is: how much shielding? And how much would that shielding weigh?

Keeping weight of materials down is obviously an important objective in space flight.

* * *

PRESENT conception of the radiation belt is that it consists of two belts, each shaped like a doughnut.

One of these belts extends roughly between 1,400 and 3,400 miles from the earth; the other between 8,000 and 12,000 miles.

The peak of radiation intensity is estimated at 2,400 miles for the inner belt and 10,000 miles for the second one.

Estimates of the peak intensity range from 10 to 100 roentgens an hour—a roentgen being a unit of radioactivity.

The wide range of estimates of peak intensity stem from the fact that scientists don't know whether the radiation consists of electrons or protons.

But, in either case, the peak intensities would be greatly in excess of the maximum permissible doseage for man.

The latter is 3-10ths of a roentgen per week.

* * *

VAN ALLEN figures there is negligible radiation danger to man below the first belt—and between the first and second belts.

Also, he figures the radiation tapers off to safe levels after reaching its second peak of intensity at 10,000 miles.

But he and most other scientists figure there would be danger to unprotected men within the known limits of the belts—at least for any extended flights within those limits, such as in an orbiting manned satellite.

Even a half-hour top speed flight right through the bands might have long-range harmful effect, provided the radiation is made up of protons, some observers believe.

If it proves necessary to shun these belts entirely — even for speedy passage through them — scientists still have a possible ace-in-the-hole.

It's estimated that the radiation belts do not extend over the Arctic and Antarctic regions—that is, that there are radiation-free voids over the North and South Magnetic poles.

Thus there might be "escape hatches" through the radiation, provided the spaceships were launched from polar-based launching pads.

In the tiny space vehicle launched by the U.S. were two Geiger counter tubes to detect and measure the radiation.

Similar tubes were carried in the Pioneer III flight last December. But this time, one of the tubes was shielded with one-eighth-inch thick lead. This is designed to cut out all high-energy radiation.

The other tube, measuring low-energy radiation, is unchanged.

* * *

THE IDEA of the new twist is "to test the penetrability of the radiation in space and determine how much shielding will be required to reduce the radiation to a tolerable level for any animal or human in space flight," said Dr. Van Allen before the launching.

Results will be radioed to the earth from the space probe.

The information will be transmitted to earth by a battery-powered radio transmitter designed to transmit continuously on a frequency of 960.05 megacycles for about 90 hours.

That would last long after the space probe passes the moon because it is expected that the vehicle will intercept the moon's pathway n space about 34 hours after launching time.

500 Hearts Touched By Crippled Children

Annual Ball Drew Distinguished Guests
. . . among them, Mrs. P. B. Mangus, Gen. Omar Bradley

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

Nothing touches the heart like a crippled child. So it wasn't surprising that more than 500 people turned out for the seventh annual Easter Lily Ball at the Surf Club Tuesday night.

This ball, which raised $41,748 its first year, raised $75,000 last year for the Crippled Children's Society. This year's returns probably will approximate the 1958 figure but will not be fully known until all the pledges are in.

These funds are used to provide therapeutic treatment to purchase equipment for the society's Rehabilitation Center at 1475 NW 14th Ave.

Sponsors at the ball paid $1,000 or more; co-sponsors paid $500 to $1,000 and patrons $50 or more. There were 22 sponsors last night and 24 co-sponsors.

The Surf Club was a beautiful signt with hundreds of Easter lilies decorating the wall brackets and the tables. Co-chairman of the ball, Mrs. Richard King Lackey, (the other co-chairman Mrs. Ione Staley was in New York) welcomed guests in the Fountain Room in front of a bank of Easter lilies.

Standing with her were Mrs. Julio Sanchez and Sue Fitzgerald. Edna Lackey wore a long white sheath splashed with blue flowers. Mrs. Sanchez wore white with big red roses and Sue was in draped cherry red chiffon.

In the foyer as guests entered were the "flower girls" who handed each woman guest a favor of perfume and powder. The "girls" included Mrs. Jim Dickey, Mrs. Robert Z. Greene, Mrs. Harry Simone, Mrs. William Stevens, Mrs. Wallace Gilroy, Mrs. John Schippmann, Mrs. Edwin Wiegand and Mrs. James Dixon.

At the table with Mr. and Mrs. P. B. Mangus were Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, president of the University of Miami, Mrs. Pearson, their house guests Sir Oliver and Lady Simmonds from Nassau, Gen. and Mrs. Omar Bradley, of Spring Valley, Washington, D.C., and Mr. and Mrs. John Bitter.

"Spratt" Mangus and Gen. Bradley grew up together in a small town in Missouri. Mrs. Bradley was wearing a magnificent emerald and pearl necklace with an emerald chiffon ball gown.

Mr. and Mrs. George Kennedy (she was a co-chairman of patrons) had at their table Federal Judge and Mrs. Emmet Choate, Lorena Butler, A. J. Henderson, Mrs. Floyd Best and her brother Rex Sanders.

June and Ben Benjamin, she in hunter's green satin, were whirling about the dance floor; Odette Stewart was squired by Elizabeth Taylor's great uncle Howard Young; the Gus Staleys, who arrived at their Miami Beach home only recently played host at a table of friends; Dick Plumer, former president of the Crippled Children's Society, was there with his Mary and Virginia and Jim Gerity entertained at a long table.

Author Raps 'Idiotic Icon'

Wylie Denounces 'Urge to Conform'

Herald Bureau

PALM BEACH—Philip Wylie stood at the podium of the Society of the Four Arts fingering his horn-rimmed glasses Tuesday and decried the "fraudulent focus on the well-rounded personality." He called it the "idiotic icon" of these days.

"Fifty-two per cent of the young people in college today believe the principal reason they are there is to develop a well-rounded personality," the vitriolic author of "Generation of Vipers" lamented.

Philip Wylie
. . . hits conformity

This "burning urge" to conform has "set aside the whole meaning of education," he said.

What is the relation of the well-rounded test, starting with Shakespeare and going to:

Edgar Allen Poe — "He was a drunkard who took dope."

Isaac Newton — "He was so cantankerously anti-social that no one could bear to call on him in his later years."

Leonardo DaVinci — "His sex morals were so bad that in Fort Lauderdale he would have spent his life in prison. Or even in Palm Beach for that matter."

If the most educated man of the 19th Century were brought back to life today, he would be an "ignoramus." James Joyce would give him the "jim jams," Wylie said. He'd be "horrified" by Ernest Hemingway and "bewildered" by William Faulkner ("I am bewildered by him too.")

Furthermore, he'd know nothing about TV "which would be an advantage." Wylie's point — education changes.

What then is an educated man?

One who must keep up with physics, math, genetics, biology, psychology. In brief, one who tries to learn the fundamentals of arts, sciencies and humanities.

"Believe me," he said, "it is not hard." With a slight bow, he was off stage.

Legislative Committee Draws Report

FLORIDA ROUNDUP

TALLAHASSEE — A legislative committee Tuesday recommended construction of a 48-bed facility for mentally disturbed children at an estimated cost of $1,200,000.

The Interim Committee on Mental Health also proposed a $160,000 appropriation for an emergency treatment program for 20 children until the new facility, probably a wing on an existing mental hospital is built.

The committee met to draft a report to the Legislature. Included in the recommendation was a suggestion the children's hospital be built at the South Florida Mental Hospital at Hollywood.

Nature Doctor Ban Discussed

TALLAHASSEE — The director of the Florida Medical Association met with aides of LeRoy Collins Tuesday to discuss possible revival of a law banning nature doctors from Florida.

W. Harold Parham conferred with William L. Durden, executive assistant to the governor, and Jack Peeples, legislative aide. Parham's prime business is to discuss legislative recommendations submitted by the governor's Citizens Medical Committee on Health.

But Durden said the status of naturopaths and possible legislative action also figured in the confab.

Liquor Retailers May Seek Aid

TALLAHASSEE — Florida's retail liquor dealers face a financial emergency that can be solved only by legislative action, A. E. McKinney Jr. of Starke, executive director of the state Retail Liquor Dealers Association said Tuesday.

McKinney said that price wars are creating a chaotic condition that threatens the entire retail liquor business.

"We must seek some relief from the legislature," he said.

Segregation Leader Rapped by Bailey

TALLAHASSEE — State School Supt. Thomas D. Bailey lashed out Monday night at those he described as "knights on white chargers" who are ready to destroy the public school system over the integration issue.

Later, Bailey said he had reference to men like "Gen. Sumter Lowry and his gang." Lowry was identified as a Tampa segregation leader.

"Their speeches on the integration issue and other subjects have caused many PTAs to withdraw from their parent organization," he said.

Pickets' Terms Are Suspended

Two pickets in a union strike against the Dade Drydock Corp., 777 Biscayne Blvd., were given suspended sentences by City Court Judge Mitchell Goldman Tuesday on charges of threatening non-union workers who crossed the picket lines.

Francis J. Morley, 37, of 3121 NW 55th St., one of some 75 union members on strike against the drydock firm since Jan. 12, was given a suspended 30-day sentence for threats of violence.

Also given a suspended 30-day sentence was Robert C. Rodriguez, 46, of 26 NW 26th Ave., another member of the striking Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America.

Judge Goldman also suspended a 10-day jail sentence after convicting Morley of assault and battery against Harold Bowerman, 22, of 263 W. Flagler St.

Smith Indicted In One Killing

The Dade County Grand Jury Tuesday indicted Charles R. (Mike) Smith for first degree murder in the death of Miami Cab Driver Edward Setnor last Oct. 22.

Smith has signed a confession admitting the slaying of Cmdr. J. T. Stewart, retired naval officer, in Key Largo the day before the Setnor killing. But he has denied killing the cab driver.

Smith, brought here from New Orleans where he was arrested, will be arraigned before Circuit Judge Harold R. Vann.

Forgers Operate Within Prison

Pen-manship Ring Broken Up

COLUMBIA, S.C. —(AP)— A forgery ring operating within the South Carolina penitentiary, with a "field man" on the outside to pass phony checks and papers, has been broken up, police announced Tuesday.

Prison Supt. Wyndham M. Manning said a former penitentiary inmate, John Hastings, 38, of Chester, S.C., is in custody in Charlotte, N.C. Six prisoners have been put in solitary confinement and investigation probably will involve others.

Hastings was arrested at his home in Chester by two agents of the South Carolina Law Enforcement Division. He was charged with cashing three checks for $95.40 each. All purported to be payroll checks of a Charlotte construction company and were made payable to "James E. Brown."

Manning said both the checks, and identification cards used in cashing them, were printed by prisoners who worked in the prison's print shop and bindery. The operation had been going on about a month.

One identification card was blue, trimmed in gold and silver, and was a counterfeit airlines credit card. Another was a bogus social security card, duplicates of which were found at the print shop.

Man Arrested For Killing Dog

Gavin, arrested and released under $500 bond, was picked up under a new law making it unlawful to injure or kill somebody else's dog.

Batista Set Cuba Back $1.2 Billion

By Herald Wire Services

HAVANA, Cuba — Treasury Minister Rufo Lopez Fresquet has charged that ousted Dictator Fulgencio Batista's six years in power put Cuba 1.2 billion dollars in debt.

He said that on Dec. 31, 1958, on the eve of Batista's flight from Cuba, his government had a budgetary deficit of 90 million dollars, another 120 million dollars deficit being carried on the books.

During the previous five years the public debts increased an average of 200 million dollars a year, Lopez Fresquet said.

The program was said to call for construction of more than 2,000 schools to accommodate an additional 500,000 children; and 700,000 rural homes to house two million persons now living in unsanitary hovels, all of which would employ the more than 50,000 workers now jobless throughout Venezuela.

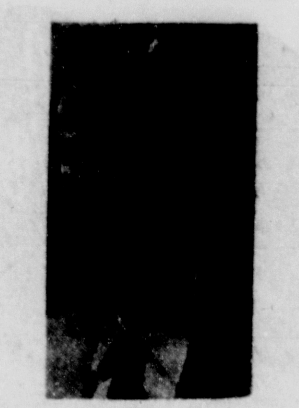
Symington Heads Space Waste Probe



Stuart Symington
. . . space watchdog

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Sen. Stuart Symington, a strong critic of administration defense policies, was named Tuesday to head a new Senate subcommittee to investigate "wasteful rivalry and duplication" in space programs.

Chairman Lyndon B. Johnson of the Senate Space Committee announced establishment of the new subcommittee and the selection of the Missouri Democrat to head it. Symington is a possible 1960 Democratic presidential contender.

Johnson, the Senate Democratic leader, said the new seven-man subcommittee will start hearings as soon as possible and report, with recommendations, at an early date.

Noting that "at least" 14 agencies or commissions have some authority or responsibility in the space effort, Johnson said rivalry is "inevitable" and sometimes can become a valuable spur to achievement.

Johnson's announcement came after his space committee unanimously approved a 48.3-million-dollar supplemental authorization bill for the National Aeronautics and Space Administration in the present fiscal year.

Sen. John C. Stennis (D.,-Miss.), chairman of the subcommittee which recommended the funds, noted that the entire $20,750,000 for research and development was earmarked for the manned space flight program, Project Mercury.

Polar Expert's Warming Up in Miami's Sun

By MIKE MORGAN
Herald Staff Writer

A big, balding fellow with a warm and lively personality relaxed here Tuesday enjoying the 70-degree weather while describing what it's like to live in the deep-freeze of Antarctica.

It's almost luxuirous, these days, compared to what it was years ago, said explorer-scientist Dr. Paul A. Siple, rugged veteran of Antarctica and the Arctic who's staying at the Flamingo Hotel.

And it's hard to believe that 31 years have passed since he became one of the most famous of all Boy Scouts by being chosen as the Eagle Scout to accompany Admiral Richard E. Byrd on his first expedition to Little America.

He has spent more time at the South Pole, and probably knows that huge frozen continent better than any man alive.

Because Dr. Siple is working for the Army, he is understandably touchy about getting involved in political aspects of Antarctica.

"It's unfortunate that the U.S. government didn't see fit to make some substantial claims in Antarctica," he said.

Dr. Siple believes there is a huge potential to be thawed out of that desolate and frigid wasteland.

"Do you think that Seward could have foretold the value of Alaska when he purchased it? They called it folly — now it's our 49th state.

"Personally, I have great confidence that future discoveries in science will make it possible to colonize Antarctica."

He envisions great, sheltered communities which could be manufacturing centers — especially for industry — where vast quantities of fresh water is required. Where man could live by chemical self-sufficiency making food and other needs out of four elements — carbon, oxygen, hydrogen and nitrogen.

"This is something that could happen in the distant future — yet," and his voice had a wistful note "it might come about sooner than we think.

He talked briefly about the "almost utter luxury" in which his last group lived, compared to the hardships undergone by the first Byrd group.

A wide grin slashed his face. "But I don't miss it in the least. The weather here looks pretty good to me."

'Pork Chop Gang' Gets Life-or-Death Grip on Senate

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Two of the Senate's "Pork Chop Gang" of the small county majority bloc—to the surpirse of no one—were named to key legislative committee chairmanships Tuesday.

The move strengthened the life-or-death power hold the small county bloc will have over legislation at the 1959 session starting April 7.

Sen. President Dewey M. Johnson named Sen. W. Turner Davis of Madison, a former president, to again direct the powerful Rules Committee.

He also designated Sen. John Rawls of Marianna to head the newly combined Constitutional Amendments and Governmental Reorganization Committee.

Much of the anticipated segregation, or anti-integration, legislation is expected to go to the Rawls committee. It also will have vast power over Gov. LeRoy Collins' proposed constitution revision program.

Johnson had previously designated Sen. Wilson Carraway of Tallahassee as chairman of Appropriations and Sen. Tom Adams of Orange Park to head Finance and Taxation.

Johnson gave South Florida token recognition Tuesday by designating Sen. Fred O. Dickinson of West Palm Beach chairman of Judiciary "B" committee.

Other appointments included Sen. Charley E. Johns of Starke to head the Insurance Committee and Sen. Philip D. Beall of Pensacola to the Transportation and Traffic Committee.

Sen. Joe Eaton of Miami, who had headed the Legislative Council's Interim Committee on Traffic Safety, was by-passed for a chairmanship. He probably will be named to the committee under Beall.

The Miami Senator himself says he did not expect to be named chairman of any key committee. He was with the minority in backing Sen. Doyle Carlton of Wauchula for the Senate Presidency.

Although Johnson has not announced the lineup for the full committees, political observers take it for granted he will stack all major committees with a "Pork Chop Gang" majority.

A Boston Trim Is Up to $1.75

BOSTON — (AP) — The price of men's haircuts has gone up to $1.75 in most metropolitan Boston barber shops.

The action to increase the price of haircuts by 25 cents was taken by 400 members of the Associated Master Barbers and Beauticians of Massachusetts.

The association represents about half of Boston's 2,000 barbers.

The price for crew cuts went to $2 and shaves to $1.25. Children's haircuts were increased to $1.50.

The cost of living has been blamed for the increase.

Typhoon Rips Through Islands

HONOLULU — (AP) — An estimated 400 homes were destroyed and coconut, breadfruit and banana crops knocked out for at least a year last week when the worst typhoon in 44 years hit the Manuan Islands in the Samoa group.

'Sergeants Coup' Nipped in Panama

PANAMA CITY, Panama — (AP) — Panama's military chief said a "sergeants' coupe" to seize control of the country has been uncovered and crushed.

Col. Bolivar Vallarino said a group known as the Liberation Movement was doing the plotting. About 20 members of the National Guard are being held, and five civilians are under arrest or being hunted.

The only commissioned officer involved was a sub-lieutenant. The rest of the military plotters were sergeants and enlisted men.

The army plotters, Vallarino said, were recruited from the Tocumen Airport garrison and central headquarters. They planned to seize the military posts and two radio stations last Wednesday to announce a revolt.

The original founder of the National Liberation Movement was Vice President Temistocles Diaz, who broke with President Ernesto de La Guardia Jr. early in the administration. Vallarino did not disclose whether Diaz, who is his brother-in-law, was among the civilians linked with the plot.

President's Plane to Fly Mamie Home

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Mrs. Mamie Eisenhower, admittedly a little homesick, will conclude a three-week Arizona vacation this weekend and fly home aboard the President's plane, Columbine III.

The White House said the Columbine wasn't making a special trip to pick up the first lady as it did last year, though.

The President's personal plane was reported undergoing its twice yearly servicing at Lockheed's factory near Burbank, Calif. It will stop for Mrs. Eisenhower at Phoenix, Ariz., on its way back.

The White House said they may stop off at Denver on the way home to visit their 80-year-old mother, Mrs. John S. Doud.

Mrs. Eisenhower, who usually doesn't like to fly, went to Phoenix this time by train.

Last year, much criticism was raised when the President made a 3,000-mile detour in the Columbine III from his vacation spot in Thomasville, Ga., to fly Mamie to Phoenix. Although the President didn't go back for her, he sent the plane to pick the first lady up.

This time, the White House made sure it was understood the Columbine was not making an extra trip in behalf of the first lady.

GOP Selects Site April 11

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Republican National Committee will select a site for the party's 1960 national convention April 11, GOP National Chairman Meade Alcorn announced Tuesday.

Chicago and Philadelphia are believed to be the top prospects.

125 Doomed; Fund Asked

Some 500 of them will die within the next 12 months — 125 of them in the Greater Miami area.

To forestall death and relieve the suffering of such kidney disease victims, Dade will stage a countywide fund drive here March 18.

Sponsored by the Greater Miami chapter of the National Kidney Disease Foundation, the campaign will be headed by Johnson Davis, Democratic leader here.

Funds will be used to operate a cortisone drug bank at Variety Children's Hospital and to launch a new renal research project in Miami.

The foundation, through an earlier grant of $3,500, initiated the area's first renal research program at the University of Miami.

In addition to backing for a new project, the local chapter seeks funds in its house-to-house walk for supplemental equipment for the Southeast's only artificial kidney. It is located at the UM Medical School at Jackson Memorial Hospital.

Formerly known as the National Nephrosis Foundation, the organization's No. 1 foe is nephrosis — a chronic disease which strikes young children. It causes grotesque swelling and kills one out of two victims.

"Nephrosis was a fatal disease eight years ago," explained Chapter President Dr. Henry Green.

"Today, thanks to research and steroid drugs, the chances for life have been increased by half."

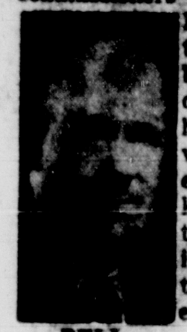
The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell



BELL

THE FIRING of our city manager sure was a surprise to me. I thought he had four commissioners on his team. But out around the Justice building Tuesday morning I heard many wisenheimers saying, "We knew it was in the hopper, but it came sooner than we expected."

The next wish—on every tongue—"Now let's get this court business settled, so we'll know where we're going." They meant the matter of Metro or city jurisdiction. And it really is in a mess. City of Miami municipal judges handle about 55,000 cases a year, 80 per cent of them traffic violations. Metro's present staff of judges can't possibly handle all traffic cases, as the Supreme Court has decreed.

The only solution is more judges. And the logical method is to swing a lot of this municipal strength into the Metro fold.

Next in importance of speculation was the position of Police Chief Walter Headley. The feeling that the three commissioners who fired Evans would fire Headley brought no joy around the Justice Building. Out there they think Headley is a fine chief and has welded together a good police force. "If we lose Walter it won't be good," was the general feeling. I agree.

Double Duty

Humor in Bombay: The night train was crowded. People were trying to sleep. Two women got into a dispute about the window. One wanted it up. The other wanted it down. The argument grew so loud a guard was summoned.

"If the window is closed I'll be suffocated," cried the first.

"If it's open I will die of a cold," said the other.

Then a little man offered a compromise: "Close the window and suffocate the first woman, then open it and kill the other one. Then the rest of us can sleep."

The Myers, Thawed Out and Dry Again
. . . "no more boat rides at night"

2 Cling All Night To Capsized Boat

By CHARLES TAYLOR
Herald Staff Writer

A hotel pool manager and his hostess wife left by boat on a dinner outing and spent one of the winter's coldest nights fighting to stay alive atop their overturned craft. They were lashed numb by winds while floating only 500 yards from Rickenbacker Causeway.

"The water was warm and the waves were huge. If they hadn't kept washing over us, I know we would have frozen to death," said blonde Patricia Myers, 23.

Mrs. Myers and her husband, David, 31, were brought ashore by a Coast Guard cutter Tuesday, 13 hours after their 15-foot boat capsized in Biscayne Bay. The clutch on the outboard motor conked out, stranding them without power, and the boat turned over as Myers tried to start it.

Myers is pool manager at the Ocean Ranch Hotel, 200 SE 12th St., and his wife is hostess and waitress.

The trouble came after they set out in the boat, which they bought only four days before, for a steak dinner at the Quarterdeck Club off Key Biscayne, then turned back because of the rough water.

The temperature Monday night dipped to the low 40s.

"I'm usually the panicky type, but David kept talking to me. We talked about the things we've done since we were married in September. We shouted ourselves hoarse but nobody heard us — not even when daylight came and we saw a couple of dozen boats going by."

Two fishermen in a rowboat finally spotted the couple and signaled a Coast Guard plane, which had started a hunt Tuesday morning after friends reported the Myers missing.

"When they took us aboard the Coast Guard boat, we were so numb we couldn't feel a thing," Mrs. Myers said.

'Forgotten' To Plead His Own Case

Better to risk having a fool for a client than to sit in jail looking wise, James O. Heydrick decided Tuesday.

He'll defend himself in court. And he had to pencil his own "habeas corpus petition" even to get to court.

Heydrick, it developed, was a "forgotten" prisoner.

Seems he was brought to the Dade jail a month ago from Jacksonville, on his wife's charge that he stole her TV set, radio and heater from 43 Sidonia Ave., Coral Gables.

Then the wheels of law began grinding exceedingly slow — indeed, if at all — for Heydrick.

As of Tuesday, the trial still had not been set — and Heydrick didn't have bond money.

His scribbled note to Judge Marshall C. Wiseheart brought Heydrick, who said he is a "newspaperman," speedily before Judge Ben C. Willard.

"I'll defend myself," Heydrick said.

Judge Willard mentioned the fool-for-a-client adage, and offered services of the public defender.

Heydrick agreed to accept the counsel "in an advisory capacity."

His grand larceny case comes up Tuesday.

Traffic Court Shift To Metro Gets Push

Weiss Endorses City's Program

By JOHN MORTON
Herald Staff Writer

Speedy transfer of the Miami Traffic Court to Metro was approved by the newly-aligned three-man City Commission majority Tuesday and their action got immediate endorsement from Metro's top voice.

In a plan which could get the wheels moving within two weeks, Mayor Robert King High and Commissioners George W. DuBreuil and Otis W. Shiver took a giant step toward full-scale cooperation by Miami in implementing the countywide government.

Metro Commission chairman Walter Weiss said the three had made a "significant move" and then announced some companion plans of his own.

"We will want to have a conference with our judges and court personnel to decide how this is to be carried through," Weiss said, "then hold a joint conference with the city."

His plan was in accord with an earlier statement by DuBreuil, who predicted the city could start its own end of the transfer "in a week or 10 days."

DuBreuil said the City Commission also should meet with its judges and attorneys and decide how the swap should be carried through.

Commissioner Shiver also endorsed the transfer "under the terms, conditions and methods prescribed by the (Metro) charter." The transfer also includes Metro enforcement of traffic laws and automobile inspection.

Mayor High, long a Metro supporter, said he believed the initial steps should be taken "immediately."

But Metro Commissioner Arthur Patten, strong backer of the Metro courts, said he hoped the city "won't go to the extreme of forcing us to take its courts."

Patten said, "We could probably handle all the courts in the other municipalities with more ease than the Miami court alone.

"I hope the city will do one thing. And that is to agree in principle and stop right there."

Patten predicted the county government could take over the entire Dade County court system within one year if it got a free hand to do so.

They Heard High the First Time

Commissioner's Resignation OKd

James High

The Miami Commission accepted the resignation of James W. High in a special meeting Tuesday and blocked any plans the former commissioner might have had for reversing his Monday walkout.

In a late afternoon session, Mayor Robert King High and Commissioners George W. DuBreuil and Otis W. Shiver voted to accept the resignation. Commissioner B. E. Hearn, a close personal friend of James High, did not attend.

But the three made no move to appoint a successor — a step they must take by March 13 or hold an expensive election.

James High said Monday night that his quitting was final — but by noon Tuesday, the real estate and insurance man appeared to be changing his mind.

"Pressure from a great number of people to go back in" was cited by James High Tuesday night as the reason.

"I'm not saying I had reconsidered," he said, "but it might have been that I was weakening a little."

Then he added, "What those fellows did has taken a great responsibility out of my hands."

Teamster Push Faces Opposition

County, Municipal Union Plans Fight

By DOM BONAFEDE
Herald Staff Writer

Battle lines were drawn Tuesday to counter the all-out Teamsters Union drive to sign up county and municipal employes here.

Lee Tafel, business agent for the Dade County and Municipal Employes Association, (AFL-CIO) reported his group will appeal to the Metro and Miami commissions.

"We are going to ask them to announce their preference for our organization and to give us the green light for a big campaign of our own," Tafel declared.

He added officials from the association's Washington headquarters are scheduled to arrive soon to set up an operational program.

"Something has to be done about the wages and welfare of Dade's county and municipal workers but the Teamsters aren't the outfit to do it," he continued.

Also, County Manager O. W. Campbell and Miami Beach City Manager Morris Lipp indicated the Teamsters will not find the welcome mat at their offices.

"The City Council is going to dig into this and check the legality of it," Lipp reported.

Campbell commented:

"Civil Service benefits are broader than anything the Teamsters could get for Metro employes."

He claimed that in two days the Teamsters had signed up more than 800 county and municipal workers.

Those seeking to join the union, he said, include firemen, trash and garbage workers and county assessors.

Feinstein said representatives of the Dade Federation of Teachers were scheduled to meet with Teamsters organizers Wednesday.

Feinstein scoffed at claims by Metro officials that under state law the county is not required to bargain with unions.

"They are not required to—but that doesn't guarantee they won't," Feinstein declared. "If we organize 10,000 employes or so, they'll bargain with us."

New Miami City Manager Ira Willard
. . . emerges smiling from office

Willard Puts Forth 'No Nonsense' Plan

Ira F. Willard, Miami's new city manager, set forth a "no nonsense" plan for municipal government Tuesday with a few suggestions and a couple of warnings.

With City Hall still rocking from the lightning dismissal of E. A. Evans Monday, Willard called together his department and division heads for a word of assurance:

"I have no changes in personnel in mind at this time," he said.

Willard said each department boss would be judged "on his own" and answerable directly to the city manager.

"I will be responsible to the commission for what you do," Willard said, and warned his staff against going over the head of the manager and making direct approaches to commission members.

He also said that contact from the commission downward "will come through me."

While he gave the 20 chieftians a "clean slate," he left no question about who's going to be in charge.

Mayor Robert King High immediately endorsed Willard's program:

It's his duty as city manager to see that departments 'operate properly," the mayor said. "If he finds they do not —it's his duty to crack the whip. I believe he will do just that."

The mayor had a whip of his own to crack:

"I still believe that Chief Walter E. Headley should resign," the mayor said.

But Headley, among those who attended Willard's "get acquainted" session, sat tenaciously in his job in spite of the mayor's demand.

Headley declared almost gleefully: "I won't resign."

And neither the new city manager nor the commission can fire him without formal charges, a public hearing and court fight, he said.

"So the mayor wants to get rid of me?" asked Headley. "Well I'll go along for the same thing—I'd like to get rid of him."

Commenting on Mayor High's earlier charge that the Police Department shuts its eyes to gambling, Willard said.

"If I find that a man is doing wrong . . . he's finished, dead-out gone, fired! I will not tolerate crooks."

The commission can't fire Headley as it did Evans without formal charges.

The city charter decrees and court tests have confirmed that the police chief can be ousted for one of these reasons:

Incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, failure to obey orders given by proper authority or any other just and reasonable cause.

Meanwhile, Evans was on hand Tuesday to help the new manager on his first day. He said he had received two job offers in the wake of the surprise firing Monday.

One reportedly is from St. Petersburg, now looking for a man to replace Ross Windom who resigned his $23,000-a-year job Jan. 1. Evans is said to have been offered $25,000, which is what he was making here.

Willard's swearing-in ceremonies were barely over when the new manager reaffirmed his pledge to cooperate with Metro:

"I will be conferring continually with County Manager (O. W.) Campbell on each Municipal service which will be affected by Metro."

Problems? McSherry's Got 'Em

By LEO ADDE
Herald Staff Writer

Problems, problems. Port Authority Director George McSherry still has them, although the biggest one of all, opening the new air terminal, is solved.

The worst remaining problems, McSherry and Metro commissioners agreed yesterday, are:

—Cajoling Eastern Air Lines, the Port Authority's $260,000-a-year tenant, to vacate its lonely 36th St. terminal and move over to the glamorous 20th St. quarters with the rest of the boys.

2—Figuring out the best way to spend the available $640,000 on Venetian Causeway, which is beset by deterioration of its underpinnings and imminent competition from the new 36th St. causeway.

3—Finding suitable and noncontroversial tenants for the eight remaining consumer concessions in the new terminal.

Eastern's rent for new terminal space started March 1, McSherry said. But airlines officials are disputing the director's stand that Eastern's space is ready. It will be a month, the airline claims, before taxiways for its planes are finished. Then they'll move.

On Venetian Causeway, commissioners voted to ask county engineers for comparative costs of repairing the prestive costs of repairing the present four-lane structure or rebuilding it six lanes wide.

McSherry said the Port Authority will soon advertise for bids on these concessions:

Fruit, gift and health shop; women's apparel shop; beauty salon; book store; children's clothing and toy store; valet shop; camera shop; a store selling "more expensive" gifts.

New Trial Ordered in Slaying Case

The Third District Court of Appeals Tuesday ordered a new trial for James Hamilton III, former Dade School Board office secretary sentenced to 20 years last March for manslaughter in the hammer slaying of his brother-in-law.

The appeals court ordered a new trial for Hamilton, of 1729 NW 49th St., on the basis of testimony at the jury trial before Circuit Judge Pat Cannon. The high court cited instances during the trial when the prosecution referred to the killing as "murder."

Gun Permit Law Fails

Want to buy a gun? All you need in Dade County is the price of the weapon.

Metro commissioners killed a proposed law Tuesday which would have required prospective purchasers of sidearms to secure a county permit first. A permit-seeker would have to submit to fingerprinting.

"My conscience is clear if someone who has no business owning a gun kills somebody," said Commissioner Alex Gordon, sponsor of the bill.

Gordon and Faris Cowart favored the law, which was opposed by about two dozen gun dealers in the commission chamber.

Pupils Learn Value of Good Diet

Too Many Sweets Make You Nippy

Candy may taste good, but it doesn't help you grow big and strong, an experiment being conducted by Mrs. Rose Galton's fourth-grade class at Kinloch Park Elementary School has shown. For four weeks, the students have been raising two white rats, one on a normal diet, the other on a diet of sweets. Here, 9-year-old Lora Wyatt tells what happened.

By LORA WYATT
Written for The Herald

Too many sweets make your tail turn scaly. Also, you tend to nip at people.

That's what happened to our pet rat who eats nothing but candy, cake and soda pop. Our other rat eats meat and two vegetables from the school cafeteria every day. He is happier, and does not nip.

We voted for the names of our rats. The one on the good, balanced diet is Good Fuzzy the one on the sweet diet is Sweet Buzzy

Rat Tale

Here's the story of two little rats, and how they grew. The figures show the weight of each rat in grams.

Age in weeks:	1	2	3	4
Good Fuzzy	16	61	86	116
Sweet Buzzy	22	61	87	84

We have made graphs to show their progress. I think they are doing very well. The experiment will show us that too many sweets are not good for us.

Fuzzy's eyes are brighter than Buzzy's. Also, I think Fuzzy's fur is better and softer looking.

Fuzzy has grown faster, too. He was the smallest at first, but he caught up with Buzzy in two weeks. Now Fuzzy weighs 116 grams and Buzzy weighs only 84.

Mrs. Galton says Buzzy will probably get mean in another week. When that happens, we will stop giving him candy and cake and start feeding him meat and vegetables.

Then maybe his tail will not be scaly any more.

Metro May Hop Fair Bandwagon

Official OK Still Refused

By LEO ADDE
Herald Staff Writer

If there's a world fair here in 1964, it may be a Metro venture, with the county sharing in costs and profits.

Metro Commissioners took that stand Tuesday as they refused to give official endorsement to a fair promoted by Attorney Jerome Weinkle and directed by 24 persons he selected.

On Commissioner Ralph Fossey's motion, the county board formed its own world fair committee. Commissioner Robert Haverfield is chairman, with John McLeod and Ben McGahey as members.

The Metro fair committee will meet with Weinkle's group and recommend to the full board whether it should pursue the idea of holding the exhibition.

Leading opposition to endorsement of the Weinkle group, Commissioner Arthur Patten said, "This has gotten off to a loose start. It's not a proper delegation of authority to give the county's name to this fair and turn its promotion over to a private group."

Weinkle told commissioners he has paid all fair promotional expenses so far.

"I hope the world fair would be a profitable venture," Weinkle said. The profits, he said, would "go to the County Commission."

Weinkle's proposed fair would be an 18-month, 250 million dollar, privately financed jet age exhibition to start during the 1964 tourist season.

His first choice of site — the Graves Tract near North Miami Beach — fell through when Interama, which has first claim, turned down a merger with the fair promotion.

Thomas H. Barkdull Jr., J. A. Belcher, Robert F. Bell, Luther Brooks, R. D. Freeman, T. J. Galatis, Jack Harding, G. F. Higginbotham, Marshall Kline, Robert B. Knight, Harold P. Gables Rules Models Can't Be Nuisances

CORAL GABLES Commissioner John Montgomery is all for the proposed fashion show at City Hall March 18 — as long as steps are taken to insure that the models don't become "an attractive nuisance."

But, at Montgomery's suggestion, the commission instructed attorneys to check whether the city would be liable for damages for any accident to spectators or participants if the show is held on city property.

"This is the first time I've ever heard of a pretty model being called a nuisance — an attractive nuisance — but that might be the case," Montgomery said.

Fishing Leads To Death

By TONY PATRUS
Herald Staff Writer

A 68-year-old man who lived in lonely retirement here and spent his days fishing, drowned Tuesday, apparently when he slipped from the bank of a rockpit where he was enjoying his pastime.

The body of Carroll W. Young was found at the bottom of a rockpit near SW 72nd Ave. by Young's landloard, Theodore Chapman, of 7111 SW 44th St.

Metro deputies called to the scene found Young's fishing gear on top of a steep, rock-buttressed bank above where the body was found in a deep area of the pit.

He had lived here a year and a half, Chapman said. He boarded with Chapman and his wife and went fishing every day.

Chapman said he believed the elderly man had a sister in Baltimore, where he apparently lived before coming here, but knew of no other family. He said Young had talked of being a railroad man before he retired.

Hot Stuff

Coral Gables firemen tiptoe through gooey hot tar as they spray water on a burning tank truck loaded with bubbling hot tar. The truck caught fire when a small furnace unit used to keep the tar molten overheated the cargo, spilling it over the sides. It belonged to Giffen Industries and was parked at Laguna St. and San Lorenzo Dr. Damage to the truck was estimated to be $800.

Recreation Fund Sought

By PHIL FORTMAN
Herald Staff Writer

SOUTH MIAMI'S City Council voted 4 to 1 Tuesday to ask Metro for $50,000 for recreation facilities that "the county people are using anyway."

South Miami would match the $50,000, and build a youth hall, the council said.

Alternative to the plan is to charge county residents whose children use the facilities a fee of $10 or $15 a year, Councilman Ed Corley said.

Councilman George Gibbons voted against the idea, saying he doesn't want to up the city's $22,000 recreation budget to $50,000.

The request will go before the Metro Commission this week.

If Metro approves the idea, the city will hire a full-time recreation director, City Manager L. M. McConnell said.

In another action, 45 residents of the area near SW 80th St. at the Brewer Canal protested a request to allow apartments to be built on four lots in the neighborhood.

The attorney for the contracting firm said he would withdraw the request for variance on one of the lots.

The councilmen then tabled the request for two weeks.

Homestead Use of Gas Supported

By JOY WINANS
Herald Staff Writer

HOMESTEAD — Use of natural gas to run the city light plant would cut operating costs by 40 to 60 per cent, City Utility Superintendent Gordon Ivey said Tuesday in agreeing with the council's plan to use gas in the plant.

The decision, which came after a year's study by the council and City Engineer William Sydow, was made Monday.

The council approved a proposed contract for a 20-year supply of gas from the Houston Gas and Oil Corp.

The next step will be taken when the Texas company appears before the Federal Power Commisson this month seeking permission to increase its supply of gas to Florida.

Should this request be approved, the gas will be piped directly to Homestead Light Plant, eliminating costs of oil transportation from Port Everglades and cutting maintenance costs in half, according to Ivey.

Sydow and Ivey, accompanied by two city councilmen, made a tour of cities in Alabama and Louisiana last year to inspect light plants operated by natural gas.

Atom Smasher Tops in Contest

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A 17-year-old Virginian who built an experimental atom smasher and dabbles with rockets is the top winner in the 18th annual Westinghouse science talent search.

LETCHER

First place honors, including a $7,500 Scholarship, were awarded to John S. Letcher Jr., of Lexington, Va. The six-foot, six-inch youth is the son of a retired Marine Corps Brigadier general.

His victory climaxed a week-long competition here among 40 finalists — 31 boys and nine girls — representing an original field of 28,000 high school contestants.

The youth, who has headed a rocket club at his school the last two years, said he would like some day to head a research team developing a nuclear propulsion system for interplanetary travel.

Cubans to Join Dictator Fights

HAVANA, Cuba — (AP) — Fighters against Latin American dictatorships will get a friendly hand from Cuban revolutionists, Cuba's army chief of staff said on returning from a visit to the U.S.

Maj. Camilo Cienfuegos told newsmen the Cuban revolution had two major effects: Exiles now have real hope of overthrowing remaining dictatorships, and Cubans who went to the U.S. because they lacked work, now hope to return under Prime Minister Fidel Castro's economic development program.

Sailors Get Soviet Gifts

LONDON — (AP) — The Soviet government has sent gifts to U.S. Navy men stationed at Newfoundland who looked after Soviet Deputy Premier Anastas I. Mikoyan. His plane made a forced landing there last month as he was returning from his U.S. visit.

Moscow radio said the American commander, senior officer and four privates — all unidentified — received the gifts "as a sign of gratitude for the hospitality and consideration" they showed Mikoyan.

The broadcast did not say what the gifts were.

High Court Reverses State, Dade

Witness Transfer Is Ruled Legal

The U. S. Supreme Court has overturned rulings by the Dade Circuit Court and the Florida Supreme Court by holding constitutional the law under which 42 states make witnesses available to each other in criminal cases.

Justice Frankfurter delivered the 7-2 decision. Justice Douglas wrote a dissent in which Justice Black concurred.

The court ruled in a test case in which the district attorney of New York County in New York sought an order by the Dade Circuit Court to compel a union official to appear before a grand jury in New York County. The grand jury was investigating use of labor union funds.

The official, Joseph C. O'Neill, is president of the Distillery, Rectifying, Wine and Allied Workers' International Union of America. A resident of Elmwood, a suburb of Chicago, he was attending a union convention in Miami at the time of the New York request—in April, 1956.

O'Neill contested the New York request and won decisions by the Circuit Court and the Florida Supreme Court that the uniform law violated the U. S. Constitution.

The uniform law as to summoning of witnesses from other states has been adopted by all the states except Alabama, Georgia, Illinois, Iowa, Michigan and Missouri.

When O'Neill challenged it here, the Florida Supreme Court ruled the law was invalid insofar as it authorized a Florida judge to order that a witness in Florida be taken into custody and delivered to an officer of a requesting state.

The Florida Supreme Court decided the law abridged privileges and immunities of citizens of the states "since it impairs the right of free ingress and egress from state to state, which is one of the rights of national citizenship guaranteed by the fourteenth amendment" to the U.S. Constitution.

Atom Victim Gets Blame

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The Atomic Energy Commission concluded Monday that errors by Cecil W. Kelley were responsible for his death from radiation last Jan. 1.

Kelley, 38, died 36 hours after he was accidentally exposed at the Los Alamos, N.M., scientific laboratory. He was transferring plutonium and organic solutions between containers in a chemical plutonium recovery process.

Before he died, Kelley said all he knew of the mishap was a blue flash which blinded him as he started the stir operations in a 225-gallon steel tank. There was no explosion and nobody saw the accident.

AEC General Manager A. R. Luedecke said Monday an investigation review committee had "found that the accident was directly attributable to errors" by Kelley.

MORE THAN 200 trucks of all models and makes are on display at Lucky Truck Sales, 2479 NW 36th St. This firm gives a 100 per cent guarantee on parts and labor for 30 days on each completely reconditioned truck sold.

The Right, Guaranteed Truck for Job Is Specialty of Lucky Truck Sales

Manuel Luck
. . . owner, Lucky Trucks

For many businesses, a truck is an essential piece of equipment. If profits are to be high and operating costs low, the truck must be "keyed" to its job.

One dealer which specializes in fitting the truck to the job is Lucky Truck Sales, Inc. Each truck is "customized" to the particular function the customer wants it to do.

"We give a 100 per cent guarantee on every truck we sell," says Manuel Luck, owner of Lucky Truck Sales. "This guarantee is for everything—parts and labor included—for 30 days.

"Every truck sold by Lucky Truck Sales is completely reconditioned. In fact, our five full-time mechanics make new trucks out of used trucks."

Luck started his business six years ago with an inventory of three trucks. Today, the large lot at 2479 NW 36th St. has more than 200 trucks of every type . . . pick ups, panels, walk-ins, dumps, contractor dumps, furniture vans, stake body, utility, tractors and trailers, and even some buses.

"We determined from the start that we must build customer confidence if the firm was to become Florida's largest," Luck stated. "To do this, we established our unconditional guarantee policy. Another policy which has helped our growth is providing the right truck for the job.

"It has taken a lot of hard work, but today Lucky Truck Sales is, by far, Florida's largest. Much of our growth can be traced to repeat customers. We are more interested in having a customer come back than anything else. To do this, we know we can not be satisified until the customer is happy."

Letters from many satisfied customers on file in the office attest to the fact that the firm's customers are pleased with the trucks they purchased from Lucky Trucks.

The name "Lucky" was chosen because it tied in with Luck's name. It also may imply that the purchaser is "lucky" to have found such a friendly place from which to buy.

"You can arrange financing to suit your budget right in our office," he said. "We handle our own financing anywhere in the state.

"Every one of our trucks is guaranteed to pass the City of Miami safety inspection. If it doesn't, bring it back and we will fix it—free."

Lucky Truck Sales also is equipped to handle all shipping arrangements for exporting trucks. A letter or phone call will bring full particulars.

Information about individual truck needs may be secured by calling NEwton 5-0677 or visiting the lot which is open every evening until 9 p.m.

For Cars with Power Accessories . . .
The Answer to Your Battery Problems
An inadequate generating system is the basic cause of battery troubles. The increasing load of accessories takes more current out of the battery than a conventional d.c. generator can put back in. On vehicles, slow driving, long idling periods and short trips aggravate battery trouble. The result is a dead battery — frequent recharging and resulting in short battery life. A costly, heavy-duty battery is no solution.
The Answer Is Replacement Of The Conventional D.C. Generator With The Revolutionary L-N ALTERNATOR SYSTEM.
Your vehicle will always start easily because the battery will be used for starting only. And the battery will last much longer. L-N Alternator Systems generate ample current for the electrical load. POWER 2-WAY Radio and electrical accessories without battery troubles.

Public Ignorant About Eye Health

By Science Service

NEW YORK — A substantial portion of the population still believes the old superstition that raw meat such as beefsteak will reduce the swelling of a "black eye."

People do not seem to know much more about eye health than they did back in 1936, Dr. H. Frederick Kilander, professor of health education, New York University, reported at the opening session of the 1959 conference of the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness here.

Over a period of about 25 years, Dr. Kilander has questioned 200 groups ranging from 25 to 500 persons, totaling more than 50,000 people. Some of the questions concern eye care and reveal the amount of knowledge held by the public in this area of health.

Only two out of every five persons questioned know that astigmatism refers to imperfection in the curvature of the eye, he said. Only about half of the public knows the best arrangement of a chair and writing desk in a room with windows on one side For the right-handed person, the furniture should be placed so that the writer's left side is toward the window.

Pioneer IV
Due To Miss Moon By 35,000 Miles

How Pioneer IV (Broken Line) Is Expected to Pass the Moon

Chances of Hitting the Moon 10,000 to 1, and Here's Why

See Pictures, Story, 1A

CAPE CANAVERAL — (AP) — The Army says its lunar probe fired Tuesday never had better than one chance in 10,000 of making a direct hit on the moon. Why can't they aim better than that?

You are on a golf tee. The tee is on a spinning merry-go-round. The green for which you will aim your shot is moving, too, at about 88 feet a minute.

Think you can make a hole-in-one?

Sure it sounds impossible, but wait. You haven't heard the half of it.

While the ball is in the air, two huge magnets, one behind you and the other on the far side of the green, are pulling and tugging at the ball. You've got to allow for that, too.

If this sounds confusing, it may help you to know that it bothers the mathematicians, also.

Isaac Newton established the principle of gravitation which explains the motion of a planet around the sun. But Newton could solve only two-body problems.

For centuries, astronomers have tried without success to compute the motions of bodies when three or more are involved — such as, in this case, the earth, the moon and the probe.

Lacking this formula, the Army relied on computing machines to make numerical approximations.

In figuring the direction, the rocket men had to consider that the firing pad moves at more than 1,000 miles an hour as the earth rotates on its axis. And the moon moves in its orbit at 2,000 miles an hour.

Every four minutes, the aiming direction of the rocket must be changed by one degree. At the lunar distance of 230,000 miles, an error of one degree in aiming means a miss of 4,000 miles.

Speed of the probe's flight through space is just as important as directional aim. An error of one per cent in velocity means an error of about eight hours in arrival time at the moon.

Thus, if the probe should travel the distance one hour too fast, the moon would be 2,000 miles away when it got there.

8th Group Joins Heart Program

NEW YORK — (UPI) — The American Society for the Study of Arteriosclerosis has merged with the American Heart Association, it was announced Tuesday.

The society is now known as the Council on Arteriosclerosis of the AHA. This brings to eight the councils now active in the Heart Association's program.

Love Life of an Oyster
...is generally speaking a pretty dull affair However he gets a lot of loving attention at LUAU. He's courted royally ...and even though he may have been something of a failure in real life, he certainly ends up in a pearl of a dish.
May we suggest Cantonese Oyster Beef.

Support at Hand

Wednesday, March 4, 1959
By CARROLL RIGHTER

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) It is impossible to interest and get the assistance of higher ups today if you make a definite appointment to see them and outline your ideas and the practical operation thereof minutely.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Inspirations of all sorts are yours today which will help you to reach your cherished goals more quickly and bring joy and harmony into your life. FOR YOUR COPY of Carroll Righter's individual 16-page Forecast for April send your birth date and 50c in coin (no stamps) to Carroll Righter Forecast, Miami Herald, Box 1995, Grand Central Sta., N.Y. 17, N.Y.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) You are very anxious to look into new methods and enlarge your horizons. This can best be accomplished by investigating practically what is close at hand and getting advice.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't permit your talks with partners to lag, but quickly thrash out the most vital problems and come to a satisfactory understanding. Be pleasant and most cooperative.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) See that you put the required labor into the plans you have recently made, but be certain to follow through precisely on commitments made with others in conjunction thereof.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) Get whatever beauty or health treatments are needed, but make sure not to neglect conversing with loved ones seriously about future plans and goals, security, etc. Have fun.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22) Work and act along practical lines today, so that you get emotional and business matters adjusted properly. P.M. be out with chosen friends to ideal amusements.

SCORPIO Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Performing the practical duties that require immediate attention will bring fine returns today as well as impress favorably your close ties and higher ups. Labor diligently.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Be sure to step out and talk over with partners and comrades those matters and subjects that will mean added revenue for you and them. There will be an excellent exchange of ideas.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Discuss freely whatever is closest to your heart and hopes with those persons who can help you to gain your goals. Try to inject a note of humor into your conversations.

AQUARIUS Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) Although you are acting in a gay and light vein now, always keep your mind on the practical aspects of daily living. Ferret out whatever is puzzling to you. Be gay.

PISCES (Feb 20 to March 20) It is impossible now to get together with particular persons or large gatherings who are interested in your welfare and can give support to your projects. Take advantage of opportunities honorably. Keep confidential. P.M. be very sociable.

3 Flying 'Labs' To Study Storms

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Three flying weather laboratories will be assigned to Miami in June on a special hurricane research project, it was reported Tuesday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said it is leasing two commercial transports and borrowing an Air Force B-57 for the research flights.

KRASLOW

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, Weather Bureau chief, said the bureau "will have the most completely equipped atmospheric research aircraft ever assembled anywhere."

Two DC-6 transports are being leased from Trans Caribbean Airways. They and the Air Force bomber will be based at Miami International Airport from June 15 to Dec. 15—the hurricane season.

The transports will be used for atmospheric research at middle and low flight levels. The twin-engine light bomber will handle atmospheric investigations at all higher levels up to 50,000 feet.

The planes will be equipped with especially designed instruments to measure and record dozens of "meteorological items" each minute they are flying within a tropical storm.

The Air Force will provide highly specialized automatic navigation devices and weather search radar sets.

The bureau said the extensive research will make possible "satisfactory appraisals of various proposals being made for the . . . control of hurricanes that approach coastal areas."

The Weather Bureau's National Hurricane Research Project was started in 1956 to study tropical storms as they form, develop and then die.

During the past three hurricane seasons dozens of research sorties were flown into the center of hurricanes by a modified B-47 strato jet bomber and two B-50 bombers.

The Weather Bureau said Navy and Air Force "hurricane hunter" aircraft will continue their storm location and tracking missions during the 1959 season.

Africans Riot, 21 Killed

BLANTYRE, NYASALAND —(AP)— Rioting spread across Nyasaland Tuesday on the heels of the arrest of an African nationalist leader and by nightfall 21 Africans were reported slain by police gunfire.

Dispatches said 17 were killed at Nkata Bay in the north and one at Fort Manning, in central Nyasaland. Three died in Blantyre.

Shooting broke out on the outskirts of this capital, only a few hours after security officers picked up Dr. Hastings Banda, extremist leader of the African National Congress, and whisked him off to exile by plane.

Angered by the British-imposed state of emergency in this southeast African protectorate, Negro demonstrators gathered in defiance of the regulations. Police charged with clubs when the Africans refused to disperse and followed up with tear gas.

When these tactics proved useless and two special constables were injured, the police opened fire. When the shooting ceased three Africans were dead and two were wounded.

The bloodiest rioting was reported from Nkata Bay, where, in addition to the 17 dead, 13 Africans were wounded.

Debbie Refuses to Clear Way For Early Eddie-Liz Nuptials

HOLLYWOOD, Calif.—(UPI)—Debbie Reynolds said Tuesday she will not consent to a Nevada divorce for Eddie Fisher so the singer can hasten his plans to marry Elizabeth Taylor.

"I feel it would be embarrassing to my children to one day find out their father had two wives at the same time," the perky actress said.

"I've already given him a divorce," said Miss Reynolds, who said Fisher has asked her permission for a Nevada decree. "That's what he wanted.

"I wish Eddie no ill will, but I don't want him back either," she said.

"It's his life and his business now. I haven't given my consent to a Nevada divorce because I don't believe in it. But then I don't think my permission is necessary," she added.

Miss Reynolds got a whopping property settlement, plus custody of both children, in an uncontested interlocutory divorce action Feb. 19. However, the decree will not become final in California for a year and Fisher was believed anxious to wed Miss Taylor this spring.

Fisher denied persistent reports earlier that he would marry Miss Taylor in Mexico.

The boyish singer will go to Las Vegas April 1 for a four-week appearance at the Tropicana Hotel there.

Miss Taylor has rented an 85-acre ranch-style estate—at $500 weekly—about five miles from where Eddie will sing.

Nightlife with George Bourke

Well-Known Star-Initials, F.S.-Gives Autograph Charmingly

UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL'S Bob Ungerfeld is at the Sorrento setting up a premiere of "Imitation of Life," at which novelist Fannie Hurst may be a guest . . . If anyone inquires — Inquiring Photographer Jimmie Jemail is at the Shamrock Isle Hotel . . . Joe E. Ross, the Sgt. Ridzik of the Phil Silvers show, is at the Algiers. He'll be outranked Thursday when Paul Ford, who plays the colonel in the TV show, checks in.

Sammy Davis Jr., National Airline-jetted in late last night, for his Eden Roc opening tonight . . . Herb Shriner, a steak eater, fitting in nicely at the rustic-decored Hickory House . . . Richard Tucker, putting on the bib and tucker at the Embers, with his wife, Sara Perlmuth, whose brother is an opera singer too . . . Rocky Marciano, Frank Sinatra — and friends — applauding a paisano, Jimmy Durante at Latin Quarter. But the "friends" saw the show opening night!

Sultry Singer Spurns Offer

A LOCAL offered a singer in the four-figure bracket $200 if she could sing his favorite song in a spot (not the one where she was working) one recent night. "Thanks," the sultry lass responded, "but I have a steady job" . . . Eartha Kitt will return to Eden Roc for the Joe E. Lewis return date.

Don't believe everything you hear. John Engle, of National Airlines — the airline of the stars — relates that a singer whose initials are F.S. was warned there was a mob of youngsters awaiting him when he arrived at Miami International Airport the other night and was given the option of being whisked away through another exit. In essence his reply was "Why?"

Then he obliged with autographs in a manner that would have pleased even Dale Carnegie — or Sammy Davis and Jack Eigen. His comment about his most recent film? That he thought Dean Martin was terrific in it. Just a charming and obliging guy, was the Engle analysis.

Hans Conreid has fallen heir to the "Belvedere" character at 20th Century — for TV purposes . . . Pictures of the Lucerne Hotel's Havana Mardi Gras Revue dancers Roberta and Alicia and of Milos Velarde were substituted for the Life Magazine showgirls for Latin-American distrabution . . . That "bubble" bath taken nightly by Pat Hobson at LaRue is a "dry" bath. The bubbles are a mechanical illusion.

* * *

Barefoot Dance at Ivory Toe-wer

MORRIS LANSBURGH was among those cha-cha-chaing barefoot (which is de rigueur) at the Saxony's Ivory Tower . . . Julius LaRosa will be at his Hollywood restaurant nightly until he opens at the Diplomat Friday . . . Henny Youngman will be the Singapore Malayan Lounge's answer to Deauville Cavalcade Theater booking of Tony Martin for a one-nighter Thursday . . . Buck Buckley, who is seen in "Wild Women of Wongo," opens a stand at the Monte Carlo Roulette Room this week. His last one was for a year at the Caribbean Hotel.

Dick Shawn, who sings "Once in Love with Amy" nightly at the Coconut Grove Playhouse's "Where's Charley?," supped at Place for Steak with the wife and kiddies—who are named AMY and Wendy!

Stern Helping Golda Meir Dinner

ISAAC STERN, Jennie Tourel and Jerome Hines—all of the top rung of the music world—will participate in the tribute dinner to Mrs. Golda Meir, Israel's minister of foreign affairs, at the Fontainebleau on Saturday night. Guests will purchase $1,000 or more of State of Israel Bonds . . . Al Lang, veteran drummer of The Rhythm Kings, hit 57 on Saturday but is still going strong. His current group is billed as Mr. Rhythm and His Mites of Rhythm . . . Talent manager Buddy Allen is dickering a "New Faces" spot for comedian Rip Taylor. He's already set for the Frankie Laine Cavalcade date at the Deauville on March 9—at Laine's request . . . Napolen Reed has a "cast of 20" in his Montvartse Les Girls Club show.

Confidentially . . .

They're Saying . . .

THAT those in the know are seeing parallels of the seven-year-old Willie Moretti demise (also in New Jersey) on the eve of another probe but they are predicting that the death won't slow the government (Mal Anderson) in its anti-trust probe of some of his associates. In steel? . . . THAT American businessmen in Oriente province have been promised by Fidel Castro that they will be paid for trucks and other farm equipment "liberated" by his "barbudos" during the mountain fighting. Sort of a Go! Go! Now and Pay Later revolution-finance plan . . . THAT Producer Frank Capra, who has been showing off a copy of "A Hole in the Head" on the Connecticut sneak circuit may sneak it into town for Frank Sinatra's local friends to see during his Fontainebleau date . . . THAT S. D. will probably nix all "guest" radio shows while he's in town. He's frantically sorry that his remarks at a Chicago microphone lost so much of his true feeling in the translation.

Friends Save Ex-Star from Pauper Grave

INTERNATIONAL Novelet: Gordon Hamilton, 40, danced with the ballerina star of the Royal Ballet and "Red Shoes," Dame Margot Fonteyn . . . He died penniless in Paris last week . . . To snatch him from a pauper's grave Dame Margot sent 150 pounds . . . Cyril Ritchard mailed a check, the Royal Ballet made a collection . . . Roland Petit, stager of Hamilton's ballet, contributed 150 pounds to help defray the last of the medical bills . . . Ailing for two months, Hamilton had sold his furniture and other possessions to try and meet his debts . . . Ironically, he wouldn't part with the one thing that would have brought the most money . . . The famous death mask he wore in his specialty . . . It was buried with him.

JAMES STEWART'S income from his last three movies exceeded 2 million . . . "The Gershwin Rarities" album is a collector's item. Includes little known Gershwinners. The most glistenable are "Funny Face" and "Kickin' the Clouds" . . . The average B'way show must fill 70 per cent of its pews just to break even . . . Edward Mulhare, male lead of "Fair Lady," has quite a record. The smash is not only his first musical—it is his initial major starring role . . . This season three plays closed despite a majority of rave reviews . . . If you enjoy All That Jazz then whirl J. Mathis' "Open Fire. Two Guitars" . . . THE LATE SHOW: Lord Lambert is in from London. His nightly time reserved for Joanne Tree, widow of the late Alex Thompson . . . The Dems will soon wish they never heard of Bernard Goldfine. The mystery of the $750,000 Goldfine checks (never explained) is leading closer to a powerful Democrat in Washington . . . From the WW column of Jan. 19: "Suzy Parker's chums believe she will confirm the rumors in Paris" . . . CAST OF CHARACTERS: Maureen Stapleton, star of "Cold Wind and the Warm," is rated one of the top emoters because she can toy with powerful, emotional parts. In real life she insists she is afraid of nearly everything. "I'm just a good, sensible, neurotic girl," she shrugs . . . Playwright Arthur Miller, they say, is now more or less Marilyn Monroe's personal sec'y. Makes her appointments, runs her errands, etc . . . The poets and Pied Pipers of Broadway have expressed their philosophy of love in song and story. The expressions range from silly jingles to distinguished verse. One of the wisest and most eloquent philosophical comments about the oldest emotion was made by an acknowledged authority on the subject—Marlene Dietrich: "No one is born with pride, but born with love we are. And if you give it, blessings will be yours and loneliness will never be your roommate. A woman isn't well enough equipped to be alone. Her richness is the resonance which she can give her man like no one else on earth — the resonance man needs to feel his power strength and achievement to the fullest."

* * *

AN OLYMPIAN philosophy of the theater has been inscribed by dramatist Arthur Miller: "Underneath our shiny front of stone, our fascination with gadgets and our new toys that can blow the earth into a million stars, we are still outside the doorway through which the great answers wait. Not all the cameras in Christendom nor all the tricky lights will move us one step closer to a better understanding of ourselves, but only, as it always was, the truly written word, the profoundly felt gesture, the naked and direct contemplation of man which is the enduring glamor of the stage."

Nude Ad Your Risk, U.S. Says

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — The Post Office Department advised a movie company Tuesday it could display the nude charms of a beautiful Spanish woman in a newspaper ad — but only at its own risk.

The department delicately sidestepped giving advance approval — or disapproval — of the use of Francisco Goya's famous painting, "The Maja Nude," to advertise a movie.

The movie company, United Artists, asked the department for an "advisory ruling" on whether newspapers that carried the proposed ad would be barred from the mails.

General counsel Herbert B. Warburton replied in a letter that the department couldn't very well rule on the ad until it actually had appeared in a publication that had gone through the mails.

Garner a Fighting Frogman

'Up Periscope' Sights Tense Story, Wins It

By GEORGE BOURKE
Herald Amusement Editor

Movie Review

"Up Periscope," at the Miami, Carib and Miracle Theaters, is a rattling good suspense drama glorifying the frogmen of World War II and the difficult missions they were called upon to perform and the silent service, the subs, which often got them to their points of operation at great risk.

James Garner and Edmond O'Brien are costarred and Warner Brothers has given the yarn a slick color production.

It is predominantly a man's picture — to the extent that any picture starring the very hot Mr. Garner could be — but a romantic issue is used to launch the picture, with Andra Martin essaying a brief but effective chore as a sort of modern day Samantha who isn't all she pretends to be.

Things cool off once Garner and O'Brien get to sea, however, but a new heat develops when Garner, assigned to land on a Jap-held island, photograph a code book without being seen and return to the sub, discovers that O'Brien considers the sub and its crew his responsibility with a greater priority than Garner's comfort—and safety.

The situation is evolved nicely and with good suspense—but the high points of "Up Periscope" occur once Garner gets ashore and embarks on his solo mission.

This part of the film, which was directed by Gordon Douglas, develops a suspense reminiscent of the blowing of the bridge in "Bridge on the River Kwai." For almost 20 minutes there is action without dialogue other than the voices of Japs in the background.

Others in the cast include Alan Hale, as a sub officer in a characterization similar to those his father used to play; Frank Gifford, the grid star; Carleton Carpenter and William Leslie.

MIP: The Poor Man's Stock Market

By JAMES RUSSELL
Herald Business Editor

A neighbor of his, who earns $82.50 a week, owns a piece of Gulf Oil Co.

Each man bought his stake in American industry much the same way he makes the installment payments on his car—a certain amount every month.

These men are among some 80,000 Americans who buy stock through the New York Stock Exchange's "Monthly Investment Plan." In brokerage language, it's known as MIP and some of its users buy stock at a rate as low as $40 every three months.

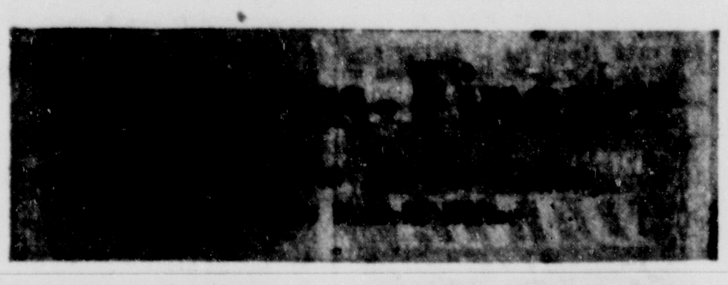
MIP celebrated its fifth birthday last month with a record amount of shares purchased, record dollar investment and record number of plans in force.

* * *

THE STOCK EXCHANGE estimates it has 2,500 MIPs in force in Florida, of which 250 are in Miami.

Some brokerage firms, however, are not too keen on MIP.

"It's an insignificant thing in our total business," said the head of one large brokerage house. "From our standpoint, it can't be regarded as a success. But it has undoubtedly brought in investors who would never have become stockholders otherwise."



Merrill Lynch, Pierce, Fenner and Smith has 1,500 MIPs at work in Florida—144 in its Miami offices—and likes them.

* * *

"WE HAVE HAD outstanding success with the Monthly Investment Plan in the Florida area and our Florida offices alone account for some five per cent of all of the active MIPs which we have on our books," said Joe Quinn, a partner in the big nationwide brokerage firm.

MIP was introduced to the public in January, 1954, as a simple method of buying stocks listed on the exchange on a pay-as-you-go basis. Since that time, the public has:

INVESTED $112,600,000 through MIP.

BOUGHT 2,850,000 shares of stock through MIP.

STARTED 163,000 stock purchase plans.

* * *

WHAT DO THESE small investors—part of the 10 million Americans who are stock owners—buy with their $40 or more every three months?

A study by Merrill Lynch showed a definite preference for chemicals, utilities and oils.

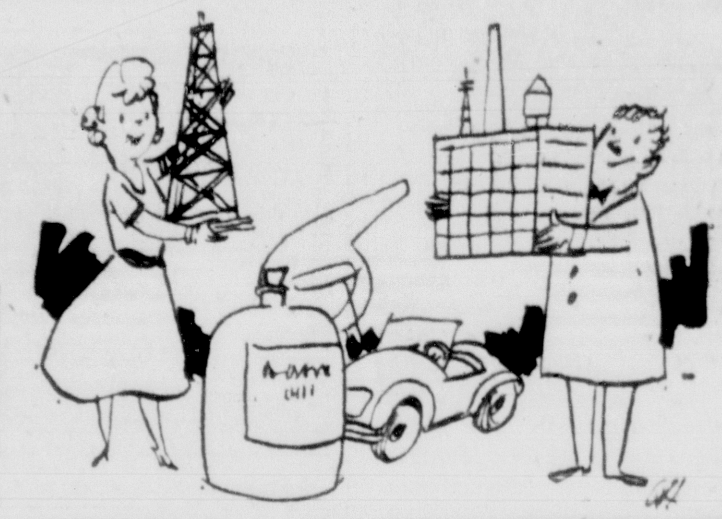
General Electric, General Motors, Dow Chemical and Standard Oil topped the list of MIP favorites. Tri-Continental, Sperry Rand, Phillips Petroleum and RCA followed in that order. Then came AT&T, IBM, Pfizer & Co., Safeway Stores and Sears Roebuck.

* * *

"MY GM STOCK — and I just have a little—makes me feel as though I'm a true capitalist," said the aluminum products worker with the modest income, "although I'm a laboring man, too."

That's why the New York Stock Exchange started MIP and why it has become a pet project of the Exchange.

"There is no question that MIP has satisfied a basic demand both for new and experienced investors," said the Exchange's president, Keith Funston. "It has demonstrated that you don't have to be rich to be a shareowner."



Chain Sales Up

NEW YORK—(UPI)—January chain store sales rose 7.9 per cent above the same month of 1958, according to Printers' Ink magazine. The publication said the biggest single gain from a year ago was a 20.1 per cent sales jump for the auto-supply group.

General boosts in synthetic yarn prices are usually followed by higher retail prices on fabrics and clothing.

Industry's 'Happy Mixture'

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Rugged individualism has been replaced by a "happy mixture of individualism and conformity" in the modern corporate scheme of things, according to an opinion poll of top executives.

This personality profile was drawn by a majority of executives canvassed by the financial publication Dun's Review and Modern Industry.

This majority opinion was handed down by executives who discounted the popular image of the "organization man" as a serious threat to traditional American individualism and, more specifically, to executive initiative.

The minority opinion held that as corporations grow larger and more complex, executives at every level tend to become more submerged as individuals and assume the role of "yes" men.

The majority of the more than 150 corporate presidents polled conceded that conformity exists within their organizations, but said it was chiefly confined to the lower reaches of management.

"Successful individualism," they added, is what attracts attention and leads to promotion.

The majority also defended the growing trend toward management by committee.

"To make decisions in a world of increasing government rules, regulations, and legal requirements, business needs more experts and specialists — men who at times may show less individuality and initiative," the survey said.

Electric Board

Walston & Co. has installed a complete electric board to report market quotations in its Bay Harbor Islands office. It carries quotations from both the New York and American stock exchanges.

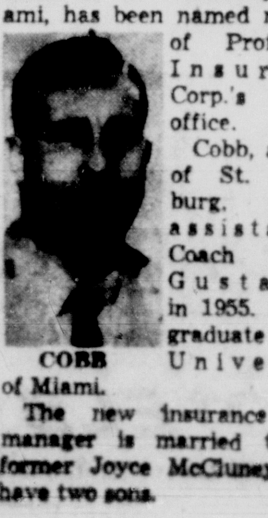
Don Cobb Goes From Football To Insurance

Don. E. Cobb, who resigned recently as assistant backfield coach at the University of Miami, has been named manager of Professional Insurance Corp.'s Miami office.



COBB

Cobb, a native of St. Petersburg, became assistant to Coach Andy Gustafson in 1955. He is a graduate of the University of Miami.

The new insurance office manager is married to the former Joyce McCluney. They have two sons.

WHICH WAY TO THE KEYS? This monkey is demonstrating — all in fun, of course—a new "guide yourself" Florida tour that an auto rental firm has introduced to try to stimulate the car rental business here. New practices like this by the auto rental industry have helped double it in size every four years for the past 12. The pretty girl in the picture is Adrienne Bourbeau.

Miami Bank Shows Big Growth Rate

Metropolitan Bank of Miami had the greatest increase in national ranking during 1958 of any bank in the South with $20 million or more in deposits, a survey showed.

The American Banker, daily newspaper of the banking profession, in a list of the top-ranking 1,200 banks in the nation showed Metropolitan jumped from 1,746th in size in 1957 to 1,121st in the nation in 1958.

Among the 1,200 top U. S. banks, only one other, Laidlaw & Co. of New York City, had a greater increase in ranking than Metropolitan.

National rankings of other Dade County banks listed in the top 1,200 include Florida National Bank of Miami, 280th; Miami Beach First National, 349th; Mercantile National of Miami Beach, 415th; Pan American Bank of Miami, 447th; Little River Bank and Trust Co., 484th; Coral Gables First National, 522nd; Industrial National Bank, 538th; Central Bank and Trust Co., 592nd; North Shore Bank of Miami Beach, 682nd; Hialeah-Miami Springs Bank, 801st; People's National Bank of Miami Shores, 1143rd and Riverside Bank, 1,189th.

Our Lives Are Getting Longer

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Average length of life of America's wage earners increased slightly in 1958 after showing a small decrease the preceding year, it is reported by statisticians of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company.

According to provisional mortality figures for 1958, the average length of life for the company's industrial policyholders was 70.2 years, an increase of 0.2 years over the figure for 1957.

Warning: 'Car Rates May Rise'

HOLLYWOOD—Directors of the American Finance Conference declared Tuesday that auto time payment interest rates will go up if car manufacturers are permitted to operate their own finance companies.

The AFC, currently meeting here at the Diplomat Hotel, represents 325 independent sales finance companies, but not the two largest—Universal C.I.T. and Commercial Credit.

Conference President David Steere of Dallas, Tex., said the independents will be forced out of the auto finance field if Ford and Chrysler are permitted to operate finance companies as General Motors does.

"If a monopoly is created, as the big automobile manufacturers seem to desire, the public will have no protection of any sort against rate increases," Steere said.

The auto makers have said they want to finance their own cars to protect buyers from unreasonable interest rates and charges.

The Daily Investor

'I'm 9; How Can I Invest My $60?'

By WILLIAM DOYLE

Q. I am nine years old and have $60 in the bank. Please advise how much I should invest in the stock market. I have my eye on Standard Gas & Electric. Do you approve?

A. Well now, you're the youngest "investor" to write in so far. I can't imagine either of my sons becoming interested in the market when they reach age nine. My big guy would be more likely to go out and try to buy that pony he's always talking about. There's no telling what the little terror would do if he had $60 in his chubby little mitts.

How much should you invest? Your parents are the best judges of that. They alone know what part of the family financial picture your $60 amounts to.

Standard Gas & Electric would seem to be a poor choice for you. It is a public utilities holding company, meaning that it owns stock in various other companies.

It is being liquidated. In other words, Standard G&E is sending to its stockholders the stocks that it owns in other companies. Several distributions have already been made. When all its stock holdings and other assets are distributed, Standard G&E will go out of business.

The value of the stocks and other assets to be passed out in the future depends on what kind of a ruling Standard G&E gets on its tax problems.

People who have plenty of experience in the market have trouble figuring this one out. It's no place for a beginner.

Q. Seven of us have formed an investment club. We each put in $100 to start and are each adding $10 a week.

We have also hired a research analyst. We have decided to pay him $100 a year. But, as an incentive to him, we would like to give him a percentage of the profits on any stock that we buy on his recommendation. We don't want to underpay him but we don't want to go overboard. How much of a percentage is the analyst entitled to?

A. You people have a real weird situation. First you form an investment club, one of the main purposes of which should be to cooperate on digging up information and making decisions.

Then you hire a man to do your research and make recommendations. That makes him more than a research analyst. He's taking on the role of an investment advisor.

An investment advisor does not work on percentage of profits. That is prohibited by the Investment Advisors' Act of 1940.

He receives a percentage of the total fund for which he acts as advisor. The average charge runs about one-half of 1 per cent to 1 per cent a year. Most of them have minimum fees. That $100 a year is undoubtedly your man's minimum. When your club's fund grows, he'll probably want a percentage arrangement. He'll be entitled to it, if he continues to do all, or most, of your research and you people follow his recommendations.

Actually, the whole thing is silly. If you really wanted to run an investment club, you would all do some research and make your own investment decisions by majority vote. Maybe you just want this guy around so you'll have somebody to blame for your mistakes.

Forget Darts

Ten Pins, Anyone?

Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

LONDON — The good old British game of darts may soon be threatened by the good old American game of ten pins.

The American Machine and Foundry Co. is launching a campaign to sell bowling equipment, including automatic pinspotters, to prospective British bowling alley operators.

Although 22 million Americans spend $250 million on the game every year it is practically unknown to Britishers. As a thirst provoker it may prove a natural for pubs.

'On Kul, on Spn'

This Boss Is an Electronic Ghost

CAMBRIDGE, Mass. —(AP)— Electronic "ghosts" are ready to step into American factories, boss complicated machines, speed up — and expand — production, Massachusetts Institute of Technology said.

The research engineers call it the automatically programmed tool system (APT.). They hail it as a technological break-through in turning out complex, critically-accurate parts — for aircraft and for industry generally.

Two years of research in the MIT servomechanisms laboratory was sponsored by the Air Force, Air Materiel Command. Nineteen aircraft plants around the country cooperated.

Some day, says Douglas T. Ross of MIT, every part of the vast industrial machinery of the United States will benefit from APT. He is head of the computer applications group of the servomechanisms laboratory.

A giant machine tool stands in the MIT laboratory — incredibly working by itself. You won't see the "ghost" behind that operation, nor hear it muttering a strange language — like this:

"On kul, on spn, go rgt, tl left, circle-ctr, plus 2, plus 3, radius, plus 5."

Nevertheless an electronic ghost, working with that strange APT language, calculated and prepared the complicated mathematical instructions which tell the machine just what to do. What is the "ghost" saying?

"Turn on the coolant, turn on the spindle, go right with the tool on the left side along the circle whose center is located at X equals 2, Y equals 3, with a radius of five."

The general idea is this: A quiet revolution has been going on for 10 years in factories making airplane-type parts. Production has been growing more and more automatic.

Now comes this APT breakthrough. Digital computers have been married to automatically-controlled machine tools.

The MIT engineers have found a way to write general directions in the strange, but easily learned APT language of six-letter words—directions which the big digital computer can understand.

The MIT engineers say, "Man hour reductions in the range of 80 to 95 per cent can be expected."

Tropical Gas Profits Increase

Tropical Gas Company, which operates throughout Latin America, reported a 42 per cent increase in net profit for 1958.

The Miami-headquartered firm, in a report on its fourth full year of operation, said it had a 33 per cent rise in customers in the past year.

Searching for STOCK VALUES?

We believe this will be a challenging year for investors, a year in which the selective search for market values must be pressed more vigorously than ever. To help you in that search, copies of the 1959 Bache Selected List are now available.

494 STOCKS

The Selected List includes 494 issues, chosen because they are actively traded, or important in their industries, or the most attractive in their group. All are alphabetically indexed for quick reference. Altogether, 38 different industries are covered.

BUY, SWITCH OR HOLD?

Every one of the stocks in the Selected List has been given a definite recommendation, based on our Research Department's evaluation. They are labelled:

BUY (better than average performance expected), SWITCH (below average), HOLD (expected to do as well as the market).

Each stock also has been rated for quality... High, Medium or Speculative.

CAPITAL GAINS OR INCOME?

Potentially, the most valuable section of the List is the "investment objective" rating. Three categories have been used... Intermediate Gain, Long-Term Gain, and Income. Thus you can quickly determine if the outlook for any stock on the List generally meets your aims and requirements for possible gain or income.

This fact-filled 48-page booklet can be helpful to experienced investors and those planning their first purchase. For your copy, return the coupon today.

Missiles Still on The Rise

NEW YORK — (AP) — The stock market advanced to another record peak Tuesday in the heaviest trading since November.

An estimated 2½ billion dollars was added to the quoted values of stocks listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

Volume soared to 4,790,000 shares compared with 4,210,000 Monday and was the largest since Nov. 6, when 4,890,000 shares changed hands.

Drugs, aircrafts, utilities and the Big Three Motors rose. Steels were mixed despite a record-breaking scheduled operating rate for the industry.

High-flying Zenith added another 13 points, putting the price at 233. Borne Chemical on the American Stock Exchange rose 12½ to 74.

Sperry Rand was the most active stock, up 7-8 to 23 7-8 on 68,200 shares.

Corporate bonds rose on the biggest volume since Sept. 26, 1955.

Naval Stores

SAVANNAH — (AP) — Rosin: trading was confined to domestic outlets and totaled three carlots. Sales, F.O.B. plants: drums, WW 9.06, WG 8.96. Bags, N 8.47.

Turpentine — Tank cars, 10,000 gallons, 51½ to 53 cents, average 52 1-10 cents.

FELINE FIREMAN answers the call. Old Sam, Long Beach firemen's first class mascot, slides down the firemen's pole in response to an alarm. He always hits the bottom in a hurry, but then he chickens out. While firemen leap aboard their vehicles, Sam sneaks out the back door. He just can't stand fire trucks.

Oom-Pah Music to Fill Air

Martial music will fill the air the rest of the week as Miami hosts the annual convention of the American Bandmasters Association.

The nation's bandmasters — more than 150 of them — kick off their four-day meeting with a free, public concert in the Dade County Auditorium at 8 p.m. tonight.

High note of the conductors' conclave comes Friday at 2 p.m. with the dedication of the Henry Fillmore Band Hall — newest addition to the University of Miami's School of Music.

In tribute to "Uncle Henry" the university's "permanent guest conductor" for nine years prior to his death in December, 1956, the bandmasters will form their own band to play a program of Fillmore compositions.

Fillmore, who was nationally known as the dean of American bandmasters and composers, bequeathed the funds for the band's new two-story home.

The band directors will be serenaded Thursday by the Miami Senior High band in the school auditorium and again Friday evening in Bayfront Park by Caesar La Monaca and his band. For both concerts, A. B. A. members will serve as guest conductors.

The convention winds up Saturday with a "Henry Fillmore Day" at Gulfstream Park and a 7:45 p.m. concert in Bayfront Park by the university band at which famed composer Ferde Grofe will conduct excerpts from his "Mississippi Suite."

Dare To Compare

THE British Morris under comparison on every approach to sound "Economy car ownership," for "Morris" offers more on the qualities that count most for enjoyable motoring at lowest cost. "You" can get 42 miles per gallon on every tank of gas — experts have attained over 70 M.P.G. here in Florida an official (A.A.A. Motors Club rallys. Did you know that every Morris is bonderized against rust, and in this salty tropic climate most cars rust badly but not your "Morris," and for longevity nothing beats a Morris. In fact a 10 year old Morris will still bring $400.00 (a third of its original cost). Unchanging desirable styling and sturdy engineering makes a new Morris at $1,495 the lowest priced "VALUE" we can recommend.

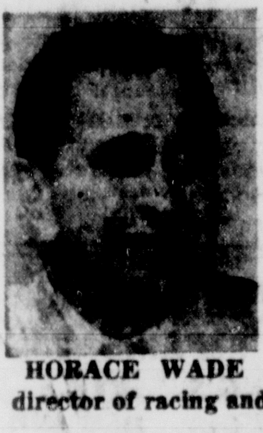
Donn, at 72, Can Be Proud Of His Gulfstream's Progress

A CROWD of 24,000 is predicted for Gulfstream's opening today. The fans will file through the turnstiles in orderly fashion and watch high-class racing in luxurious accommodations.

This will be quite in contrast with Gulfstream's inaugural back in 1939. They had 25,000 spectators that day—many of them breaking down the fences to gain access to a track which would not be in existence today except for Jimmy (Canny Scot) Donn.



HORACE WADE

Those who see Donn greeting his many friends and checking last-minute details will find it difficult to believe that the man who reclaimed Gulfstream from rust and steel is 72 years old.

Donn has aged well. He not only reclaimed Gulfstream, but built it into one of the nation's prettiest and most productive race tracks. Donn leaves many of the details to his son, Jimmy Jr., and to Horace Wade, director of racing and publicity.

Donn is proud that his confidence in Wade has been so richly rewarded.

"Horace has been with me since I reactivated Gulfstream," said Donn. "When I hired Wade, I gave him free rein and have never had cause to regret it."

Scotsman Gave Too Much Credit

DONN WAS late getting into horse racing. He showed no interest in horses at Lennox, Scotland, where he was born on Feb. 7, 1887. His father was a blacksmith, and Jimmy's seven brothers learned the trade, too.

Jimmy was interested in flowers and came to New York in 1909, where he worked for a florist. Then he moved to Miami and it was permitting the Tropical Park owners to run up a $70,000 landscaping bill that eventually got him into racing.

Donn fought long and hard to restore Gulfstream. Then he fought for better dates, and once his opponents said, "There'll be no peace in Florida racing until Donn is out of it." They were wrong. Donn tried a new tack—shedding a defeatist attitude and striving to make more profitable the dates his track had.

Donn had no magic wand in accomplishing what he did. He worked hard and it was his trait of being more stubborn than a Georgia mule that made him so controversial. He created enemies who hated him with a passion. They were fewer than the friends he made and the latters' loyalty knew no bounds.

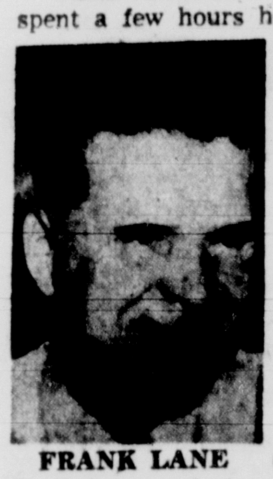
Lane Calls Halt on Cuban Talent

CLEVELAND'S GENERAL MANAGER Frank Lane spent a few hours here over the weekend—firing words faster than a machine gun does bullets.



FRANK LANE

"It's a good thing I went to Havana," Lane said in explaining his presence so far from the Indians' Arizona training camp.

It seems that Lane's Cuban representative had lined up 16 baseball prospects.

"Take five and let the others go," Lane told his man.

"But they are my friends," the Cuban protested to Lane. "How can I tell them we don't want them?"

Frank said he disposed of that by instructing the scout, "Tell 'em I don't want 'em."

A Different Picture Today

GULFSTREAM'S 1939 opening was ill-fated. The track closed after four days and lay idle for five years, until reclaimed by Donn. In 1944 the average attendance was 4,534 and the daily betting was $281,902.

Contrast that with the 1958 attendance average of 15,057 and the handle of $1,267,004, and you have a picture of what Donn has accomplished.

The Canny Scot thinks his track will do even better this year — an optimistic view shared by many.

They reason that Gulfstream has not only held tourists here, but helped produce a new crop of latecomers.

This has meant a boom for Broward County, where there was consternation a few years back when Donn threatened to apply for the early section of the racing season.

Armed Handicap Today

Northward Ho! To Gulfstream

By RUSS HARRIS
Herald Turf Writer

North, of course, only to Hallandale, where Jimmy Donn's fashionable Gulfstream Park launches the third lap of South Florida's racing season with the $10,000 Armed Handicap as the opening day feature.

The Armed drew a field of 13 sprinters and appears to be one of the best-matched speed tests of the season.

Favoritism in the six-furlong dash is expected to go to Fred W. Hooper's entry of Alhambra and Greek Game.

Alhambra, top weighted at 124 pounds, drew the inside post position, which should not hurt his chances. He is one of the fastest breakers in the nation. His entry mate, Greek Game, gets in the contest with 109 pounds.

Second choice at 4-1 on the morning line is Elkcam Stable's Hubcap, another which has few peers in leaving the barrier. Hubcap is rated at 117 pounds.

Others in the field are Talent Show, 118; Ajaccio, 118; Encore, 117; Sonny Dan, 116; Nan's Mink, 114; Chit Chat, 113; Alarullah, 112; Day Court, 111; Jovial Jove, 111; and Gray Phantom, 109.

Gulfstream's Donn

Jovial Jove won the Armed last year, and most of the members of today's lineup have scored victories at Hialeah or Tropical Park this season.

As an extra attraction on the inaugural program, Gulfstream will present the first race over its new grass course. Nine turf runners are scheduled to clash in the mile-and-one-sixteenth event, which is the ninth race on the card.

Hasty House Farm's entry of Troubador 2nd and Mahan heads the field with Innishowen, One-Eyed King, Washington, Minsing, Jumario, Gleeful 2nd and Roman Song completing the lineup.

Headliners of the track's 43-day session are the $100,000 added Gulfstream Handicap on March 21 and the $100,000 added Florida Derby on April 4.

Post time will be at 1:50 p.m. daily.

Calumet Closes Fast

By JOE McLAUGHLIN
Herald Turf Editor

Rosewood, a Calumet Farm gal, was the belle of Hialeah's farewell ball of 1958 Tuesday as the "track beautiful" closed books on a successful meeting.

The 5-year-old mare, daughter of the illustrious Bull Lea, stepped the mile and an eighth of the 17th Black Helen Handicap in one minute and 50 seconds and added another feather to the cap of leading Trainer Jimmy Jones. She also picked up $25,350 of the $40,000 event for Owner Mrs. Gene Markey of Lexington, Ky.

Entrymate A Glitter finished third for another $4,000 for Mrs. Markey. Happy Princess split the Calumet pair by finishing second after leading most of the way.

The day was sunny for 17,446 fans but not so bright for those who backed Mrs. J. B. Paul's favored Idun. Idun disappointing 11th, beating only one contender in this field of fillies and mares.

Hialeah wagering calculators counted $1,710,176 for the nine races. This compared with the $1,642,788 bet the final day of last season by 16,893.

Attendance this year for the 40 days was off 0.5 per

Report Says:

Tribe Seeking Lopez From A's for McLish

WEST PALM BEACH—(AP)—The Kansas City Athletics and Cleveland Indians are cooking up a trade involving Hector Lopez, Athletics infielder, and Cal McLish, Tribe pitcher it was reported Tuesday by Ernest Mehl, Kansas City Star sports editor. The deal is expected to be completed in a few days.

Frank Lane, Cleveland general manager, started dickering for Lopez in December. At that time, Mehl said, Lane offered McLish, outfielder Woody Held and another player for Lopez and an unnamed Kansas City pitcher.

Lane wants Lopez to play third base fort he Indians.

Lopez, 26, playing third and second base for the A's last year, batted .261, hit 17 home runs and drove in 73 runs, third highest on the club behind Bob Cerv and Roger Maris.

McLish, 33, a righthander, who has been in and out of the majors since coming up with Brooklyn in 1944, won 16 games, lost 8 and had a 2.99 earned run average with the Indians last year.

Held batted .204 with seven home runs and 33 runs batted in last year at Kansas City and Cleveland.

Harshman Hurdles First 'Luck' Test

By LUTHER EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

Left-hander Jack Harshman last season was a man plagued by harsh luck.

His earned run average of 2.90 and complete game total of 17 established records for the modern Baltimore Orioles.

But it wasn't enough to prevent him from being a losing pitcher with a 12-15 record . . . and understandably so.

In 11 of Harshman's games, his Oriole teammates were unable to score more than one run, something of a sin even for sixth-place hitting have-nots.

Except for swinging a fed-up bat for his own cause, the 32-year-old Californian probably would have been forced to settle for two less victories. Twice he struck two home runs in contests to provide his own victory margin.

He spent 11 years kicking around the minors and having occasional sips of coffee with the New York Giants while laboring at the wrong trade—as a first baseman. It wasn't until 1950 at Jacksonville that he even thought about venturing to the mound.

"And then I didn't do it," said Harshman Tuesday, "because I thought I could pitch. Our manager just didn't have any pitchers left . . . and I was willing to try."

The following year at Nashville, Owner Larry Gilbert and Manager Don Osborn (ex-Miami foreman) "were the first ones to suggest seriously that I try the switch to pitching."

Tuesday, Harshman became the first of Baltimore's starters to knuckle down in intrasquad disputes at Miami Stadium.

Experimenting with three-quarter speed fastballs and curves, Harshman went four hitless innings which included five consecutive strikeouts.

He became the winning pitcher in the fourth when Coach Harry Brecheen's club wangled a run for a 1-0, six-inning margin.

When the rally arrived on a two-base throwing error by Billy Klaus and a double by Fred Valentine, the perspiring Harshman already had departed for a shower.

En route he was asked:

"Guess you noticed that your team still hasn't scored either"?

"Yeah," said Harshman, wincing slightly at the thought of another season with Harshman's luck. "I noticed."

Giants? Perhaps; Tigers? Well . . .

The Mailman Cometh:

* * *

"I'M SO SICK of seeing the Yankees and the Braves in the World Series that I'll root for almost anybody else any time. But this year I honestly think the Tigers and Giants have good chances. Will you buy that?" — B. T. Geller, N. Miami.

The day before payday, Mr. Geller, I couldn't buy a box of Crackerjack. But the Giants, at least, would seem to have some sort of shake. A quick pick here would be (American) New York, Chicago, Detroit, Cleveland, Baltimore, Kansas City, Boston and Washington; (National) Milwaukee, San Francisco, Pittsburgh, Cincinnati, Los Angeles, St. Louis, Chicago and Philadelphia.

* * *

Have a Seat . . . for $5

"As a visitor, I'm used to taking it on the chin at the horse track. The $3.50 for clubhouse admission is bad enough, but it's just too much when they want another $1.50 for a seat. Isn't that price out of line?" — Harold P. Mote, Hollywood.

It's not out of line compared with some other tracks. New York belts you more than that. But it assuredly is out of line for the average race-goer. That sort of tariff is hardly an inducement to a $2 bettor who finds himself hooked $5 before he even sits down.

* * *

Pepper's Problem

"I've been a long-suffering Miami Marlins fan. Now I hope, and believe, the suffering may be over. Don't you think Pepper Martin will give the club a shot in the arm?"—Thos. Baker, Hialeah.

What the Marlins need more than a shot in the arm is some arms with some shots left in them. Strictly from the box-office standpoint, Martin could be an improvement over Don Osborne and Kerby Farrell as a more interesting personality. But let's face it: Granting normal ability on the part of the manager, a team's performance depends entirely upon the quality of its personnel. I'm more interested in what General Manager Joe Ryan furnishes in the way of players than in any magic wand Martin may wave over the players they give him.

* * *

Willie, Come Home

"What's Willie Pastrano got against America? Does he have to go all the way to England to lose to these heavyweight bums?" — L. Pielski, Miami.

As an American, Willie's a bit of all right. As a puncher, he finds no great clamor for his services in U. S. rings. They appreciate good boxers more across the water — $10,000 plus expenses, per fight, in Willie's case — and that's why our Dimpled Darling has been scorning our shores. After two straight losses, (one a disputed TKO) with just the referee rendering the decision, though, one suspects even Willie is beginning to lose some of his wanderlust. Maybe we'll be seeing more of him on this side.

Tietz' 668 Set Wins Pin Honors

By DICK EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

Frustration was the word in the women's scratch division of The Herald's Bowlers of the Week contest Tuesday.

Winner Evelyn Tietz suffered twice.

Her 226-225-217 — 668 in the Skip Mufflers League at Bowlerama is a season high in Dade County. But the blonde bomber is a member of the Hollywood Women's Association and will not be recognized as the Miami champion. That honor still belongs to Vi Decker's 666 at Hialeah.

The 668 also missed being a state high by 14 pins. A Tampa bowler recently set the seasonal mark.

Also experiencing frustration were Mary Lou Graham, Dot Cuthbert and Lil Koehler.

The steady Miss Graham posted a 234 game and 654 set in the Koffee Klotchers League at Bird Bowl: Cuthbert, rolling her first 600 set since moving to Miami from Pennsylvania, finished third with a 182-222-243—647 in the Women's Masters League at Bowling Palace. And Koehler's fine 632 was a distant fourth.

Miss Cuthbert, however, managed some consolation when she tied Ela Nielsen for the women's handicap certificate. Both registered 674 handicap sets. Nielsen's scratch effort was 195-193-202—590 in the Bird Bowl Ladies Classic League.

Len Springmeyer, who teamed with Eddie Doerr to win the ABC doubles title in 1947, finally rolled his first 700 set (713) in Miami. He posted his 243-228-242 in the Sheehan Classic League at Bird Bowl.

Buddy Watts' 723 set in the Coral Gables Handicap League at Playdium paced men's handicap performances. The 158 averager rolled scratch games of 215-211-210—636.

Ed Mielaskas came in for a special award by the three-man committee when it was realized his 257-246-182 — 685 for 757 had been overlooked last week. He rolls in the Southwest Handicap League at Bird Bowl and will receive a "tardy" certificate this week.

The week's nominees:

PARADISE: Alfred Mayo (616 scratch).

HIALEAH: Joyce Holmes (599 handicap).

Golfers Boost '3-in-1' Course

The Miami Men's Golf Association did an about-face Tuesday night and endorsed a nine-hole novel "three-holes-in-one" addition to the present course at Miami Springs.

Author of a resolution against construction of the Luke Morris-designed course, the MMGA withdrew opposition after having plans explained by City Commissioner Otis Shiver.

"We had a hot bunch of golfers who didn't understand the situation," said Emil Flutie Sr., president of the Association.

"After hearing Commissioner Shiver, we have withdrawn our resolution and believe it will do golf a lot of good."

Said Shiver: "I simply explained that the 23 acres of land available aren't sufficient for a regulation nine-hole course."

"I also made it clear that this would in no way effect the present Springs course, or the city's plans for a course on the LeJeune tract."

Under the Morris plan, golfers would make three successive drives from the same tee, then play consecutively a par 3, 4 and 5 hole.

This requires only half the land necessary for three regulation holes.

"If golfers don't like such a layout," said Shiver, "I assured them it would be flexible so the city would convert it into a par-three type course."

With necessary money (more than $100,000) appropriated, Shiver said construction will begin as soon as the city commission appraises bids and accepts one.

* * *

TWO down after the first three holes, Harry Daumit Tuesday rallied to defeat B. B. Lotspeich, 1-up, and win the LaGorce Senior Golf championship for the fourth straight time.

Daumit played par golf from the third to the 15th hole, where he finally gained the lead. The rivals halved the last three holes.

* * *

In Tuesday's nine-hole low net play, Mrs. R. H. Koept won with 56-18—38.

* * *

MRS. THELMA Brundage carded an 82 to win Class A gross honors in Tuesday's Biltmore Women's Golf Association's low gross-low net tournament.

Mrs. Hughes Miller and Mrs. Barbara Scott tied for the Class A net title with 77s.

Other Class winners:

Class C — low gross: Mrs. Arthur Hilse, 104; low net: Mrs. Robert Grant, 76.

Mrs. R. W. Brown topped the low net tourney for guests with 73.

'Champion' Valdes Takes On Powell

By MEL DERRICK
Herald Sports Writer

TV FIGHT

Hulking Nino Valdes, self-acclaimed "Professional Heavyweight Boxing Champion of the World," defends his "title" against brisk Charlie Powell in Miami Beach Auditorium's House of Upsets tonight.

He's a 4-1 favorite in the nationally televised 10-rounder (Ch. 10 locally) to hang on to his own throne and remain No. 2 contender for the official championship held by Floyd Patterson.

But . . .

At least four well-informed boxing figures openly give Powell a tremendous chance and one — trainer Lou Gross — flatly predicts the ex-pro footballer will win.

"This guy is a busy fighter, the type Valdes doesn't like," says Gross. "He's as big as Valdes, as mean as Valdes, and as willing to get in there and slug."

Siding with Gross are Charley Goldman, who trained Rockey Marciano to the heavyweight championship; Joe Netro, co-manager of Carmen Basilio; and Miami Beach's Angelo Pastrano, corner man for Basilio.

"We consider this a championship match," flatly says Valdes," manager, Bobby Gleason. "If Nino loses, we're ex-champions."

More important, if Valdes loses, he'll be an ex-top contender for Patterson's seldom-defended crown . . . and most likely out of a "money" April 7 date in Denver with Zora Folley.

The former San Francisco 49er gridder takes a five-fight winning streak into the contest, with his most recent triumphs decisions over Charley Norkus and Bob Biehler and a second round KO over Charley Jones.

Valdes tonight stands on the opposite pole of the Beach Auditorium's upset list. An unheralded 8-1 underdog in 1953, he licked Ezzard Charles for the victory that started him to the top.

'Big O' Robertson Tops All-America

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Oscar (Big O) Robertson of Cincinnati, the nation's leading scorer for the second straight season, smashed another record Tuesday when he was named on 97.2 per cent of all ballots cast for the 1959 United Press International All-America basketball team.

Robertson missed on only eight ballots out of 290 from sports writers and radio-TV broadcasters. Thus he broke the old record of 46.9 per cent set only last year by Wilt (The Stilt) Chamberlain of Kansas.

Named to the "dream" five this season along with Robertson were Bailey Howell of Mississippi State, Bob Boozer of Kansas State, Jerry West of West Virginia, and Little Don Hennon of Pittsburgh.

Robertson and Hennon were the only repeaters from last year's team. Robertson and West are the only juniors on the squad — Boozer, Howell, and Hennon are seniors.

Howell, the six-foot seven-inch all-time career scoring champion of the Southwestern Conference, was the second highest vote-getter on the first team.

Spring Zing Has Score on Upswing

TUCSON, Ariz. —(AP)— Southpaw Herb Score and Righthander Mike Garcia, pitched scoreless ball Tuesday as they opposed each other for two innings in the Cleveland Indians' first intrasquad game.

Score, sidelined most of last season with a sore arm, retired six of the seven batters he faced. Only Rocky Colavito, who was hit with a pitched ball, got on base during the two innings.

Garcia, put out of action early last season by a back ailment, limited the opposition to two singles.

Both Score and Garcia said they noticed no pain after the workout.

Yanks Shift Norm Siebern

ST. PETERSBURG — (AP) — Norm Siebern, a .300 hitter as a left fielder for the New York Yankees last year, began working out at first base Tuesday. Manager Casey Stengel ordered the move because of Siebern's fielding failures in the World Series.

"I'm not giving up on him and he isn't being traded," Stengel said. "But if I find he can play another position and maybe I can come up with somebody who can hit and play left field, my club will be that much stronger."

Phils' Owner To Buy 'Site'?

PHILADELPHIA — (AP) — Owner Bob Carpenter of the Philadelphia Phillies is considering buying the remainder of a 75-acre tract in Delaware Township, N. J., that has been suggested as a new site for his baseball team.

George F. Harrison, Phillies treasurer, said Carpenter is considering the purchase of some 62 acres "strictly as a private investment, just as he bought the original 12.5 acres."

Harrison said that, under the circumstances, it might be difficult for people to believe this is not a definite indication the Phillies are going to New Jersey. He reiterated, however, previous statements by Phillies' officials that the ball club has made no commitments to leave Philadelphia.

Sievers Signs For Record $$

ORLANDO — (AP) — Roy Sievers set another salary record for the Washington Senators Tuesday, signing his 1959 contract for a reported $35,000.

That's about $2,000 more than Sievers received last year, when Club President Calvin Griffith described the 32-year-old slugger as the highest-paid player in Washington annals.

In his five seasons with the Senators, Sievers has averaged 32 home runs and 101 runs batted in.

The 6-foot-1 outfielder-first baseman led the league in 1957 with 42 homers and 114 RBI's.

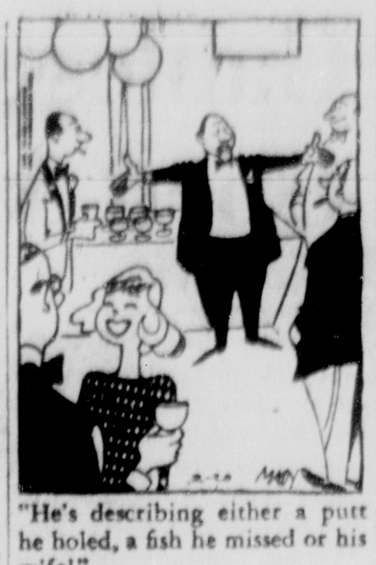
No Obligation, Fires Conley

MILWAUKEE — (AP) — Pitcher Gene Conley, a holdout for the Milwaukee Braves, said Tuesday it's high time Executive Vice-President Birdie Tebbetts straightened out the contract situation.

"If they're tired of paying my summer employment," Conley said, "perhaps the whole thing could be cleaned up with a little trade or a little sale."

Conley, who arrived here to visit his family while on the road with the Boston Celtics of the National Basketball Association, was irked over Tebbetts' blast of criticism of him Monday. Tebbetts said Conley is off base for not being in camp for spring training.



"He's describing either a putt he holed, a fish he missed or his wife!"

Gables-Jax, Tech-MB Open AA Cage Event

Woody Woodard
. . . fires for Gables

By DICK EVANS
Herald Sports Writer

High school basketball heads toward its seasonal crescendo tonight when Miami Beach plays Tech and Coral Gables meets Miami Jackson in the opening round of the Group 8, Class AA tournament.

Opening game at Jackson's Gymnasium is scheduled for 7 p. m. Gables and Jackson collide at 8:30.

Top-seeded Miami High makes its appearance in the Thursday night opener against the Beach-Tech winner. Second seeded Hialeah tackles the Gables-Jackson victor.

Gables holds two victories over Jackson, 51-45 and 62-49. But the Generals played both games with their top shooter and playmaker, Ernie Yaroshuk, on the sidelines. Steady Ernie is reported ready for tonight's encounter.

Coach Speedy Hecht's Generals have run hot and cold. "When we lose," says Hecht, "We lose big. When we win, we win on courage."

The Generals finished with a 8-11 record. Five of these victories were achieved by less than three points.

Wally Eale, a Herald All-City selection and the county's fourth most proficient scorer with 433 points and a 21.1 average, leads Coach Ed Stoeckel's Cavaliers. Gables finished with a 13-7 record.

Hot Pahokee, St. Pat's Roll

PAHOKEE — Pahokee and St. Patrick's of Miami Beach ripped through opening round games in the District 8, Class B basketball tournament in convincing fashion here Tuesday night.

Pahokee smothered Forest Hills, 40-16, in the nightcap after St. Pat's rode Phil Drosdick's 26 points to a 65-41 lid-lifting triumph over Clewiston.

St. Pat's, trailing 9-7 at the first quarter turn, moved into a 19-16 halftime lead and then exploded for 46 second half points to wrap up its victory over Clewiston.

Tonight, Riviera Beach plays St. Ann's here while Palmetto battles Southwest High at the latter's court in Miami.

Curley Opens 8-A Tourney

Herald Service

HOLLYWOOD—Two struggling basketball teams, Belle Glade and Archbishop Curley of Miami, clash tonight in the inaugural game of the 8-A tournament at McArthur High's Gymnasium.

The nightcap pits dark-horse Central Catholic with Stuart.

Thursday's schedule sends top-seeded and defending champion Pompano Beach against dangerous South Dade at 2:30; Key West against Lake Worth at 4; McArthur against the Belle Glade-Curley winner at 7 and improving Seacrest of Delray against the Central-Stuart victor at 8:30.

Semifinals are on tap Friday, with Saturday's finals champion earning a ticket on the state tournament express to Gainesville the following Wednesday.

Central which took its bumps this season, also pulled the season's biggest upset by stunning Hialeah, a Class AA powerhouse, 61-58.

FSU, UM Vie Saturday

High jumper Steve Weeks may not be ready for University of Miami's track opener Saturday against Florida State University.

Weeks has been hobbled the past few weeks and Coach Bob Downes says Steve may miss the Hurricanes' home meet.

Miami will have ready, however, such performers as pole-vaulter Bob Rosbaugh, broad jumper Frank Lloyd, hurdler Matt Allen and weightmen Charley Diamond, Gary Freeman, Don Wallace and Walt Corey.

Downes thinks Ernest Barnes and Jack Press in the sprints, Pete Kouwenhover in the 440 and Paul Palmer in the distance runs will strengthen the Hurricanes.

Florida State, however, is a heavy favorite. The Seminoles retained their Coliseum Indoor Relays title at Montgomery two weeks ago. They won last year's dual meet with Miami, 88-41.

Santa Anita Derby Loses Tomy Lee

ARCADIA, Calif. — (AP) — The spotlight this week at Santa Anita is on Saturday's $100,000-added Santa Anita Derby and a trio of swift sophomores who'll be running for the roses in Louisville come May.

They are C. V. Whitney's filly Silver Spoon, Linmold and Finnegan.

Silver Spoon, one of Citation's fast and flighty daughters, has won three stakes at this Santa Anita meeting. However, only one filly has ever won the Derby. That was King Ranch's Ciencia in 1939.

Some of the Derby's luster was removed when the owners of Tomy Lee, the hard luck colt from Blighty, decided to pass up the mile and one eighth scramble and point for the Kentucky Derby.

Maroons' Howell Tops All-SEC

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. —(AP)— Bailey Howell of Mississippi State is a unanimous choice for the official 10-man All-Southeastern Conference basketball team announced Tuesday by Commissioner Bernie Moore.

Moore said the 6 feet 7 Maroon center was the only nominee receiving first team votes from all 12 SEC head coaches.

Other members of the team, which will be listed in the annual SEC spring sports brochure (with first and second team votes respectively):

Rex Frederick, Auburn senior (10-2); Jim Henry, Vanderbilt senior (10-1); Gene Tormohlen, Tennessee senior (8-3); Billy Ray Lickert, Kentucky sophomore (2-7); Gary Stoll, Tulane senior (2-5); Buddy Blemker, Georgia Tech senior (2-4); Vic Klinker, Tulane junior (1-5), and Dalen Showalter, Tennessee junior (0-6).

No 'Limb' For Lopez

TAMPA — (AP) — Manager Al Lopez isn't going out on a spring-time limb this year to pick his Chicago White Sox for the American League pennant.

Lopez, who has guided the Sox to the runner-up spot the last two years, says:

"This is the best White Sox squad I've had. But I'm not going to put pressure on them by predicting that the (New York) Yankees will finish second to the Sox."

Rosewood (Entry) $10.20, 4.70, 5.50; Happy Princess 17.30, 10.40; A Glitter (Entry) 5.50.

WINNER SELECTED BY: Harris, O'Neill.

OWNERS: 1. Calumet Farm; 2. Mabel D. Lewis; 3. Calumet Farm; 4. Mrs. W. H. Veeneman; 5. G. D. Widener; 6. Meadow Stable; 7. S. A. Calder; 8. Harbor View Farm; 9. Miss Mary V. Fisher; 10. J. M. Roebling; 11. Mrs. J. B. Paul; 12. Brookmeade Stable.

ROSEWOOD, unhurried while well off the early pace, secured room along the inside while rallying and was under intermittent pressure to wrest command and rapidly increase her advantage. HAPPY PRINCESS set the pace under good rating and, while no match for the winner, held the others safe. A GLITTER raced closest to the pace, engaged the leader at the furlong pole and weakened. WOODLAWN responded to midstretch and gave way. LOYAL LADY 2ND flattened out. IDUN lacked the speed to be in the first flight in the run to the first turn and dropped back gradually in a dull showing. BIG EFFORT flattened out badly.

SCRATCHES: Water-Sparrow.

CON-VIC in front early and unhurried when displaced on the final turn, regained command and drew clear to win easily. CARNEAUX was able to wear down SIX NORTH. The latter moved through along the inside to attain command leaving the backstretch, held sway on the turn and faltered badly. PLAY WITH FIRE wore down tired horses.

SCRATCHES: Chendzod.

GOOD IDEA. I'M SURE HE CAN EXPLAIN IT BETTER THAN I CAN.
MAC, I WANT TO ASK YOU SOMETHING AND I'D APPRECIATE YOUR NOT PULLING ANY PUNCHES WITH YOUR ANSWER.
FIRE AWAY. I PROMISE TO BE DOWNRIGHT BLUNT.
CLYDE HERE TOLD YOU WHAT I WAS TRYING TO TEACH HIM. WAS IT, OR WAS IT NOT, GOOD ADVICE?
IN MY OPINION, IT WASN'T GOOD ADVICE. BUT IN FAIRNESS TO YOU, LET ME EXPLAIN WHY.
3/4

Plug or Jig? Solve Problem By Using Both

For shallow water casting along Florida's coast, two types of lures are so overwhelmingly popular that you seldom see any others in use. One is a bucktail or nylon jig; the other an "actionless" slender plug, such as the 52M Mirrolure, Cisco Kid, Dillinger or Pfeffer.

DUNAWAY

Fish appeal in either the plug or the jig is dependent on rod manipulation, and a choice between the two depends mostly on whether the angler prefers the level course of the plug or the up-and-down gyrations of the jig.

Sometimes it can be pretty tough to make a choice, but you can avoid this selection problem and often double your chances by using both of them at once.

Attach a small jig — ¼-oz. or less — to a 12-inch length of heavy monofilament, say 20 or 30-pound test. Then tie the other end of the mono to the rear hook eye of your plug.

* * *

Like a Minnow Scooting for Cover

CAST OUT the double rig and retrieve it in usual fashion — a series of short, sharp jerks produced by twitching your rodtip and quickly retrieving slack line.

On each twitch the plug darts to right or left, but maintans a fairly level course in the water. The jig, naturally, follows along obediently, but as the plug's momentum wanes, the lead-headed bucktail dips downward in the manner of a shrimp or minnow scooting for cover on bottom.

FISHING
with Vic Dunaway

Two advantages of such a tandem rig stand out at once. First is the double action it provides. Second, and possibly more important, is the fact that two sizes of lures are in the water at once, ready to attract strikes whether the fish's taste leans toward large or small prey.

Obviously the smaller bucktail will take many junior-size fish reluctant to attack the big plug. But it's surprising how many times a lunker elects to eat the little jig.

* * *

Don't Use It If Your Luck's Good

A TRAILER-LURE rig has disadvantages too, not the least of which is the trouble it takes to tie one up. Also, you must be careful to stop each cast before it hits the water so the trailer will straighten out and not foul on the plug's trebel hooks. And, of course, it's much easier for a leaping fish to spit out a double rig.

Because of these considerations, I would never recommend using a trailer as long as you're catching a satisfactory number of fish on a single lure. On the other hand, fish are moody critters, and if the going's slow, a trailer frequently will prove their cooperation.

Many times I have salvaged a measure of action out of an otherwise fruitless trip through the use of trailer lures. If a tandem rig can catch fish when other efforts fail, then it's well worth any amount of bother.

So I think it advisable to keep a couple of small jigs on hand and be prepared to tie up a trailer. The system deserves a prominent spot in the bag of tricks an angler should keep in reserve.

St. Louis Joins NIT, Two to Go

NEW YORK — (AP) — St. Louis University, one of the perennial contenders, Tuesday became the 10th team added to the list for the National Invitation Basketball Tournament. Two spots remain to be filled.

The tournament opens March 14 with afternoon and evening sessions, and ends March 21.

St. Louis won the title the first time it competed in the event in 1948. The Billikens also played in 1949, 1951, 1952, 1953, 1955 and 1956.

Led by Bob Ferry, who has averaged 21.5 points, St. Louis has won 19 games and lost four. Two games remain — Oklahoma City Friday and Cincinnati Monday.

Teams already in the NIT are Villanova, St. John's, Oklahoma City, St. Bonaventure, New York University, Providence, Fordham, Manhattan and Butler.

Futurity Stake Starts Friday At Hollywood

By JOE BROWN
Herald Greyhound Writer

They're ready for the big pushoff of Hollywood Kennel Club's second major greyhound Stake—the 11th annual $5,000 Futurity. The classic, an event for greyhounds whelped on or after March 15, 1957, gets under way Friday.

BROWN

Thirty-two young stars have been nominated to start and all of them see action Friday in four initial round heats. Sixteen will survive the trials and continue their bid for the $5,000 purse.

Right now, it looks like Mar Dilly is the one to beat. This great young son of the Australian import, Mar Heat, is one of the most terrific finishers seen on the Hollywood track in many a year.

Despite Mar Dilly's brilliance, however, Earl Baxter believes his speedy miss, Geemarie, can take the Futurity. Both Mar Dilly and Geemarie hold triumphs over the famed Bud Jack this year. Others who bear watching in the stake are Pompier, Dick's Special, Speedy Special, Johnny's Gone and Bo's Judge Greeter.

BISCAYNE Kennel Club's twin rabbit and single door starting box has fans at the northside oval arguing about the merits of the two innovations.

For the first three nights at Biscayne the percentage of winning favorites has hit the 43.75 mark, the highest in many years.

The post position statistics indicate that no single box has a definite edge thus far. The red blanket dogs have come home five times while the two box has seven wins. The three and six boxes have seven triumphs each.

Dogs breaking from the four and eight box have three victories each while the five chute has two wins. The seven box has been blanked. Quiniela combinations that show no wins as yet include the 2-4, 2-7, 3-4, 3-7, 3-8, 4-8, 5-8, and 7-8.

Through the 52 nights, Wohlauf greyhounds have posted 46 victories, 31 seconds and 25 thirds. Fleet Wing Kennel is lodged in second position with 41—36—38.

Greyhounds representing F. B. (Happy) Stutz have kept him in third place with 38—61—43. The 61 place performances racked up by Stutz' dogs is the highest recorded at the Beach.

Lena Hibel's dogs have posted a mark of 38—28—34 while Rushaway Kennel shows 32—22—23. The remaining five in the top ten are George Fulton, 31—35—34; Louis Pegram, 30—29—28; James (Dreamy) Conlen, 27—30—25; L. M. Kirkpatrick, 27—25—26; and John Duncan, 27—24—20.

Wanderon's 3-Hitter Stomps SW for Stings

Miami High's defending state Class AA baseball champions, getting mid-season type pitching from Eric Wanderon, opened their 1959 campaign Tuesday with an easy 10-0 victory over Southwest.

Wanderon let Southwest down on three hits. He struck out eight and walked three.

Catcher John Stutz sparkplugged Miami' offense with two hits in two at-bats driving in two runs.

John Lopez ignited a fourth inning, five-run rally that locked the game for the Stings with a single that drove in two runs.

For and about WOMEN

Mrs. Evans . . . . . . and Mrs. Willard

Miami's City Commission, in a surprise move Monday, dismissed City Manager E. A. Evans and hired Ira F. Willard to take his place. Here are profiles of the wives of these two men and the women's reactions to the fast-moving events at City Hall.

'It's a Load Off His Mind'

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Staff Writer

Nancy Evans is taking her husband's removal as city manager with the great good humor with which she usually looks at life.

"Actually, I think it's a great load off his mind," she said. "Quite frankly, this has been a terrible load on him for the last six months."

But she quickly added, "Anything I say about him is just my own thought."

For Gen. E. A. Evans didn't bring his troubles home from City Hall. Not even in the most strained periods of his tenure as city manager did Nancy have to listen to gripes or pamper so-called executive nerves.

Nancy frankly admits she is the one who seethes when people are critical of her husband, not Arthur. (She always addresses him as Arthur, while many of his friends call him Art.)

"I get particularly mad when they tell lies," she said.

"I don't feel like anybody can ever resent the truth. But you surely can be resentful of untruths."

Mrs. Evans is a curly haired, blonde grandmother with a youthful sparkle to her blue eyes. If she were the type to brood over Gen. Evans' removal from office she would hardly have time. She's always busy.

Nancy Evans

Mary Willard

She is president of both the state and county Democratic Women's Clubs and is Democratic committeewoman in her precinct. She is going to Fort Myers next weekend for a meeting of the state club.

She has decorated two homes here, their first in Bay Heights then the one in which they now live at 13291 Cutler Rd. The present home, an older one, she redid from rooftop to terrace, even to personally knocking out walls.

Nancy prowled around junk yards to find slate for a floor, doors and other oddments. She is ready with advice to friends on where to get furniture redone or find a good selection of drapery fabrics.

When they can get away in the summer she spends her energy on their cottage in Canada—hanging curtains in a bedroom or laying a rock wall.

When she has time, she paints, as Gen. Evans does. Mrs. Evans has sold several of her paintings.

Gen. and Mrs. Evans are popular party guests. Their stories, done as a twosome, always bring roars of laughter. And they laugh just as appreciatively at other folk's stories.

Nancy is straightforward. If she thinks your tree needs moving to get better light she'll tell you — but good naturedly.

She plunged into gardening in South Florida with the vigor with which she does most everything else. Some of the plants which surround their home are rare even to nurserymen here. Many she propagated, with extra plants for friends.

Despite the storms of holding public office, "The years here have been good," said Nancy.

"You know how I feel about Miami. We have enjoyed every single minute of it. We have had the opportunity to meet people, see things and go places we might never have had otherwise.

"We wouldn't think of leaving!"

The Evanses have made many friends here. In the hours after the news began to spread that Gen. Evans was out the telephone rang constantly. "People said the warmest things, it almost made you want to cry," said Nancy.

She looks forward to seeing her husband more — fewer nights away from home on official duties.

"And Arthur may find himself doing a little more yard work than before — which was none," she said, chuckling.

"He said now he may go out and turn on the sprinklers for me once in awhile!"

Friendly Redhead Likes Official Functions

By JEAN WARDLOW
Herald Staff Writer

Even if Miami never had a reputation for being friendly, the vivacious wife of the new city manager would give it one.

For red-haired, Alabama-born Mary Willard, whose husband Ira F. (Dutch) just moved into the post vacated by Gen. Arthur Evans, thoroughly enjoys her role as wife of a public official. And she's had plenty of time to "taste" that life, too, when her husband was city manager for Coral Gables and, before that, for two cities in Virginia.

I got accustomed to the moving around aspect with my father," Mrs. Willard said in her soft Southern accent and rather fast manner of speaking.

For father was a doctor with the Veterans' Administration and "we never spent more than about three years in one place."

"Then, too, I rather like this type of life," she said enthusiastically. "People stimulate me, just as they do Dutch. And I enjoy moving to new places and seeing new things."

"I've liked it particularly down here (they came here 3 years ago) because Dutch and I have had more time together — meetings are during the day here. There are night meetings in so many other cities.

"And I like to go with Dutch to official functions." She pointed out that in some cities there are traditional stag events — "the tradition of the smoke-filled rooms, that sort of thing."

"I like it this way and so does Dutch. While the men are talking together, I can have a ball talking with wives of other officials."

And that's the friendly manner in which she always talks—with a few Southern expressions thrown in (like "right much") now and then. She smiles a lot and there are laugh lines around her brown eyes.

But her expression becomes serious when she says, "I do think that ANY man in public affairs has to have a wife who's interested in his kind of life." She spoke admiringly of the wife of the former city manager in this respect.

"Nancy Evans enjoys that kind of life and so do I. We always had a good time together at events."

Mrs. Willard was born in Geneva County in Southern Alabama — "in a little crossroads town there" — one of 7 children.

She taught high school, then took her master's degree from University of South Carolina where she met Dutch. "We didn't impress each other very much," she said of that meeting. But they did later and were married in 1934.

Mrs. Willard's outside activities are at a minimum—Coral Gables Woman's Club (where she's working feverishly for a Latin American program—"Person to Person"—started by her husband for that city), and her church work—"if you want to toot my horn you can say I was chairman of our Fall Fair."

Two of the Willard children live at home now—Ira Jr. ("We call him Chick. You know how Juniors need another name.") is 21, a freshman at the UM; and Frances, 13, is in 7th grade at Ponce.

Another son Jeff, 15, attends St. Andrew's in Sewannee, Tenn. ("He's president of his form. He's going to be just like his Daddy. In fact, he IS just like him."), and a daughter Elizabeth (Mrs. Paul D. Willis), 23, lives in Iowa where her husband is a medical student at the U of Iowa. Elizabeth's two children — baby John, 9 months, and Cathy, 2 — are Grandma's pride, of course. ("I think they're beautiful. Just wonderful.")

'Julia Tuttle Rates Title as Our Founder'

By ELEANOR DIXON
Herald Club Editor

Julia Tuttle, now known as and co-founder of Miami with Henry Flagler, ought to be called the founder of Miami, R. B. Gautier said Tuesday.

"Surely Henry Flagler deserves all the credit he can get for building the railroad to Miami. But he never lived in the jungle that Miami was in 1890's as Mrs. Tuttle did . . . he never knew the hardships this lady did."

FLAGLER

GAUTIER

Mr. Gautier made this plea for Mrs. Tuttle's memory and place in history at a forum luncheon in the Miami Woman's Club.

And the Miami Woman's Club put the plea in writing, passing a resolution that "a fitting memorial should be established to honor Julia Tuttle."

Mrs. T. T. Stevens, chairman of the luncheon, will head the committee of four which will enlist community support in establishing this memorial.

At the luncheon, close to 200 Miamians heard Mr. Gautier, a native Miamian and former state senator, describe Julia Tuttle's role in Miami's history.

"She came here permanently in 1891 — a 42-year-old widow from Cleveland. She brought her two children, a housekeeper, two Jersey cows and her household goods and settled in the officers quarters building of Old Fort Dallas."

"I believe she came with the determination and plan to make this place into a city. Not many men would have tackled this job," Mr. Gautier added. Furthermore, Mrs. Tuttle left a life of "every comfort" in Cleveland to come and settle on the 600 acres of "wilderness and jungle" north of the Miami river, bequeathed her by her father. (Her father, Ephraim Sturtevant, and William B. Brickell, had come here in 1870.)

After she arrived she started the first laundry, bakery and dairy, Mr. Gautier continued. "And all this time her dream was for the railroad to come to Miami."

It took an "act of God" — the drastic freeze of Christmas eve, 1894, to convince Mr. Flagler that Mrs. Tuttle's praises of South Florida were true. After this freeze and another freeze later in the winter which even killed the citrus trees north of Palm Beach, Mrs. Tuttle sent a spray of undamaged orange blossoms and some undamaged fruit to Mr. Flagler, proving the good climate.

Shortly thereafter, Flagler started building his railroad from Palm Beach to Miami (which reached Miami in April of 1896) and the "fabulous Royal Palm Hotel" on the land Mrs. Tuttle had given him.

Honor guests at the luncheon were Julia Tuttle's grandsons — Harry Tuttle, manager of the Gralynn Hotel, and his wife, and Leonard Tuttle, purchasing agent for the city of Miami.

Four members of the Miami Woman's Club who will serve on the memorial committee under Mrs. Stevens are Mrs. John D. Simmons, club president, Mrs. Carolyn Helmly Godley, Mrs. Henry O. Shaw and Mrs. Sydney Weintraub.

Leomia Talks to AF Wives--And Their Husbands Reenlist

CHATEAUROUX, France—At this big U. S. Air Force base in southern France, Leomia McCoy, the wife of a sergeant, delivers the goods the Air Force values most — the reenlistment of its technicians.

The AF has learned that in 92 per cent of its families it is the wife who decides if hubby "reups."

And this is where Mrs. McCoy comes in. The AF just encourages her to tell the other wives they should stay in the Air Force.

The wives pass the word on to their husbands. And "that's an order!"

Leomia's husband, Eugene, and she work as a team. The sergeant customarily stays in the wings, coming in with the papers to sign after his wife has set up the reenlistment with the reenlistee's distaff department.

'Three Cherubs' Arrive in Time For the Coffee

Mrs. C. B. King and Mrs. Evert Maule
. . . invited friends to coffee

By HELEN WELLS
Herald Society Editor

Highlight and a real treat for friends of Mrs. Charles B. King and her mother, Mrs. Evert T. Maule, at a coffee they gave at the Bath Club on Tuesday, was the arrival of their daughter and granddaughter, Helen (Mrs. Bram) Tellekamp and her "three cherubs." (The quotes are from grand mother, Kathryn King!)

Virginia Root

The Tellekamps came to Fort Myers from Alaska to live about a year ago and drove over on Monday for the party. The precious children are Juliana, 4, Karl, 3 and Marshall just turned one, all blondes with enormous blue eyes

Kathryn King in pink linen and wooly white sweater embroidered with colored wool flowers stood with Mrs. Maule, whose green and white print was topped with a green sweater, at the entrance of the front patio at the Bath Club.

Here bright umbrellas shaded yellow tables, a long buffet table stood in the loggis decorated with baby's breath, white snap dragons and the first spring tulip.

Fancy sweaters over pastel linens were out in force and eye catching red shoes were leading the fashion race Virginia (Mrs. William) Root wore red shoes and embroidered sweater over a navy and white print. Her sweater was dark blue embroidered with colorful roosters and trimmed with red velvet.

Mrs. Maule and the Kings have a summer home in Blowing Rock and a goodly number of their summr neighbors were on hand. These included Hattie (Mrs. Al) Hoffman and Mrs. Anita Allen, who motored down from Fort Lauderdale. Her northern home is in Morgantown, Pa.

Mrs. John Denvir said she felt uneasy about the trip her granddaughter, Frances Pierce Chatfield, is making to Europe at this time. Frances leaves today to join friends there for a tour.

Mrs. E. N. Moylan told of the new baby boy who arrived for son, Ted and his wife Lena. Mary Frances (Mrs. M. Lewis) Hall said they are off for St. Simons, Ga., today for a visit with Mr. Hall's parents.

She was with Mrs. John Sullivan and Mrs Marvin Adams, also of the Gables. Mrs. Ocar Dooly, Mrs. John Skinner, Mrs. Russell Pancoast, Mrs. N. B. T. Roney, Mrs. Charles Dann, Mrs. Phil Delaney, Mrs. Charles Clements, Mrs. Sam. McCormick in yellow print with high crowned derby style straw were more sipping coffee.

Pearsons Give Tea For Nassau Visitors

Nassau's Sir Oliver and Lady Simmonds were guests for tea Tuesday of Dr. Jay F. W. Pearson, president of University of Miami, and Mrs. Pearson.

At the Pearson home, 2475 S. Bayshore Dr., Sir Oliver and his wife met administrative officers of the university and their wives. The couple, following their arrival Monday, had been dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Davis in their Brickell Ave. home. They attended the UM Symphony concert Monday evening as guest of Conductor John Bitter and his wife.

As president of Friends of the Bahamas Sir Oliver is here in connection with UM's Nassau music program featuring concerts in Nassau by UM faculty and students.

The fourth of a seven concert series which started last November will be presented Sunday in the new concert hall of the Emerald Beach Hotel. It features Joan Field of Miami Beach, violin, and Victor Stern, viola, accompanied by John Bitter, flute, and Jeffrey Stoll, piano.

'My Uncle Made a Pass At Me and I Egged Him On'

DEAR MRS. RICKER:

I am a 19-year-old girl. I attend college here at home. Last summer I visited my aunt and uncle in another city.

They showed me a wonderful time while I was there but my uncle decided he liked me enough to make a "pass." I egged him on but since I was only there on vacation I didn't think there was any harm in it.

Dorothy Ricker

Now I've decided to go to school in their city. Is it possible to become just a niece again without offending him?

I surely wouldn't want to hurt him and I also wouldn't want my aunt to feel that I was causing a rift in their home.

My uncle must know right away that things are not going to be the same as they were last summer.

Please Mrs. Ricker, can you give me some instructions on how to be cool to an overly-friendly relative?

NICE NIECE

At your age you know there was harm in what you did and being on vacation was no excuse. To permit your uncle's advances was bad enough, but to do it while accepting your aunt's hospitality is unforgivable.

You didn't mention your reasons for changing schools, but if you have a legitimate reason you should live in a dormitory or sorority house not with your aunt and uncle.

Even if you are sorry and ashamed of what happened, it is doubtful that your uncle has changed.

If he is the kind of a man who will make a "pass" at his own niece, I believe he would step out on your aunt at the slightest opportunity.

My advice is to stay away from their home, then if they do have difficulties at least you won't be the cause of them.

Dorothy Ricker

'When Will Parents Wake Up?'

A Woman's Prayer

By JOSEPHINE ROBERTSON

Merciful Father, let thy compassion rest on one who was a wife and is now a widow. Comfort her with the sense of thy presence.

Speak to her family and friends, that they take special care to bring affection to her hungry heart.

Help me to be a patient and sympathetic listener so long as sharing her memories will ease the pain, and to respond in understanding and appreciation of the magnitude of her loss.

Show me how to impart courage for moving ahead into new paths, so that in time to come she will be able once more to live joyously with and for others. Amen.

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

It did my heart a world of good to read Old-Fashioned Mom's letter. Let her not despair—my husband and I raise our children the same way she does.

To get around the first names business: I tell the children to call me Auntie Lou. In this way they don't feel it is too formal.

I too have been heartsick over the practice of allowing 3-and-4-year-old children to wander about with no supervision. I do not think people even realize the dangers this exposes children to.

I know of two children of this age who were permitted to be outside while their mother worked. She asked a neighbor to give them a sandwich at noon, but the neighbor never really looked after them. The children formed the habit of coming to play with my children, and we loved these two cast-offs like our own.

Old-Fashioned Mom should not blame the children . . . they cant help it. You can't train their parents because they would not only resent it, but end up telling you to mind your own bueiness.

When will parents wake up? We see all around us the terrible effects of the lack of discipline and rising juvenile crime rate. How can children on their own since 3 and 4 years old learn anything good if their own parents can't be bothered?

The facts pointed out in Old-Fashioned Mom's letter are true and tragic.

I am sure there are parents who take their roles seriously, but after traveling a lot and living in many cities, I have not yet found one mother who takes her job seriously enough to think about it.

What to do? I don't know. I do let the other kids come to our house. At least then I know they have some contact with a home that watches over children.

'I Sit Home With Good Book'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I have a problem that I know other girls have, but I haven't found anything I can do about it. I am 16, a junior in high school.

My problem is that I am left at home to read a good book when it comes to dates, although I am treated very nicely by the boys at school and am what you would consider aveage popular.

Could you give me a little help?

A JUNIOR

"Relax, be friendly to all guys, be natural, be fun to have around, and the first thing you know, the phone will start ringing—for you!"

So says Betty Cornell, a young author who writes about teenagers in her latest book, "All About Boys."

Sounds easy, doesn't it? Miss Cornell goes on to say that boys don't just date the prettiest girl in the crowd, that they're really more interested in a girl they can feel comfortable with, particularly when they first start dating.

She advises the stay-at-homes to take stock of themselves. Are you too loud, oversophisticated (this can scare a boy to death), too outspoken?

Maybe you've been trying to cover up your eagnerness to be asked out by putting on a big show of not being interested.

* * *

'I'm So Normal I Feel Guilty'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I'm developing a king-sized guilt complex from reading the letters you print in your column. The reason? I'm so doggoned well adjusted and normal.

PSYCHOSIS-FREE

See . . . bet you had no idea how well off you are until you started reading about other folks' troubles!

Job Hunting Is Rugged

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

In reply to Cindy, the Florida State Employment Office won't get you a job. I've been trying for three years and all they ask is, "What have you done in the past?"

You tell them, they give you a white card with date, tell you to come back next month. Every month after they mark the date and tell you, "Nothing for you today."

There are paid employment agencies here where you must pay three fourths of your salary for a job and take a chance of being fired after you make your last payment. So you wind up working for one man to pay another.

Something should be done about this . . . I'm on my way now to look for a job, so wish me luck.

JOB HUNTER

We wish you the BEST . . . Despite how you feel about employment agencies, state or otherwise, surely you must agree that the agencies HELP more people than passing strangers.

Answers In Brief

Mrs. V. S. O.:

I'm sorry, but we don't exchange identities among readers. But why not call the secretary of the Thirty-Niners, and ask her when the next daytime event is planned, one that you would not mind driving to alone.

* * *

A pattern of untruths is a poor foundation for any permanent relationship. If this boy really loves you, as you say, he may be willing to give you "a last chance" to prove that you can be trusted, providing you have not already used up your "last chances." If you have, the best you can do is to profit from your experience.

'Colorado? I Love It'

DEAR ELEANOR HART:

I will be glad to tell Interested about Colorado. I was in Denver last October.

Rent and taxes are high, but the suburbs are reasonable and not too far from town. The people are friendly.

The "season" is in the summer, like our winter season here. If you get there in May or June, work isn't too hard to find. Wages are higher, too.

I have a nervous ailment that leaves me tired and dizzy in this hot and humid climate, but in Denver I never felt better in my life. My hair wasn't limp and straggly, and I had some color in my face. The Rocky Mountain water is good and healthy.

As for the weather, my brother-in-law says it's not as bad in winter as people think. He said he can go Christmas shopping in his shirt sleeves.

Thirty five degrees there is like 65 in Miami, and the sun is hot and bright. In the morning, the sun shines right on the mountains to the west, and when it hits the trees, there's a beautiful blue mist in spots and a giant rainbow all around. The clouds turn pink and gold and the sunset is the same.

You think you're dreaming all the time because it's too beautiful to be real. The air is fresh and wonderful.

I haven't stopped talking about Colorado since we were there, and I hope I can get my husband back there this summer for keeps.

Many people go there for heart ailments and sinus trouble.

I am sure Interested will fall in love with Colorado. I did.

PIN-WORMS MAY BE A FAMILY AFFAIR

Fidgeting, nose-picking and a tormenting rectal itch are often telltale signs of Pin-Worms . . . ugly parasites that medical experts say infest one out of every three persons examined. Entire families may be victims and not know it.

To get rid of Pin-Worms, these pests must not only be killed, but killed in the large intestine where they live and multiply. That's exactly what Jayne's P-W tablets do . . . and here's how they do it:

First—a scientific coating carries the tablets into the bowels before they dissolve. Then—Jayne's modern, medically-approved ingredient goes right to work—kills Pin-Worms quickly and easily.

Don't take chances with this dangerous, highly contagious condition. At the first sign of Pin-Worms, ask your druggist for genuine Jayne's P-W Vermifuge . . . the small, easy-to-take tablets perfected by famous Dr. D. Jayne & Son, specialists in worm remedies for over 100 years.

Girl Scouts' Mint Cookies Make Yummy Cake Frosting

By JEANNE VOLTZ
Herald Homemaking Editor

GS Leader Mrs. John E. Powell Awaits a Bite of Ice Cream Cake
. . . Mrs. Charles Israel, county council president, holds fork

The 10-day cooky sale is Girl Scouts' annual fund raising event. Proceeds go toward building camping facilities, a portion of the scouting program not supported by the United Fund.

Daily Food Guide

The cookies, naturally, are meant to be eaten as they come from the box. But to create new uses for the cookies the cooky sale committee asked The Dairy Council of Dade, Broward and Monroe Counties to work out recipes.

The recipes, using mint cookies the Scouts peddle, have been compiled in a leaflet. These leaflets are available by telephoning or writing the Dairy council 2175 SW 1st St.

FROZEN ICE CREAM CAKE SUPREME

- 1 pint coffee ice cream
- 1 pint vanilla ice cream
- ¾ cup heavy cream, whipped
- 1 cup chocolate covered mint cooky crumbs

Prepare and thoroughly cool cake. Widen the center hole by 2 inches all the way around. Place upside down on a paper plate or heavy aluminum foil. Fill center with layers of chocolate, coffee and vanilla ice cream. Working quickly, blend whipped cream and cooky crumbs. Frost cake with whipped cream mixture. Place in freezer until firm. Serve at once. Makes 1 to 12 servings.

U.S. Wives Are Best, Says Author Michener

American housewives work harder, longer, at more complex jobs than women in any other part of the world, according to writer James A. Michener, who married a Japanese-American girl in 1955.

He proposes that we create a new profession — household helper — to ease their burden.

Reporter and novelist Michener, says women in Asia and Europe often perform more arduous physical labor than their American counterparts. But when they finish their day's work, they are through. Other females in the family have cared for the children, done the shopping, cooked the dinner and washed the dishes.

In sharp contrast, the average American housewife is wife, mother and housekeeper — and much more. She serves on committees, entertains her husband's business associates, acts as family chauffeur, even becomes involved in politics.

Writing in the Reader's Digest, Michener says that American wives should not give up their community activities. "Concern for one's community ought not to be surrendered."

He proposes instead that an immediate campaign be launched to develop a new profession — household helper. It should be aimed at persuading young grandmothers and widows to volunteer — for good wages — to help younger women. Then, he says, this country will finally stop beating down one of its greatest assets: young mothers.

Memo for Men

By BERT BACHARACH

MOTOR HINT: The plastic rear window of a convertible should never be washed with solvents, abrasive substances, or even liquid spray cleaners. Soap and water will do the job better and won't damage the plastic.

AROUND THE HOUSE: Never use dry-cleaning fluid on upholstery that's padded with foam rubber. It will deteriorate the rubber . . . And don't try a do-it-yourself cleaning job on velvet or velour upholstery. That's a job for a professional.

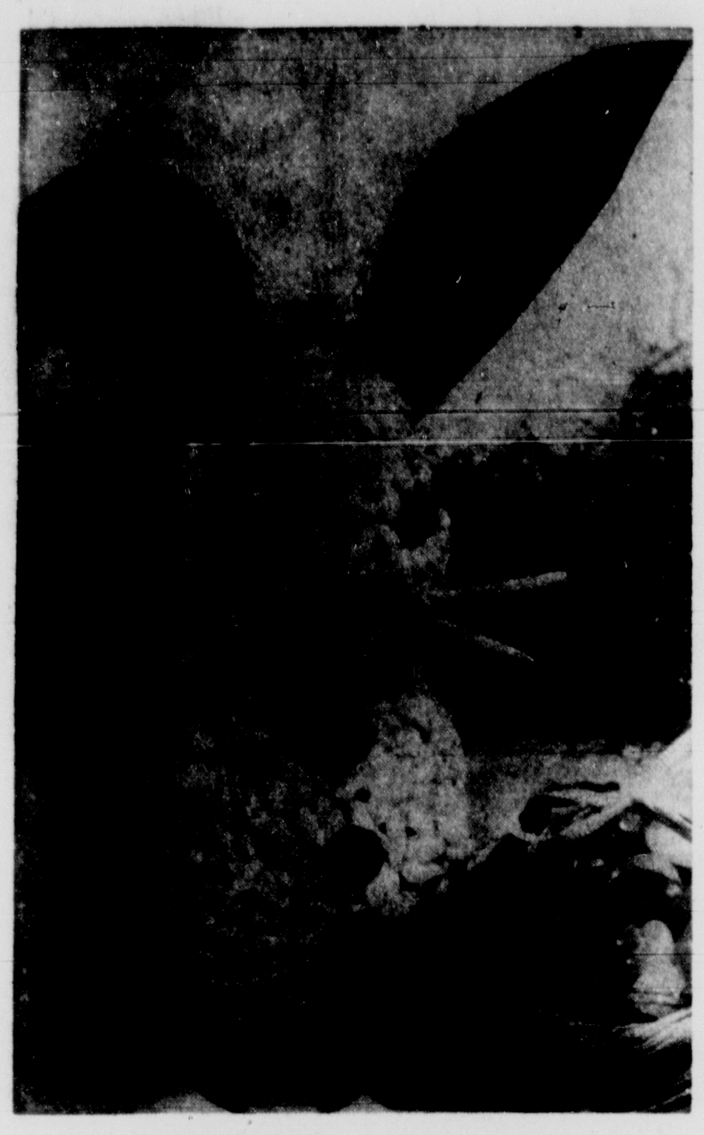
Rice Bunny for Easter Table



Perky Peter Cottontail
. . . make him for Easter

By JEAN WARDLOW
Herald Staff Writer

Perkiest Peter Cottontail you'll find any Easter is this one. You can make him of rice cereal and marshmallows. Wonderful for holiday dinner centerpiece or to hover over Easter baskets.

READERS' EXCHANGE

Now. The recipe for one large bunny.

6 cups puffed rice cereal
32 large marshmallows
1/4 cup butter or margarine
1/2 teaspoon vanilla

Heat puffed rice in shallow pan in moderate oven (350 degrees F.) for 10 minutes. Pour into large greased bowl. Melt marshmallows and butter over very low heat (may use a double boiler). Add vanilla. Stir until smooth. Pour puffed rice; stir until evenly coated.

With greased hands, shape one medium-sized ball for head, one small ball for tail and remaining mixture for body. Assemble to resemble bunny.

Use coconut for topknot; gumdrops, cut in half, for buttons and nose; raisins for eyes. Cut ears and feet from construction paper. Make 2 slits in head and insert ears; set bunny on the paper feet. Insert pipe cleaners for whiskers.

And Happy Easter.

Hubby's Pet Chair Needs Cleaning

WELL, you know how husbands are. Give them a good comfortable chair and they won't part with it until the termites carry it away or the springs disintegrate.

Mrs. G. S. of Hollywood is having that problem.

"I need help," she begins, "in cleaning the white corded nylon seat and back of my husband's chair, which he will not give up.

"I have tried everything that I have heard of. I do hope some readers can help me."

Can She Keep Tulip Bulbs?

HERE'S a blooming problem.

Mrs. P. G. of Miami has a fine pot of tulips. Nice, waxy, upstanding tulips. She likes them so well this year, she'd like to see the little fellows next year, too.

"Is there anything I can do to the bulbs later on so that I can replant them for next Spring's blooming?"

Want Recipes For Enchiladas?

GET PLENTY of water handy. You'll need it, just listening to words about hot Mexican enchiladas. Received some fine recipes for the reader who had worked up the appetite for Mexican food.

Too long to print here, but we've had copies made of two good recipes — one from a local importing firm and one from a Cocoa reader. Her sister sent her the recipe from California. "This is one of her specialties she passed on to me. We find them extra delicious."

If you'd like to have copies, just send along a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your request. We'll also tell you where you can buy Mexican food in local stores here.

Mrs. FDR Sends Her Apologies

By ELEANOR ROOSEVELT

Mrs. Roosevelt

NEW YORK —I have just received a letter and my correspondent asks that I print it in my column, so here it is:

"Why did you accept the invitation to our 12th annual Older People's Hobby Show in 1958 at three p.m. and never show up at all?

"You kept me standing at the door for one hour. We have never had any explanation of your non-appearance. As you have seemed to be a gracious person, perhaps on the eve of our 13th will you come right out and say that you take on more than you can handle?"

I have apologized to Mrs. Robbins, the writer, that this appointment did no appear in my book, which may have been a slip on my part.

In addition, I would have thought that this was the kind of appointment that I would go to if I was able to do so, but which was not a formal one to appear at a specific hour.

What I will do is refuse all such appointments in the future, for I would not again want to put anyone to so much inconvenience. I probably often take on more than I can do and I usually try to let people know I cannot appear in answer to certain requests, but in this case I was not even aware of what I had done.

The Cat's Meow Means Something

PARIS —(WNS)— Renee Martin, a 17-year-old girl whose trio of cats just won a feline beauty contest in France, suggests that cat-owners study music to understand what their pets are trying to tell them.

"When my cats are bored, they always meow on the musical note D," she reported.

Second Part Sunday

'Generation' Digs Way Into Student Thoughts

By CHARLES MERCER

NEW YORK —(AP)— Everyone of middle-age or older should take a look at "Generation Without a Cause."

The first part of this interesting examination of contemporary college age youth was presented Sunday on "20th Century" (CBS-TV).

The second part will be seen next Sunday (6:30 p.m., EST). I saw both filmed portions last week.

"Generation Without a Cause" does not solve the middle-aged mystery of "what's with the kids these days?" But it sets you to thinking and it's almost impossible to look at it without becoming subjective. It is, therefore, worthwhile television programming.

Producer Stephen Fleischman, after long research, chose Rutgers as a pretty typical American college on which to concentrate his cameras.

In the first part of the program youths themselves agreed with the findings of all the polls, surveys and the like made of the younger generation in our presently poll-prone nation.

As summarized by narrator Walter Cronkite:

"Even the most alert and outspoken students admit to being cautious, waiting — and concerned mainly with themselves and their own individual fulfillment. Nowhere have we found any indication of this generation having a new movement or cause of its own. What does this mean to our nation?"

* * *

NEXT SUNDAY the program finds that there are exceptions to the big generalization.

It examines one exception in the case of a Rutgers student named Peter Knauss who says that in the conformism of modern youth it takes a lot of courage to want something beside a comfortable house with two-car garage in suburbia.

Personally (and I warned you that this program makes you subjective), I belonged to the college generation with a hundred and one causes. Just 20 years ago I was a student at Brown, a college like Rutgers in many respects.

People like myself, nearing the age of nostalgia, are inclined to remember it as a better age simply because we had a lot of causes. But what were we actually doing except reflecting our times? We'd lived through the depression and we uneasily felt the imminence of war.

As one personal example, I remember writing impassioned editorials for the college daily against fortifying Guam. With a certain stunning swiftness I found myself on Guam after violent moves by some ungentlemanly chaps from Japan — because we failed to fortify it adequately.

(I have since ceased to advise the government on its foreign policies.)

Everybody my age remembers all the causes lost and won.

* * *

WHEN I WAS THE AGE of the Rutgers students on "Generation Without a Cause" it never occurred to me to want a comfortable suburban house with two-car garage.

A shack would suit me fine, I thought, in which to pursue such noble causes as becoming a writer and making the world better for everyone. Many of my friends felt the same; we reflected our times.

Now, to my occasional consternation, I find myself living in a comfortable suburban house with two-car garage, concerned, in Cronkite's words about today's youth, "mainly with my own individual fulfillment." Here I am, still reflecting my times.

I think there are a lot of people like myself who served in World War II and the Korean War, who joined innumerable good causes and organizations — and who today have no particular cause except to act decently.

It may seem deplorable to some, but it's the general temper of the times.

Whatever one says about today's youth, can we expect it to find causes where its elders do not? Whenever a good and urgent cause rises, I'll bet they embrace it as passionately as we did.

2 ♥	3 ♦	3 ♠	Pass
4 ♦	Pass	5 ♣	Pass
6 ♠	Pass	Pass	Pass

Opening lead: Four of ♦.

At crucial stages in the play of a hand, similar to the one which developed today, it is imperative for declarer to take time for the inquiry, "What adverse holding do I fear?" Such a procedure might have brought this declarer to the realization in time, that the trump suit must be handled with delicacy.

Although North and South did not have any surplus high card strength, their hands fit very well and they were able to find this out as the bidding developed. After North freely supported spades, South elected to show his diamond control since he could do so economically, below the game level. When his partner now rebid clubs, South decided that the hands meshed perfectly and he contracted for slam. However, his choice of suits was not the wisest, for six clubs would have been a virtual laydown.

Against six spades, the opening lead was the four of diamonds and declarer ruffed. Everything was solid but the trumps. Declarer entered the dummy with a club and led the queen of spades for the finesse. The king won and a diamond return shortened the declarer down to two trumps, while East held three, and the contract was doomed.

Proper play at trick two is the ace of spades and this is not a case of hindsight. If the spades are divided 3-2, the position of the king of spades is immaterial. The opponents will be conceded one spade trick and the rest is simply mopping up. If the spades are divided 4-1, there will be no way to make the hand unless the king of spades happens to be alone. The reason is that when the next lead is surrendered, another diamond play by the defense will bring declarer's trumps almost down to the vanishing point.

Traffic Fines Join the Rise

PARIS —(AP)— Along with most everything else, the cost of traffic violations is going up in France.

The fine for parking violations and horn blowing has been boosted from $1.80 to $2. Other fines for more serious offenses also have gone up, and a new one has been added —80 cents for jaywalking.

LIFE WITH LARRY THOMPSON

There's Hope for Legs

A MOST revolutionary suggestion was made the other day in the teenage panel conducted by Jean Wardlow in The Herald women's section. The headline was "Why Not Take the Bus?" and the suggestion was the teenagers might actually have dates without driving a car.

Even more amazing, the high school panelists agreed that this was possible.

I didn't think that the younger generation would even consider such a thing.

When I was in high school, the son of the town's leading merchant drove his own car to school, but the rest of us walked and thought nothing of it. On very special occasions, some of us might be permitted to drive the family car. That happened so seldom that once when I had the automobile, I forgot about it and walked home.

As I understand evolution, if a particular part of the body is used a great deal, it will become larger or stronger through succeeding generations. That's why the anteater has a long nose. On the other hand, if something isn't used, it will wither away or disappear after enough generations. That's why we don't have tails.

If that theory is correct, the time is bound to come when human beings, at least in the U.S., will be born without legs. Certainly, we're using them less than we use our appendix.

That, at least, has been the trend. But this startling piece in the paper is encouraging. The fact that some teenage students have actually considered the possibility of having a date without a car indicates hope.

If this attitude become more widespread, our grandchildren may have legs after all.

* * *

OTHER FOUR-EYED PEOPLE have been bothered by spots and stuff on their glasses, but many of them have found a solution.

Leo A. McNally, Boca Raton, passed on this suggestion: "Try washing your glasses, rims and all, with a soft brush, like a toothbrush. A little detergent will help."

Maybe I could get my wife to wash my glasses with the dishes.

And I got this sales pitch from Mrs. A. D. Alexander, Fort Pierce:

"Your troubles are over. Being a gal who had the same trouble, I want to tell you about a product, the sale of which is a project of the Fort Pierce Hospital Auxiliary. We have wonderful success with it.

"It is very compact, about the size of a lipstick. It is an atomizer deal with 240 squirts. Twice a week application should bring the result you are after. Carry it in your coat pocket. They sell for $1, no tax as this is a charity project."

"I, too, have worn glasses for not only much of my adult life but also all of my youth. The problem of keeping classes clean is an everlasting and continuous chore.

"Three years ago I fitted my wife with contact lenses, the new ones which are the size of aspirin. One day when we were caught in a rain storm she mentioned how wonderful it was being able to see clearly without rainy or foggy glasses.

"I began wearing contact lenses six months ago and I, too, realized the wonderful feeling of seeing clearly at all times with no fingerprints, smudges or blots interfering.

"We contact lens wearers have nature's built-in windshield wipers, our lids."

Another idea is suggested by Mrs. Marike Natsis, 3120 NW 22nd St.: "Keep an old dollar bill in your case, for wiping the glasses. Try it and see. By the way, the denomination doesn't matter as long as it's old paper money."

I can't even keep a dollar bill in my billfold.

And Dr. Sidney H. Moss, 2250 SW Eighth St., sent me something called Xm which is supposed to keep the lenses clean all day if you apply it once a day. It works fine, too, when I remember to use it.

Goal $50,000

Gifts Mount For Project

A total of $24,160 has been contributed or pledged toward the $50,000 needed to open a Goodwill Industries in Miami, it was reported by Earl Smalley, chairman of the finance committee.

The $50,000 is the estimated amount it will take to operate the new welfare project for its first year. After that it will be largely self-supporting, through sale of repaired and renovated clothing, furniture and other second-hand articles.

The operations committee now is studying several sites on which the Goodwill Industries building will be located.

The store will give work to handicapped employes.

Jack Kofoed Says

Teamsters Want All Regardless of Jobs

JIMMY HOFFA, the Little Caesar of labor, and a fellow named Henry Feinstein, who heads a public employes' union in New York, broken hearted over the unhappy plight of working people in Our Town, are trying to shepperd them into the Teamsters' Union.

Just how municipal clerks, firemen, hotel employes and others in a dozen different trades are eligible for a Teamster rating is slightly confusing. Feinstein made a tentative jab at getting Manhattan police into the fold, but gave it up when he smelled bitter public resentment.

What about a smoke eaters? They are essential to public safety, too. Could they be called out on strike while a blazing office builing sends flames shooting into the sky?

Unions are part of our economic life and workers are entitled to organize. Mr. Hoffa, though, has been unable to convincingly refute charges of scandal, graft and strong-arm methods among the Teamsters, or explain why he seeks control of workers in many far-flung fields.

Mr. Feinstein unwittingly disclosed the real reason when he said municipalities in Dade County would be asked to make dues deductions from wages of Teamsters members. When millions of workers pay dues every week of their working lives, tears for their unhappy plight, shed by leaders in $100 a day hotel suites, don't seem quite as scalding as they should be.

BALD-DOMES, iron-knuckled Khrushchev can make strategic retreats like any other politician. When Britain's prime minister, Harold Macmillan, visited him, Khrushchev was a merry host at vodka parties and a belligerant talker once the drinking was over.

Apparently the West's reactions to his bullying brought him up with a sharp turn.

Now, Khrushchev suggests we forget those threats. They were made at a political rally, where he had to stir emotions of voters. Promise men and women who go to the polls anything. Tell them what ever you please before the ballots are filled out. No one but a fool believes a campaign speech.

People in Minsk and Pinsk can accept what the Big Boss said, but politicos of other nations should take his statements with a bucketful of salt. Obviously, Comrade Krushchev works from the same script used by Frank Hague, Hughey Long and the sachems of Tammany Hall, which proves he has as much of the ward heeler as the demi-God in him.

ALFREDO STROESSNER, dictator of Paraguay, is as shaky as a guy who has downed 14 Scotch-and-sodas. So, Stroessner has ordered a new outburst of murder and torture against those who oppose him. Security police do the dirty work. I wonder about that. They must know what happened to their kind in Cuba. The families of those they butchered will seek revenge, and the revenge will be as brutal as torments they've dealt in for years. If the Gestapo-like thugs have no decency or pity, you'd think they'd begin planning how to save their own skins . . . perhaps by turning on the head butcher first. Whatever they get, they'll have earned over and over again.

'Belle of Ball' Is a Failure at Playing Role of Mother

By ANN LANDERS

ANN

DEAR ANN: Two years ago I married "The Belle of the Ball." She was only 18, but a rare beauty, and full of fun. I was 28, and rather settled.

The first year of our marriage produced a daughter. This blessed event was not planned and my wife was mad at me and sick the whole nine months. When the baby was born she didn't want to see her. She went into a bad mental depression and had to be sent to a rest home. My mother moved in with me to care for the baby.

Now the baby is a year old and my wife is her old self after much therapy. She was discharged from the rest home last week but the doctor suggested she live with her parents for several days and visit the baby and me, and see how things work out.

My wife wants very much to come home and be a mother to her baby. I'm not sure she is equal to this responsibility. My mother is fearful and reluctant to trust this "mental patient" with her only grandchild. May I have your views? — ELLIS

Neither my views nor your mother's views should be considered in this case. It's the doctor's views that count. His decision will be based on clinical facts and experienced judgment. Depend on him.

★ ★ ★

DEAR ANN: The problem is my husband. Whenever we go to a party or even just visit in the home of friends, he is always the last one to leave.

We both work and have to get up at 6:30 a.m. This is no easy task when we pull in at 3 a.m., and sometimes later.

I don't like to nag him in front of friends or appear to be the bossy type who orders her husband around. Yet, I find the only way to get him to go home is by starting to suggest leaving two hours in advance.

I think it's poor manners for one couple to stay long after the others have left. This is always us. Will you say something? My husband thinks I'm stuffy. — LAST OF THE MOHIC-UNS

Dear Last: Before you leave the house, decide together (while he's still sober) what time you will leave the party. Make it plain you will give him 15 minutes grace — not a minute more. If he doesn't keep his bargain, phone for a taxi.

When he sees you mean business he'll go home when he's supposed to. Tell him the bores always leave last.

DEAR ANN: I have a friend who borrows small sums of money frequently, and never pays me back. When I ask her for a dollar (not often) she tells me she is broke. I just can't believe people can borrow time after time and forget it completely. She seems to be without a memory or a conscience.

She also has borrowed my evening wrap, a traveling bag, bowling shoes, etc. and I always have to go get them as she never returns anything. Is there a cure for people like this? Otherwise she is awfully nice and great fun. — WEASEL

Dear Weasel: Glad you added the bit about the evening wrap. I thought for a minute you were this leech's boy friend.

Learn how to say NO, or consider the loans out-and-out contributions. As for the garments, you're a sap to put up with such free-loading.

★ ★ ★

CONFIDENTIAL to Ashamed: This has nothing to do with morals. You are ill and need the help of a doctor. Since you are eager to be "helped" by all means get going. Others have done it — with success.

Bolivia Gets U.S. Protest Over Stoning

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The U.S. protested sternly to Bolivia Tuesday against stoning of the American embassy at La Paz in anti-American riots that have prompted movement of embassy personnel to the outskirts of the city.

The State Department told the Bolivian ambassador it expects his nation "to take all possible measures to safeguard the lives" of an estimated 1,800 Americans in the South American country.

A department spokesman, announcing the protest, said no reports have been received of injury of any Americans.

But, Department Press Officer Lincoln White said, some 700 Americans living in La Paz "are being concentrated in suburban areas where military protection (by Bolivian forces) is better."

The strongly worded U. S. protest was handed to Bolivia's Ambassador Manuel Barrau who was called to the State Department Tuesday by Assistant Secretary Roy R. Rubottom in charge of Interamerican affairs.

The riots followed publication by Time Magazine of an article quoting an unidentified U.S. embassy official as suggesting the way to solve Bolivia's economic problems is to abolish the country.

The official was quoted as saying neighbors should "divide the country and its problems."

President Hernan Siles Suazo went on the radio Monday night to tell the Bolivian people that American officials had denied the magazine story. Mobs had stoned the U.S. embassy.

(In Miami, a Panagra Airlines spokesman reported that the airline had been alerted by the State Department to be prepared to evacuate American Embassy personnel "in the event that it becomes necessary.")

A State Department official said the possibility of additional disturbances caused all embassy personnel to be removed "to a place on the outskirts of town. At that place, it was felt the Bolivian army could offer better protection."

Sen. Styles Bridges (R., N.H.) told newsmen he favored sending U.S. troops to La Paz if mob violence continues. He also said foreign aid to the country should be stopped.

Bridges said the mob demonstration showed the lack of appreciation of Bolivians for American aid.

"I would stop all foreign aid to Bolivia and use American military strength to protect American lives there," Bridges said.

"After all of the money we have poured into Bolivia, to help them balance their budget with our funds, this mob action is unjustified, uncalled for and unappreciative."

Bridges, who said he had talked to State Department officials, said he regards the situation as very serious.

During Monday night's rioting, a 15-year-old student was shot fatally.

45 Batista Men Face New Trial

HAVANA, Cuba —(AP)— Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday denounced a Santiago tribunal's acquittal of 45 airmen of mass murder charges as "a great error" and a service to ex-Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Prosecutor Lt. Antonio Cejas already has appealed the verdict and the airmen are in jail pending a new trial to be held in a few days before another tribunal.

Castro said in a statement published by Revolucion, organ of the revolutionary government, that the prosecution has as much right of appeal as the defense "if the sentence is not just."

Demonstrators ranged through Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, shouting protests against the acquittal. The protests abated after announcement of the prosecution's appeal.

The court held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of Batista's campaign against Castro.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente Province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

Dulles Given Atomic Gold

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Doctors gave Secretary of State John Foster Dulles an injection of radioactive gold Tuesday in a new attempt to control his abdominal cancer.

An announcement through the State Department said this treatment was decided upon by a panel of medical experts meeting at Walter Reed Hospital "to reinforce" his regular X-ray treatment.

The X-ray treatments from the Army hospital's million-volt machine will be resumed "in a few days," it was announced.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the radioactive gold was given in fluid form as an injection directly into the abdominal cavity.

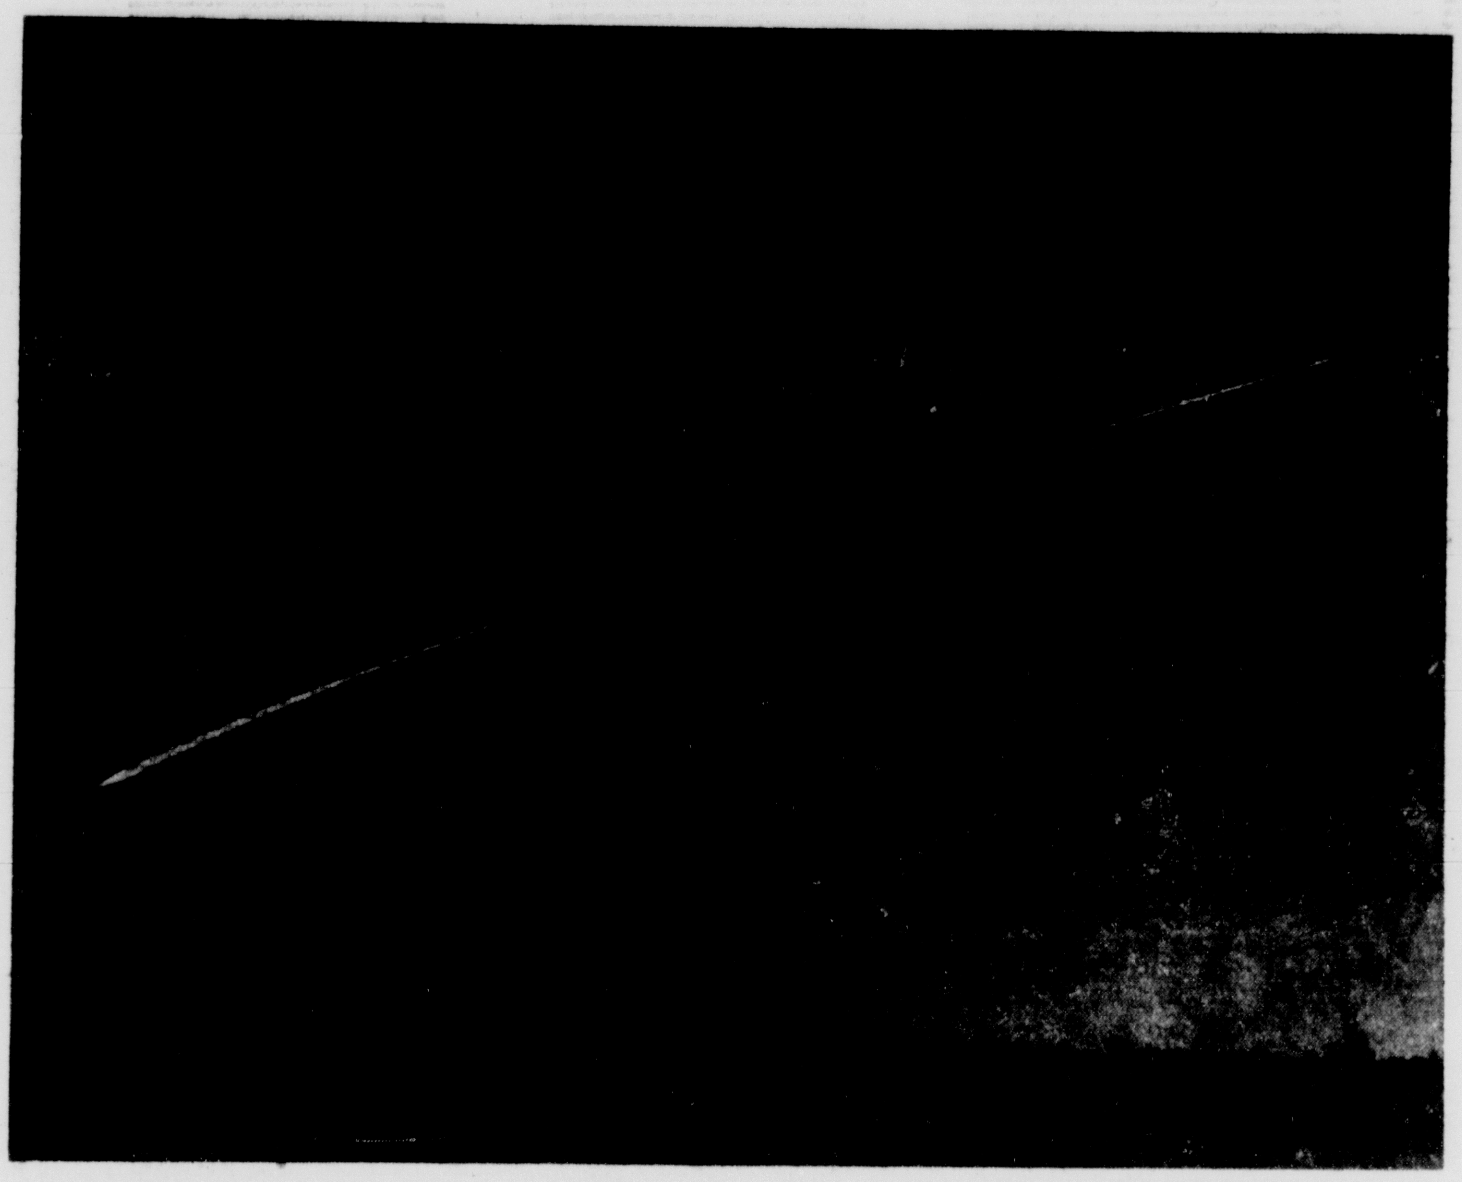
Beep, Beep, You Big Lunik; Li'l Pioneer's Halfway Out



Moonshot Over Miami

This dramatic photograph of Pioneer IV's flight toward the sun was taken from Homestead moments after the launching Tuesday by Dallas Espenschied, a Hartsville, Ohio, photographer. Snapped at 12:12 A.M., the photo shows 30 seconds of the rocket's life as it sped southeast toward its rendezvous in space. Stars are blurred as a result of the earth's rotation during the exposure. Espenschied made the picture with a Speed Graphic with Aero-Ektar lens wide open at f2.5. Espenschied, a member of two photo-tracking and moonwatch teams in Ohio, has photographed three satellites in flight, but this is his first shot of a launching.

118,852 Miles In Space, Still Going Strong

May solve a man-in-space problem, Page 7A

WASHINGTON —(UPI)— America's gold-plated Pioneer IV satellite climbed toward a brief rendezvous with the moon Tuesday and was confidently expected to join Russia's Lunik in an orbit around the sun.

Opening a new frontier in U.S. space exploration, the pint-sized artificial planet was 118,852 miles from the earth at 5 p.m. Miami time and had far outstripped the previous two American moon probes. It was clocking 5,675 miles an hour in its race to space.

The only man-made object that had climbed higher was Russia's heavier Lunik. The Soviets said Lunik actually achieved a solar orbit and U.S. scientists generally credit the claim.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the 13.4 pound Pioneer is on a track that will make it a satellite of the sun. Only a collision with a meteorite can stop it, they said.

The vehicle, gold-plated so the shell would act as a radio antenna, is expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon at 2 p.m. today. Its distance then will be 236,100 miles from the earth.

Then it is expected to continue its flight to join the 3,245-pound Lunik as a man-made planet.

President Eisenhower was quick to praise the successful team that sent Pioneer IV skyward. He sent NASA Director T. Keith Glennan "warm congratulations" for a "splendid achievement" that "marks yet another major step in scientific space exploration."

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, followed up with a forecast that the U.S. should put the first man "Voyager" into space within 10 to 12 years. He said the Pioneer's flight will provide "more grist for the mill" in finding out how it can be done.

"This also puts us very close to being in the same league with the Russians," he said. "— if what they say about their moon shoot is true."

"Everything we put up in space now brings us nearer to the day when we will have the first man Voyager there," he said.

The Pioneer roared off the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday atop a 60-ton four-stage Juno II Army rocket.

The launching went off without a hitch. But scientists noted a deviation in the course that will take the satellite farther from the moon on its ouward journey than they planned.

The satellite is rigged to take radiation readings as it passes within 15,000 miles of the moon. But the actual course is 20,000 miles farther from the moon than planned.

Pioneer IV became America's deepest space probe less than nine hours after blast-off, when it passed the 71,300 miles traveled by the Air Force's Pioneer I lunar probe Nov. 11.

Earlier, it had surpassed the Army's first moon shoot Dec. 6, 1958, which soared 63,580 miles. Lunik went up Jan. 2, 1959.

The Juno II, a four-stage, 76-foot rocket with 150,000 pounds of thrust, shot the satellite into the skies at 24,890 miles an hour, or 305 miles an hour faster than needed to overbalance the earth's tremendous backward pull and the smaller tug of moon gravity.

It slowed down as it climbed, but the speed was calculated as ample to achieve a solar orbit. The scientists figured the artificial planet will go into an orbit slightly larger and more enlongated than the earth's path around the sun, but take about the same time — a year — for a complete orbit.

Powerful radio-telescopes were locked onto the satellite's radio signals shortly after it left the ground. The NASA experts said the tracking stations might be able to follow the satellite for 300,000 to 400,000 miles in its flight.

The batteries are expected to last for about 50 hours after the satellite passes the moon. By that time, communication will be lost anyway.

At one point Tuesday morning, signals were being received by tracking stations at Mayaguez, Puerto Rico; Jodrell Bank, England; and Goldstone, Camp Irwin, Calif.

After the brief period when all were tracking the flight, Goldstone, located in the Mojave desert, took over the job. The scientists expected later tracking to be uncertain, because the satellite will be climbing on the opposite side of the earth from the three tracking stations.

The cone is equipped with two tubes to measure the intensity of a radiation band discovered around the earth by earlier space "birds." One of the tubes has a ⅛ inch lead layer to test the penetration of the radiation.

The information gained from these devices is expected to throw light on the problem of shielding when man himself goes into space.

It also carries a camera tripping device and instruments to measure moonlight and radiation in the moon's magnetic field. Because the satellite will approach no closer than 35,000 miles to the moon, these experiments were written off.

The satellite went up after bad weather and technical difficulties washed out earlier launchings.

New Cold Pushing Into State

A new cold front pushing into North Florida may bring showers and a bit cooler weather to Miami late today.

But the Weather Bureau said Tuesday that even if it does get chilly again tonight, it won't be bad.

The chill from a cold front that drifted over South Florida during the weekend was blown off Tuesday by south and southeasterly winds. Temperatures during the day pushed well into the 70s after Tuesday morning lows ranging from 42 at South Miami to 52 at Miami Beach.

It wasn't expected to go below 60 in the Miami area Tuesday night, and more warm temperatures were forecast for today. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said weathermen weren't sure how much the new cold front would affect Miami later in the day and tonight.

In North Florida, temperatures Tuesday morning hit a low of 34 at Ocala, then warmed up to the 70s during the day. Tonight and Thursday morning, the Weather Bureau said, temperatures might be "near the danger point" in the northern part of the state because of the new front.

Jobs Offered Evans

Headley Holds On: 'I Won't Resign'

By JOHN MORTON
AND JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writers

Headley declared almost gleefully:

"I won't resign."

And neither the new city manager, Ira Willard, nor the city commission can fire him outright without formal charges, a public hearing and a court fight.

Often a target of city commissioners, Headley has held on to the top job in the city police division for 10 years.

After Monday's surprise shakeup Mayor Robert King High promised "a lot of changes in the old brass at the police department."

He said he expected Headley to resign.

"So the mayor wants to get rid of me?" asked Headley. "Well, I'll go along with him on the same thing. I would like to get rid of him."

The youthful mayor led a lone attack against Evans and Headley for more than a year. Then Monday he suddenly found support from Commissioners Otis Shiver and George Dubreuil and the trio immediately fired the city manager.

The action brought a quick verbal resignation form City Commissioner James W. High. But in Tuesday's calm following Monday's uproar there emerged doubt as to whether High's post will be vacated.

High said Tuesday he is "reconsidering" his resignation. The commission had postponed action on it until its formal meeting Wednesday.

"There is a legal question," explained High, "about the resignation I tendered Monday."

It was made verbally and High has not yet put it in writing.

At the time, Assistant City Attorney Jack Rice said no written resignation was necessary.

Later, however, Rice said there was a "vast area of difference" of opinion on a verbal resignation.

Apparently throwing the decision to the commission, Rice added, "the interpretation of Mr. High's resignation will lie with the commission."

High also asserted that a

Why It's Tough to Hit Moon

CAPE CANAVERAL — (AP) — The Army says its lunar probe fired Tuesday never had better than one chance in 10,000 of making a direct hit on the moon. Why can't they aim better than that?

You are on a golf tee. The tee is on a spinning merry-go-round. The green for which you will aim your shot is moving, too, at about 88 feet a minute.

Think you can make a hole-in-one?

Sure it sounds impossible, but wait. You haven't heard the half of it.

While the ball is in the air, two huge magnets, one behind you and the other on the far side of the green, are pulling and tugging at the ball. You've got to allow for that, too.

If this sounds confusing, it may help you to know that it bothers the mathematicians, also.

Isaac Newton established the principle of gravitation which explains the motion of a planet around the sun. But Newton could solve only two-body problems.

For centuries, astronomers have tried without success to

New Pioneering Spirit Is Rejuvenating Old Areas

Miami Beach--Where What's Past Is Future

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

It's utterly unthinkable to most hep visitors to Miami Beach at the winter season peak to check into anything except the latest of hotels. Each year since World War II, as new palaces have sprung up literally out of the water, the affluent tourists have leap-frogged northward with the hotels on this most fabulous resort beach in the world. To be fashionable, one has had to be seen in the latest version of a French chateau or Arab harem.

But while by Miami Beach yardsticks the newest is automatically the best, this year on my annual trek to the sun I rebelled.

Back to the comparatively "unfashionable" southern area and into one of Miami Beach's oldest hotels I went. And there, to my delight, I not only rediscovered the charm, the dignity and spaciousness of an "ancient" Miami Beach inn; I also stumbled on an exciting new tale of pioneering.

Coming directly from Louisville, Ky., where businessmen are quibbling over the need for sprucing up structures dating from the 19th century, I still find it hard to believe that in Miami Beach, any luxury hotel over five years is no longer considered in the luxury class, any building over 15 years is "old," any in the 20-30 year group, no matter how grand, is an "antique!"

Nevertheless, this is a fact, as awesome as any other aspect about this place. Although the Roney Plaza, the hotel in which I stayed, would be a showplace in most other resort cities, here it is out of date. Although it has been filled to capacity during this season of spectacularly good weather, rumors persist that the Roney will be significantly expanded so it can fight the brutal competition from the new marvels. And therein lies the story.

For what is starting to happen here is the rediscovery and rejuvenation of the original Miami Beach. Even as the fickle, fad-conscious tourists concentrate on new areas, astute financiers and businessmen are concentrating on revolutionizing the old.

In Miami Beach, the South Beach was developed first as the prime property in the 1920s but while its location is as superb as ever, the area has been deteriorating rapidly. Now, though, the largest construction venture in the entire state of Florida — a 1,600-room, 500-unit apartment building — is going up in this section, and business leaders believe this will spark a restoration of the South Shore as a region for permanent residents.

Says Nathan S. Gumenick, builder of the Southgate: "We will revive the South Beach with apartments in every income range. We'll prove you don't have to be a millionaire to live on the Beach, and by so doing we'll strengthen the Beach's entire economy.

In Miami proper, Biscayne

Heads, He Wins

Little Brian Messenger, two, is more than a match for anybody who tries to get that hat away from him. He's been in Lakeview General Hospital at Battle Creek, Mich., for a week, and has worn the hat the whole time. Here Mrs. Rex McMasters, director of the hospital's nurses, makes a pass at the hat and gets the usual reaction—tears and a determined hold on the headpiece. Brian is suffering from a leg infection.

compute the motions of bodies when three or more are involved — such as, in this case, the earth, the moon and the probe.

Lacking this formula, the Army relied on computing machines to make numerical approximations. These are believed to be accurate within 50 miles at the distance of the moon — providing the probe is fired in exactly the right direction, at the right velocity and at the right time.

In figuring the direction, the rocket men had to consider that the firing pad moves at more than 1,000 miles an hour as the earth rotates on its axis. And the moon moves in its orbit at 2,000 miles an hour.

Every four minutes, the aiming direction of the rocket must be changed by one degree. At the lunar distance of 230,000 miles, an error of one degree in aiming means a miss of 4,000 miles.

Speed of the probe's flight through space is just as important as directional aim. An error of one per cent in velocity means an error of about eight hours in arrival time at the moon.

Thus, if the probe should travel the distance one hour too fast, the moon would be 2,000 miles away when it got there.

By the same token, if the rocket was fired a little too soon or a little too late, the probe would miss its target.

Gravitational forces of the earth and the moon also have to be taken into consideration.

Headley Holds On: 'I Won't Resign'

"constant stream" of people is urging him not to resign. His vacancy could be filled by a man picked by the new majority.

Evans, in the meantime, reported that he already has received two job offers in the wake of his surprise firing Monday.

He said he would consider neither immediately.

One reportedly is from St. Petersburg, now looking for a man to replace Ross Windom, who resigned his $23,000-a-year city manager's job Jan. 1. Evans is said to have been offered $25,000, which is what he was making here.

"I'm not going to do anything," said Evans, "until I can get in an old rocking chair, prop my feet up and rest awhile."

Losing his Miami job, he said, "was like having a big block of lead taken from my shoulders."

City commissioners can't fire Headley without formal charges, as they did Evans, because the Police Chief is not a department head. He merely heads the Police Division, which is part of the Public Safety Department.

Heading this department is supposed to be a public safety director. But this job was held by Evans, serving simultaneously as city manager.

The city charter decrees and court tests have confirmed that the police chief can be suspended by the city manager, for one of these reasons: Incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, failure to obey orders given by proper authority or for any other just and reasonable cause.

Then the charges must be aired by the city commission. And their judgment can be challenged all the way to the state supreme court.

There was talk around city hall about appointing a separate public safety director who would not double as city manager and who could tell Headley how to run his department.

But not even Mayor High was ready to comment publicly on the possibility.

City department heads considered on shaky ground because of Mayor High's sudden rise to power were still working at their jobs Tuesday. And there was less talk about head rolling.

"I don't want to pre-commit myself about what might happen to them," commented Shiver. "To a great extent, that's up to Mr. Willard."

Willard told department heads at a get acquainted meeting Tuesday afternoon that he has no changes of personnel in mind.

But he warned them against going over the head of the city manager and making direct approaches to the city commissioners about anything.

The new manager reaffirmed his intention to work closely with the new countywide government.

"I will be conferring continually with County Manager (O. W.) Campbell," he said, "on each municipal service that will be affected by Metro."

His first task will be to work out an orderly transfer of city traffic cases to Metro court.

Evans is scheduled to leave his rocking chair Wednesday to make a speech to Miami Rotarians, who scheduled the speech before the fateful Monday city commission meeting. He will speak on "Progress in Our City."

The Score: Berlin--No; Talks--Yes

MOSCOW — (UPI) — Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ended Anglo-Soviet summit talks Tuesday with complete disagreement on Berlin but with a Russian promise of early negotiations to save "peace and security" in the world.

Diplomats here remained pessimistic about the chances of an East-West meeting.

Macmillan flew home in a cheerful mood and announced on his arrival in London he hopes to visit Washington shortly to report to President Eisenhower and "concert our policies." He will go first to Bonn and Paris next week.

The British and Russian statesmen agreed in a final communiqué signed in the Kremlin that they would look into a partial East-West troop withdrawal and removal of nuclear weapons from Central Europe — a variation of the "atom free zone" plan of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki which has been rejected by Washington and Bonn.

Khrushchev and Macmillan reported they were "unable to agree about the juridical and political aspects of problems involved" in the Berlin crisis.

"At the same time they recognize that it was of great importance for the maintenance and consolidation of peace and security in Europe and throughout the world that these problems should be urgently settled," the communique said.

Macmillan declined at a news conference before his departure by jet plane to "go into specific details of confidential talks" with Khrushchev. But he confirmed the Central Europe pullback plan would be the subject of negotiations.

"Our first duty is to consult our French, German, and American friends," he said.

"The problem (of Central Europe) must be urgently settled. In these lines there is hope for progress."

He ended the news conference because Khrushchev was waiting and rushed off with his host to Vnukovo airport. There, in his white fur hat, and bearing a bouquet, he wished Khrushchev "all the best" in Russian as he stepped into the plane.

"God speed and au revoir," Khrushchev shouted back.

Thus ended 10 crucial days in the fast-developing Berlin crisis during which Macmillan had:

—Failed to budge Khrushchev's determination to give East Germany control of the Allied lifelines to Berlin by May 27.

—Drew agreement for a foreign ministers' conference on the subject before the deadline.

—Warned Khrushchev in "firm" terms that the West will not surrender its rights in Berlin.

—Reached a cultural agreement with the Soviets, particularly in the TV and movie fields, and arranged trade talks.

Africans Riot, 21 Killed

Violence Flares In Nyasaland

BLANTYRE, NYASALAND —(AP)— Rioting spread across Nyasaland Tuesday on the heels of the arrest of an African nationalist leader and by nightfall 21 Africans were reported slain by police gunfire.

Dispatches said 17 were killed at Nkata Bay in the north and one at Fort Manning, in central Nyasaland. Three died in Blantyre.

Shooting broke out on the outskirts of this capital, only a few hours after security officers picked up Dr. Hastings Banda, extremist leader of the African National Congress, and whisked him off to exile by plane.

Angered by the British-imposed state of emergency in this southeast African protectorate, Negro demonstrators gathered in defiance of the regulations. Police charged with clubs when the Africans refused to disperse and followed up with tear gas.

When these tactics proved useless and two special constables were injured, the police opened fire. When the shooting ceased three Africans were dead and two were wounded.

The bloodiest rioting was reported from Nkata Bay, where, in addition to the 17 dead, 13 Africans were wounded.

The Nkata Bay shooting broke out when a mob tried to break through a cordon of security forces to release prisoners jailed under the emergency regulations. Meetings and public gatherings are banned under the regulations.

The Fort Manning shooting took place after a crowd attending a meeting refused to disperse. Police and troops opened fire when the mob attacked them, reports said. In addition to the one African killed, one was reported wounded.

Banda, a London-trained surgeon, has been defying the authorities to arrest him almost from the moment he returned to his native Nyasaland last year from a long exile in the U. S. and Britain.

Bob Hope Confident

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bob Hope entered Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday for examination of his ailing left eye, remarking confidently: "I'm going to be all right."

Dr. Algernon Reese, clinical professor of ophthalmology at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was waiting to examine Hope.

An aide said Hope still was able to play golf, one of his favorite sports, but was limited to nine holes three times a week.

The aide said Hope suffered an eye hemorrhage shortly after his return from an overseas tour of armed forces bases Dec. 29. The aide said the only sign of this hemorrhage was a slight dizziness which comes on with any sudden movement.

Couple Cling to Boat All Night, Are Rescued

A young couple clinging to an overturned boat were rescued Tuesday by the Coast Guard after spending a frigid night in Biscayne Bay.

Mr. and Mrs. David Myers, both 25, were spotted by a Coast Guard plane reutrning from another mission. The plane directed a 40-foot cutter to bring the Myerses to shore, where they were treated for exposure.

The Myerses said their 14-foot boat overturned about four miles southeast of Dinner Key about 10 p.m. Monday. They were picked up at 11:30 a.m. Tuesday. The Myerses are staying at the Ocean Ranch Hotel, 200 SE 12th St.

The Coast Guard plane had gone out on a report that a small plane had crashed near Krome Ave. west of Miami. But flying instructor E. McGregor reported that he and a student pilot, Jack King, had made a landing to make minor repairs on the plane's engine, then taken off again.

Pickets' Terms Are Suspended

Two pickets in a union strike against the Dade Drydock Corp., 777 Biscayne Blvd., were given suspended sentences by City Court Judge Mitchell Goldman Tuesday on charges of threatening non-union workers who crossed the picket lines.

Francis J. Morley, 37, of 3121 NW 55th St., one of some 75 union members on strike against the drydock firm since Jan. 12, was given a suspended 30-day sentence for threats of violence.

Also given a suspended 30-day sentence was Robert C. Rodriguez, 46, of 26 NW 26th Ave., another member of the striking Industrial Union of Marine and Shipbuilding Workers of America.

Judge Goldman also suspended a 10-day jail sentence after convicting Morley of assault and battery against Harold Bowerman, 22, of 263 W. Flagler St.

Smith Indicted In One Killing

Smith, brought here from New Orleans where he was arrested, will be arraigned before Circuit Judge Harold R. Vann.

Smith has signed a confession admitting the slaying of Cmdr. J. T. Stewart, reitred naval officer, in Key Largo the day before the Setnor killing. But he has denied killing the cab driver.

New Slaying Trial Ordered

The Third District Court of Appeals Tuesday ordered a new trial for James Hamilton III, former Dade School Board office secretary sentenced to 20 years last March for manslaughter in the hammer slaying of his brother-in-law.

The appeals court ordered a new trial for Hamilton, of 1729 NW 49th St., on the basis of testimony at the jury trial before Circuit Judge Pat Cannon. The high court cited instances during the trial when the prosecution referred to the killing as "murder."

Man Arrested For Killing Dog

Gavin, arrested and released under $500 bond, was picked up under a new law making it unlawful to injure or kill somebody else's dog. Metro deputies said it was their first arrest under the new law.

Beach Looks To Its Past For Future

Blvd. also was developed first as a key site for hotels and commercial buildings in the 1920s. It, too, has been rapidly losing out to newer sections in the mushrooming city.

Today, though, nearly every hotel along the Biscayne strip — the McAllister, the Columbus, the Colonial, etc. — has had its face lifted, re-lifted or even veiled entirely with a new exterior in the last few years. New buildings are going up as well. And now being finished is a complete overhaul of the Everglades Hotel, Miami's largest. Says its owner, Vaughan B. Connelly, who is pouring millions into the improvements: "Without this rebuilding, this area would be rushing headlong for ruin, but with it, we'll force an upgrading throughout the region to meet our competition. The whole section will be reinvigorated."

These are just two illustrations; I could submit many more. For in 30 years, this city has gone through cycles that usually aren't covered by cities in a century or more.

First came the feverish, speculative development of the '20s — a boom killed by the land crash later in that decade.

Then came this dazzling decade of the '50s — with its new skyscraper hotels year after year, its lush nightclubs, worldwide publicity.

Now comes the third phase and rebuilding of areas settled so short a time ago — a pioneering all over again.

Miami Beach truly is a city of fantasy. Here, even time has different dimensions, and the past becomes the future under our eyes.

The Town Crier

BY Jack Bell

THE FIRING of our city manager sure was a surprise to me. I thought he had four commissioners on his team.

BELL

But out around the Justice building Tuesday morning I heard many wisenheimers saying, "We knew it was in the hopper, but it came sooner than we expected."

The next wish—on every tongue—"Now let's get this court business settled, so we'll know where we're going." They meant the matter of Metro or city jurisdiction. And it really is in a mess. City of Miami municipal judges handle about 55,000 cases a year, 80 per cent of them traffic violations. Metro's present staff of judges can't possibly handle all traffic cases, as the Supreme Court has decreed.

The only solution is more judges. And the logical method is to swing a lot of this municipal strength into the Metro fold.

Next in importance of speculation was the position of Police Chief Walter Headley. The feeling that the three commissioners who fired Evans would fire Headley brought no joy around the Justice Building. Out there they think Headley is a fine chief and has welded together a good police force. "If we lose Walter it won't be good," was the general feeling. I agree.

Double Duty

Humor in Bombay:

The night train was crowded. People were trying to sleep. Two women got into a dispute about the window. One wanted it up. The other wanted it down. The argument grew so loud a guard was summoned.

"If the window is closed I'll be suffocated," cried the first.

"If it's open I will die of a cold," said the other.

Then a little man offered a compromise: "Close the window and suffocate the first woman, then open it and kill the other one. Then the rest of us can sleep."

National Summary

Sunny mild weather across the southern half of the country produced 50 degree readings from Nevada to Kansas and 70s in Florida by noon and raised the mercury to 80 degrees at Thermal, California in mid forenoon. Most of the nations precipitation was associated with cool air flowing across the Midwest into the Appalachians and cooling Pacific winds urged inalnd by high pressure off the Northwest coast.

Chilly 20 and 30 degree temperature ranges and numerous snow flurries were common through low pressure circulation extending from Canada across the Great Lakes region and a few showers drifted through the Ohio Valley. A narrow band of rain and snow stretched from New York state into Georgia and Alabama marking the cold front approaching sunny 50 and 60 degree warmth in the mid and south Atlantic states. Some rain reached into western sections of the Carolinas and Virginia by early afternoon and snow was noted in the hills as far south as Tennessee. By tomorrow cooler air will restore generally fair weather through he east and develop showers into southern Florida.

Ban Discussed

Nature Doctors Studied

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— The director of the Florida Medical Association met with aides of LeRoy Collins Tuesday to discuss possible revival of a law banning nature doctors from Florida.

W. Harold Parham conferred with William L. Durden, executive assistant to the governor, and Jack Peeples, legislative aide. Parham's prime business is to discuss legislative recommendations submitted by the governor's Citizens Medical Committee on Health.

But Durden said the status of naturopaths and possible legislative action also figured in the confab.

A 1957 law which ultimately would have eliminated naturopaths from Florida was recently knocked out by the State Supreme Court.

Collins urged the Legislature to ban naturopathy altogether. However, under a compromise no new nature doctors would be licensed, but those who had practiced in Florida for two years prior to Oct. 1, 1957, would be permitted to continue, but not to prescribe drugs.

The governor has not said yet whether he would again recommend legislation to outlaw naturopaths. But there has been no indication his thinking concerning them has changed.

The Citizens Medical Committee on Health, headed by Dr. Edward R. Annis of Miami, offered 23 recommendations for expanded health services in Florida.

Among key recommendations were extension of health insurance to cover the aged, development of a system of limited service hospitals to reduce costs of extended illnesses, authorization for the Welfare Board to pay nursing home care for needy aged when necessary, expansion of mental health facilities, and improvement of the alcoholic rehabilitaion program.

Dominick Calarco, helping the exchange to celebrate its 50th anniversary, purchased the fruit at a special auction.

The 86-year-old Calarco, still active in the fruit business, bought the fruit from Auctioneer Robert H. Thomas Jr., whose father was the auctioneer on Oct. 6, 1909, when Calarco bought the first box of Exchange fruit sold in New York.

The exchange was founded by a group of Florida growers and for 49 years has been the largest shipper of Florida citrus. It currently ships about 25 per cent of all Florida citrus going to the fresh fruit market.

Seashell Show Set At Sanibell

SANIBEL ISLAND — Thousands of seashells — more than 300 varieties — will be on display here Thursday, Friday and Saturday in one of the world's most unusual expositions, the 22nd annual Sanibel Island Shell Fair.

Conchologists from far countries, as well as experts and amateur collectors from all over the U.S. gather to display their own treasures and to see those of others.

Sanibel Island offshore in the Gulf of Mexico is rated third best seashell beach in the world by the experts. The Australian barrier reef is considered best and a remote Pacific island ranked second.

A quirk of currents is credited for daily deposit of great piles of shells from Gulf depths on the beach. Discovered in the 1880's by yachting visitors, the island has long been a rendezvous for hobbyists.

Some collections displayed here have been more than 50 years in the making.

Health Board Reports

Suicides Increase, Divorce Is Down

JACKSONVILLE —(AP)— Florida suicides increased, the birth rate equalled the national rate, and divorces decreased in 1958, the State Board of Health said Tuesday.

The birth rate of 24.3 a thousand was nearly three times as high as the death rate of 9.7. The 107,921 births and 43,099 deaths represented a slight increase over 1957 in the death rate and a slight decrease in the rate of births.

Heart disease was, as in recent years, the greatest killer. It took more lives than the next three leading causes of death combined. Of the first four leading causes, heart disease, cancer and stroke are generally regarded as diseases of the elderly, but a fourth—accidents — took its victims from all age groups.

Motor vehicle accidents, which account for 40 per cent of all fatal accidents, took lives mostly in the 25-34 age group.

Diseases of infancy, heart disease, stroke, cancer, and influenza and pneumonia all showed slight increases.

The report said the rise in influenza deaths could be attributed to the influenza epidemic of late 1957. No guess was offered as to the reason for the rise in suicides from a rate of 11.5 to 13.5 per 100,000 population.

There were 34,440 marriages and 17,566 divorces. The decrease in divorces from 18,744 in 1957 due probably to a law which went into effect in October of 1957 requiring six months of residence before applying for divorce in Florida.

Miami Asks Gas Tax Hike

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Miami City Commissioners asked the Dade legislative delegation Tuesday to support a one-cent additional gasoline tax —the money to remain in the municipality where collected.

Commissioner B. E. Hearn Sr. said the cities desperately need the revenue to cope with increasing wear and tear on streets.

"Other cities also are clamoring for this help," Hearn told legislators at the closing session of pre-legislative public hearings.

Dade County Metro officials have gone on record urging passage of a one-cent additional gasoline tax.

A warning that anti-Metro forces may attempt to upset Dade's metropolitan home rule was voiced by a spokeswoman for the Dade League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Charles Whiteacre urged legislators to be on guard and "protect us from any legislation which might take away the gains for which we have fought so hard."

Rep. Cliff Herrell said he had heard rumors of such legislation but had seen no bills which might jeopardize Metro.

Colonel Found Dead in Car

ST. PETERSBURG — (UPI) — Col. F. Clay Bridgewater, chief of the Army advisory group at the Air War College at Maxwell Air Force Base, Montgomery, Ala., was found dead in his car here Tuesday. Police said he apparently died of natural causes, but an autopsy was scheduled for today.

Big Budget Slash Urged

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— The Legislative Council's Committee on finance and taxation adopted a tight-fisted spending policy Tuesday in an effort to head off new taxes at the 1959 Legislature.

It voted unanimously to recommend to the full council that it go on record in favor of slashing appropriations to 690 million dollars for the next two years.

A 690 million dollar spending program would be some 35 million dollars below Cabinet Budget Commission recommendations and 10 million dollars less than the revenue estimate of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

Overfishing Blamed

Tampa Shrimp Catch Hits Six-Year Low

TAMPA —(AP)— The shrimp catch landed in Tampa in 1958 was the smallest in six years, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service reported Tuesday.

This service reported the catch was 7,612,000 pounds, a drop of more than one million pounds from 1957 and a decline of about four million pounds from the record year of 1955.

Local shrimp fishermen varied in their reactions. Big dealers look on it merely as a passing trend. Smaller producers are worried.

The shrimpers were in agreement of the cause. More boats from more ports are fishing the same grounds, thus carving the shrimp pie in the Gulf of Mexico into smaller pieces.

More Tampa boats than usual went to the Texas grounds last summer and landed their catch in Texas, accounting for some of the drop.

Some operators said the big Campeche grounds, off the Yucatan coast, are being overfished, with the result that more of the catch is going to Fort Myers, Key West, Texas and Mexican ports.

South Florida Is Ignored

'Pork Chop Gang' Gets Top Senate Positions

'Life-Death' Grip Taken On Session

By JOHN B. McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Two of the Senate's "Pork Chop Gang" of the small county majority bloc—to the surprise of no one—were named to key legislative committee chairmanships Tuesday.

The move strengthened the life-or-death power hold the small county bloc will have over legislation at the 1959 session starting April 7.

Sen. President Dewey M. Johnson named Sen. W. Turner Davis of Madison, a former president, to again direct the powerful Rules Committee.

He also designated Sen. John Rawls of Marianna to head the newly combined Constitutional Amendments and Governmental Reorganization Committee.

Much of the anticipated segregation, or anti-integration, legislation is expected to go to the Rawls committee. It also will have vast power over Gov. LeRoy Collins' proposed constitution revision program.

Johnson had previously designated Sen. Wilson Carraway of Tallahassee as chairman of Appropriations and Sen. Tom Adams of Orange Park to head Finance and Taxation.

Johnson gave South Florida token recognition Tuesday by designating Sen. Fred O. Dickinson of West Palm Beach chairman of Judiciary "B" committee.

Other appointments included Sen. Charley E. Johns of Starke to head the Insurance Committee and Sen. Philip D. Beall of Pensacola to the Transportation and Traffic Committee.

Sen. Joe Eaton of Miami, who had headed the Legislative Council's Interim Committee on Traffic Safety was by-passed for a chairmanship. He probably will be named to the committee under Beall.

The Miami Senator himself says he did not expect to be named chairman of any key committee. He was with the minority in backing Sen. Doyle Carlton of Wauchula for the Senate Presidency.

Johnson defeated Carlton for the spot.

Although Johnson has not announced the lineup for the full committees, political observers take it for granted he will stack all major committees with a "Pork Chop Gang" majority.

Johnson said he had named Davis to head the rules committee "because of his long experience, his intimate familiarity with the state's problems and his absolute fairness."

Davis is serving his fifth term from the 10th district. (Madison and Taylor counties). As the 1955 Senate president he welded the majority bloc into an unyielding unit in the successful fight with Gov. Collins on reapportionment.

3 Flying 'Labs' To Study Storms

By DAVID KRASLOW
Of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON—Three flying weather laboratories will be assigned to Miami in June on a special hurricane research project, it was reported Tuesday.

The U.S. Weather Bureau said it is leasing two commercial transports and borrowing an Air Force B-57 for the research flights.

Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, Weather Bureau chief, said the bureau "will have the most completely equipped atmospheric research aircraft ever assembled anywhere."

Two DC-6 transports are being leased from Trans Caribbean Airways. They and the Air Force bomber will be based at Miami International Airport from June 15 to Dec. 15—the hurricane season.

The transports will be used for atmospheric research at middle and low flight levels. The twin-engine light bomber will handle atmospheric investigations at all higher levels up to 50,000 feet.

The planes will be equipped with especially designed instruments to measure and record dozens of "meteorological items" each minute they are flying within a tropical storm.

KRASLOW

The Air Force will provide highly specialized automatic navigation devices and weather search radar sets.

The bureau said the extensive research will make possible "satisfactory appraisals of various proposals being made for the . . . control of hurricanes that approach coastal areas."

The Weather Bureau's National Hurricane Research Project was started in 1956 to study tropical storms as they form, develop and then die.

During the past three hurricane seasons dozens of research sorties were flown into the center of hurricanes by a modified B-47 strato jet bomber and two B-50 bombers.

The Weather Bureau said Navy and Air Force "hurricane hunter" aircraft will continue their storm location and tracking missions during the 1959 season.

Mental Hospital Proposed

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — A legislative committee Tuesday recommended construction of a 48-bed facility for mentally disturbed children, at an estimated cost of $1,200,000.

The Interim Committee on Mental Health also proposed a $160,000 appropriation for an emergency treatment program for 20 children until the new facility, probably a wing on an existing mental hospital, is built.

The committee met to draft its final report to the Legislature. Included in the recommendation was a suggestion the children's hospital be built at the South Florida Mental Hospital at Hollywood.

The committee asked for $1,200,000 for planning, constructing and equipping the facility. James Younge, Orange Park, executive director, said construction costs would be anywhere from $800,000 to $1,200,000.

Rep. Charles Usina of St. Johns said he did not see how the state could continue its mental health program and ignore this needed facility for children.

Younge said there are 200 mentally disturbed children in Florida in need of treatment.

Other bills which the committee said it will recommend include:

A measure to authorize courts to certify patients to mental hospitals for six months, instead of the present system of adjudicating them incompetent, with the accompanying loss of civil rights.

A bill authorizing mental hospitals to accept non-residents in order to transfer them to their home state, and to prevent non-resident incompetents from becoming legal residents.

State Lists Historic Memorials

ORLANDO — (AP) — The Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials soon will distribute over the state a list of historic sites in Florida.

Dr. Kathryn Abbey Hanna of Winter Park gave the board a manuscript with a list of the sites, but this must be revised for errors and duplications before it is printed.

The board discussed acquisition of Sea Horse Key off Cedar Key in the Gulf of Mexico off Levy County. The key contains an old lighthouse and the burial plots of three Confederate navy men.

The board also agreed to cancel the land use permit at Jim Woodruff State Park for the Graham Air Base of Pittsburgh Institute of Aeronautics; decided to build a fishing pier at South Little Talbot State Park just above Jacksonville; and agreed to grant building space in Myakka State Park of between five and 10 acres each to the Gulfside Girl Scout Council at Sarasota and the Lake Ridge Council at Winter Haven for lodges.

The next board meeting will be around April 26 in Region 1 (Tallahassee area).

Review Refused

Boys 'Taking To' Sheriffs' Ranch

LIVE OAK —(AP)— The first two young arrivals at the Florida Sheriffs' Boys Ranch "are just carried away with the place."

This was the report Tuesday of J. L. McMullen, operator of a cold storage concern and treasurer of the ranch.

One of the boys is 14 years old and from Polk County; the other is 12 and from Lake County.

"We prefer not to identify them with their former homes," McMullen said. "They are needy boys and while we may identify them later, we want to start off slowly.

"They started school here Friday and both were very happy. They are looking forward to living out at the ranch.

"As an indication of what the boys may think, Sheriff Hagan Parrish of Polk County told me 'my boys (the applicants) are thinking of the ranch in terms of Annapolis.' "

McMullen explained that no delinquents are taken — just needy boys who are orphans, from broken homes or underprivileged. The admittance ages are 12 to 16, but McMullen says "the ranch will be his home with no definite age limit as to when he leaves."

The ranch has 40 cattle and 100 hogs now and by the end of the year there will be 160 acres of pasture on the 722 acres a stone's throw from the Suwannee River.

Sheriffs from all over the state receive applications for the ranch and these are carefully screened.

McMullen said the admittance committee would meet in Tallahassee March 10 when "we'll take in probably four more."

At first the boys will tend the grounds but later will take over farming.

Two years of work have gone into the ranch. The first building was completed a month or so ago. It has room for 20 boys. Others will be built as need arises.

The ranch manager is Vincent Jones who said "most of the boys will be from cities and this life will be new to them. It may take some months for them to get adjusted."

Advocates Of School Closing Hit

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) — State School Superintendent, Thomas D. Bailey lashed out Monday night at those he described as "knights on white chargers" who are ready to destroy the public school system over the integration issue.

Later, Bailey said he had reference to men like "Gen. Sumter Lowry and his gang." Lowry was identified as a Tampa segregation leader.

"Their speeches on the integration issue and other subjects have caused many school PTA's to withdraw from their parent organization," he said.

He said he had submitted the parent-option tuition plan in an effort to avert drastic legislation that would shut down the schools.

He said many legislators had asked him to prepare some workable plan.

Bailey also criticized those "who want children taught what they were taught 40 years ago."

Charity Takes 5

ST. AUGUSTINE —(AP)— Thirty-day work sentences at some charitable institution in Winter Park must be fulfilled by five Rollins College students before the end of the school year.

The work was part of the punishment imposed by City Judge John Grady on the youths who were caught by Patrolman C. G. Smith removing a loudspeaker from an outside wall of historic Castillo de San Marcos and trying to dig up a sign.

The students were listed as Jesse Lee, Haines City; James Cooper, Avon Park; Douglas Kidd, St. Petersburg; Henry Lauterback, Wisconsin; and Gordon Sapp, Missouri.

In addition to the work, Judge Grady fined each defendant $1 and court costs. The students agreed to pay for damages to the national monument and the fraternity will accept the responsibility to see that the work sentences are carried out, Judge Grady said.

Traffic Death Rate in U.S. Dropping

CHICAGO — (AP) — Fewer Americans lost their lives in traffic accidents last year than in 1957, reversing — for the second year in a row — a general upward trend in fatalities that began in 1946.

Traffic accidents killed 37,000 persons in 1958 — four per cent less than the 38,702 who died in 1957 and seven per cent under the 1956 death toll of 39,628.

The National Safety Council said the 1957 and 1958 figures gain significance when it is remembered that the number of miles traveled is gaining steadily.

In 1946, the traffic death count was 34,000, yer the number of cars on the road was only 34 million. In 1958, more than 66 million cars were on the road.

Thirty-two states had fewer fatalities in 1958 than in 1957, while 16 states and the District of Columbia had more highway deaths. Alaska was not included in the National Safety Council report.

California, which for years has led the states in traffic deaths, has improved its safety record the last three years. In 1956, the state had 3,805 deaths. There were 3,653 in 1957 and 3,502 in 1958.

Percentage-wise, Vermont had the most improved record in 1958. The state's 77 traffic deaths compared with 106 in 1957 — a 27 per cent drop. Other states which had noticeable drops were West Virginia, 19 per cent; South Carolina 15 per cent; Iowa and Wyoming 13 per cent, and Michigan 12 per cent.

South Dakota, with 37 per cent deaths in 1958 than in 1957, led in that category, followed by Maine and Idaho with 33 per cent more and Nebraska and Massachusetts, 14 per cent more.

Connecticut's 251 traffic deaths last year earned it the best record for number of vehicle miles traveled — 2.5 deaths for every 100 million miles. At the other extreme was South Dakota, with 9.2 deaths for every 100 million miles traveled, followed by Arizona and New Mexico with 8.7 deaths.

The national average number of deaths for every 100 million miles traveled was 5.6, a drop of .3 from 1957.

The National Safety Council credits new and safer highways, better laws and more stringent enforcement of them, and more emphasis on traffic safety.

After highway deaths began to spiral after World War II, a White House conference on highway safety was conducted in 1946. Out of that conference came recommendations for stricter laws, safer highways and more efficient record systems.

Steps toward the most expensive recommendation — safer highways — are already under way. President Eisenhower's 50-billion-dollar 41,000-mile superhighway program is expected to be completed by 1975.

In 1957, Gov. Averell Harriman of New York appointed a traffic safety policy committee to concentrate on traffic engineering.

Illinois, Wisconsin and Kentucky adopted point systems by which a certain number of convictions can revoke a driver's license.

Utah, Kansas, Idaho and New York adopted a law under which, if a driver accepts an operator's license, he automatically consents to be tested for alcoholic content at any time.

Florida added 100 men to its highway patrol; Wisconsin added 200 men and Michigan increased its staff 22 per cent.

The National Safety Council, while saluting states and officials for their action against highway fatalities, says the real answer to highway safety continues to rest with the driver.

The council recommends drivers use "defensive driving" techniques — always making allowances for the other fellow's mistakes.

More powerful cars apparently are having little effect on the death rate, the council says. "While high horsepower does increase the top speed potential of motor vehicles somewhat, this added horsepower is absorbed in part by softer tires and new power accessories."

GIs in Korea Have It Good

By KEYES BEECH
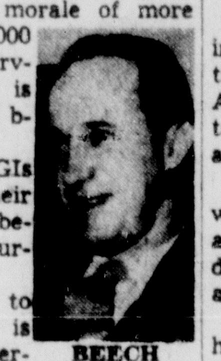
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire



BEECH

SEOUL, Korea — It is possible that I talked to all the wrong people, but it seems to me that the morale of more than 50,000 Americans serving in Korea is remarkably good.

(Dissident GIs may write their congressmen before reading further.)

Needless to say, there is hardly an American here who doesn't tick off the days he has to serve before returning to the states. But taking that fact into consideration, the average GI seems to accept his Korean tour with cheerful resignation.

One reason morale is so high might be Lt. Gen. Thomas John Hall Trapnell, a lean, angular paratrooper who commands the two American Divisions in Korea in addition to five Korean Divisions, 5,500 Turks and a company of Thailanders.

Korean troops man 93 per cent of the 155-mile-wide Korean front.

"Trap," as his friends call him, keeps his troops busy. In the process he keeps himself busy. In the year that he has been here he has logged 40,000 miles and 450 hours of travel by helicopter

(GIs may write letters to the editor stating that they do not travel by helicopter.)

"You can bring in all the USO shows and Red Cross units you like," says Trapnell, "but so far as a soldier's morale is concerned there is no substitute for keeping him busy."

"Sure, it's tough to maneuver in subzero weather," he continues. "But it's also healthy. And when the boys get back to their camp it makes them appreciate being warm."

Compared to the Americans who suffered Korea's cold, heat and dust during the war, today's GI has little to complain about.

He lives in a heated quonset hut, has hot showers, hot food and a wealth of recreational facilities. He even has flush toilets.

He still gripes, of course, but he wouldn't be normal if he didn't.

"I like to think the American soldier in Korea has a sense of mission," says Traprell.

"Before he comes here he is very carefully told why it's necessary. Then that mission is made real by the fact that the Communists are only a few miles away and can if they wish, attack at any time."

Another morale factor: The Army has so arranged it that a draftee goes to Korea for the last 13 months of his two-year-tour. He knows that after his Korean tour is over he can, if he wishes, get out of the Army.

Castro Raps Acquittal of 45 Batistans

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday denounced a Santiago tribunal's acquittal of 45 airmen of mass murder charges as "a great error" and a service to ex-Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Prosecutor Lt. Antonio Cejas already has appealed the verdict and the airmen are in jail pending a new trial to be held in a few days before another tribunal.

Castro said in a statement published by Revolucion, organ of the revolutionary government, that the prosecution has as much right of appeal as the defense "if the sentence is not just."

Demonstrators ranged through Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, shouting protests against the acquittal. The protests abated after announcement of the prosecution's appeal.

The court held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of Batista's campaign against Castro.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente Province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

Yanks Hide in Bolivia

Embassy Staff Flees Rioters

La PAZ, Bolivia — (AP) — The U.S. embassy staff here went into hiding Tuesday to escape demonstrations set off by a Time Magazine article that enraged Bolivians. The Bolivian government itself was harassed by a tin miners' strike.

The embassy personnel were reported to have slipped out under guard and taken refuge near the seething two-mile-high capital.

The whereabouts of the embassy staff was kept secret. The embassy phone went unanswered.

Bolivian officials and businessmen paraded late in the day past the Government Palace in a new demonstration against the Time Magazine article. The article quotes a member of the U. S. embassy as suggesting the country solve its troubles by being split up among its neighbors.

Tin miners, also a target of the article that offended Bolivia's national pride, went on strike for higher pay, paralyzing the government-owned mines, backbone of Bolivia's faltering economy. The workers walked out at the end of their 10-day deadline for the government to meet pay demands.

Capital police were out in force to head off any violence such as marked Monday's wild anti-American demonstrations. Rioters burned an American flag in front of the U.S. Embassy and stoned the building.

A 15-year-old boy was killed in Monday's outburst but no U.S. citizens were reported molested.

(In Washington, the State Department told the Bolivian ambassador it expects his nation "to take all possible measures to safeguard the lives" of an estimated 1,800 Americans in Bolivia. The staff of the embassy in LaPaz has moved to the outskirts of the city "for better protection by the Bolivian army," the State Department said. One official said the action was taken because of the possibility of additional rioting.)

President Hernan Siles made a special effort to stem the tide of anti-American feeling by saying that U.S. officials had denied the statement in Time that touched off Monday's outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official. It said he made the following assertion as a "wisecrack":

"The only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition.

Issues of Time were burned by mobs in front of the embassy as windows were broken. Offices of the U.S. Information Center were broken into and books and magazines destroyed.

The Bolivian government protested the article both in La Paz and Washington.

Pioneer Nearing Moon In Its Run for the Sun

Moonshot Over Miami

This dramatic photograph of Pioneer IV's flight toward the sun was taken from Homestead moments after the launching Tuesday by Dallas Espenschied, a Hartsville, Ohio, photographer. Snapped at 12:12 A.M., the photo shows 30 seconds of the rocket's life as it sped southeast toward its rendezvous in space. Stars are blurred as a result of the earth's rotation during the exposure. Espenschied made the picture with a Speed Graphic with Aero-Ektar lens wide open at f2.5. Espenschied, a member of two photo-tracking and moonwatch teams in Ohio, has photographed three satellites in flight, but this is his first shot of a launching.

It Breaks Record for U.S. Shots

Expected to Join 'Lunik' in Orbit

Tough to Hit Moon, 6B
Space Man Problem, 7A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — America's gold-plated Pioneer IV satellite climbed toward a brief rendezvous with the moon Tuesday and was confidently expected to join Russia's Lunik in an orbit around the sun.

Opening a new frontier in U. S. space exploration, the pint-sized artificial planet was 118,852 miles from the earth at 5 p.m. Miami time and had far outstripped the previous two American moon probes. It was clocking 5,675 miles an hour in its race to space.

The only man-made object that had climbed higher was Russia's heavier Lunik. The Soviets said Lunik actually achieved a solar orbit and U.S. scientists generally credit the claim.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the 13.4 pound Pioneer is on a track that will make it a satellite of the sun. Only a collision with a meteorite can stop it, they said.

The vehicle, gold-plated so the shell would act as a radio antenna, is expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon at 2 p.m. today. Its distance then will be 236,100 miles from the earth.

Then it is expected to continue its flight to join the 3,245-pound Lunik as a man-made planet.

President Eisenhower was quick to praise the successful team that sent Pioneer IV skyward. He sent NASA Director T. Keith Glennan "warm congratulations" for a "splendid achievement" that "marks yet another major step in scientific space exploration."

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, followed up with a forecast that the U.S. should put the first man "Voyager" into space within 10 to 12 years. He said the Pioneer's flight will provide "more grist for the mill" in finding out how it can be done.

"This also puts us very close to being in the same league with the Russians," he said, "— if what they say about their moon shoot is true."

"Everything we put up in space now brings us nearer to the day when we will have the first man Voyager there," he said.

The Pioneer roared off the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday atop a 60-ton four-stage Juno II Army rocket.

The launching went off without a hitch. But scientists noted a deviation in the course that will take the satellite farther from the moon on its outward journey than they planned.

Jr. College Opening Due in Fall

More State News on 8A, 1B, 2B, 10C

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — Brevard's Junior College will open next fall if the Florida legislature votes operating funds, a school official said Tuesday.

Bob Hudson, chairman of the Brevard School Board, said the legislature is almost certain to provide the money because it has already voted to establish the college.

School Superintendent Woodrow Darden, who has prepared an operating budget for the college, couldn't be reached for an operating cost estimate Tuesday.

The college will be tuition free for Florida residents, but registration fees will be charged.

Selection of the temporary site will come March 10 when the school board will select a permanent site for the college.

The College will be established in Cocoa if the city improves a city-owned site on Clear Lake, Hudson said Tuesday.

Hudson's board has formally asked the Cocoa council to add 20 acres to the 40-acre site and give it frontage on the lake and on Clear Lake Rd.

Hudson said if the council does not improve the site, the school will be established in Eau Gallie or on Merritt Island.

"We'll consider both Eau Gallie and Merritt Island with Eau Gallie leading because it has the backing of the State Education Department, the board chairman said.

Hudson also said the board has already interviewed "several applicants" for the position of college president and will be ready to select the officer soon.

Opening the college would be a triumph for school officials and Kiwanis Club officers who have been working for its establishment since November 1957, shortly after the Florida legislature set up a junior college program.

Colleges already have been established at Daytona Beach, Pennsacola, Madison and Ocala under the program and fast-growing Brevard has top priority "in a second wave of colleges," Hudson said.

The top priority was won at a meeting with the State Education Department last December.

Both public schools named as temporary college sites by Hudson are now in use, but both will be replaced with new schools by next fall.

An elementary school at Sea Park south of Patrick Air Force Base will replace the Melbourne school and a clear Lake Junior High School is nearing completion in Cocoa.

Lou Costello
. . . heart attack fatal

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Actor Lou Costello, 53, died Tuesday of a heart attack in a Beverly Hills hospital.

The veteran comedian suffered a heart attack a week ago and seemed to be improving, his manager, Eddie Sherman, said.

However, Costello suffered another attack Tuesday, which was fatal.

Sherman said Costello's wife, Ann, was visiting him and left just before he died at 6:55 p.m. Miami time.

He said the attack a week ago was followed by a blood clot.

ABBOTT

One of the first to be informed was his long-time partner in comedy and close friend, Bud Abbott.

When told of Costello's death, he sobbed and in a barely understandable voice said — "I can't talk now, call me back later please.

"I was sitting here watching re-runs of our old TV show," Abbott cried. "We were doing the 'Who's on First' bit. And I was laughing my head off. Then

New Cold Pushing Into State

A new cold front pushing into North Florida may bring showers and a bit cooler weather to Miami late today.

But the Weather Bureau said Tuesday that even if it does get chilly again tonight, it won't be bad.

The chill from a cold front that drifted over South Florida during the weekend was blown off Tuesday by south and southeasterly winds. Temperatures during the day pushed well into the 70s after Tuesday morning lows ranging from 42 at South Miami to 52 at Miami Beach.

It wasn't expected to go below 60 in the Miami area Tuesday night, and more warm temperatures were forecast for today, Forecaster Arnold Sugg said weathermen weren't sure how much the new cold front would affect Miami later in the day and tonight.

In North Florida, temperatures Tuesday morning hit a low of 34 at Ocala, then warmed up to the 70s during the day. Tonight and Thursday morning, the Weather Bureau said, temperatures might be "near the danger point" in the northern part of the state because of the new front.

Jobs Offered Evans

Headley Holds On: 'I Won't Resign'

By JOHN MORTON
AND JUANITA GREENE

Headley declared almost gleefully:

"I won't resign."

And neither the new city manager, Ira Willard, nor the city commission can fire him outright without formal charges, a public hearing and a court fight.

Often a target of city commissioners, Headley has held on to the top job in the city police division for 10 years.

After Monday's surprise shakeup Mayor Robert King High promised "a lot of changes in the old brass at the police department."

He said he expected Headley to resign.

"So the mayor wants to get rid of me?" asked Headley. "Well, I'll go along with him on the same thing. I would like to get rid of him."

The youthful mayor led a lone attack against Evans and Headley for more than a year. Then Monday he suddenly found support from Commissioners Otis Shiver and George Dubreuil and the trio immediately fired the city manager.

The action brought a quick verbal resignation from City Commissioner James W. High. But in Tuesday's calm following Monday's uproar there emerged doubt as to whether High's post will be vacated.

High said Tuesday he is "reconsidering" his resignation. The commission had postponed action on it until its formal meeting Wednesday.

"There is a legal question," explained High, "about the resignation I tendered Monday."

It was made verbally and High has not yet put it in writing.

At the time, Assistant City Attorney Jack Rice said no written resignation was necessary.

Later, however, Rice said there was a "vast area of difference" of opinion on a verbal resignation.

Apparently throwing the decision to the commission, Rice added, "the interpretation of Mr. High's resignation will lie with the commission."

High also asserted that a

Suit Hits Levies by Pilots Unit

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Two airline pilots filed suit Tuesday charging that the Air Line Pilots Association officials improperly assessed members to pay benefits to Capital and Eastern Air Lines pilots when they were idled last fall by strikes called by other unions.

The complaint asked that Federal District Court hold the assessments null and void, restrain union officials from fining or expelling members for non-payment, and order credited against future dues any payments that have been made under the assessments.

The suit was filed before Federal District Judge Philip L. Sullivan by James R. Eads of Sepulveda, Calif., a pilot for Trans World Airlines, and Lawrence S. Shapiro of Los Angeles, a pilot for United Air Lines.

It named as defendants Clarence N. Sayen, president of ALPA, and Don J. Smith, union treasurer.

The suit attacked two assessments. One was levied in November, 1958, to pay benefits to pilots of Capital Airlines idled from Oct. 15 to Nov. 19 by a strike called by the International Association of Machinists.

The other assessment, the complaint alleged, was levied by a mail ballot of ALPA directors in December for the benefit of Eastern Air Lines pilots out of work because of strikes called by the IAM and the Flight Engineers International Association.

Bob Hope Confident

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bob Hope entered Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday for examination of his ailing left eye, remarking confidently: "I'm going to be all right."

Dr. Algernon Reese, clinical professor of ophthalmology at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was waiting to examine Hope.

An aide said Hope still was able to play golf, one of his favorite sports, but was limited to nine holes three times a week.

The aide said Hope suffered an eye hemorrhage shortly after his return from an overseas tour of armed forces bases Dec. 29. The aide said the only sign of thir hemorrhage was a slight dizziness which comes on with any sudden movement.

New Pioneering Spirit Is Rejuvenating Old Areas

Miami Beach--Where What's Past Is Future

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

It's utterly unthinkable to most hep visitors to Miami Beach at the winter season peak to check into anything except the latest of hotels. Each year since World War II, as new palaces have sprung up literally out of the water, the affluent tourists have leapfrogged northward with the hotels on this most fabulous resort beach in the world. To be fashionable, one has had to be seen in the latest version of a French chateau or Arab harem.

But while by Miami Beach yardsticks the newest is automatically the best, this year on my annual trek to the sun I rebelled.

Back to the comparatively "unfashionable" southern area and into one of Miami Beach's oldest hotels I went. And there, to my delight, I not only rediscovered the charm, the dignity and spaciousness of an "ancient" Miami Beach inn; I also stumbled on an exciting new tale of pioneering.

Coming directly from Louisville, Ky., where businessmen are quibbling over the need for sprucing up structures dating from the 19th century, I still find it hard to believe that in Miami Beach, any luxury hotel over five years is no longer considered in the luxury class, any building over 15 years is "old," any in the 20-30 year group, no matter how grand, is an "antique!"

Nevertheless, this is a fact, as awesome as any other aspect about this place. Although the Roney Plaza, the hotel in which I stayed, would be a showplace in most other resort cities, here it is out of date.

Although it has been filled to capacity during this season of spectacularly good weather, rumors persist that the Roney will be significantly expanded so it can fight the brutal competition from the new marvels. And therein lies the story.

For what is starting to happen here is the rediscovery and rejuvenation of the original Miami Beach. Even as the fickle, fad-conscious tourists concentrate on new areas, astute financiers and businessmen are concentrating on revolutionizing the old.

In Miami Beach, the South Beach was developed first as the prime property in the 1920s but while its location is as superb as ever, the area has been deteriorating rapidly. Now, though, the largest construction venture in the entire state of Florida — a 1,600-room, 500-unit apartment building — is going up in this section, and business leaders believe this will spark a restoration of the South Shore as a region for permanent residents.

Says Nathan S. Gumenick, builder of the Southgate: "We will revive the South Beach with apartments in every income range. We'll prove you don't have to be a millionaire to live on the Beach, and by so doing we'll strengthen the Beach's entire economy.

In Miami proper, Biscayne

Macmillan Flies Home With 'Half a Loaf'

No Berlin Accord But Soviet Pledges Early Negotiations

MOSCOW —(UPI)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ended Anglo-Soviet summit talks Tuesday with complete disagreement on Berlin but with a Russian promise of early negotiations to save "peace and security" in the world.

Macmillan flew home in a cheerful mood and announced on his arrival in London he hopes to visit Washington shortly to report to President Eisenhower and "concert our policies." He will go first to Bonn and Paris next week.

The British and Russian statesmen agreed in a final communique signed in the Kremlin that they would look into a partial East-West troop withdrawal and removal of nuclear weapons from Central Europe — a variation of the "atom free zone" plan of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki which has been rejected by Washington and Bonn.

Khrushchev and Macmillan reported they were "unable to agree about the juridical and political aspects of problems involved" in the Berlin crisis.

"At the same time they recognize that it was of great importance for the maintenance and consolidation of peace and security in Europe and throughout the world that these problems should be urgently settled," the communique said.

Macmillan declined at a news conference before his departure by jet plane to "go into specific details of confidential talks" with Khrushchev. But he confirmed the Central Europe pullback plan would be the subject of negotiations.

"Our first duty is to consult our French, German, and American friends," he said.

"The problem (of Central Europe) must be urgently settled. In these lines there is hope for progress."

He ended the news conference because Khrushchev was waiting and rushed off with his host to Vnukovo airport. There, in his white fur hat, and bearing a bouquet, he wished Khrushchev "all the best" in Russian as he stepped into the plane.

"God speed and au revoir," Khrushchev shouted back.

Thus ended 10 crucial days in the fast-developing Berlin crisis during which Macmillan had:

—Failed to budge Khrushchev's determination to give East Germany control of the Allied lifelines to Berlin by May 27.

—Drew agreement for a foreign ministers' conference on the subject before the deadline.

—Warned Khrushchev in "firm" terms that the West will not surrender its rights in Berlin.

—Reached a cultural agreement with the Soviets, particularly in the TV and movie fields, and arranged trade talks.

all of a sudden I get this call about poor little Lou dying.

"I just can't believe he's gone."

Abbott's family called a physician to treat him for shock.

Costello teamed with Abbott in 1930, after breaking into the entertainment business by the vaudeville route. The two formed one of Hollywood's most successful comedy teams, but Costello split with his partner recently and had not been active in the movies.

Costello was born in Paterson, N.J., and after working at a few odd jobs, including those of new boy, soda fountain clerk and salesman, he got a job in burlesque.

Teaming with Abbott, his first movie venture was the picture, "Caribbean Holiday." They made many films together and were among the top 10 money-making stars in the Motion Picture Hall of Fame poll from 1941 through 1944, and from 1948 through 1951.

The "Who's on First" baseball routine the two developed was one of the most famous in modern movie comedy and was played in person, too, before Presidents of the U.S.

Costello was working in a Brooklyn burlesque house when he and Abbott got together.

They got their first big break in 1938 when they were booked into Loew's State in New York. Ted Collins saw them and auditioned them for the Kate Smith radio show.

Their rise to fame was rapid after that.

Although it wasn't generally known, Costello was a standout basketball player for many years before he got interested in show business.

In later years, Costello devoted much of his time to youth work and set up a foundation for this purpose.

Admiral Warns Of Sub Warfare

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke said Tuesday a day-to-day possibility of Russian submarine warfare against the free world's ocean commerce demands constant alertness.

The chief of naval operations spoke of this possibility in an address at the Navy League's annual symposium on seapower. This year the two-day session is devoted to the subject to Anti-Submarine Warfare.

The Navy sent some of its top-ranking officials and experts on the subject to the symposium, including Rear Adm. Charles E. Weakley, executive officer for anti-submarine warfare readiness in the office of the chief of naval operations. The league is a civilian organization of Navy supporters.

Burke said that:

"We know that the employment of submarines by an enemy need not necessarily be confined to a major war. A war of naval attrition — of commerce attrition — fought almost exclusively at sea could pose a very serious problem for the free world.

"Enemy submarine action against free world shipping would not necessarily require the use of nuclear weapons. This makes the ever-present threat even more serious. It is a day-to-day possibility against which U.S. naval forces must be alert constantly, day and night, no matter where our ships sail."

The admiral also commented that to the threats of attacks on commerce there now has been added the menace posed by missile-launching submarines. This, said Burke, "brings the problem right to our homeland."

9 Students Drown in Bus Plunge

TIFTON, Ga., —(UPI)— A school bus jammed with more than 80 Negroes plunged into a pond Tuesday, and authorities said at least nine were drowned.

Three children were hospitalized for effects of shock, exposure and minor injuries. The other frightened children who were pulled safely through windows of the bus were sent to their homes.

Driver Doyer Jones, 40, who had been making the bus route rounds for 23 years, said his bus hit two bumps in succession on the dirt road, causing him to lose control "unavoidably."

The bus turned over on its right side and plunged into the water. The vehicle was about two-thirds submerged.

The accident happened near the community of Brookfield, about seven miles east of Tifton.

Jones said he kicked out the window at the driver's seat mounted the overturned bus, kicked out other windows and hoisted to safety screaming children who were standing on top of other children.

"The larger ones were standing on the little small ones," Jones said. "That's what caused so much trouble. Those (the small ones) were the ones we lost."

Jones said two white men from nearby farm houses helped him lift some of the larger children through the windows. Someone reached a telephone and soon an array of emergency apparatus was put into use.

Dulles Given Atomic Gold

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Doctors gave Secretary of State John Foster Dulles an injection of radioactive gold Tuesday in a new attempt to control his abdominal cancer.

An announcement through the State Department said this treatment was decided upon by a panel of medical experts meeting at Walter Reed Hospital "to reinforce" his regular X-ray treatment.

The X-ray treatments from the Army hospital's million-volt machine will be resumed "in a few days," it was announced.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the radioactive gold was given in fluid form as an injection directly into the abdominal cavity.

take radiation readings as it passes within 15,000 miles of the moon. But the actual course is 20,000 miles farther from the moon than planned.

Pioneer IV became America's deepest space probe less than nine hours after blast-off, when it passed the 71,300 miles traveled by the Air Force's Pioneer I lunar probe Nov. 11.

Earlier, it had surpassed the Army's first moon shoot Dec. 6, 1958, which soared 63,580 miles. Lunik went up Jan. 2, 1959.

The Juno II, a four-stage, 76-foot rocket with 150,000 pounds of thrust, shot the satellite into the skies at 24,890 miles an hour, or 305 miles an hour faster than needed to overbalance the earth's tremendous backward pull and the smaller tug of moon gravity.

It slowed down as it climbed, but the speed was calculated as ample to achieve a solar orbit. The scientists figured the artificial planet will go into an orbit slightly larger and more enlongated than the earth's path around the sun, but take about the same time — a year — for a complete orbit.

Cat Lovers Give Arthur the Bird

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Arthur Godfrey raised the dander of cat owners Tuesday by complaining to his nationwide radio audience that cats were killing song birds and quail on his farm.

He brought the matter up by announcing the American Feline Society had sent him a letter addressed "Dear Friend of Cats" and asking him to join, despite several public complaints he had made about cats dining on his quail.

"This is a canard, to begin with," Godfrey said. "I want you to know I am no friend of cats. But I've got nothing against cats at all, except I don't want to catch them wandering around in our bird covers looking for quail."

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline Society, said his telephone began ringing immediately after the show and never stopped all day. Every call, he said, was a vigorous protest against Godfrey's charge.

"Mr. Godfrey hit a sensitive nerve when he alleged that cats are destroying song birds and covies of quail on his farm," Kendell declared. "It is not so, and we have considerable statistics to disprove Mr. Godfrey's statement."

Kendell cited a scientific report made on the examination of the contents of the stomachs of 193 cats killed in highway accidents in 1955. This report showed that the cats had consumed mice, rabbits, rats, table scraps, turtles, fish, pork, grasshoppers, chickens, grass, herbs and other matter, he said, but not one single bird.

"In all probability," Kendell said, "only man kills for sport while an animal kills generally only for food or out of fear."

Kendell claimed that no cat can move fast enough to capture an adult, healthy bird. All birds have such keen vision that it would be impossible for a cat to strike one down, even from behind, he said.

Beach Looks To Its Past For Future

Blvd. also was developed first as a key site for hotels and commercial buildings in the 1920s. It, too, has been rapidly losing out to newer sections in the mushrooming city.

Today, though, nearly every hotel along the Biscayne strip — the McAllister, the Columbus, the Colonial, etc. — has had its face lifted, re-lifted or even veiled entirely with a new exterior in the last few years. New buildings are going up as well. And now being finished is a complete overhaul of the Everglades Hotel, Miami's largest. Says its owner, Vaughan B. Connelly, who is pouring millions into the improvements: "Without this rebuilding, this area would be rushing headlong for ruin, but with it, we'll force an upgrading throughout the region to meet our competition. The whole section will be reinvigorated."

These are just two illustrations; I could submit many more. For in 30 years, this city has gone through cycles that usually aren't covered by cities in a century or more.

First came the feverish, speculative development of the '20s — a boom killed by the land crash later in that decade.

Then came this dazzling decade of the '50s — with its new skyscraper hotels year after year, its lush nightclubs, worldwide publicity.

Now comes the third phase and rebuilding of areas settled so short a time ago — a pioneering all over again.

Miami Beach truly is a city of fantasy. Here, even time has different dimensions, and the past becomes the future under our eyes.

Eban Resigns Israel Posts

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — Abba Eban resigned Tuesday as Israeli ambassador to the U.S. and the U.N.

The announcement was made by the Israeli embassy. Eban will return to Israel at the end of May to be a candidate for Parliament on the ruling Mapai Party ticket in this fall's general elections. No successor has yet been appointed.

Headley Refuses To Resign

"constant stream" of people is urging him not to resign. His vacancy could be filled by a man picked by the new majority.

Evans, in the meantime, reported that he already has received two job offers in the wake of his surprise firing Monday.

He said he would consider neither immediately.

One reportedly is from St. Petersburg, now looking for a man to replace Ross Windom, who resigned his $23,000-a-year city manager's job Jan. 1. Evans is said to have been offered $25,000, which is what he was making here.

"I'm not going to do anything," said Evans, "until I can get in an old rocking chair, prop my feet up and rest awhile."

Losing his Miami job, he said, "was like having a big block of lead taken from my shoulders."

City commissioners can't fire Headley without formal charges, as they did Evans, because the Police Chief is not a department head. He merely heads the Police Division, which is part of the Public Safety Department.

Heading this department is supposed to be a public safety director. But this job was held by Evans, serving simultaneously as city manager.

The city charter decrees and court tests have confirmed that the police chief can be suspended by the city manager, for one of these reasons:

Incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, failure to obey orders given by proper authority or for any other just and reasonable cause.

Then the charges must be aired by the city commission. And their judgment can be challenged all the way to the state supreme court.

There was talk around city hall about appointing a separate public safety director who would not double as city manager and who could tell Headley how to run his department.

But not even Mayor High was ready to comment publicly on the possibility.

City department heads considered on shaky ground because of Mayor High's sudden rise to power were still working at their jobs Tuesday. And there was less talk about head rolling.

Willard told department heads at a get acquainted meeting Tuesday afternoon that he has no changes of personnel in mind.

But he warned them against going over the head of the city manager and making direct approaches to the city commissioners about anything.

"I will be conferring continually with County Manager (O. W.) Campbell," he said, "on each municipal service that will be affected by Metro."

His first task will be to work out an orderly transfer of city traffic cases to Metro court.

Evans is scheduled to leave his rocking chair Wednesday to make a speech to Miami Rotarians, who scheduled the speech before the fateful Monday city commission meeting. He will speak on "Progress in Our City."

National Summary

Sunny mild weather across the southern half of the country produced 50 degree readings from Nevada to Kansas and 70s in Florida by noon and raised the mercury to 80 degrees at Thermal, California in mid forenoon. Most of the nation's precipitation was associated with cool air flowing across the Midwest into the Appalachians and cooling Pacific winds urged inland by high pressure off the Northwest coast.

Chilly 20 and 30 degree temperature ranges and numerous snow flurries were common through low pressure circulation extending from Canada across the Great Lakes region and a few showers drifted through the Ohio Valley. A narrow band of rain and snow stretched from New York state into Georgia and Alabama marking the cold front approaching sunny 50 and 60 degree warmth in the mid and south Atlantic states. Some rain reached into western sections of the Carolinas and Virginia by early afternoon and snow was noted in the hills as far south as Tennessee. By tomorrow cooler air will restore generally fair weather through he east and develop showers into southern Florida.

Army 'Show' Is Blazer

Crowd at First Thought Rocket Blew Up, Then Came Cheer

Satellite Heads for Sun P. 1A

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. —(AP)— The Army provided another spectacular fireworks display for thousands of "bird watchers" Tuesday with the blazing launching of space probe Pioneer IV.

Fifty determined men in the blockhouse knew better, but to the shivering spectators huddled along the nearby beach it appeared at first that the towering rocket had blown up on the pad.

"One thing about the Army — they always seem to be on time," said one veteran missile fan as white hot flame and billows of smoke gushed from the base of the 76-foot Juno II rocket at 12:10 a.m.

The apprehensive crowd watched in awe as the rocket, shaped like a huge rifle cartridge, became engulfed in its own fire for some four seconds.

A cheer went up when the tapered nose, housing the precious space probe, finally popped out of the mushrooming clouds.

Automobiles were parked as far as the eye could see along the Cocoa Beach ocean front which stretches some 10 miles south of the launching site.

Out-of-state license plates showed many had come a long way to get a grandstand view of the nation's most impressive space venture to date.

The weather was brisk and the night sky clear over the Cape for the first time in four days. It provided a perfect background as the rocket blazed a trail toward the east like a meteor.

In the blockhouse less than 100 yards from where the glowing rocket blasted aloft the crewmen smiled and exchanged handshakes.

"It looked good," said Bob Moser, 31, of Johnstown, Pa., the test conductor whose word is law inside the blockhouse during the lengthy countdown. Then he picked up a pile of papers and strolled toward the huge steel reinforced blockhouse door.

It was just another job for most of the crewmen who have been on the shooting end ever since Explorer I was fired 13 months ago.

"They took it in stride most of the way, but you could see the strain on their faces during the final moments," one of the observers said. "It always happens that way."

Alcoholics Responding To Program

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — Patients at the Florida State Rehabilitation Hospital for Alcoholics at Avon Park are responding well to a 4-week treatment program, says one of the institution's officials.

Charley Stookey, information specialist with the rehabilitation program, said 40 to 55 per cent show definite improvement in the program.

The 50-bed hospital opened Dec. 3, 1956. Since then it has admitted 1,120 patients including 104 from Duval County, he said. Next in line have been Hillsborough with 100; Polk with 99 and Dade with 86.

He said the ratio of women to men is 1 to 4.3.

He said ages of patients range from 24 to 71 and that 80 per cent are in the 35-55 year group; more than half attended high school and nearly a third college; 26 per cent held positions of a professional or managerial nature, and 32 per cent are native Floridians.

State Gets Jobs Data In Brevard

10 or More Hired By 115 Concerns

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — This south section of Brevard County has 115 concerns employing 10 or more persons, according to the first employment survey conducted by the new Melbourne office of the Florida State Employment Service.

W. A. Beardsley, local FSES manager, who released survey results Tuesday, said the 115 firms had 4,556 persons employed during the summer season. The lower employment period was during the winter, when 2,978 were working for the firms.

This check was run by the Melbourne office over a six-month period during 1958.

The manager said the survey covered all business and industrial concerns from Eau Gallie's northern limits to the south Brevard County line at Micco, and a similar area on the beach.

This section surveyed, he stated, did not include the Air Force Missile Test Center, but took in the larger local civilian employers. Some of these, however, are missile base supporting industries and businesses.

"In looking over the figures," Beardsley said, "the peak and low employment periods probably are gauged by construction activity. This isn't a resort area, such as places south of us, who depend almost entirely on tourists. Anyway, if this was the case, the peak would probably come in winter rather than during the summer."

He added, "We are very pleased to find so many employers having 10 or more workers. This area, from the local employment standpoint, is growing."

The FSES survey also showed that most of the work force of the 115 concerns lives in Melbourne. Eau Gallie ranks second; Palm Bay, third; Cocoa, fourth, and Indialantic, Melbourne Beach and Malabar are almost tied for fifth place.

Beardsley said the "odd fact turned up is that about 90 persons working in the Melbourne-Eau Gallie area live in Cocoa. Perhaps many of that number are employed by Melbourne electronic firms," he said.

About 20 workers in this area travel all the way from Sebastian in Indian River County, according to the survey. The manager said that this is one of the most distant points from which local workers are drawn—20 miles away.

Andre Smith Dies at 79 In Orlando

ORLANDO — (AP) — Andre Smith, 79, who designed the distinguished service cross for the U.S. government and one of the pioneers of modern American art, died in his studio Tuesday.

He had been ill for some time but the immediate cause of death was not announced.

He was a director of the art research studio at Maitland just north of where he had his apartment.

He was born Dec. 31, 1880, in Hong Kong and was graduated from Cornell University in 1902 with a degree in architecture.

In World War I he was an official government artist sketching American expeditionary scenes in Europe. These he included in a book he wrote.

Smith was a noted painter, water colorist, etcher and teacher and was chosen to design and supervise the art research studio which was established in Maitland in 1937 by Mary Curtis Bok, wife of the philanthropist Edward Bok and now wife of Efrem Zimbalist, the violinist.

Vandals Break Into 3 Schools

MELBOURNE — Police Chief John D. Thomas said vandals have broken into three schools during night hours, but "did not take much except change from coin machines."

The chief said he suspected children of forcing their way into Melbourne Elementary and Melbourne High School, and Eau Gallie authorities said the same thing about the entry of Eau Gallie Junior High School.

All three were entered over a period of several nights. Police said the vandals "made a mess, but didn't break anything except windows when they entered the buildings."

90 Days Given

EAU GALLIE — City Manager Clark Maxwell said property owners have 90 days to connect to the new municipal sewer system "after the line running past their home has been put into use."

Maxwell said this rule applies to all homes within 150 feet of a sewer line.

Thus far property owners have been complying with this regulation. Maxwell said "sewer connections, totaling 83 last month, have been made rapidly. We're pleased so far."

MELBOURNE — Dr. Charles R. Burrows, internationally prominent scientist, has accepted a position as vice president and director of engineering of Radiation, Inc.

In making this announcement, Radiation President Homer R. Denius said that George Shaw will move up to a staff vice presidency with responsibility for major programs involving capital investments, acquisitions and mergers, technical areas and organization.

Shaw had been engineering director of the Melbourne company since it was founded. Burrows was vice president for engineering, Ford Instrument Co. division of Sperry Rand Corp., before joining Radiation.

Citrus Law Next Week?

LAKELAND—(UPI)— Former Congressman J. Hardin Peterson Sr., counsel for interests seeking a new law to permit color to be added to oranges, said Tuesday there is a good chance the legislation will be passed next week.

The bill was held up in the House Monday when the House Commerce Committee, which has approved the measure, reported out the original version of the bill, not the one amended by the Senate.

But Peterson said Tuesday it appeared that supporters of the bill would be successful at getting the Rules Committee to permit the bill to come up for a vote in the house next week.

Water Reservoir Will Be Supplied By St. Johns River

By BILL BUNGE
Melbourne Bureau Chief

MELBOURNE — The Central and Southern Florida Flood Control District has scheduled a St. Johns River Valley dike project, to be started in 1961, that will insure an abundant supply of water for the Brevard County area.

State Rep. James H. Pruitt told The Herald Tuesday that district officials, in explaining this program, said the dike project will be the first actual work the flood control district will do in Brevard.

In past years, flood construction and water conservation programs have been conducted in South Florida, around Lake Okeechobee.

"This was necessary," Pruitt said, "because South Florida is the drainage area for the central section. They have been working northward, and now district work is going on south of Vero Beach."

According to the information given the Brevard representative, the St. Johns Valley project will consist of building a dike on the east side of the river, just north of Lake Washington, and then putting in a similar installation on the west side to create a tremendous water reservoir.

Outlets would be cut between the reservoir and the Indian River in order to control the level of water in the empounded section.

"These outlets," Pruitt said, "have drawn some fire from wildlife people, because they feel a tremendous amount of fresh water pouring into the salty Indian River might be harmful to fish there."

However, Pruitt said flood control officials explained that "the only time water from the empounded area would be released into the Indian River would be to prevent a water level high enough to cause flooding conditions in the St. Johns Valley area."

Such a water conservation project in the river valley "would be a tremendous asset to the cities of Brevard," Pruitt said.

He pointed out that Melbourne is going to use Lake Washington, at the southern tip of the St. Johns River, as its source of supply for a new multi-million dollar water system.

Magnuson Properties, Inc., planning to build a 16,000-home city near Eau Gallie, intends to use Lake Washington water, and "if the cities of Eau Gallie and Cocoa ever want to tap the lake for their supply, there should be an abundance of fresh water because of the big reservoir project," Pruitt said he was advised.

Melbourne officials previously stated that the city's idea of using Lake Washington as a source of supply for the new water system has changed the control district's program from flood control to water conservation in the St. Johns Valley.

In speaking about district operating money, Pruitt said he learned that flood control officials plan to request the federal government to allocate 10 million dollars in 1960 and 15 million in 1961 for their program, which includes the Brevard work.

Pruitt said local tax levies would go for 15 per cent of construction costs, land, easements, right-of-way, operation and maintenance of projects, and damages which might result from construction projects.

Besides Brevard, sixteen other counties participate in the flood control district.

Mrs. Valicenti's Funeral Today

TITUSVILLE — Services will be held in St. Teresa's Catholic Church at 9 a.m. today for Mrs. Emilia Valicenti, 56, who died Sunday.

Burial will be at LaGrange Cemetery.

Radiation Discusses Merger

Herald Bureau

MELBOURNE — Discussions are in progress on the merger of Radiation, Inc., of Melbourne, and Levinthal Electronic Products, Inc., of Palo Alto, Calif.

"Under the proposal, Levinthal will become a wholly owned subsidiary of Radiation and will continue under present management.

Each company will be represented on the board of directors of the other," the announcement said.

Technical liaison will be handled by George Shaw and Albert J. Morris, vice presidents of Radiation and Levinthal.

"The proposed acquisition will represent a major step in Radiation's announced expansion program," according to Denius. He also said it would give the Florida firm an expanded product base as well as a West Coast location for extended operations. Levinthal will, in turn, be provided with eastern facilities.

Both companies design and produce advanced electronic equipment in complementary fields. Radiation is known primarily to elementary and digital data processing systems, and Levinthal for radar, electro-surgical, medical and nucleonic equipment.

The proposed merger is expected to yield a total organization of expanded capability and broad product area, Denius said.

Flower Shows, Science Fair on March Agenda

By EDITH E. VOSS
Herald Correspondent

AROUND MISSILE COUNTRY (Brevard County)—As this is written we can see an interesting looking calendar for the month already. The sun obliged for a short while after several days of rain so we'd say the spring season is off to a good start.

MRS. VOSS

The customary and expected flower shows and fashion shows will naturally take up several of the March days. County-wide Science Fairs and county-wide presentations of another Brevard Light Opera Association musical show will help round out an interesting calendar.

Along the gardening line (Cocoa, Titusville and Melbourne Garden Club flower shows have already been mentioned in previous columns) we noted a new idea in a little squib sent us from Melbourne. Ever hear of adopting a tree? Neither have we, but members of the South Beach Garden Club have decided to do just that to the tune of three trees to each of the 25 members.

These will be trees to be planted by the county in Spessard Holland Park on the beach. The club, with the cooperation of the South Brevard Beaches Chamber of Commerce, is also sponsoring four more picnic units in the park area.

Church to Float Up the River

I DARESAY none of us really expect to see any one walking on water within our lifetime. We'll have to be satisfied with Bible stories with this theme. If you suddenly see a church floating on the Indian River one of these days, don't think you've flipped your lid. It'll be true.

It seems there's a church building available at Fort Pierce which a group in Brevard County is considering buying. Floating the building up the river would be the most feasible way of transporting from one spot to the other.

The countywide dinner scheduled by Home Demonstration Clubs for April 1 at the Brevard Agricultural Center in Cocoa sounds like a sound method of raising funds to make a scholarship loan available to a deserving student or students each year.

Preference will naturally be given 4-H members, since these clubs are sort of sponsored by the HD clubs and all come under the guiding hand of the county agent and county HD club agent. Each HD club in the county will participate in the dinner.

The home of Mrs. William Ross, Ave. A. and Riverside Dr., Melbourne Beach, will be the setting for the annual silver tea and reception for officials of the Children's Home Society this Friday from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Pauline West and Mrs. Mayme Winter of Jacksonville will be the honor guests. The public is invited.

Who Is 'Best Dressed Woman'?

"FASHIONS ON BROADWAY," theme of the annual show sponsored by the Cocoa Junior Women's Club, will be enhanced by a musical background of organ melodies from Broadway shows this year. March 13 is the date set for the show; Cocoa High School the place.

Mrs. J. C. Wegendt and Mrs. Robert Ginn are co-chairmen. Students of the Treleven School of Dance will be seen in dance numbers during show interludes. Kay Wright will serve as fashion moderator.

Proceeds from the show, which always plays to a packed house, will be divided between three of the sponsoring club's projects: Teen Town, Civil Defense and Wuesthoff Memorial Hospital.

New angle in this year's show will be the selecting of the ten best dressed women in the Central Brevard area. Clubs have been asked to nominate a member for the coveted "best dressed" title and the ten chosen by fashion experts will be announced at the style show.

One week from today, at the regular meeting of the South Brevard Republican Womens Club, Mrs. Edith Lacey, research specialist for the South Brevard League of Women Voters, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Lacey will report on the workings of the County Health Department. Meeting will be held at 11 a.m. at the Melbourne Beach Women's Club.

LaRoches Are Wed for 50 Years

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. LaRoche of Courtenay, North Merritt Island, on their 50th wedding anniversary. Considering that the LaRoche clan was one of the first to settle in Brevard County, it is no surprise to find that this name in the Central Brevard telephone directory out-numbers the supposedly more common names such as Jones and Smith.

Adding our congratulations to those of their relatives alone would make quite a long list of well wishers. Many friends called during the day and a reception was held for the honor guests with many long-time friends calling to extend best wishes.

Science Fairs in Brevard County last year won considerable recognition. They were a fairly new innovation on the extra-curricular schedules of schools of the county. This year's fair, which will extend from March 16 to 21, will have the full cooperation of schools throughout the county.

The regional fair, to be held March 28, in the Melbourne High School gym, will show some of the best entries on the local level. Twenty-six of the 250 exhibits in the state science fair will also be from Brevard County. All local fairs will be during the evenings of March 16-19.

March 16: Riverview Elementary, Rockledge Elementary, Merritt Island Elementary and Melbourne Airport Schools. March 17: Titusville Primary and Melbourne Elementary. Want to Join 'Hit the Deck'

THERE'S STILL TIME to join hands with the Brevard Light Opera Association if you're interested in participating in the forthcoming production, "Hit The Deck." Performances are set for March 20-21 in Melbourne; March 27-28 in Cocoa; and April 4 in Titusville.

If you'd like to sing in the chorus or help with stage settings, lighting, costumes or makeup, you're most welcome to contact this active group at the Eau Gallie Civic Center any Monday evening at 8:30. Otherwise phone NEwton 6-7256 in Cocoa or AL 4-3757 in Eau Gallie after 6 p.m. any day..

Chorus is practicing on such well known melodies as "Through The Years," "Sometimes I'm Happy," "Time on My Hands" and "Hallelujah."

Sounds like fun. Incidentally, for obvious reasons, the association would still like to locate some more Navy uniforms ex-service personnel may have around in moth balls. Call one of the above numbers if you can help out.

Everyone Now Says That Word

WEST PALM BEACH — There's that word word again —arboretum.

This time, though, Palm Beach County Commissioners knew how to pronounce it. (the same word stymied them several weeks back at a conference meeting.)

But Monday when Arbortum Island came up for discussion they knew what the word was all about. And even went along with it.

They approved, in principle, the proposal of Lake Osborne Estates Civic Association to develop Arboretum Island off Lake Osborne Blvd., into a recreational beauty spot.

Plans for the island include a picnic area, a site for the civic association's community building, a playground — and, of course, an arboretum — that's loosely, a garden of trees.

Commissioners also endorsed the planting of trees along Lake Osborne Blvd.

The projects are part of the association-sponsored program to beautify the Lake Osborne area.

A Catholic Can Be President

WASHINGTON — Protestant, Democratic Senator Paul H. Douglas stated this month that he believes a Catholic can become President of the United States.

In an exclusive article published in the current issue of Coronet Magazine, Senator Douglas writes: "I think a Catholic can be elected President of the United States. Given the right man, a Catholic should be elected President."

State Printing Costs High

Central Purchasing Appears the Remedy

(Last of a series)

By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

TALLAHASSEE - There is a trend among the states toward centralized purchasing to eliminate waste and duplication in government printing.

BOYLES

Thirty - two states have set an example for Florida by taking the control of printing expenditures away from individual state agencies.

Gov. LeRoy Collins has said he will ask the 1959 legislature to put printing under Florida's central purchasing system so that some degree of uniformity can be applied to printing purchases now handled by individual state agencies.

* * *

THE COMPLAINTS ARE:

Under Florida's antiquated printing law, competition does not always prevail and result in better prices because only two bids are required.

In some state agencies little effort is made to obtain bids from several printing firms.

There are no standardized procedures or ground rules within the law to prevent agencies from overbuying or duplicating expensive promotional booklets published by other state agencies.

A chain of printing corporations headed by one man or group, or a "closed club" of a few printers, can at the discretion of individual purchasing agents freeze out competition.

Since the moral obligation is on the purchasing agent and not the printer who is a private contractor operating under the existing law, there are varied procedures, some good and some bad, in the state's 127 different departments and agencies.

* * *

BIDS IN SOME CASES where only three printers bid, appeared to have been drawn up on the same typewriter. In one case a word was misspelled the same way on two bids although there was a slight difference in price.

The Council of State Governments reports that 43 states now have some degree of centralized purchasing.

Regulations of 32 states include printing among those supplies which must be centrally purchased.

In two states, the state plants, in addition to ordinary government printing, print some of the text books used in public schools.

But the overwhelming consensus among experts on government is toward central purchasing which would provide a screening agency to impartially approve or disapprove the printing of necessary or unnecessary publications and to regulate both quantity and quality.

Surveys also show that publications often designed to benefit only a specific group are distributed to that group at the expense of all taxpayers, subscription free.

One report to the Council of State Governments showed that attempts to achieve certain objectives result in the printing of publications of doubtful value. In these cases the same objectives can and are achieved by cheaper methods of reproduction.

* * *

A GLARING EXAMPLE of duplication of promotional effort is found in the Florida Development Commission and the Department of Agriculture.

Both handle a big volume of printing business and both distribute some of the state's fanciest publications.

* * *

Under central purchasing, a central purchasing director or commission could be held responsible for determining which agency should publish a book or whether it should be published at all.

Rep. John E. Mathews Jr. of Jacksonville has called for a legislative study of printing purchases, explaining he had received complaints from several printers that Rose Printing Co. and other Tallahassee firms gobbled up most of the state's business and they were not being given an opportunity to bid.

* * *

GOV. COLLINS FOUND that in six agencies directly under his office, printing cost had been reduced since 1955 through bid invitations to more printers, resulting in sharp competition.

Rose, and two independent firms, Bulkley - Newman and Artcraft however were invited to bid more consistently than other printers by the Florida Development Commission, Railroad and Public Utilities Commission and the State Department of Education.

Rose, which got $700,000 of the state's two million dollar printing business last year, had the edge in business awarded by those agencies.

Agency officials explain that because of proofreading and other production problems involved they got bids only from Tallahassee firms.

Although it is doubtful such necessity has a bearing on the bulk of state printing it is generally conceded to apply to legislative printing.

Rose holds the contract for printing senate and house journals after each day's session which must be on legislators' desks the next morning.

A Development Commission employe said in one case the sales manager for Rose Printing Co. delivered all three bids.

Collins said such practice would not be good public policy, although he had found NO evidence of law violations.

* * *

Opponents of centralized purchasing point out that under the present central purchasing system, bids are invited only on items costing $1,000 and must be advertised for on supplies costing more than $2,000.

The answer to that seems elementary and State Auditor Bryan Willis recommends that bids be required only for printing jobs over $50.

Critics of central purchasing forget the objective is not to fight the battle of any printers but to provide a uniform procedure for wisely spending the state's money.

Bonn Hit By Whirl Of Events

By DAVID M. NICHOL
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

BONN, Germany — Bonn has so many sensations today it scarcely knows in what direction to look.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is leaving for Paris.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is coming to Leipzig.

Prof. Ludwig Erhard, economics minister who can claim much credit for West Germany's "economic miracle," may turn down the nomination to be the next federal president.

Two high officials closely associated with Dr. Adenauer in West Germany's frantic formative days are on trial for slander in a case which has politicians on edge.

Even the weather has been a considerable distraction. For several days it has been sunny with record temperatures.

* * *

Dr. Adenauer left by train last night for his third meeting with French Premier Charles de Gaulle. The two leaders—and to a much greater degree than many appreciate is possible, their countrymen—are getting along famously.

The Bonn-Paris axis is one of the firmest features of Europe's current political scene.

Obviously they will talk about Khrushchev and his plans for Germany in preparation for their individual meetings next week with Harold Macmillan.

Space Flight Safety Rests With Pioneer IV Research

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The new space-probe launching may go a long way toward determining what science must do to assure safe space flight for man.

The key scientific experiment in Pioneer IV is designed to get fuller information about the possibly deadly "Great Radiation Belt" which was discovered during the past year.

And, one of the new twists in the current probe is one aimed at determining how much shielding will be required to reduce the radiation to a "tolerable level" for any animal—or human—in space flight.

The launching had four other objectives:

(1) THE QUEST to put a satellite in orbit around the sun as the Russians claimed they did early in January;

(2) TO GET NEW information about the moon as the space probe zooms past it;

(3) TO TEST a gadget which would play a key role in enabling the taking of television-type pictures of the moon in future flights; and

(4) TO FURTHER test a long-range communications system deemed capable at present of tracking a satellite to altitudes of more than 400,000 miles, almost twice the distance to the moon.

But the radiation experiment is the big deal from the standpoint of its importance in relation to man's hopes to explore space in manned spacecraft.

* * *

OBJECT OF inquiry is a belt of radiation — actually two belts — called the "Van Allen" belt. It's named for Dr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist who headed a research team that discovered the belt last year while analyzing data from two of the explorer satellites.

Later information on it was obtained in the partially successful flights of the Pioneer III space probes.

The source of this radiation is unknown; indeed, scientists don't yet know what kind of radiation it actually consists of.

But enough is known about its intensity to say that man could not safely fly within it without shielding protection.

And the big question is: how much shielding? And how much would that shielding weigh?

Keeping weight of materials down is obviously an important objective in space flight.

* * *

PRESENT conception of the radiation belt is that it consists of two belts, each shaped like a doughnut.

One of these belts extends roughly between 1,400 and 3,400 miles from the earth; the other between 8,000 and 12,000 miles.

The peak of radiation intensity is estimated at 2,400 miles for the inner belt and 10,000 miles for the second one.

Estimates of the peak intensity range from 10 to 100 roentgens an hour—a roentgen being a unit of radioactivity.

The wide range of estimates of peak intensity stem from the fact that scientists don't know whether the radiation consists of electrons or protons.

But, in either case, the peak intensities would be greatly in excess of the maximum permissible doseage for man.

The latter is 3-10ths of a roentgen per week.

* * *

VAN ALLEN figures there is negligible radiation danger to man below the first belt—and between the first and second belts.

Also, he figures the radiation tapers off to safe levels after reaching its second peak of intensity at 10,000 miles.

But he and most other scientists figure there would be danger to unprotected men within the known limits of the belts—at least for any extended flights within those limits, such as in an orbiting manned satellite.

Even a half-hour top speed flight right through the bands might have long-range harmful effect, provided the radiation is made up of protons, some observers believe.

If it proves necessary to shun these belts entirely — even for speedy passage through them — scientists still have a possible ace-in-the-hole.

It's estimated that the radiation belts do not extend over the Arctic and Antarctic regions—that is, that there are radiation-free voids over the North and South Magnetic poles.

Thus there might be "escape hatches" through the radiation, provided the spaceships were launched from polar-based launching pads.

In the tiny space vehicle launched by the U.S. were two Geiger counter tubes to detect and measure the radiation.

Similar tubes were carried in the Pioneer III flight last December. But this time, one of the tubes was shielded with one-eighth-inch thick lead. This is designed to cut out all high-energy radiation.

The other tube, measuring low-energy radiation, is unchanged.

* * *

THE IDEA of the new twist is "to test the penetrability of the radiation in space and determine how much shielding will be required to reduce the radiation to a tolerable level for any animal or human in space flight," said Dr. Van Allen before the launching.

Results will be radioed to the earth from the space probe.

The information will be transmitted to earth by a battery-powered radio transmitter designed to transmit continuously on a frequency of 960.05 megacycles for about 90 hours.

That would last long after the space probe passes the moon because it is expected that the vehicle will intercept the moon's pathway n space about 34 hours after launching time.

Costs Billions, Frays Nerves

Reorganization Pains Sting In Plane-to-Missile Switch

Our "Moment of Peril" is the way famed reporter Bob Considine views the U.S. lag in the missiles race with Russia. This is the fourth in a series of articles analyzing our danger.

By BOB CONSIDINE
Herald Columnist

There's a saying in the Pentagon that goes, "If you can't cook it, kiss it or mimeograph it, reorganize it."

CONSIDINE

The greatest Air Force in history is undergoing the pangs of the latter. It is changing man's role from that of steersman of a cumbersome flying machine to manipulator of "little black boxes" that cause missiles to accomplish miracles.

It is an agonizing reorganization that costs billions, frays nerves, torments the impatient, has made nervous wrecks here and there of men who were icy calm in combat.

Its reprisal force, the jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command, is largely outmoded, air officers have testified under oath. It will not have its first intercontinental ballistic missilebase — composed of 10 Atlas missiles and attendants — until at least Jan. 1, 1960. The base, at Camp Cook, Calif., will not be a "hard" base, i.e., the complicated gear for fueling and launching the even more complicated ICBM will be on the surface and susceptible to destruction from a Russian ICBM or a lesser missile lobbed inland from a Soviet submarine off the California coast.

* * *

Bomber Fleet Was Bad Bet

IT IS HAUNTED by past mistakes, briefly cheered by a few instances of visionary thinking that panned out.

It continued to invest heavily in a big bomber fleet long after the Russians drastically cut their own bomber production and bet their science, engineering and rubles on missiles.

It delayed its own serious rocket development until a long series of tests conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission produced an atomic bomb small enough to be packaged in a rocket nose-cone.

As for its vision, the Air Force owes such missile strength as it now possesses — and the promise of much more to come — to the findings of a board set up late in 1953 under the guidance of Trevor Gardner, then Air Force assistant secretary and top missile man. It was the Strategic Missiles Evaluation Committee out of which emerged the Atlas development group headed by the late John von Neumann, world famous mathematician and member of the AEC.

Today, Gardner is revered as the father of the probe that changed the mood and mission of the Air Force for all time to come. His group, the Nuclear Weapons Panel, called upon to project Air Force thinking into the 1960s, painted a vividly realistic picture of the shape of things to come.

* * *

Russia Jumped Early, Decisively

IT WAS NOT an easy step, the Air Force's first fumbling strides into the missile age. Tradition was tougher to alter than the shape and propulsion of the vehicle that would thereafter carry The Bomb fastest and farthest.

"You've got to remember how little we thought of the German V-2 at the end of the war," a harried Air Force colonel told me in the course of a chronological rundown of the service's coming-of-age.

"The Russians thought differently. They rounded up hundreds of them, dismantled the plants that produced them, commandeered a lot of the German scientists, engineers and technicians who had ideas about bigger and better missiles, and put everybody to work on V-E Day. We came home.

"We put our money and thinking into SAC, which was wise but did put us behind the Russians. We designed and built bombers around a nuclear bomb that would weigh tons. They had to be big enough to lift it and carry it thousands of miles. Remember the B-36? Ten engines and big as a football field. The B-52 is a whopper, too.

"Then they found a way to put all that power into something hardly bigger than your arm. We had to make the hard decision to change. Now we've reached the point where we must make our second hard decision. We've got to find the ways and the financial means of catching up with the Russians in ICBMs and create better weapons than they've got.

"We've got to build bases for these ICBMs that will withstand the initial attack which we'd have to take in the event of war. And we've got to do it faster than we've ever done anything in our lives."

* * *

The Man Who Carries Ball

THE COLONEL stood up suddenly. Maj. Gen. Bernard Schriever, the brilliant young Air Force missiles development chief, had entered the little room. He is a tall, sun-tanned man in his 40s, with grave wide-set eyes that show the weight of the great responsibility vested in him. But his nerves are super-steady, as his "scratch" rating in golf indicates.

"I have unique authority," he said calmly, when we asked him to describe his job. "My responsibility is the research and development of the hardware, the production of it, putting it in operation and supporting it. It would be simpler, I guess, just to say that my job is to 'get 'em working.'

"It calls for constant evaluation of the state of the art; constant risk. We've been experimenting with solid fuel propellants since 1956, for example, but our Minuteman, though technically feasible, is still some years away.

"We work very close to industry. I'd say industry is responsible for 95 per cent of the Air Force's development. But it needs us, too. It needs us for things it couldn't know about, such as logistics."

* * *

$7 Billion Spent For 'Complex'

THESE OTHER missiles born or gestating, are the fruit of Schriever's Space Technology Laboratories, a model of civilian-military teamwork. A "management complex," he calls it. More than seven billion dollars has been spent to date by the Air Force alone on its missiles program — three and a half times as much as was spent to develop the atomic bomb.

Rebel May Represent Mounting Opposition

By EDWIN A. LAHEY
Chief of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Stanley Yankus, the Dowagiac (Mich.) farmer, had just finished telling a House subcommittee what he thought of the federal farm subsidy program.

LAHEY

"I wasn't just talking to these congressmen," he says. "I was trying to talk to all the people in America."

And as the 40-year-old chicken raiser strode to the office of his congressman, Clare Hoffman (R.), there were those in the hearing room who wondered whether Yankus had a pretty formidable snowball in the making.

It is the Michigan farmer's desire to destroy the farm program under which the government, through its support payments, has piled up 9 billion dollars worth of surplus food and fiber in warehouses all over the land.

"How do I know I'm right?" the aggressive Yankus says. "Because nothing I've done has violated the principles of the Ten Commandments, that's how."

* * *

He thinks the farmers under this act have made a crazy exchange of freedom for security, and he refuses to be bound by what the other farmers have done.

Yankus says the hundred acres in Cass County, Mich., where he raises chickens commercially are his. And no government bureaucrat is going to tell him how much wheat he can grow on his own land to feed his own chickens.

This attitude has brought him into constant turmoil with the agricultural act, because of the "wheat allotment" system that is part of the price support program.

* * *

AN INTERESTING aspect of Yankus is that he is not alone, by any means.

He speaks the thoughts of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is trying to cut back on the subsidy program.

And Yankus also speaks for hundreds of other individuals of the soil who have likewise defied the wheat planting regulations.

Boys 'Taking To' Sheriffs' Ranch

LIVE OAK —(AP)— The first two young arrivals at the Florida Sheriffs' Boys Ranch "are just carried away with the place."

This was the report Tuesday of J. L. McMullen, operator of a cold storage concern and treasurer of the ranch.

One of the boys is 14 years old and from Polk County; the other is 12 and from Lake County.

"We prefer not to identify them with their former homes," McMullen said. "They are needy boys and while we may identify them later, we want to start off slowly.

"They started school here Friday and both were very happy. They are looking forward to living out at the ranch.

"As an indication of what the boys may think, Sheriff Hagan Parrish of Polk County told me 'my boys (the applicants) are thinking of the ranch in terms of Annapolis.'"

McMullen explained that no delinquents are taken — just needy boys who are orphans, from broken homes or underprivileged. The admittance ages are 12 to 16, but McMullen says "the ranch will be his home with no definite age limit as to when he leaves."

The ranch has 40 cattle and 100 hogs now and by the end of the year there will be 160 acres of pasture on the 722 acres a stone's throw from the Suwannee River.

Sheriffs from all over the state receive applications for the ranch and these are carefully screened.

McMullen said the admittance committee would meet in Tallahassee March 10 when "we'll take in probably four more."

At first the boys will tend the grounds but later will take over farming.

Two years of work have gone into the ranch. The first building was completed a month or so ago. It has room for 20 boys. Others will be built as need arises.

The ranch manager is Vincent Jones who said "most of the boys will be from cities and this life will be new to them. It may take some months for them to get adjusted."

30 Days to the Good

Charity Takes 5

ST. AUGUSTINE —(AP)— Thirty-day work sentences at some charitable institution in Winter Park must be fulfilled by five Rollins College students before the end of the school year.

The work was part of the punishment imposed by City Judge John Grady on the youths who were caught by Patrolman C. G. Smith removing a loudspeaker from an outside wall of historic Castillo de San Marcos and trying to dig up a sign.

In addition to the work, Judge Grady fined each defendant $1 and court costs. The students agreed to pay for damages to the national monument and the fraternity will accept the responsibility to see that the work sentences are carried out, Judge Grady said.

Health Board Reports

Suicides Increase. Divorce Is Down

JACKSONVILLE —(AP)— Florida suicides increased, the birth rate equalled the national rate, and divorces decreased in 1958, the State Board of Health said Tuesday.

The birth rate of 24.3 a thousand was nearly three times as high as the death rate of 9.7. The 107,921 births and 43,099 deaths represented a slight increase over 1957 in the death rate and a slight decrease in the rate of births.

Heart disease was, as in recent years, the greatest killer. It took more lives than the next three leading causes of death combined. Of the first four leading causes, heart disease, cancer and stroke are generally regarded as diseases of the elderly, but a fourth—accidents — took its victims from all age groups.

Motor vehicle accidents, which account for 40 per cent of all fatal accidents, took lives mostly in the 25-34 age group.

Diseases of infancy, heart disease, stroke, cancer, and influenza and pneumonia all showed slight increases.

The report said the rise in influenza deaths could be attributed to the influenza epidemic of late 1957. No guess was offered as to the reason for the rise in suicides from a rate of 11.5 to 13.5 per 100,000 population.

There were 34,440 marriages and 17,566 divorces. The decrease in divorces from 18,744 in 1957 is due probably to a law which went into effect in October of 1957 requiring six months of residence before applying for divorce in Florida.

State Lists Historic Memorials

ORLANDO — (AP) — The Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials soon will distribute over the state a list of historic sites in Florida.

Dr. Kathryn Abbey Hanna of Winter Park gave the board a manuscript with a list of the sites, but this must be revised for errors and duplications before it is printed.

The board discussed acquisition of Sea Horse Key off Cedar Key in the Gulf of Mexico off Levy County. The key contains an old lighthouse and the burial plots of three Confederate navy men.

The board also agreed to cancel the land use permit at Jim Woodruff State Park for the Graham Air Base of Pittsburgh Institute of Aeronautics; decided to build a fishing pier at South Little Talbot State Park just above Jacksonville; and agreed to grant building space in Myakka State Park of between five and 10 acres each to the Gulfside Girl Scout Council at Sarasota and the Lake Ridge Council at Winter Haven for lodges.

The next board meeting will be around April 26 in Region 1 (Tallahassee area).

Big Budget Slash Urged

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— The Legislative Council's Committee on finance and taxation adopted a tight-fisted spending policy Tuesday in an effort to head off new taxes at the 1959 Legislature.

It voted unanimously to recommend to the full council that it go on record in favor of slashing appropriations to 690 million dollars for the next two years.

A 690 million dollar spending program would be some 35 million dollars below Cabinet Budget Commission recommendations and 10 million dollars less than the revenue estimate of the Legislative Reference Bureau.

1st Customer Gets Fruit at 50-Year Fete

Dominick Calarco, helping the exchange to celebrate its 50th anniversary, purchased the fruit at a special auction.

The 86-year-old Calarco, still active in the fruit business, bought the fruit from Auctioneer Robert H. Thomas Jr., whose father was the auctioneer on Oct. 6, 1909, when Calarco bought the first box of Exchange fruit sold in New York.

The exchange was founded by a group of Florida growers and for 49 years has been the largest shipper of Florida citrus. It currently ships about 25 per cent of all Florida citrus going to the fresh fruit market.

BEST FRIENDS of dogs are men, especially the staff of the Pompano Beach toll gate of the Florida Turnpike, Rusty, a mixed breed canine, has learned. In very poor health because of a heart ailment, Rusty moved to the toll gate two years ago. The six collectors paid for an operation for him by digging into their own pockets. Now Rusty, fat and healthy, "works" around the clock at the gate. The collectors and highway patrolmen of the turnpike unit share their lunches with him.

Children's Mental Hospital Proposed

TALLAHASSEE — (UPI) — A legislative committee Tuesday recommended construction of a 48-bed facility for mentally disturbed children, at an estimated cost of $1,200,000.

The Interim Committee on Mental Health also proposed a $160,000 appropriation for an emergency treatment program for 20 children until the new facility, probably a wing on an existing mental hospital, is built.

The committee met to draft its final report to the Legislature. Included in the recommendation was a suggestion the children's hospital be built at the South Florida Mental Hospital at Hollywood.

The committee asked for $1,200,000 for planning, constructing and equipping the facility. James Younge, Orange Park, executive director, said construction costs would be anywhere from $800,000 to $1,200,000.

Rep. Charles Usina of St. Johns said he did not see how the state could continue its mental health program and ignore this needed facility for children.

Younge said there are 200 mentally disturbed children in Florida in need of treatment.

Other bills which the committee said it will recommend include:

A measure to authorize courts to certify patients to mental hospitals for six months, instead of the present system of adjudicating them incompetent, with the accompanying loss of civil rights.

A bill authorizing mental hospitals to accept non-residents in order to transfer them to their home state, and to prevent non-resident incompetents from becoming legal residents.

Advocates Of School Closing Hit

TALLAHASSEE — (AP) — State School Superintendent, Thomas D. Bailey lashed out Monday night at those he described as "knights on white chargers" who are ready to destroy the public school system over the integration issue.

Later, Bailey said he had reference to men like "Gen. Sumter Lowry and his gang." Lowry was identified as a Tampa segregation leader.

"Their speeches on the integration issue and other subjects have caused many school PTA's to withdraw from their parent organization," he said.

He said he had submitted the parent-option tuition plan in an effort to avert drastic legislation that would shut down the schools.

He said many legislators had asked him to prepare some workable plan.

Bailey also criticized those "who want children taught what they were taught 40 years ago."

Seashell Show Set At Sanibel

SANIBEL ISLAND — Thousands of seashells — more than 300 varieties — will be on display here Thursday, Friday and Saturday in one of the world's most unusual expositions, the 22nd annual Sanibel Island Shell Fair.

Conchologists from far countries, as well as experts and amateur collectors from all over the U.S. gather to display their own treasures and to see those of others.

Sanibel Island offshore in the Gulf of Mexico is rated third best seashell beach in the world by the experts. The Australian barrier reef is considered best and a remote Pacific island ranked second.

A quirk of currents is credited for daily deposit of great piles of shells from Gulf depths on the beach. Discovered in the 1880's by yachting visitors, the island has long been a rendezvous for hobbyists.

Some collections displayed here have been more than 50 years in the making.

New Anti-Nature Doctor Law Studied

TALLAHASSEE —(AP)— The director of the Florida Medical Association met with aides of LeRoy Collins Tuesday to discuss possible revival of a law banning nature doctors from Florida.

W. Harold Parham conferred with William L. Durden, executive assistant to the governor, and Jack Peeples, legislative aide. Parham's prime business is to discuss legislative recommendations submitted by the governor's Citizens Medical Committee on Health.

But Durden said the status of naturopaths and possible legislative action also figured in the confab.

A 1957 law which ultimately would have eliminated naturopaths from Florida was recently knocked out by the State Supreme Court.

Collins urged the Legislature to ban naturopathy altogether. However, under a compromise no new nature doctors would be licensed, but those who had practiced in Florida for two years prior to Oct. 1, 1957, would be permitted to continue, but not to prescribe drugs.

The governor has not said yet whether he would again recommend legislation to outlaw naturopaths. But there has been no indication his thinking concerning them has changed.

The Citizens Medical Committee on Health, headed by Dr. Edward R. Annis of Miami, offered 23 recommendations for expanded health services in Florida.

Among key recommendations were extension of health insurance to cover the aged, development of a system of limited service hospitals to reduce costs of extended illnesses, authorization for the Welfare Board to pay nursing home care for needy aged when necessary, expansion of mental health facilities, and improvement of the alcoholic rehabilitation program.

MDs Planning Aid for Aged

CLEARWATER — (AP) — Organized medicine is preparing a special program for older people, the American Medical Association's president-elect says. He called pending legislation to broaden social security dangerous.

"Medicine is currently preparing to set in motion a positive program for older citizens which will take into consideration all the facets of the aged and aging problems," said Dr. Louis M. Orr, Orlando urologist. He addressed Pinellas County's medical society Monday night.

Police Car Races Boat; 2 Give Up

Herald Bureau

HOLLYWOOD — Eau Gallie police arrived here Tuesday to pick up two teenagers who attempted to escape from police in what was believed a stolen boat.

The chase took place on the intracoastal waterway Sunday night.

Detectives Louis Ottuso and Glenn Lightle, riding south on State Rd. A1A with their squad car siren wailing and red light flashing, overtook the youths near the Attache Motel.

The suspects were identified as Thomas Rae, 17, and Gerald Bedell, 18, both of Carthage, Mo. They were held for investigation of grand larceny.

The boys told police they stole the 16-foot fiberglass boat when their car broke down in Eau Gallie. They left Carthage nine days ago, en route to Miami.

Lightle and Ottuso went to the scene when told a boat was aground on the west side of the waterway.

As they arrived, the boys, hiding in a clump of brush, started the boat's engine and sped south. They surrendered, however, when they saw their baot was no match for the squad car.

Overfishing Blamed

Tampa Shrimp Catch Hits Six-Year Low

TAMPA —(AP)— The shrimp catch landed in Tampa in 1958 was the smallest in six years, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service reported Tuesday.

This service reported the catch was 7,612,000 pounds, a drop of more than one million pounds from 1957 and a decline of about four million pounds from the record year of 1955.

Local shrimp fishermen varied in their reactions. Big dealers look on it merely as a passing trend. Smaller producers are worried.

The shrimpers were in agreement of the cause. More boats from more ports are fishing the same grounds, thus carving the shrimp pie in the Gulf of Mexico into smaller pieces.

More Tampa boats than usual went to the Texas grounds last summer and landed their catch in Texas, accounting for some of the drop.

Some operators said the big Campeche grounds, off the Yucatan coast, are being overfished, with the result that more of the catch is going to Fort Myers, Key West, Texas and Mexican ports.

Miami Asks For Gas Tax Hike

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Miami City Commissioners asked the Dade legislative delegation Tuesday to support a one-cent additional gasoline tax —the money to remain in the municipality where collected.

Commissioner B. E. Hearn Sr. said the cities desperately need the revenue to cope with increasing wear and tear on streets.

"Other cities also are clamoring for this help," Hearn told legislators at the closing session of pre-legislative public hearings.

Dade County Metro officials have gone on record urging passage of a one-cent additional gasoline tax.

A warning that anti-Metro forces may attempt to upset Dade's metropolitan home rule was voiced by a spokeswoman for the Dade League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Charles Whiteacre urged legislators to be on guard and "protect us from any legislation which might take away the gains for which we have fought so hard."

Rep. Cliff Herrell said he had heard rumors of such legislation but had seen no bills which might jeopardize Metro.

Castro Raps Acquittal of 45 Batistans

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday denounced a Santiago tribunal's acquittal of 45 airmen of mass murder charges as "a great error" and a service to ex-Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Prosecutor Lt. Antonio Cejas already has appealed the verdict and the airmen are in jail pending a new trial to be held in a few days before another tribunal.

Castro said in a statement published by Revolucion, organ of the revolutionary government, that the prosecution has as much right of appeal as the defense "if the sentence is not just."

Demonstrators ranged through Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, shouting protests against the acquittal. The protests abated after announcement of the prosecution's appeal.

The court held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of Batista's campaign against Castro.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente Province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

Jr. College Opening Due in Fall

More State News on 8A, 1B, 2B, 10C

By DAN BROWN
Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — Brevard's Junior College will open next fall if the Florida legislature votes operating funds, a school official said Tuesday.

Bob Hudson, chairman of the Brevard School Board, said the legislature is almost certain to provide the money because it has already voted to establish the college.

School Superintendent Woodrow Darden, who has prepared an operating budget for the college, couldn't be reached for an operating cost estimate Tuesday.

The college will be tuition free for Florida residents, but registration fees will be charged.

Selection of the temporary site will come March 10 when the school board will select a permanent site for the college.

The College will be established in Cocoa if the city improves a city-owned site on Clear Lake, Hudson said Tuesday.

Hudson's board has formally asked the Cocoa council to add 20 acres to the 40-acre site and give it frontage on the lake and on Clear Lake Rd.

Hudson said if the council does not improve the site, the school will be established in Eau Gallie or on Merritt Island.

"We'll consider both Eau Gallie and Merritt Island with Eau Gallie leading because it has the backing of the State Education Department, the board chairman said.

Hudson also said the board has already interviewed "several applicants" for the position of college president and will be ready to select the officer soon.

Opening the college would be a triumph for school officials and Kiwanis Club officers who have been working for its establishment since November 1957, shortly after the Florida legislature set up a junior college program.

Colleges already have been established at Daytona Beach, Pennsacola, Madison and Ocala under the program and fast-growing Brevard has top priority "in a second wave of colleges," Hudson said.

The top priority was won at a meeting with the State Education Department last December.

Both public schools named as temporary college sites by Hudson are now in use, but both will be replaced with new schools by next fall.

An elementary school at Sea Park south of Patrick Air Force Base will replace the Melbourne school and a clear Lake Junior High School is nearing completion in Cocoa.

Lou Costello
. . . heart attack fatal

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

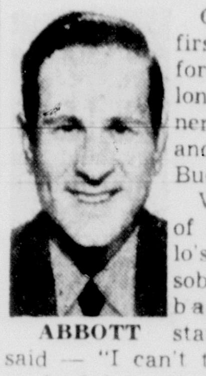
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Actor Lou Costello, 53, died Tuesday of a heart attack in a Beverly Hills hospital.

The veteran comedian suffered a heart attack a week ago and seemed to be improving, his manager, Eddie Sherman, said.

However, Costello suffered another attack Tuesday, which was fatal.

Sherman said Costello's wife, Ann, was visiting him and left just before he died at 6:55 p.m. Miami time.

He said the attack a week ago was followed by a blood clot.



ABBOTT

One of the first to be informed was his long-time partner in comedy and close friend, Bud Abbott.

When told of Costello's death, he sobbed and in a barely understandable voice said — "I can't talk now, call me back later please.

"I was sitting here watching re-runs of our old TV show," Abbott cried. "We were doing the 'Who's on First' bit. And I was laughing my head off. Then

Yanks Hide in Bolivia

Embassy Staff Flees Rioters

La PAZ, Bolivia — (AP) — The U.S. embassy staff here went into hiding Tuesday to escape demonstrations set off by a Time Magazine article that enraged Bolivians. The Bolivian government itself was harassed by a tin miners' strike.

The embassy personnel were reported to have slipped out under guard and taken refuge near the seething two-mile-high capital.

The whereabouts of the embassy staff was kept secret. The embassy phone went unanswered.

Bolivian officials and businessmen paraded late in the day past the Government Palace in a new demonstration against the Time Magazine article. The article quotes a member of the U. S. embassy as suggesting the country solve its troubles by being split up among its neighbors.

Tin miners, also a target of the article that offended Bolivia's national pride, went on strike for higher pay, paralyzing the government-owned mines, backbone of Bolivia's faltering economy. The workers walked out at the end of their 10-day deadline for the government to meet pay demands.

Capital police were out in force to head off any violence such as marked Monday's wild anti-American demonstrations. Rioters burned an American flag in front of the U.S. Embassy and stoned the building.

A 15-year-old boy was killed in Monday's outburst but no U.S. citizens were reported molested.

(In Washington, the State Department told the Bolivian ambassador it expects his nation "to take all possible measures to safeguard the lives" of an estimated 1,800 Americans in Bolivia. The staff of the embassy in LaPaz has moved to the outskirts of the city "for better protection by the Bolivian army," the State Department said. One official said the action was taken because of the possibility of additional rioting.)

President Hernan Siles made a special effort to stem the tide of anti-American feeling by saying that U.S. officials had denied the statement in Time that touched off Monday's outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official. It said he made the following assertion as a "wisecrack":

"The only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition.

Issues of Time were burned by mobs in front of the embassy as windows were broken. Offices of the U.S. Information Center were broken into and books and magazines destroyed.

The Bolivian government protested the article both in La Paz and Washington.

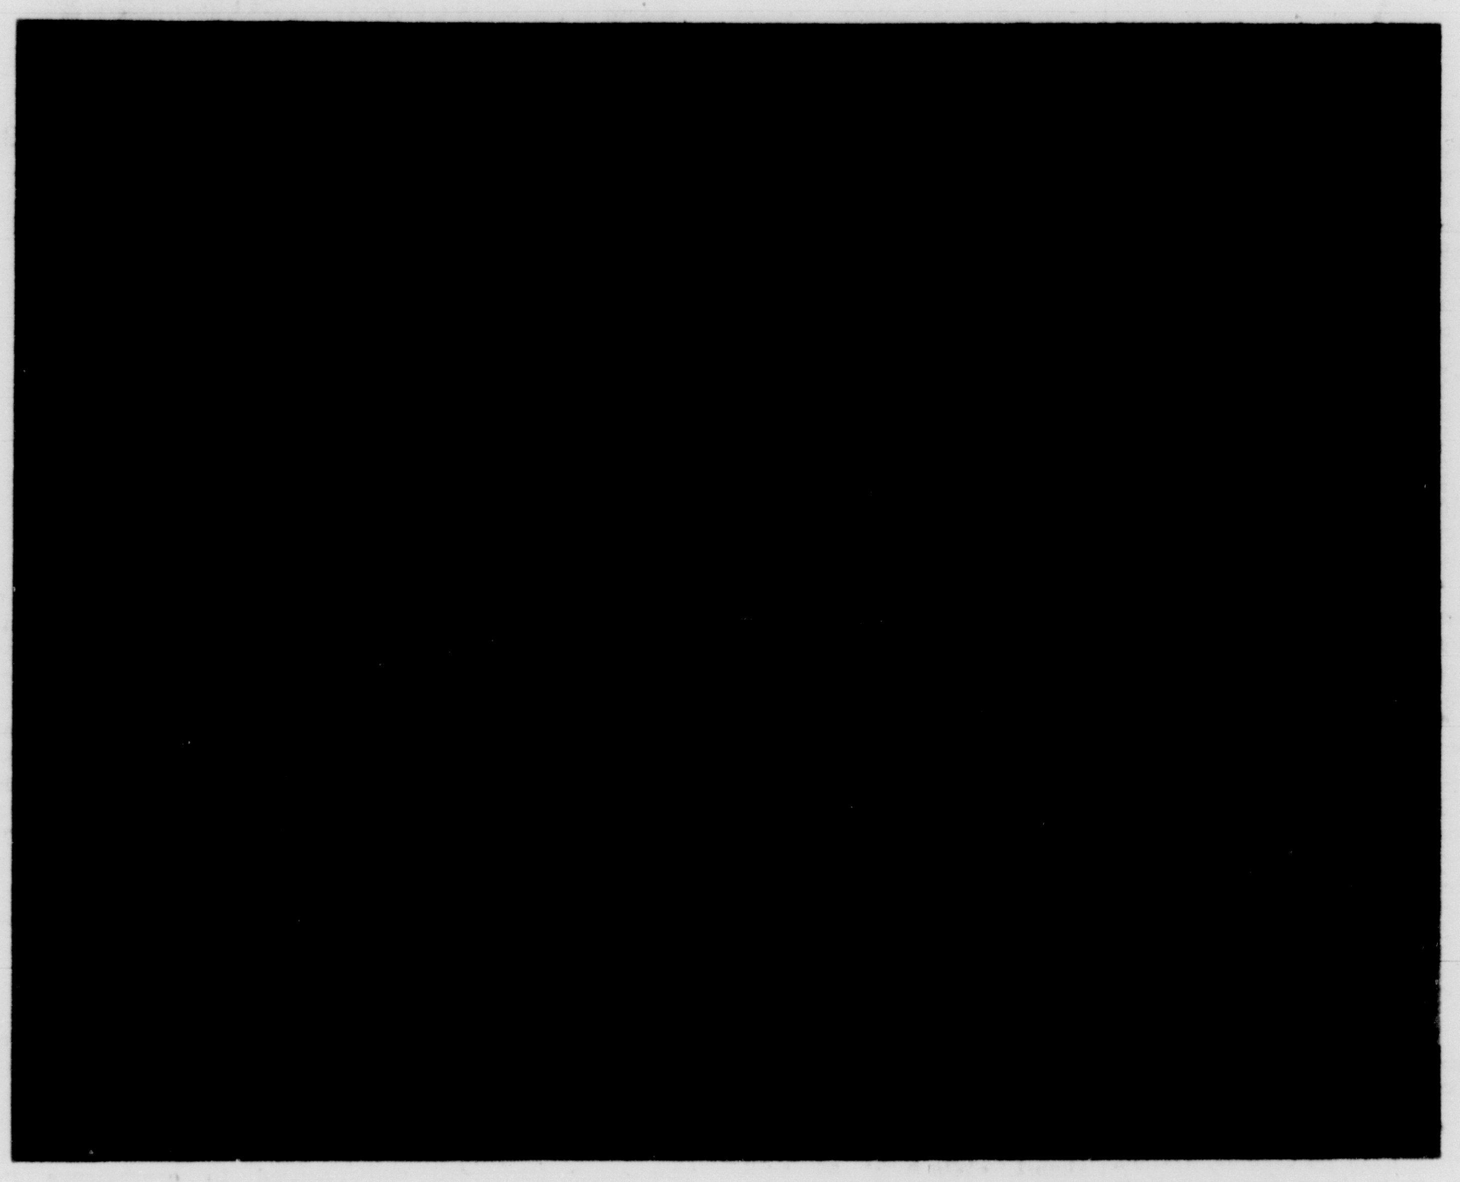
Pioneer Nearing Moon In Its Run for the Sun



Moonshot Over Miami

This dramatic photograph of Pioneer IV's flight toward the sun was taken from Homestead moments after the launching Tuesday by Dallas Espenschied, a Hartsville, Ohio, photographer. Snapped at 12:12 A.M., the photo shows 30 seconds of the rocket's life as it sped southeast toward its rendezvous in space. Stars are blurred as a result of the earth's rotation during the exposure. Espenschied made the picture with a Speed Graphic with Aero-Ektar lens wide open at f2.5. Espenschied, a member of two photo-tracking and moonwatch teams in Ohio, has photographed three satellites in flight, but this is his first shot of a launching.

It Breaks Record for U.S. Shots

Expected to Join 'Lunik' in Orbit

Tough to Hit Moon, 6B
Space Man Problem, 7A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — America's gold-plated Pioneer IV satellite climbed toward a brief rendezvous with the moon Tuesday and was confidently expected to join Russia's Lunik in an orbit around the sun.

Opening a new frontier in U. S. space exploration, the pint-sized artificial planet was 118,852 miles from the earth at 5 p.m. Miami time and had far outstripped the previous two American moon probes. It was clocking 5,675 miles an hour in its race to space.

The only man-made object that had climbed higher was Russia's heavier Lunik. The Soviets said Lunik actually achieved a solar orbit and U.S. scientists generally credit the claim.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the 13.4 pound Pioneer is on a track that will make it a satellite of the sun. Only a collision with a meteorite can stop it, they said.

The vehicle, gold-plated so the shell would act as a radio antenna, is expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon at 2 p.m. today. Its distance then will be 236,100 miles from the earth.

Then it is expected to continue its flight to join the 3,245-pound Lunik as a man-made planet.

President Eisenhower was quick to praise the successful team that sent Pioneer IV skyward. He sent NASA Director T. Keith Glennan "warm congratulations" for a "splendid achievement" that "marks yet another major step in scientific space exploration."

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, followed up with a forecast that the U.S. should put the first man "Voyager" into space within 10 to 12 years. He said the Pioneer's flight will provide "more grist for the mill" in finding out how it can be done.

"This also puts us very close to being in the same league with the Russians," he said, "— if what they say about their moon shoot is true."

"Everything we put up in space now brings us nearer to the day when we will have the first man Voyager there," he said.

The Pioneer roared off the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday atop a 60-ton four-stage Juno II Army rocket.

The launching went off without a hitch. But scientists noted a deviation in the course that will take the satellite farther from the moon on its outward journey than they planned.

The satellite is rigged to

New Cold Pushing Into State

A new cold front pushing into North Florida may bring showers and a bit cooler weather to Miami late today.

But the Weather Bureau said Tuesday that even if it does get chilly again tonight, it won't be bad.

The chill from a cold front that drifted over South Florida during the weekend was blown off Tuesday by south and southeasterly winds. Temperatures during the day pushed well into the 70s after Tuesday morning lows ranging from 42 at South Miami to 52 at Miami Beach.

It wasn't expected to go below 60 in the Miami area Tuesday night, and more warm temperatures were forecast for today. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said weathermen weren't sure how much the new cold front would affect Miami later in the day and tonight.

In North Florida, temperatures Tuesday morning hit a low of 34 at Ocala, then warmed up to the 70s during the day. Tonight and Thursday morning, the Weather Bureau said, temperatures might be "near the danger point" in the northern part of the state because of the new front.

Jobs Offered Evans

Headley Holds On: 'I Won't Resign'

By JOHN MORTON
AND JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writers

Headley declared almost gleefully:

"I won't resign."

And neither the new city manager, Ira Willard, nor the city commission can fire him outright without formal charges, a public hearing and a court fight.

Often a target of city commissioners, Headley has held on to the top job in the city police division for 10 years.

After Monday's surprise shakeup Mayor Robert King High promised "a lot of changes in the old brass at the police department."

He said he expected Headley to resign.

"So the mayor wants to get rid of me?" asked Headley. "Well, I'll go along with him on the same thing. I would like to get rid of him."

The youthful mayor led a lone attack against Evans and Headley for more than a year. Then Monday he suddenly found support from Commissioners Otis Shiver and George Dubreuil and the trio immediately fired the city manager.

The action brought a quick verbal resignation from City Commissioner James W. High. But in Tuesday's calm following Monday's uproar there emerged doubt as to whether High's post will be vacated.

High said Tuesday he is "reconsidering" his resignation. The commission had postponed action on it until its formal meeting Wednesday.

"There is a legal question," explained High, "about the resignation I tendered Monday."

It was made verbally and High has not yet put it in writing.

At the time, Assistant City Attorney Jack Rice said no written resignation was necessary.

Later, however, Rice said there was a "vast area of difference" of opinion on a verbal resignation.

Apparently throwing the decision to the commission, Rice added, "the interpretation of Mr. High's resignation will lie with the commission."

High also asserted that a

Suit Hits Levies by Pilots Unit

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Two airline pilots filed suit Tuesday charging that the Air Line Pilots Association officials improperly assessed members to pay benefits to Capital and Eastern Air Lines pilots when they were idled last fall by strikes called by other unions.

The complaint asked that Federal District Court hold the assessments null and void, restrain union officials from fining or expelling members for non-payment, and order credited against future dues any payments that have been made under the assessments.

The suit was filed before Federal District Judge Philip L. Sullivan by James R. Eads of Sepulveda, Calif., a pilot for Trans World Airlines, and Lawrence S. Shapiro of Los Angeles, a pilot for United Air Lines.

It named as defendants Clarence N. Sayen, president of ALPA, and Don J. Smith, union treasurer.

The suit attacked two assessments. One was levied in November, 1958, to pay benefits to pilots of Capital Airlines idled from Oct. 15 to Nov. 19 by a strike called by the International Association of Machinists.

The other assessment, the complaint alleged, was levied by a mail ballot of ALPA directors in December for the benefit of Eastern Air Lines pilots out of work because of strikes called by the IAM and the Flight Engineers International Association.

Bob Hope Confident

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bob Hope entered Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday for examination of his ailing left eye, remarking confidently: "I'm going to be all right."

Dr. Algernon Reese, clinical professor of ophthalmology at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was waiting to examine Hope.

An aide said Hope still was able to play golf, one of his favorite sports, but was limited to nine holes three times a week.

The aide said Hope suffered an eye hemorrhage shortly after his return from an overseas tour of armed forces bases Dec. 29. The aide said the only sign of this hemorrhage was a slight dizziness which comes on with any sudden movement.

New Pioneering Spirit Is Rejuvenating Old Areas

Miami Beach--Where What's Past Is Future

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

It's utterly unthinkable to most hep visitors to Miami Beach at the winter season peak to check into anything except the latest of hotels. Each year since World War II, as new palaces have sprung up literally out of the water, the affluent tourists have leap-frogged northward with the hotels on this most fabulous resort beach in the world. To be fashionable, one has had to be seen in the latest version of a French chateau or Arab harem.

But while by Miami Beach yardsticks the newest is automatically the best, this year on my annual trek to the sun I rebelled.

Back to the comparatively "unfashionable" southern area and into one of Miami Beach's oldest hotels I went. And there, to my delight, I not only rediscovered the charm, the dignity and spaciousness of an "ancient" Miami Beach inn; I also stumbled on an exciting new tale of pioneering.

Coming directly from Louisville, Ky., where businessmen are quibbling over the need for sprucing up structures dating from the 19th century, I still find it hard to believe that in Miami Beach, any luxury hotel over five years is no longer considered in the luxury class, any building over 15 years is "old," any in the 20-30 year group, no matter how grand, is an "antique!"

Nevertheless, this is a fact, as awesome as any other aspect about this place. Although the Roney Plaza, the hotel in which I stayed, would be a showplace in most other resort cities, here it is out of date. Although it has been filled to capacity during this season of spectacularly good weather, rumors persist that the Roney will be significantly expanded so it can fight the brutal competition from the new marvels. And therein lies the story.

For what is starting to happen here is the rediscovery and rejuvenation of the original Miami Beach. Even as the fickle, fad-conscious tourists concentrate on new areas, astute financiers and businessmen are concentrating on revolutionizing the old.

In Miami Beach, the South Beach was developed first as the prime property in the 1920s but while its location is as superb as ever, the area has been deteriorating rapidly. Now, though, the largest construction venture in the entire state of Florida — a 1,600-room, 500-unit apartment building — is going up in this section, and business leaders believe this will spark a restoration of the South Shore as a region for permanent residents.

Says Nathan S. Gumenick, builder of the Southgate: "We will revive the South Beach with apartments in every income range. We'll prove you don't have to be a millionaire to live on the Beach, and by so doing we'll strengthen the Beach's entire economy.

Macmillan Flies Home With 'Half a Loaf'

No Berlin Accord But Soviet Pledges Early Negotiations

MOSCOW —(UPI)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ended Anglo-Soviet summit talks Tuesday with complete disagreement on Berlin but with a Russian promise of early negotiations to save "peace and security" in the world.

Macmillan flew home in a cheerful mood and announced on his arrival in London he hopes to visit Washington shortly to report to President Eisenhower and "concert our policies." He will go first to Bonn and Paris next week.

The British and Russian statesmen agreed in a final communique signed in the Kremlin that they would look into a partial East-West troop withdrawal and removal of nuclear weapons from Central Europe — a variation of the "atom free zone" plan of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki which has been rejected by Washington and Bonn.

Khrushchev and Macmillan reported they were "unable to agree about the juridical and political aspects of problems involved" in the Berlin crisis.

"At the same time they recognize that it was of great importance for the maintenance and consolidation of peace and security in Europe and throughout the world that these problems should be urgently settled," the communique said.

Macmillan declined at a news conference before his departure by jet plane to "go into specific details of confidential talks" with Khrushchev. But he confirmed the Central Europe pullback plan would be the subject of negotiations.

"Our first duty is to consult our French, German, and American friends," he said.

"The problem (of Central Europe) must be urgently settled. In these lines there is hope for progress."

He ended the news conference because Khrushchev was waiting and rushed off with his host to Vnukovo airport. There, in his white fur hat, and bearing a bouquet, he wished Khrushchev "all the best" in Russian as he stepped into the plane.

"God speed and au revoir," Khrushchev shouted back.

Thus ended 10 crucial days in the fast-developing Berlin crisis during which Macmillan had:

—Failed to budge Khrushchev's determination to give East Germany control of the Allied lifelines to Berlin by May 27.

—Drew agreement for a foreign ministers' conference on the subject before the deadline.

—Warned Khrushchev in "firm" terms that the West will not surrender its rights in Berlin.

—Reached a cultural agreement with the Soviets, particularly in the TV and movie fields, and arranged trade talks.

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

all of a sudden I get this call about poor little Lou dying.

"I just can't believe he's gone."

Abbott's family called a physician to treat him for shock.

Costello teamed with Abbott in 1930, after breaking into the entertainment business by the vaudeville route. The two formed one of Hollywood's most successful comedy teams, but Costello split with his partner recently and had not been active in the movies.

Costello was born in Paterson, N.J., and after working at a few odd jobs, including those of new boy, soda fountain clerk and salesman, he got a job in burlesque.

Teaming with Abbott, his first movie venture was the picture, "Caribbean Holiday." They made many films together and were among the top 10 money-making stars in the Motion Picture Hall of Fame poll from 1941 through 1944, and from 1948 through 1951.

The "Who's on First" baseball routine the two developed was one of the most famous in modern movie comedy and was played in person, too, before Presidents of the U.S.

Costello was working in a Brooklyn burlesque house when he and Abbott got together.

They got their first big break in 1938 when they were booked into Loew's State in New York. Ted Collins saw them and auditioned them for the Kate Smith radio show.

Their rise to fame was rapid after that.

Although it wasn't generally known, Costello was a standout basketball player for many years before he got interested in show business.

In later years, Costello devoted much of his time to youth work and set up a foundation for this purpose.

Admiral Warns Of Sub Warfare

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke said Tuesday a day-to-day possibility of Russian submarine warfare against the free world's ocean commerce demands constant alertness.

The chief of naval operations spoke of this possibility in an address at the Navy League's annual symposium on seapower. This year the two-day session is devoted to the subject to Anti-Submarine Warfare.

The Navy sent some of its top-ranking officials and experts on the subject to the symposium, including Rear Adm. Charles E. Weakley, executive officer for anti-submarine warfare readiness in the office of the chief of naval operations. The league is a civilian organization of Navy supporters.

Burke said that:

"We know that the employment of submarines by an enemy need not necessarily be confined to a major war. A war of naval attrition — of commerce attrition — fought almost exclusively at sea could pose a very serious problem for the free world.

"Enemy submarine action against free world shipping would not necessarily require the use of nuclear weapons. This makes the ever-present threat even more serious. It is a day-to-day possibility against which U.S. naval forces must be alert constantly, day and night, no matter where our ships sail."

The admiral also commented that to the threats of attacks on commerce there now has been added the menace posed by missile - launching submarines. This, said Burke, "brings the problem right to our homeland."

Dulles Given Atomic Gold

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Doctors gave Secretary of State John Foster Dulles an injection of radioactive gold Tuesday in a new attempt to control his abdominal cancer.

An announcement through the State Department said this treatment was decided upon by a panel of medical experts meeting at Walter Reed Hospital "to reinforce" his regular X-ray treatment.

The X-ray treatments from the Army hospital's million-volt machine will be resumed "in a few days," it was announced.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the radioactive gold was given in fluid form as an injection directly into the abdominal cavity.

9 Students Drown in Bus Plunge

TIFTON, Ga., —(UPI)— A school bus jammed with more than 80 Negroes plunged into a pond Tuesday, and authorities said at least nine were drowned.

Three children were hospitalized for effects of shock, exposure and minor injuries. The other frightened children who were pulled safely through windows of the bus were sent to their homes.

Driver Doyer Jones, 40, who had been making the bus route rounds for 23 years, said his bus hit two bumps in succession on the dirt road, causing him to lose control "unavoidably."

The bus turned over on its right side and plunged into the water. The vehicle was about two-thirds submerged.

The accident happened near the community of Brookfield, about seven miles east of Tifton.

Jones said he kicked out the window at the driver's seat mounted the overturned bus, kicked out other windows and hoisted to safety screaming children who were standing on top of other children.

"The larger ones were standing on the little small ones," Jones said. "That's what caused so much trouble. Those (the small ones) were the ones we lost."

Jones said two white men from nearby farm houses helped him lift some of the larger children through the windows. Someone reached a telephone and soon an array of emergency apparatus was put into use.

take radiation readings as it passes within 15,000 miles of the moon. But the actual course is 20,000 miles farther from the moon than planned.

Pioneer IV became America's deepest space probe less than nine hours after blast-off, when it passed the 71,300 miles traveled by the Air Force's Pioneer I lunar probe Nov. 11.

Earlier, it had surpassed the Army's first moon shoot Dec. 6, 1958, which soared 63,580 miles. Lunik went up Jan. 2, 1959.

The Juno II, a four-stage, 76-foot rocket with 150,000 pounds of thrust, shot the satellite into the skies at 24,890 miles an hour, or 305 miles an hour faster than needed to overbalance the earth's tremendous backward pull and the smaller tug of moon gravity.

It slowed down as it climbed, but the speed was calculated as ample to achieve a solar orbit. The scientists figured the artificial planet will go into an orbit slightly larger and more enlongated than the earth's path around the sun, but take about the same time — a year — for a complete orbit.

Cat Lovers Give Arthur the Bird

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Arthur Godfrey raised the dander of cat owners Tuesday by complaining to his nationwide radio audience that cats were killing song birds and quail on his farm.

He brought the matter up by announcing the American Feline Society had sent him a letter addressed "Dear Friend of Cats" and asking him to join, despite several public complaints he had made about cats dining on his quail.

"This is a canard, to begin with," Godfrey said. "I want you to know I am no friend of cats. But I've got nothing against cats at all, except I don't want to catch them wandering around in our bird covers looking for quail."

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline Society, said his telephone began ringing immediately after the show and never stopped all day. Every call, he said, was a vigorous protest against Godfrey's charge.

"Mr. Godfrey hit a sensitive nerve when he alleged that cats are destroying song birds and covies of quail on his farm," Kendell declared. "It is not so, and we have considerable statistics to disprove Mr. Godfrey's statement."

Kendell cited a scientific report made on the examination of the contents of the stomachs of 193 cats killed in highway accidents in 1955. This report showed that the cats had consumed mice, rabbits, rats, table scraps, turtles, fish, pork, grasshoppers, chickens, grass, herbs and other matter, he said, but not one single bird.

"In all probability," Kendell said, "only man kills for sport while an animal kills generally only for food or out of fear."

Kendell claimed that no cat can move fast enough to capture an adult, healthy bird. All birds have such keen vision that it would be impossible for a cat to strike one down, even from behind, he said.

Beach Looks To Its Past For Future

Blvd. also was developed first as a key site for hotels and commercial buildings in the 1920s. It, too, has been rapidly losing out to newer sections in the mushrooming city.

Today, though, nearly every hotel along the Biscayne strip — the McAllister, the Columbus, the Colonial, etc. — has had its face lifted, re-lifted or even veiled entirely with a new exterior in the last few years. New buildings are going up as well. And now being finished is a complete overhaul of the Everglades Hotel, Miami's largest. Says its owner, Vaughan B. Connelly, who is pouring millions into the improvements; "Without this rebuilding, this area would be rushing headlong for ruin, but with it, we'll force an upgrading throughout the region to meet our competition. The whole section will be reinvigorated."

These are just two illustrations; I could submit many more. For in 30 years, this city has gone through cycles that usually aren't covered by cities in a century or more.

First came the feverish, speculative development of the '20s — a boom killed by the land crash later in that decade.

Then came this dazzling decade of the '50s — with its new skyscraper hotels year after year, its lush nightclubs, worldwide publicity.

Now comes the third phase and rebuilding of areas settled so short a time ago — a pioneering all over again.

Miami Beach truly is a city of fantasy. Here, even time has different dimensions, and the past becomes the future under our eyes.

Headley Refuses To Resign

"constant stream" of people is urging him not to resign. His vacancy could be filled by a man picked by the new majority.

Evans, in the meantime, reported that he already has received two job offers in the wake of his surprise firing Monday.

He said he would consider neither immediately.

One reportedly is from St. Petersburg, now looking for a man to replace Ross Windom, who resigned his $23,000-a-year city manager's job Jan. 1. Evans is said to have been offered $25,000, which is what he was making here.

"I'm not going to do anything," said Evans, "until I can get in an old rocking chair, prop my feet up and rest awhile."

Losing his Miami job, he said, "was like having a big block of lead taken from my shoulders."

City commissioners can't fire Headley without formal charges, as they did Evans, because the Police Chief is not a department head. He merely heads the Police Division, which is part of the Public Safety Department.

Heading this department is supposed to be a public safety director. But this job was held by Evans, serving simultaneously as city manager.

The city charter decrees and court tests have confirmed that the police chief can be suspended by the city manager, for one of these reasons:

Incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, failure to obey orders given by proper authority or for any other just and reasonable cause.

Then the charges must be aired by the city commission. And their judgment can be challenged all the way to the state supreme court.

There was talk around city hall about appointing a separate public safety director who would not double as city manager and who could tell Headley how to run his department.

But not even Mayor High was ready to comment publicly on the possibility.

City department heads considered on shaky ground because of Mayor High's sudden rise to power were still working at their jobs Tuesday. And there was less talk about head rolling.

Willard told department heads at a get acquainted meeting Tuesday afternoon that he has no changes of personnel in mind.

But he warned them against going over the head of the city manager and making direct approaches to the city commissioners about anything.

"I will be conferring continually with County Manager (O. W.) Campbell," he said, "on each municipal service that will be affected by Metro."

His first task will be to work out an orderly transfer of city traffic cases to Metro court.

Evans is scheduled to leave his rocking chair Wednesday to make a speech to Miami Rotarians, who scheduled the speech before the fateful Monday city commission meeting. He will speak on "Progress in Our City."

National Summary

Sunny mild weather across the southern half of the country produced 50 degree readings from Nevada to Kansas and 70s in Florida by noon and raised the mercury to 80 degrees at Thermal, California in mid forenoon. Most of the nation's precipitation was associated with cool air flowing across the Midwest into the Appalachians and cooling Pacific winds urged inland by high pressure off the Northwest coast.

Chilly 20 and 30 degree temperature ranges and numerous snow flurries were common through low pressure circulation extending from Canada across the Great Lakes region and a few showers drifted through the Ohio Valley. A narrow band of rain and snow stretched from New York state into Georgia and Alabama marking the cold front approaching sunny 50 and 60 degree warmth in the mid and south Atlantic states. Some rain reached into western sections of the Carolinas and Virginia by early afternoon and snow was noted in the hills as far south as Tennessee. By tomorrow cooler air will restore generally fair weather through he east and develop showers into southern Florida.

EVERGLADES—A $1,000 a year tax reduction, asked by Humble Oil Corp., has posed a knotty problem of law for Collier County.

The problem is created because Collier has the only producing oil field in Florida and, consequently, there have been no court rulings on oil field tax law.

Robert L. Gates, assistant tax commissioner for Humble, pointed out the problem to the County Commission Tuesday, when he suggested the firm not be taxed for well casing and production equipment.

He said a 1947 law, setting up a five per cent gross severance tax on oil fields, declared land ad valorem taxes shouldn't be raised because of the presence of oil and gas machinery.

Gates said Humble, in 1945, agreed to ad valorem taxes on its equipment, but did not, until recently, realize the law had been changed.

He admitted the 1947 law raised the legal question of whether the Legislature had removed the county's right to levy ad valorem taxes.

Harold S. Smith, county attorney, said a final decision might have to be made by the State Supreme Court. He will discuss the matter with Gates and Humble attorneys.

Humble's 11-well field pumps about 60 barrels, or 1,200 gallons, a day, and yields about a million dollars a year, according to figures cited in the discussion.

The company leases the land on which the wells are situated and does not own it. The field is at Sunnyland.

Charter Attorney Selected

Herald Bureau

NAPLES — Employment of Thomas J. Anderson of Miami as attorney for the new city charter was decided Monday night by the drafting committee of the Citizen's Charter Committee.

The group named Pitt Orick as chairman, Thad Moss vice chairman, and Harold Jester secretary-treasurer. The three will also act as the executive committee.

Committee members will go over details of a proposed charter, prepared by Kirby Smith, former city attorney, with the aid of Morgan, Altemus and Barrs, accountants.

A second meeting of the group will be held at 8 p.m. Thursday at City Hall.

Minutes of each meeting will be summarized for information of the CCC review committee, the group decided.

'Festival of Flowers' Is Scheduled Today

FORT PIERCE — "Festival of Flowers," the annual spring flower show of the St. Lucie County Federation of Garden Circles, will be held this afternoon, the climax of many months of work.

Mrs. D. C. Huskey is chairman of the show, and Mrs. Brian McCarty is co-chairman. This year the federation selected the March date so the show could be part of the Sandy Shoes Festival program.

This is a flower placement show, and 84 artistic arrangements will be displayed in five homes. The combined program and ticket includes a map so visitors can find the home locations easily. The homes will be open for the show from 1 to 5 p.m.

The Garden Center will house the horticulture section of the show, plus junior exhibits, and bird and conservation displays. The Garden Center will be open from 1 to 9 p.m.

Homes to be open for the show include those of Mr. and Mrs. Douglas Mullins, Dr. and Mrs. Henry Branca, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wilson, Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Haughton, and Mrs. Charles Harmon.

The artistic arrangement and corsage section of the show is open to Garden Circle members only, but anyone may enter plants in the horticulture display. Plants for the horticultural competition will be accepted up to 10 a.m. Wednesday morning at the Garden Center.

Girl Scouts Get Space in Park

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — Girl Scout councils at Sarasota and Winter Haven will be granted building space of five to 10 acres each for lodges at Myakka River State Park, the Florida Board of Parks and Historic Memorials decided Tuesday.

From Swedish Ship

American Home Shown Navy Men

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — President Eisenhower's "person-to-person" program got a local application Tuesday night, when members of the Navy League here were hosts at their homes to some 50 officers and midshipmen from the Swedish naval training ship, Alvsnabben.

Mostly in pairs, the Scandinavian Navy men were invited to dine and share a typical evening at an American home.

"The idea is to follow the national plan of bringing these men into our homes, so they may learn more about American life and we can learn more about their countries," Aquilino Lopez Jr., Navy League president, said.

President Eisenhower has appealed for a "person-to-person" relationship among nations as a means toward better international understanding.

The Swedish midshipmen and officers are here for a short visit as part of a five-month's training cruise. They are scheduled to leave today.

About 20 families took part in the show of hospitality to the foreign visitors Tuesday night.

Besides Lopez, other hosts were Howard Wilson, Robert Youmans, Edwin Trevor, Claude Spear, Neim Knowles, Paul Sher.

James Flenner, Helario Ramos, Norman Wood, Clayton Papy, A. A. Oakley, Robert Sauer, Paul Sawyer, Walter Price, O. A. Sandquist, Lt. William Boyd, Dr. A. J. Hayes, and Dr. J. L. Lester Jr.

Bean Case Echoes In Court Act

Herald Bureau

EVERGLADES — Echoes of the Leonard Bean case of three years ago sounded in Circuit Court here Monday when Judge John D. Justice of Sarasota forfeited the $1,000 cash bond of Mrs. Naomi Bean, the missing contractor's wife.

Mrs. Bean posted the bond when she was arrested on a charge of issuing a $108 worthless check to Naples Ready-Mix, Jan. 1, 1956. She had been brought here from Peru, Ind., and left again after her release from jail on bond.

Her husband is reported to have gone to Lima, Peru, about that time. Bean left unfinished or mortgaged construction projects valued at about $300,000 whne he disappeared.

The owners, in many cases, were forced to pay mechanics' and material liens almost equal the sums they had already paid Bean for the jobs, which made their buildings cost almost double the contract price.

Naples recently had another reminder of Bean, when it was discovered that, in building a Tamiami Trail building at Central Ave., he had placed the septic tank drain field under the city alley.

Part of the field had to be removed to allow other work to be carried out.

In the same session of Circuit Court, Judge Justice postponed the incest trial of Gerald Chesser, who pleaded innocent, and innocent by reason of insanity.

Chesser will be examined by Dr. Michael Gilbert and Dr. J. J. Goodman of Miami.

Girl Accuses Sailor, 18

The girl signed a complaint, accusing Gary D. Kammerude, stationed at the Naval Annex, the sheriff's office reported. The incident took place, she told officers, Saturday.

Kammerude's bond was set at $500 by Peace Justice Roy Hamlin. He was released from the county jail in custody of Naval authorities.

Stakeout Nets Suspect In Holdups

TAMPA — (UPI) — FBI agents arrested Thorne Kling, 41, Tuesday on a warrant charging him in a $25,000 Los Angeles robbery. The FBI in Los Angeles said Kling was involved last year in a plot to kidnap the wife of crooner Bing Crosby.

Lee O. Teague, agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said agents were waiting for Kling when he returned to his trailer home early Tuesday.

Teague said Kling is also wanted in connection with a series of other robberies in the Los Angeles area.

Teague said the FBI received a tip Kling might be living in a trailer park and conducted a canvas of all trailer parks in the area. Agents received a description of a man living in one of the parks which matched Kling's.

Review Refused

WASHINGTON — (AP) — The Supreme Court has refused to review a decision holding unconstitutional a Tallahassee, Fla., city license tax on photographers when applied to traveling commercial photographers from other states. The order Monday cited no previous decision and gave no other explanation.

NEW CLERK of the Collier County Circuit Court is Mrs. Margaret T. Scott of Everglades. She was named by Gov. LeRoy Collins to serve the unexpired term of her husband, the late Ed Scott, who held the post for many years.

Accident Halts Trail Traffic

Naples Bureau

NAPLES — One highway accident leads to another.

A relatively minor auto-truck accident Monday night caused another mishap Tuesday noon, which tied up Tamiami Trail traffic for several hours, Florida Highway Patrolmen reported.

Monday night, Trooper Ed Crawford reported, an auto, driven by Alvin B. Weeks of Goodland, hooked the bumper of a heavy truck on the Tamiami Trail, east of Naples.

The car flipped over and into a ditch, but Weeks, and his wife who was a passenger in the car, escaped injury. The truck, driven by Arthur W. Hoffman, 37, of Miami, was scarcely jolted by the crash.

But at noon Tuesday a tire blew out on the heavy dump truck while it was crossing the Palm Hammock bridge on the Trail. It turned over, smashing a bridge railing and spilling its load of rock.

Traffic was limited to a single lane for four hours while the truck and its load of rock were moved.

Trooper Elmer Nieberg said a front spring hanger of the truck had been broken by the Monday night mishap and the patrol had told Hoffman not to use it until repairs had been made.

The broken hanger had scraped rubber off a front tire until the tire was so weakened it blew out.

As a result of the two mishaps Weeks is charged with failing to heed a signal and Hoffman with operating faulty equipment.

Meet Called

NAPLES — The first county-wide meeting of Civil Defense will be held at 8 p.m. today at City Hall. Walter Donovan, Collier County Civil Defense director, asked all CD participants to attend. A plan for emergencies was recently adopted, and will be discussed.

Pay Raise Plea Stirs Up a Fuss

EVERGLADES — The proposal to increase pay of some Collier County officials to $9,000 a year was broadened Tuesday to include the sheriff and school superintendent — but also received some opposition from the County Commission.

"I'm opposed to the proposal, said Dick Goodlette. "It should have been brought to the County Commission because we're directly concerned. Any increase comes from excess fees, and means we have to levy more taxes to make it up."

Goodlette called on other commissioners to oppose the raises because it doesn't compare with other counties of Collier's size.

The Lee County pay scale is $8,500. Collier officials first asked for $10,000, instead of the $7,500 salaries they now get.

A legal advertisement of the proposal listed those seeking the raise as the tax collector, assessor, clerk, judge, sheriff, and school superintendent.

The last two were not on the original list, given Rep. J. L. Walker and Sen. Travis Gresham at a public hearing on proposed legislation.

Goodlette said the pay raise had not been brought before the commission, but Chairman W. J. Janes said there had "been talk a long time ago." Members agreed Tax Collector A. P. Ayers and School Superintendent Bill Reynolds had "pushed the salary" question.

Reynolds, at $7,500, received less than Dr. Paul P. Williams, Naples supervising principal, who is paid $8,500 a year.

The superintendent's pay was $6,000 until 1957.

"I don't care if the officials make $40,000," said Goodlette, "if they submit it to a referendum.

The board also tabled until next week a protest from Oley Hancock of Immokalee that an act, fixing his salary as justice of the peace at $7,500 or less "as the commission may decide" would be "morally wrong" because it would obligate other peace justices in the state.

Commissioners learned from Mrs. L. D. Iles, deputy supervisor of registration, that the county seat movement petition now has the names of 1,875 qualified voters on it, but it will be at least next week before she can say how many taxpaying voters there are.

The petition requires signatures of a third of taxpaying voters, not freeholders.

Financing Plan To Be Discussed

By HARRY CAICEDO
Key West Bureau Chief

KEY WEST—Even though the thunder of the collapse of the municipal improvement program was still echoing, a cautious feeling of optimism that some of the proposed projects may still be built appeared Tuesday.

The program prepared by the city administration, pegged to a multi-million dollar revenue bond issue, was flattened Monday. The City Commission repealed the utility tax, adopted to guarantee payment of the bonds.

The most determined foes of the bond issue plan admitted the door is open to discuss alternative proposals which would give this community some sorely needed improvements.

The end of the program, presented by the city board four months ago, came Monday night when the City Commission, harassed by public pressure and burdened with lawsuits, moved to repeal the 10 per cent utility tax and the bond issue ordinances.

The tax and the $2,750,000 bond issue were the backbone of the plan to build a new city hall, auditorium, marina and several other improvements.

Most observers saw the utility tax repeal as the only possible commission course under the circumstances.

"Although this repeal is three months too late — we pleaded with them to do this then — I have hopes that now we can all sit down and talk about this thing intelligently and salvage some of the improvement program," said Melvin Levitt, president of the Monroe County Taxpayers Association, which strongly opposed the plan.

Departure point for possible features of the program which might still be put into effect was contained in a alternate improvement proposal, submitted to the city by the Key West Chamber of Commerce.

Instead of a bond issue for $2,750,000 payable over 33 years, as provided in the junked plan, the chamber suggested a five-year program with limited goals, still backed by a utility tax.

Robert Dion, a chamber director, expressed himself "encouraged' at the City Commission's announced intention to meet with chamber officials and other civic leaders to discuss the proposal.

Paul Sher, former chamber president and an outspoken critic of the original improvement program, had this to say:

"I'm now convinced a utility tax, on a limited basis, is the only way we're going to pay for improvements in this city."

The city-chamber discussion on the alternate program, in which other interested groups will participate is scheduled for March 11 — during the two-week lull between first and second readings of the ordinance repealing the tax and bond ordinances.

Actually, the tax repeal does not become effective until the second and final reading scheduled for March 16.

Meanwhile, the 10 per cent levy on all telephone, electricity and gas bills here will still be collected, City Attorney Hilary Albury advised.

If the chamber's proposal, or some other suggestion, requiring the financial support of the tax, wins support, the repeal measure may be turned down at that second reading.

Utility Tax Is Included In New Idea

Herald Bureau

KEY WEST — At the same time the city commission gave the axe to its battle-torn municipal improvement program the Key West Chamber of Commerce advanced an alternate proposal, shown of some of the objectionable features of the original plan.

The chamber's idea, already before the commission for consideration, also calls for a utility tax, but drops out the long-term bond indebtedness.

Instead, the Chamber suggests a five-year program, with the utility tax pledged for a loan to pay for certain specific improvements.

As starters, the chamber proposes expansion of the nine-hole city golf course to 18 holes, and a marina at Garrison Bight.

Specified is that all the money from the tax, except $7,500 a month, earmarked for scavenger service, go to paying the principal and interest.

It also calls for an "on or before" clause in the loan negotiation so "if the income from the tax is larger than anticipated, the debt could be paid that much faster."

The outline of the chamber's proposal points out that, if the five-year plan proves satisfactory, it can be renewed to provide other specific improvements.

A meeting of the City Commission, chamber officials and others interested to discuss the proposal has been set for March 11.

Citrus Law Next Week?

LAKELAND —(UPI)— Former Congressman J. Hardin Peterson Sr., counsel for interests seeking a new law to permit color to be added to oranges, said Tuesday there is a good chance the legislation will be passed next week.

The bill was held up in the House Monday when the House Commerce Committee, which has approved the measure, reported out the original version of the bill, not the one amended by the Senate.

But Peterson said Tuesday it appeared that supporters of the bill would be successful at getting the Rules Committee to permit the bill to come up for a vote in the house next week.

Starting Date Set on Bridge

TALLAHASSEE — Construction of a 180-foot long bridge on Roosevelt Blvd. in Key West is slated to start on March 14, Joe Grotegut, chairman of the State Road Board, said Tuesday.

The project is to be completed in 225 working days. It includes construction of the bridge, bulkheads, and approaches. The contract, for $216,528, was awarded to Powell Brothers, Inc., of Fort Lauderdale.

JACKSONVILLE — (AP) — The State Board of Health said Tuesday cancer seminars for physicians would be held March 10 in Pensacola; March 11 in Panama City; March 12 in Live Oak and March 13 at St. Augustine.

The board said seminars for nurses to increase their efficiency in taking care of victims of stroke would be held March 6 at Pensacola; March 11 at Tampa; March 13 at Miami; March 16 at West Palm Beach; March 18 at Orlando and March 20 at Jacksonville.

Flower Shows, Science Fair on March Agenda

By EDITH E. VOSS
Herald Correspondent

MRS. VOSS

AROUND MISSILE COUNTRY (Brevard County)—As this is written we can see an interesting looking calendar for the month already. The sun obliged for a short while after several days of rain so we'd say the spring season is off to a good start.

The customary and expected flower shows and fashion shows will naturally take up several of the March days. County-wide Science Fairs and county-wide presentations of another Brevard Light Opera Association musical show will help round out an interesting calendar.

Along the gardening line (Cocoa, Titusville and Melbourne Garden Club flower shows have already been mentioned in previous columns) we noted a new idea in a little squib sent us from Melbourne. Ever hear of adopting a tree? Neither have we, but members of the South Beach Garden Club have decided to do just that to the tune of three trees to each of the 25 members.

These will be trees to be planted by the county in Spessard Holland Park on the beach. The club, with the cooperation of the South Brevard Beaches Chamber of Commerce, is also sponsoring four more picnic units in the park area.

Church to Float Up the River

I DARESAY none of us really expect to see any one walking on water within our lifetime. We'll have to be satisfied with Bible stories with this theme. If you suddenly see a church floating on the Indian River one of these days, don't think you've flipped your lid. It'll be true.

It seems there's a church building available at Fort Pierce which a group in Brevard County is considering buying. Floating the building up the river would be the most feasible way of transporting from one spot to the other.

The countywide dinner scheduled by Home Demonstration Clubs for April 1 at the Brevard Agricultural Center in Cocoa sounds like a sound method of raising funds to make a scholarship loan available to a deserving student or students each year.

Preference will naturally be given 4-H members, since these clubs are sort of sponsored by the HD clubs and all come under the guiding hand of the county agent and county HD club agent. Each HD club in the county will participate in the dinner.

The home of Mrs. William Ross, Ave. A. and Riverside Dr., Melbourne Beach, will be the setting for the annual silver tea and reception for officials of the Children's Home Society this Friday from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Pauline West and Mrs. Mayme Winter of Jacksonville will be the honor guests. The public is invited.

Who Is 'Best Dressed Woman'?

"FASHIONS ON BROADWAY," theme of the annual show sponsored by the Cocoa Junior Women's Club, will be enhanced by a musical background of organ melodies from Broadway shows this year. March 13 is the date set for the show; Cocoa High School the place.

Mrs. J. C. Wegendt and Mrs. Robert Ginn are co-chairmen. Students of the Treleven School of Dance will be seen in dance numbers during show interludes. Kay Wright will serve as fashion moderator.

Proceeds from the show, which always plays to a packed house, will be divided between three of the sponsoring club's projects: Teen Town, Civil Defense and Wuesthoff Memorial Hospital.

New angle in this year's show will be the selecting of the ten best dressed women in the Central Brevard area. Clubs have been asked to nominate a member for the coveted "best dressed" title and the ten chosen by fashion experts will be announced at the style show.

One week from today, at the regular meeting of the South Brevard Republican Womens Club, Mrs. Edith Lacey, research specialist for the South Brevard League of Women Voters, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Lacey will report on the workings of the County Health Department. Meeting will be held at 11 a.m. at the Melbourne Beach Women's Club.

LaRoches Are Wed for 50 Years

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. LaRoche of Courtenay, North Merritt Island, on their 50th wedding anniversary. Considering that the LaRoche clan was one of the first to settle in Brevard County, it is no surprise to find that this name in the Central Brevard telephone directory out-numbers the supposedly more common names such as Jones and Smith.

Adding our congratulations to those of their relatives alone would make quite a long list of well wishers. Many friends called during the day and a reception was held for the honor guests with many long-time friends calling to extend best wishes.

Science Fairs in Brevard County last year won considerable recognition. They were a fairly new innovation on the extra-curricular schedules of schools of the county. This year's fair, which will extend from March 16 to 21, will have the full cooperation of schools throughout the county.

The regional fair, to be held March 28, in the Melbourne High School gym, will show some of the best entries on the local level. Twenty-six of the 250 exhibits in the state science fair will also be from Brevard County. All local fairs will be during the evenings of March 16-19.

March 16: Riverview Elementary, Rockledge Elementary, Merritt Island Elementary and Melbourne Airport Schools. March 17: Titusville Primary and Melbourne Elementary. March 18: Cocoa Beach Elementary and Indialantic Elementary. March 19: Eau Gallie Elementary and Cocoa Junior High. Other schools will have schedules set this week.

Want to Join 'Hit the Deck'

THERE'S STILL TIME to join hands with the Brevard Light Opera Association if you're interested in participating in the forthcoming production, "Hit The Deck." Performances are set for March 20-21 in Melbourne; March 27-28 in Cocoa; and April 4 in Titusville.

If you'd like to sing in the chorus or help with stage settings, lighting, costumes or makeup, you're most welcome to contact this active group at the Eau Gallie Civic Center any Monday evening at 8:30. Otherwise phone NEwton 6-7256 in Cocoa or AL 4-3757 in Eau Gallie after 6 p.m. any day..

Chorus is practicing on such well known melodies as "Through The Years," "Sometimes I'm Happy," "Time on My Hands" and "Hallelujah."

Sounds like fun. Incidentally, for obvious reasons, the association would still like to locate some more Navy uniforms ex-service personnel may have around in moth balls. Call one of the above numbers if you can help out.

Cotton Talks Slated in PB

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — (UPI) — Three U. S. Senators will go before the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute at the organization's annual convention in Palm Beach, Fla., March 19-21.

The main speakers March 21 will be Sen. Norris Cotton (R., N.M.) and Sen. Strom Thurmond (D., S.C.), both members of a Senate subcommittee which investigated the problems of the textile industry in relation to government policy and action.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan (D., N. C.) will introduce both speakers. Jordan is a textile manufacturer.

Everyone Now Says That Word

WEST PALM BEACH — There's that word word again—arboretum.

Tis time, though, Palm Beach County Commissioners knew how to pronounce it. (the same word stymied them several weeks back at a conference meeting.)

But Monday when Arbortum Island came up for discussion they knew what the word was all about. And even went along with it.

They approved, in principle, the proposal of Lake Osborne Estates Civic Association to develop Arboretum Island off Lake Osborne Blvd., into a recreational beauty spot.

Plans for the island include a picnic area, a site for the civic association's community building, a playground — and, of course, an arboretum — that's loosely, a garden of trees.

Arboretum Island, five acres in area, is owned by the county.

Commissioners also endorsed the planting of trees along Lake Osborne Blvd.

The projects are part of the association-sponsored program to beautify the Lake Osborne area.

Castro Raps Acquittal of 45 Batistans

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday denounced a Santiago tribunal's acquittal of 45 airmen of mass murder charges as "a great error" and a service to ex-Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Prosecutor Lt. Antonio Cejas already has appealed the verdict and the airmen are in jail pending a new trial to be held in a few days before another tribunal.

Castro said in a statement published by Revolucion, organ of the revolutionary government, that the prosecution has as much right of appeal as the defense "if the sentence is not just."

Demonstrators ranged through Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, shouting protests against the acquittal. The protests abated after announcement of the prosecution's appeal.

The court held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of Batista's campaign against Castro.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente Province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

Miramar Water Hike Stirs Fuss

More Broward News On 1B, 2B, 8A, 10C

By FRAN LASLIE
Herald Staff Writer

MIRAMAR — A handful of angry residents marched on City Hall Tuesday to protest a hike in utility rates that will almost double the cost of water services.

Larry Duane, city clerk, said about 10 persons, some waving letters from Miramar Utilities Inc., demanded a special City Council meeting.

"They wanted to know what right, if any, the company had to raise rates without consulting the council," Duane said.

Robert W. Gordon, president of Miramar Utilities, which is owned by Miramar Corp., developers of the community said: "We were losing money on the present rates. It is not a profitable operation as it is. Even with the increase in rates it will not bring us any high profit."

By nightfall, ire over letters announcing new rates had spread across town. Councilman P. D. Kennedy Jr. said he received many protests but had not been asked about a special meeting.

Duane said before a meeting could be called "we will have to determine what rights we have. We will have to first study the franchise which is filed in Fort Lauderdale."

Gordon said he had not anticipated any objection to the hike. He said the franchise also serves as a source of revenue for the city.

The franchise was granted by the council which served until last January. Gordon was then mayor, and H. J. Siegel, vice president of Miramar Utilities, was council president.

"I don't believe we have to consult the City Council under the wording of the franchise," Gordon said.

The new rates, effective April 3, will increase sewage and water costs about 42 per cent for one-bath homes, and about 40 per cent for two-bath homes.

Carl Elliot, one of the homeowners, said his water bill now averages $2.67 per month, and will run $4.10 under the new rates.

"The people were especially angry because they were not informed of the change before the council meeting Monday," Duane said. The letters which arrived Tuesday were a "definite surprise," he said.

Civic Projects, an organization made up of representatives of all organizations in the city, will discuss the rate change at a meeting Wednesday night.

Death Answers Their Question

The bridge caved in.

Charles Sheppard was pitched into the Little Bitter Root River and drowned. The truck plunged into the river and Dennis Harrington spent 90 harrowing minutes atop it before being rescued.

Lou Costello
... heart attack fatal

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

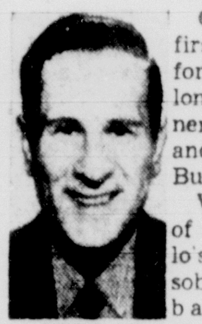
BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Actor Lou Costello, 53, died Tuesday of a heart attack in a Beverly Hills hospital.

The veteran comedian suffered a heart attack a week ago and seemed to be improving, his manager, Eddie Sherman, said.

However, Costello suffered another attack Tuesday, which was fatal.

Sherman said Costello's wife, Ann, was visiting him and left just before he died at 6:55 p.m. Miami time.

He said the attack a week ago was followed by a blood clot.



ABBOTT

One of the first to be informed was his long-time partner in comedy and close friend, Bud Abbott.

When told of Costello's death, he sobbed and in a barely understandable voice said — "I can't talk now, call me back later please.

"I was sitting here watching re-runs of our old TV show," Abbott cried. "We were doing the 'Who's on First' bit. And I was laughing my head off. Then

Embassy Staff Flees Rioters

La PAZ, Bolivia — (AP) — The U.S. embassy staff here went into hiding Tuesday to escape demonstrations set off by a Time Magazine article that enraged Bolivians. The Bolivian government itself was harassed by a tin miners' strike.

The embassy personnel were reported to have slipped out under guard and taken refuge near the seething two-mile-high capital.

The whereabouts of the embassy staff was kept secret. The embassy phone went unanswered.

Bolivian officials and businessmen paraded late in the day past the Government Palace in a new demonstration against the Time Magazine article. The article quotes a member of the U. S. embassy as suggesting the country solve its troubles by being split up among its neighbors.

Tin miners, also a target of the article that offended Bolivia's national pride, went on strike for higher pay, paralyzing the government-owned mines, backbone of Bolivia's faltering economy. The workers walked out at the end of their 10-day deadline for the government to meet pay demands.

Capital police were out in force to head off any violence such as marked Monday's wild anti-American demonstrations. Rioters burned an American flag in front of the U.S. Embassy and stoned the building.

The new demonstration, termed a civic parade, included top officials, military leaders, veterans and businessmen. All government and private offices closed for the demonstration.

A 15-year-old boy was killed in Monday's outburst but no U.S. citizens were reported molested.

(In Washington, the State Department told the Bolivian ambassador it expects his nation "to take all possible measures to safeguard the lives" of an estimated 1,800 Americans in Bolivia. The staff of the embassy in LaPaz has moved to the outskirts of the city "for better protection by the Bolivian army," the State Department said. One official said the action was taken because of the possibility of additional rioting.)

President Hernan Siles made a special effort to stem the tide of anti-American feeling by saying that U.S. officials had denied the statement in Time that touched off Monday's outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official. It said he made the following assertion as a "wisecrack":

"The only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition.

Issues of Time were burned by mobs in front of the embassy as windows were broken. Offices of the U.S. Information Center were broken into and books and magazines destroyed.

The Bolivian government protested the article both in La Paz and Washington.

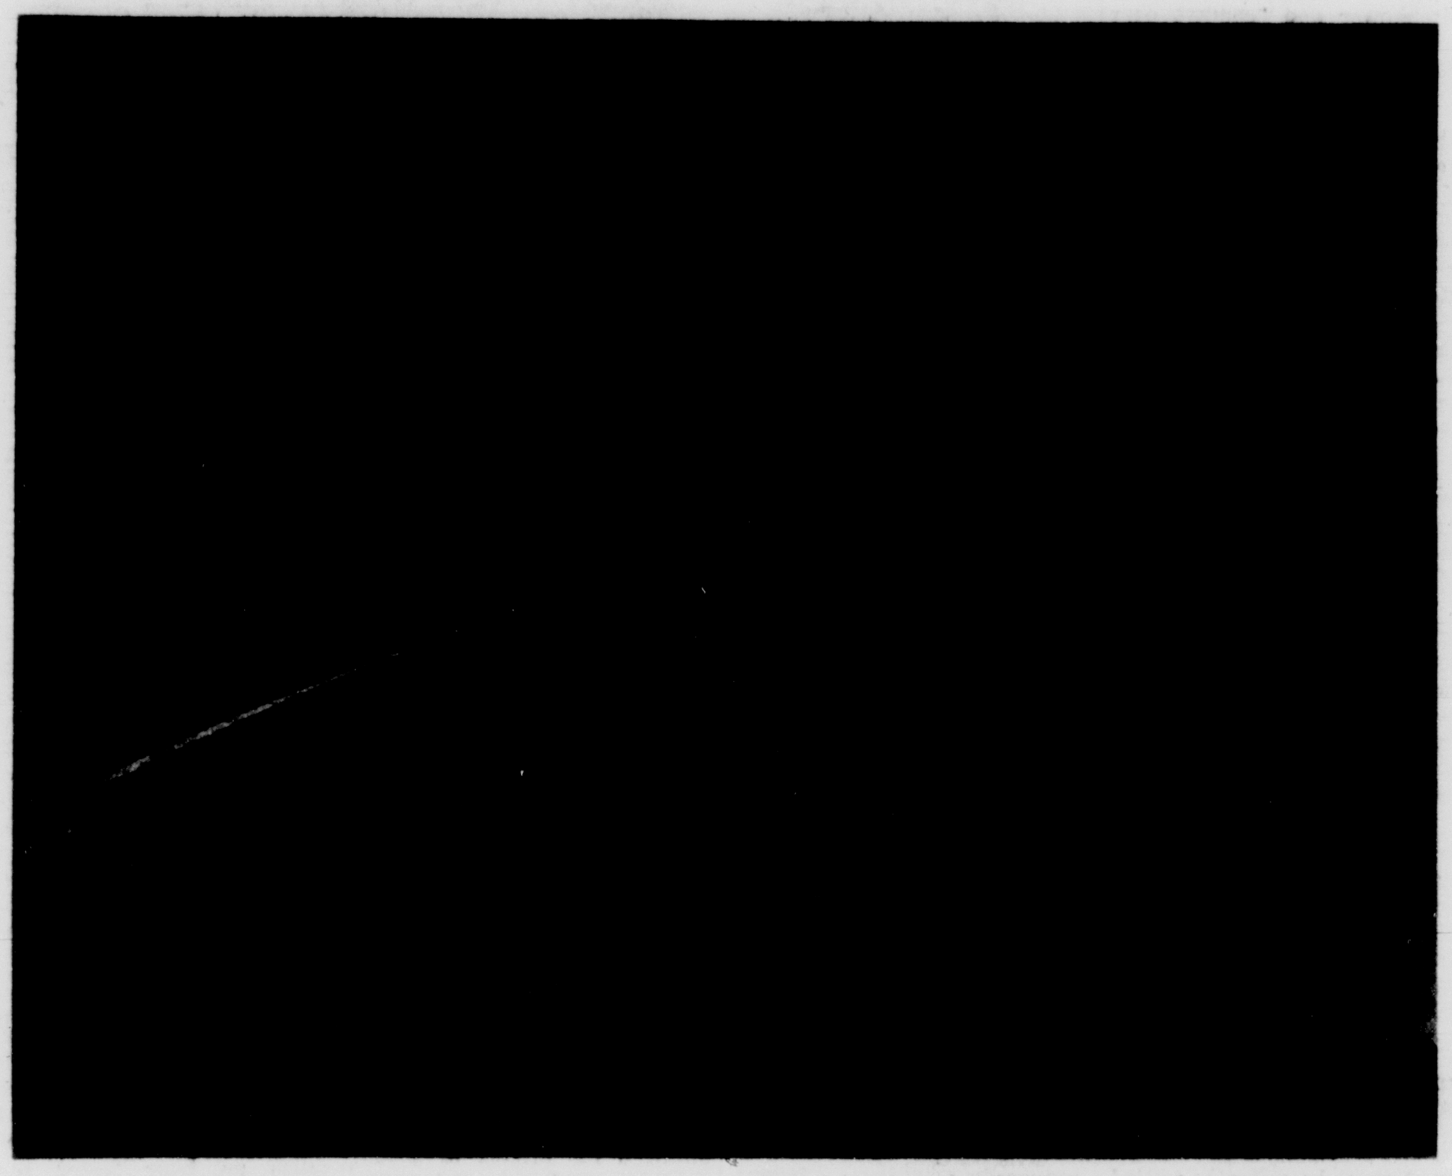
Pioneer Nearing Moon In Its Run for the Sun



Moonshot Over Miami

This dramatic photograph of Pioneer IV's flight toward the sun was taken from Homestead moments after the launching Tuesday by Dallas Espenschied, a Hartsville, Ohio, photographer. Snapped at 12:12 A.M., the photo shows 30 seconds of the rocket's life as it sped southeast toward its rendezvous in space. Stars are blurred as a result of the earth's rotation during the exposure. Espenschied made the picture with a Speed Graphic with Aero-Ektar lens wide open at f2.5. Espenschied, a member of two photo-tracking and moonwatch teams in Ohio, has photographed three satellites in flight, but this is his first shot of a launching.

Expected to Join 'Lunik' in Orbit

Tough to Hit Moon, 6B
Space Man Problem, 7A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — America's gold-plated Pioneer IV satellite climbed toward a brief rendezvous with the moon Tuesday and was confidently expected to join Russia's Lunik in an orbit around the sun.

Opening a new frontier in U. S. space exploration, the pint-sized artificial planet was 118,852 miles from the earth at 5 p.m. Miami time and had far outstripped the previous two American moon probes. It was clocking 5,675 miles an hour in its race to space.

The only man-made object that had climbed higher was Russia's heavier Lunik. The Soviets said Lunik actually achieved a solar orbit and U.S. scientists generally credit the claim.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the 13.4 pound Pioneer is on a track that will make it a satellite of the sun. Only a collision with a meteorite can stop it, they said.

The vehicle, gold-plated so the shell would act as a radio antenna, is expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon at 2 p.m. today. Its distance then will be 236,100 miles from the earth.

Then it is expected to continue its flight to join the 3,245-pound Lunik as a man-made planet.

President Eisenhower was quick to praise the successful team that sent Pioneer IV skyward. He sent NASA Director T. Keith Glennan "warm congratulations" for a "splendid achievement" that "marks yet another major step in scientific space exploration."

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, followed up with a forecast that the U.S. should put the first man "Voyager" into space within 10 to 12 years. He said the Pioneer's flight will provide "more grist for the mill" in finding out how it can be done.

"This also puts us very close to being in the same league with the Russians," he said, "— if what they say about their moon shoot is true."

"Everything we put up in space now brings us nearer to the day when we will have the first man Voyager there," he said.

The Pioneer roared off the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday atop a 60-ton four-stage Juno II Army rocket.

The launching went off without a hitch. But scientists noted a deviation in the course that will take the satellite farther from the moon on its outward journey than they planned.

New Cold Pushing Into State

A new cold front pushing into North Florida may bring showers and a bit cooler weather to Miami late today.

But the Weather Bureau said Tuesday that even if it does get chilly again tonight, it won't be bad.

The chill from a cold front that drifted over South Florida during the weekend was blown off Tuesday by south and southeasterly winds. Temperatures during the day pushed well into the 70s after Tuesday morning lows ranging from 42 at South Miami to 52 at Miami Beach.

It wasn't expected to go below 60 in the Miami area Tuesday night, and more warm temperatures were forecast for today. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said weathermen weren't sure how much the new cold front would affect Miami later in the day and tonight.

In North Florida, temperatures Tuesday morning hit a low of 34 at Ocala, then warmed up to the 70s during the day. Tonight and Thursday morning, the Weather Bureau said, temperatures might be "near the danger point" in the northern part of the state because of the new front.

Jobs Offered Evans

Headley Holds On: 'I Won't Resign'

By JOHN MORTON
AND JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writers

Headley declared almost gleefully:

"I won't resign."

And neither the new city manager, Ira Willard, nor the city commission can fire him outright without formal charges, a public hearing and a court fight.

Often a target of city commissioners, Headley has held on to the top job in the city police division for 10 years.

After Monday's surprise shakeup Mayor Robert King High promised "a lot of changes in the old brass at the police department."

He said he expected Headley to resign.

"So the mayor wants to get rid of me?" asked Headley. "Well, I'll go along with him on the same thing. I would like to get rid of him."

The youthful mayor led a lone attack against Evans and Headley for more than a year. Then Monday he suddenly found support from Commissioners Otis Shiver and George Dubreuil and the trio immediately fired the city manager.

The action brought a quick verbal resignation from City Commissioner James W. High. But in Tuesday's calm following Monday's uproar there emerged doubt as to whether High's post will be vacated.

High said Tuesday he is "reconsidering" his resignation. The commission had postponed action on it until its formal meeting Wednesday.

"There is a legal question," explained High, "about the resignation I tendered Monday."

It was made verbally and High has not yet put it in writing.

At the time, Assistant City Attorney Jack Rice said no written resignation was necessary.

Later, however, Rice said there was a "vast area of difference" of opinion on a verbal resignation.

Apparently throwing the decision to the commission, Rice added, "the interpretation of Mr. High's resignation will lie with the commission."

High also asserted that a

Suit Hits Levies by Pilots Unit

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Two airline pilots filed suit Tuesday charging that the Air Line Pilots Association officials improperly assessed members to pay benefits to Capital and Eastern Air Lines pilots when they were idled last fall by strikes called by other unions.

The complaint asked that Federal District Court hold the assessments null and void, restrain union officials from fining or expelling members for non-payment, and order credited against future dues any payments that have been made under the assessments.

The suit was filed before Federal District Judge Philip L. Sullivan by James R. Eads of Sepulveda, Calif., a pilot for Trans World Airlines, and Lawrence S. Shapiro of Los Angeles, a pilot for United Air Lines.

It named as defendants Clarence N. Sayen, president of ALPA, and Don J. Smith, union treasurer.

The suit attacked two assessments. One was levied in November, 1958, to pay benefits to pilots of Capital Airlines idled from Oct. 15 to Nov. 19 by a strike called by the International Association of Machinists.

The other assessment, the complaint alleged, was levied by a mail ballot of ALPA directors in December for the benefit of Eastern Air Lines pilots out of work because of strikes called by the IAM and the Flight Engineers International Association.

Bob Hope Confident

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bob Hope entered Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday for examination of his ailing left eye, remarking confidently: "I'm going to be all right."

Dr. Algernon Reese, clinical professor of ophthalmology at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was waiting to examine Hope.

An aide said Hope still was able to play golf, one of his favorite sports, but was limited to nine holes three times a week.

The aide said Hope suffered an eye hemorrhage shortly after his return from an overseas tour of armed forces bases Dec. 29. The aide said the only sign of the hemorrhage was a slight dizziness which comes on with any sudden movement.

New Pioneering Spirit Is Rejuvenating Old Areas

Miami Beach--Where What's Past Is Future

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

It's utterly unthinkable to most hep visitors to Miami Beach at the winter season peak to check into anything except the latest of hotels. Each year since World War II, as new palaces have sprung up literally out of the water, the affluent tourists have leap-frogged northward with the hotels on this most fabulous resort beach in the world. To be fashionable, one has had to be seen in the latest version of a French chateau or Arab harem.

But while by Miami Beach yardsticks the newest is automatically the best, this year on my annual trek to the sun I rebelled.

Back to the comparatively "unfashionable" southern area and into one of Miami Beach's oldest hotels I went. And there, to my delight, I not only rediscovered the charm, the dignity and spaciousness of an "ancient" Miami Beach inn; I also stumbled on an exciting new tale of pioneering.

Coming directly from Louisville, Ky., where businessmen are quibbling over the need for sprucing up structures dating from the 19th century, I still find it hard to believe that in Miami Beach, any luxury hotel over five years is no longer considered in the luxury class, any building over 15 years is "old," any in the 20-30 year group, no matter how grand, is an "antique!"

Nevertheless, this is a fact, as awesome as any other aspect about this place. Although the Roney Plaza, the hotel in which I stayed, would be a showplace in most other resort cities, here it is out of date.

Although it has been filled to capacity during this season of spectacularly good weather, rumors persist that the Roney will be significantly expanded so it can fight the brutal competition from the new marvels. And therein lies the story.

For what is starting to happen here is the rediscovery and rejuvenation of the original Miami Beach. Even as the fickle, fad-conscious tourists concentrate on new areas, astute financiers and businessmen are concentrating on revolutionizing the old.

In Miami Beach, the South Beach was developed first as the prime property in the 1920s but while its location is as superb as ever, the area has been deteriorating rapidly. Now, though, the largest construction venture in the entire state of Florida — a 1,600-room, 500-unit apartment building — is going up in this section, and business leaders believe this will spark a restoration of the South Shore as a region for permanent residents.

Says Nathan S. Gumenick, builder of the Southgate: "We will revive the South Beach with apartments in every income range. We'll prove you don't have to be a millionaire to live on the Beach, and by so doing we'll strengthen the Beach's entire economy.

Macmillan Flies Home With 'Half a Loaf'

No Berlin Accord But Soviet Pledges Early Negotiations

MOSCOW —(UPI)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ended Anglo-Soviet summit talks Tuesday with complete disagreement on Berlin but with a Russian promise of early negotiations to save "peace and security" in the world.

Macmillan flew home in a cheerful mood and announced on his arrival in London he hopes to visit Washington shortly to report to President Eisenhower and "concert our policies." He will go first to Bonn and Paris next week.

The British and Russian statesmen agreed in a final communique signed in the Kremlin that they would look into a partial East-West troop withdrawal and removal of nuclear weapons from Central Europe — a variation of the "atom free zone" plan of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki which has been rejected by Washington and Bonn.

Khrushchev and Macmillan reported they were "unable to agree about the juridical and political aspects of problems involved" in the Berlin crisis.

"At the same time they recognize that it was of great importance for the maintenance and consolidation of peace and security in Europe and throughout the world that these problems should be urgently settled," the communique said.

Macmillan declined at a news conference before his departure by jet plane to "go into specific details of confidential talks" with Khrushchev. But he confirmed the Central Europe pullback plan would be the subject of negotiations.

"Our first duty is to consult our French, German, and American friends," he said.

"The problem (of Central Europe) must be urgently settled. In these lines there is hope for progress."

He ended the news conference because Khrushchev was waiting and rushed off with his host to Vnukovo airport. There, in his white fur hat, and bearing a bouquet, he wished Khrushchev "all the best" in Russian as he stepped into the plane.

"God speed and au revoir," Khrushchev shouted back.

Thus ended 10 crucial days in the fast-developing Berlin crisis during which Macmillan had:

—Failed to budge Khrushchev's determination to give East Germany control of the Allied lifelines to Berlin by May 27.

—Drew agreement for a foreign ministers' conference on the subject before the deadline.

—Warned Khrushchev in "firm" terms that the West will not surrender its rights in Berlin.

—Reached a cultural agreement with the Soviets, particularly in the TV and movie fields, and arranged trade talks.

all of a sudden I get this call about poor little Lou dying.

"I just can't believe he's gone."

Abbott's family called a physician to treat him for shock.

Costello teamed with Abbott in 1930, after breaking into the entertainment business by the vaudeville route. The two formed one of Hollywood's most successful comedy teams, but Costello split with his partner recently and had not been active in the movies.

Costello was born in Paterson, N.J., and after working at a few odd jobs, including those of new boy, soda fountain clerk and salesman, he got a job in burlesque.

Teaming with Abbott, his first movie venture was the picture, "Caribbean Holiday." They made many films together and were among the top 10 money-making stars in the Motion Picture Hall of Fame poll from 1941 through 1944, and from 1948 through 1951.

The "Who's on First" baseball routine the two developed was one of the most famous in modern movie comedy and was played in person, too, before Presidents of the U.S.

Costello was working in a Brooklyn burlesque house when he and Abbott got together.

They got their first big break in 1938 when they were booked into Loew's State in New York. Ted Collins saw them and auditioned them for the Kate Smith radio show.

Their rise to fame was rapid after that.

Although it wasn't generally known, Costello was a standout basketball player for many years before he got interested in show business.

In later years, Costello devoted much of his time to youth work and set up a foundation for this purpose.

Admiral Warns Of Sub Warfare

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke said Tuesday a day-to-day possibility of Russian submarine warfare against the free world's ocean commerce demands constant alertness.

The chief of naval operations spoke of this possibility in an address at the Navy League's annual symposium on seapower. This year the two-day session is devoted to the subject to Anti-Submarine Warfare.

The Navy sent some of its top-ranking officials and experts on the subject to the symposium, including Rear Adm. Charles E. Weakley, executive officer for anti-submarine warfare readiness in the office of the chief of naval operations. The league is a civilian organization of Navy supporters.

Burke said that:

"We know that the employment of submarines by an enemy need not necessarily be confined to a major war. A war of naval attrition — of commerce attrition — fought almost exclusively at sea could pose a very serious problem for the free world.

"Enemy submarine action against free world shipping would not necessarily require the use of nuclear weapons. This makes the ever-present threat even more serious. It is a day-to-day possibility against which U.S. naval forces must be alert constantly, day and night, no matter where our ships sail."

The admiral also commented that to the threats of attacks on commerce there now has been added the menace posed by missile - launching submarines. This, said Burke, "brings the problem right to our homeland."

Dulles Given Atomic Gold

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Doctors gave Secretary of State John Foster Dulles an injection of radioactive gold Tuesday in a new attempt to control his abdominal cancer.

An announcement through the State Department said this treatment was decided upon by a panel of medical experts meeting at Walter Reed Hospital "to reinforce" his regular X-ray treatment.

The X-ray treatments from the Army hospital's million-volt machine will be resumed "in a few days," it was announced.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the radioactive gold was given in fluid form as an injection directly into the abdominal cavity.

9 Students Drown in Bus Plunge

TIFTON, Ga., —(UPI)— A school bus jammed with more than 80 Negroes plunged into a pond Tuesday, and authorities said at least nine were drowned.

Three children were hospitalized for effects of shock, exposure and minor injuries.

The other frightened children who were pulled safely through windows of the bus were sent to their homes.

Driver Doyer Jones, 40, who had been making the bus route rounds for 23 years, said his bus hit two bumps in succession on the dirt road, causing him to lose control "unavoidably."

The bus turned over on its right side and plunged into the water. The vehicle was about two-thirds submerged.

The accident happened near the community of Brookfield, about seven miles east of Tifton.

Jones said he kicked out the window at the driver's seat mounted the overturned bus, kicked out other windows and hoisted to safety screaming children who were standing on top of other children.

"The larger ones were standing on the little small ones," Jones said. "That's what caused so much trouble. Those (the small ones) were the ones we lost."

Jones said two white men from nearby farm houses helped him lift some of the larger children through the windows. Someone reached a telephone and soon an array of emergency apparatus was put into use.

take radiation readings as it passes within 15,000 miles of the moon. But the actual course is 20,000 miles farther from the moon than planned.

Pioneer IV became America's deepest space probe less than nine hours after blast-off, when it passed the 71,300 miles traveled by the Air Force's Pioneer I lunar probe Nov. 11.

Earlier, it had surpassed the Army's first moon shoot Dec. 6, 1958, which soared 63,580 miles. Lunik went up Jan. 2, 1959.

The Juno II, a four-stage, 76-foot rocket with 150,000 pounds of thrust, shot the satellite into the skies at 24,890 miles an hour, or 305 miles an hour faster than needed to overbalance the earth's tremendous backward pull and the smaller tug of moon gravity.

It slowed down as it climbed, but the speed was calculated as ample to achieve a solar orbit. The scientists figured the artificial planet will go into an orbit slightly larger and more enlongated than the earth's path around the sun, but take about the same time — a year — for a complete orbit.

Cat Lovers Give Arthur the Bird

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Arthur Godfrey raised the dander of cat owners Tuesday by complaining to his nationwide radio audience that cats were killing song birds and quail on his farm.

He brought the matter up by announcing the American Feline Society had sent him a letter addressed "Dear Friend of Cats" and asking him to join, despite several public complaints he had made about cats dining on his quail.

"This is a canard, to begin with," Godfrey said. "I want you to know I am no friend of cats. But I've got nothing against cats at all, except I don't want to catch them wandering around in our bird covers looking for quail."

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline Society, said his telephone began ringing immediately after the show and never stopped all day. Every call, he said, was a vigorous protest against Godfrey's charge.

"Mr. Godfrey hit a sensitive nerve when he alleged that cats are destroying song birds and covies of quail on his farm," Kendell declared. "It is not so, and we have considerable statistics to disprove Mr. Godfrey's statement."

Kendell cited a scientific report made on the examination of the contents of the stomachs of 193 cats killed in highway accidents in 1955. This report showed that the cats had consumed mice, rabbits, rats, table scraps, turtles, fish, pork, grasshoppers, chickens, grass, herbs and other matter, he said, but not one single bird.

"In all probability," Kendell said, "only man kills for sport while an animal kills generally only for food or out of fear."

Kendell claimed that no cat can move fast enough to capture an adult, healthy bird. All birds have such keen vision that it would be impossible for a cat to strike one down, even from behind, he said.

Beach Looks To Its Past For Future

Blvd. also was developed first as a key site for hotels and commercial buildings in the 1920s. It, too, has been rapidly losing out to newer sections in the mushrooming city.

Today, though, nearly every hotel along the Biscayne strip — the McAllister, the Columbus, the Colonial, etc. — has had its face lifted, re-lifted or even veiled entirely with a new exterior in the last few years. New buildings are going up as well. And now being finished is a complete overhaul of the Everglades Hotel, Miami's largest. Says its owner, Vaughan B. Connelly, who is pouring millions into the improvements: "Without this rebuilding, this area would be rushing headlong for ruin, but with it, we'll force an upgrading throughout the region to meet our competition. The whole section will be reinvigorated."

These are just two illustrations; I could submit many more. For in 30 years, this city has gone through cycles that usually aren't covered by cities in a century or more.

First came the feverish, speculative development of the '20s — a boom killed by the land crash later in that decade.

Then came this dazzling decade of the '50s — with its new skyscraper hotels year after year, its lush nightclubs, worldwide publicity.

Now comes the third phase and rebuilding of areas settled so short a time ago — a pioneering all over again.

Miami Beach truly is a city of fantasy. Here, even time has different dimensions, and the past becomes the future under our eyes.

Headley Refuses To Resign

"constant stream" of people is urging him not to resign. His vacancy could be filled by a man picked by the new majority.

Evans, in the meantime, reported that he already has received two job offers in the wake of his surprise firing Monday.

He said he would consider neither immediately.

One reportedly is from St. Petersburg, now looking for a man to replace Ross Windom, who resigned his $23,000-a-year city manager's job Jan. 1. Evans is said to have been offered $25,000, which is what he was making here.

"I'm not going to do anything," said Evans, "until I can get in an old rocking chair, prop my feet up and rest awhile."

Losing his Miami job, he said, "was like having a big block of lead taken from my shoulders."

City commissioners can't fire Headley without formal charges, as they did Evans, because the Police Chief is not a department head. He merely heads the Police Division, which is part of the Public Safety Department.

Heading this department is supposed to be a public safety director. But this job was held by Evans, serving simultaneously as city manager.

The city charter decrees and court tests have confirmed that the police chief can be suspended by the city manager, for one of these reasons:

Incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, failure to obey orders given by proper authority or for any other just and reasonable cause.

Then the charges must be aired by the city commission. And their judgment can be challenged all the way to the state supreme court.

There was talk around city hall about appointing a separate public safety director who would not double as city manager and who could tell Headley how to run his department.

But not even Mayor High was ready to comment publicly on the possibility.

City department heads considered on shaky ground because of Mayor High's sudden rise to power were still working at their jobs Tuesday. And there was less talk about head rolling.

Willard told department heads at a get acquainted meeting Tuesday afternoon that he has no changes of personnel in mind.

But he warned them against going over the head of the city manager and making direct approaches to the city commissioners about anything.

"I will be conferring continually with County Manager (O. W.) Campbell," he said, "on each municipal service that will be affected by Metro."

His first task will be to work out an orderly transfer of city traffic cases to Metro court.

Evans is scheduled to leave his rocking chair Wednesday to make a speech to Miami Rotarians, who scheduled the speech before the fateful Monday city commission meeting. He will speak on "Progress in Our City."

National Summary

Sunny mild weather across the southern half of the country produced 50 degree readings from Nevada to Kansas and 70s in Florida by noon and raised the mercury to 80 degrees at Thermal, California in mid forenoon. Most of the nation's precipitation was associated with cool air flowing across the Midwest into the Appalachians and cooling Pacific winds urged inland by high pressure off the Northwest coast.

Chilly 20 and 30 degree temperature ranges and numerous snow flurries were common through low pressure circulation extending from Canada across the Great Lakes region and a few showers drifted through the Ohio Valley. A narrow band of rain and snow stretched from New York state into Georgia and Alabama marking the cold front approaching sunny 50 and 60 degree warmth in the mid and south Atlantic states. Some rain reached into western sections of the Carolinas and Virginia by early afternoon and snow was noted in the hills as far south as Tennessee. By tomorrow cooler air will restore generally fair weather through he east and develop showers into southern Florida.

County Needs Crime Board

WITH BIG-TIME CRIMINALS rearing their ugly heads with alarming frequency, and labor racketeers eyeing the area with avaricious looks, isn't it time now to revive the idea of a Broward County Crime Commission?

It's easier to keep the undesirables out than to get them out once they're in . . .

Tourists, Money Sticking Together?

THE PHRASE "THE TOURISTS AREN'T SPENDING the way they used to" has been heard every winter for the past four or five, and is being heard again now. Whether it's true or not, a lot of people believe it, and one local retail merchant has an interesting analysis of it.

In the several years after the war, the bulk of the visitors were energetic younger executives who worked hard, played hard and flung their money around with some abandon. Now they're having to stay home and look after business, and the typical male tourist is an older man, more conservative, who doesn't play so hard or spend so freely.

Well, it's an idea . . .

Beauty Spot in the Making

ALTHOUGH THIS AREA is generously laced with waterfront homes, for the most part access to the water is blocked by seawall and the water isn't fit to swim in anyway. That's why Lake Forest, on the south side of Hallandale Beach Blvd., is one of the truly unusual communities of the county and is shaping up as one of the prettiest.

There the lots slope gently down to the lake waters and the people can swim right in their own back yards. It's a very pleasant thing, Mrs. Larry Mantay says, to be able to work in the yard in a swim suit and then cool off with a dip in a lake only a step away.

This topography gives the community the atmosphere of a northern lake resort with the peculiar advantages of Florida. The Mantays, the Irving Reeds next door, and a number of their neighbors have sodded and landscaped their yards right to the water's edge, and all around the lakes is evidence that others are in the process of doing the same. This is going to be one of the beauty spots of the county.

Reed, incidentally, is another who has erected a small flagpole and keeps the Star Spangled Banner flying. He's a retired Navy officer . . .

When's a Driver a Hazard?

A TRAFFIC VIOLATION shouldn't count against a driver under the state license suspension law if the violation didn't creat a hazard to anyone else, in the opinion of County Judge Boyd Anderson.

That's one of his objections to the law as it is now being administered. The other is the fact that it's administered from Tallahassee; Boyd thinks there should be a hearing examiner in every county who could decide in short order whether a license suspension should stand or the driver should not be penalized.

With respect to the word "hazardous" in the law, the judge contends that it naturally rules out such violations as defective mufflers, for example, but it also rules out violations which do not constitute a menace to the safety of others at the time they are committed. If a driver should be arrested for going through a stop sign, for example, at a time when there were no other cars in sight, then Boyd feels that should not be counted as a "hazardous" violation . . .

* * *

Local Pressures Too Great

THE SUGGESTION FOR A LOCAL HEARING EXAMINER probably is a good one, but whoever held the job would be subjected to enormous pressure on behalf of practically every defendant who came before him.

Moreover, local juries have demonstrated that they are notoriously reluctant to convict a man of drunken driving if loss of his license would be a hardship to him, and a hearing examiner probably would be just as reluctant . . .

Trilck has accused the state prosecutor of using his arrest for political motives.

After Five Years

Hollywood Voids $12,000 Contract With 'Lost' Firm

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD—City commissioners Tuesday voted to void a $12,000 contract for codification of city ordinances after paying out over $8,000 to a "dummy" corporation.

SOLOIST with the Fort Lauderdale Symphony March 24 in War Memorial Auditorium will be violinist Joan Field. She will play Bruch's G Minor Concerto. Miss Field is the wife of violinist Alan Reskin, a member of the Fort Lauderdale Symphony. She lives at Miami Beach, has two sons.

The contract, signed in 1954, was given to City Codes, Inc., without competitive bidding on the work, City Attorney August Paoli said.

"We've been gypped," said Commissioner Jerry Tardiff, who touched off the move.

"It was a bum deal from the beginning," said City Manager Joseph Watson.

The charter requires the city to advertise for bids on jobs over $1,000 unless they are in the field of professional services, such as architect's or attorney's fees.

"But this does not come under services," Paoli said. "Three outstanding codification companies wanted to bid on the job."

Watson said the city attorney at the time, Judson Samuels, ruled that the job fell into the category of services. The commission awarded the contract on his interpretation of the charter, Watson said.

Paoli was authorized to write the company president, Mrs. Virginia Searcy Barr, an attorney, advising her of the action.

The contract guaranteed delivery of the code in 14 months, Paoli said.

Paoli produced records which showed the corporation was formed a week before the contract with the city was signed.

"And it hasn't paid corporation taxes for 1955, 56, 57, or 58," he said. "It is just a dummy corporation. I doubt we could recover any of the $8,150 through a law suit."

Balance of the bill was listed at $3,850.

City Codes' address when the contract was signed was 808 Seybold Building, Miami, Paoli told the board.

"Now I'm receiving correspondence from Valpariso," he said. He said he could not locate the other two persons who signed as officers of the firm when it was incorporated.

In other action, the board agreed the city charter should be clarified on whether an incumbent commissioner not up for election can run for mayor and still retain his seat if he loses. Action will be taken after the April 21 election.

Burglar Admits 11 Breaks

By ERWIN POTTS
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — A 58-year-old Negro, tabbed the "pants burglar", has confessed to breaking into eleven homes in the northeast section of the city, police said Tuesday.

The man, Clarence Martin, was captured early Tuesday morning after he broke into a residence at 1141 NE 17th Way and awoke the occupant.

Detective Henry McHale, said Martin used the same routine in each house he burglarized.

"He would go to the bedroom and get the owner's pants and take them into the kitchen. Then he'd go through the pockets, take out any money, and leave the pants in the kitchen or out in the yard.

"Sometimes he'd stop in the kitchen for a beer or drink of whisky," said McHale.

Martin was caught in a net thrown up after police were alerted by Harold Scott. Scott heard someone enter the door and called police.

Sgt. John Cunningham spotted Martin fleeing, and fired three shots into the air to halt him.

Detective Sgt. John Boyd and Detectives McHale and George Tanner questioned Martin at length and got a confession to the eleven other breaking and enterings, they said.

"He'd get anywhere from $2 to $80. Sometimes maybe a watch or ring. Never anything really valuable," said Boyd.

Couple Wins $11,000 Suit

FORT LAUDERDALE — A Circuit Court jury has awarded $11,000 damages in a suit filed after a shoe store display case toppled on a customer.

Mrs. Lydia Medford, wife of Francis P. Medford Jr., 1439 SW Sixth Ave., collected $6,800. Her husband was granted $4,200.

The defendant was Butler's of Fort Lauderdale Inc., a Delaware Corporation, doing business as Butler's Shoes, 201 S. Andrews Ave.

Kidnap Victim Tells of Nightmare

He Hoped for Chance To Roll the Car Over

By TOM VINCIGUERRA
Herald Staff Writer

DANIA — Paul Newberry, tall, slim service station attendant, rubbed his sleepy eyes, trying to erase memories of the ride in the night with a gun in his face.

"I had one thing on my mind — to roll the car over," said Newberry, 47-year-old former stock car racer. Airman 2-C William Slone had held him up at the gas station on S. Federal Hwy. about 3 a.m. Monday. Slone forced Newberry to drive the getaway car.

"I would have rolled the car if there had been enough traffic. There wasn't, and I wanted somebody around when I did it.

"I don't think he (Slone) would have got out of it alive."

Newberry lifted a picture from an album in his small apartment at 209 SW 12th St.: "See this wreck? I rolled it three times. It took them 45 minutes to get me out.

"Don't get me wrong. This guy (Slone) had me plenty scared, but he never knew it.

Fifteen years with the Knoxville (Tenn.) police force, a head-on collision and stock car racing doesn't compare with what I went through Monday," said Newberry.

Slone, he said, pulled into the station, got gas then commanded him at gunpoint to get in the car.

I told him to take the money out of my shirt pocket, and begged him not to take me, but he said he had to.

"He took a wrong turn in Fort Lauderdale and ordered me to drive. 'Head north on U.S. 1 and relax. You've got a long way to go,' he said.

"We stopped for cigarets twice. I got out; he kept the gun on me. Then he took the money I had, $47 in company money and $7 from my wallet."

Newberry said Slone let him out near Indian River and ordered him to walk toward the river's edge. He recalled the gunman's last demands: "I've got a long way to go and another job to do when I get there. Don't give police a description of me or I'll come back and take care of you."

Slone didn't get far. Newberry hopped a ride at Eau Gallie a short distance away and notified police. The airman was arrested an hour later in Titusville.

"My nerve saved me again," said Newberry. He lighted a cigaret and looked at his bed as if wishing he could fall into deep slumber.

"Sleep didn't come easy Monday night," he said.

Airman Is Charged In Kidnap, Robbery

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Separate charges of kidnaping and robbery were filed Tuesday against William J. Slone, 27, a Homestead airman who forced a Dania service station attendant to drive him to Eau Gallie.

The kidnaping charge carries a maximum 10-year penalty. Robbery can be punished by a life term.

County Solicitor Tom Coker explained that the state recognizes two kidnaping offenses—false imprisonment and kidnaping, the charge against Slone; and kidnaping for ransom, a capital charge.

Slone was held in County Jail Tuesday on $7,000 bond. Coker said he confessed to the crime, and will probably be arraigned Friday.

Paul Newberry, 48, was the victim of Monday's gunpoint ride. He was released near Eau Gallie.

Negro Files For Election

FORT LAUDERDALE — Nathiel Wilkerson, 404 NW 20th Ave., Tuesday became the eighth candidate to file for election to the City Commission.

In 1957 Wilkerson was the first Negro ever to make a bid for municipal office in Fort Lauderdale. He finished 12th in a field of 24.

New Council Holds First Of Sessions

By TOM VINCIGUERRA
Herald Staff Writer

PEMBROKE PINES — The Village Council held its first meeting Tuesday night in the shadow of a legal battle over its validity.

Meeting in the new recreation building, the council named Frank Quinn, wallpaper and paint store owner, council president. About 50 persons attended.

The all-green seven-member council, and Mayor Walter Kipnis, sat at a game table. His Honor used a table tennis paddle for a gavel. The opposition, which did not attend, was furious.

"They leave us no alternative," declared Anti-Incorporationist Bob Fegers. "We'll file a quo warranto suit in behalf of the state to challenge validity of the municipal franchise."

Incorporation opponents claim village backers did not get the necessary two-thirds vote of the freeholders in last Saturday's election.

The council has turned a deaf ear to opposition pleas to sit down and discuss the election results.

"We don't have to discuss anything with them," said Dr. Kipnis. "We won the election. If they don't think so, it's up to them to move. Let them take it to court."

The council set the first Monday of each month for meetings, discussed creation of a charter and planning and zoning boards, ordinance policies, and set terms of councilmen at two years for four members, and one year for three.

When Sending Kids to Hospital

'Don't Give the Details'

By PAT MANGAN
Herald Staff Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE — When you prepare your child for a hospital visit, don't mention the words cut, blood or gas.

"If surgery is needed, tell him the doctor is going to cure his stomach ache, or help him get well," Dr. Richard L. Varco said Tuesday.

Dr. Varco is professor of surgery at the University of Minnesota, and is here for the 10-day mediclinic held for that university's doctors.

"Remind him of similar experiences by other children he knows," Dr. Varco said. "Then after he gets in the hospital, the doctor can add a little more information."

He reminded parents that a child faces greater unknowns than an adult when he enters the hospital.

"He might never get over it," Dr. Varco said.

Dr. Donald Hastings
. . . 'no unlearning'

Other topics at Tuesday's session on problems in infancy:

CHILDREN AND SEX — "Don't teach them things they'll have to unlearn later," Dr. Donald Hastings, psychiatrist, said. As an example, he said children should not be told that babies arrive in a doctor's bag.

PRENATAL X - RAYS — "We haven't lived long enough to determine if prenatal X-rays have damaged the population as a whole," said Dr. Ames W. Naslund, instructor in radiology. "The damage to the infant is open to question. In some cases there will be more damage by not doing an X-ray."

ANESTHETICS FOR CHILDBIRTH — "The doctor is between the devil and the deep-blue sea," said Dr. Owen F. Robbins, clinical instructor of obstetrics and gynecology. "He wants a comfortable birth for the mother without endangering the child." Too much anesthesia is the major cause of foetal asphyxia, he pointed out.

Apartment Owners Watched

By RICK TUTTLE
Hollywood Bureau Chief

HOLLYWOOD — Bookmaking operations which police admit are carried on daily here have an excellent chance of surviving indefinitely unless resident have a sudden change of attitude.

"We don't claim to have it surpressed completely, and I doubt that we ever will until we get full cooperation from residents," said Assistant Police Chief W. W. Malphers.

The only full-time vice squad available to the area is a three-man sheriff's office team. They cover all forms of vice, however, and work the entire county.

Hollywood, Hallandale and Dania have no detectives assigned exclusively to bookmaking investigations.

Malphers' comments came in the wake of a bookie raid Monday at Tim's Bar, 2217 Hollywood Blvd. Two men were arrested.

"We are convinced some apartment house owners are condoning bookmaking operations as an added accommodation," Malphers said,

"But there hasn't been any wide-spread bookmaking since pre-Kefauver days," he said.

Chief Robert Aiken of Hallandale, who cracked down on bookmaking last December and who with the sheriff's vice squad arrested two more suspects last week, said his force isn't large enough for a full-time bookmaking investigator.

He has to call in off-duty officers for a sizeable raid, unless the sheriff's squad is also working the case.

Monday's raid was set up by a woman employe of the police department. She placed bets with marked bills, Detective F. G. Rohloff said.

Richard W. Stewart, 51, of 2813 Dewey St., manager of the bar, and Harry J. Griesmer, 49, of Dania and Bethesda, Md., who said he was a professional golfer, had the marked money in their possession when arrested, Rohloff said.

Detectives received about 30 bets over the bar telephones after the raid, Malphers said. Twenty-four betting slips were found in the kitchen along with racing forms and scratch sheets.

"We have several other places under surveillance," Rohloff said.

Detectives Glenn Lightle, Earl Mitchell and Louis Ottuso had staked out the bar for two weeks, they said.

Greismer and Stewart were released from city jail on [redacted] 000 bonds.

Malphers said the best way to crack bookmaking is by hiring a detective unknown in the area, so he could conduct his investigation without fear of being identified by suspects.

"But we don't have the money to hire an outside man," he said.

"The bookies would operate someplace else if residents didn't go along with it," he said.

Mayor A. D. Henderson received 52 votes, Mrs. Anne Cannon, 49, and Allen K. Reid, 53. There were two write-in votes.

The new commission formally takes office, and will have a reorganizational meeting at 10 a.m. Tuesday.

Here's the Line on Gulfstream Opening Today

By GRIFF PRESTON
Herald Writer

FORT LAUDERDALE—There will be a big turnout of local racing fans when Gulfstream Park opens its 15th season today.

One dedicated track fan who will have more than a parimutuel interest in the proceedings will be the ebullient Mrs. Eugenia Bankhead, who'll be rooting for her good grey Chit Chat, running in the $10,000 Armed Handicap. Mrs. B.'s party will include Mrs. Louisa Carpenter (whose preoccupation now is her Springfield farm in Maryland where she is breeding future turf stars) and the Bankhead-Carpenter houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Nicholson of Maryland's Eastern Shore. Mr. Nicholson is the former baseball big leaguer who played with the Chicago Cubs and the Phillies.

Others among the Gulfstream box-holder regulars, who'll make opening day a gala, will be the J. D. Camps Sr., with guests, Mrs. and Mrs. John Harris, the Bob Saunders and Mrs. Walter Crane. Familiar faces in the Foster Hamiltons' party will be the Harry Greeps and the Harry Youngs.

The Martin McTigues, the Emmett McTigues and the D. D. Olivers will be in their accustomed boxes, as will the George Cavannaughs, with their houseguests, Mr. and Mrs. George R. Cook of Evanston, Ill. With the C. E. Litterals, who have been box holders since the inception of Gulfstream, will be Mrs. E. R. Bennett, the Lynn Bucharts and Al Kemp.

The Perennial Questions

WHEN A MALE IS INVITED out first thought that enters his mind is "Will I enjoy myself?" But the instinctive thought of every daughter of Eve is "what'll I wear!"

Clothes this year seen in the clubhouses of Florida tracks have been notable for their chic simplicity and understated quality. A classic example of "what to wear to the races," is shown in this picture of those two racing sophisticates, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Gwynne Vanderbilt, who will be at Gulfstream this week watching their horses run. Mrs. Vanderbilt is wearing a raw silk sheath of off-white with its matching jacket . . . the silk raincoat she carries is in the Vanderbilt colors, striped in cerise and white. (Not that anyone is going to need a raincoat on Wednesday.)

Year Round Sunshine and Colts

SINCE HORSES are the preoccupation of the moment, did you know that the thoroughbred breeding industry is becoming big business in Florida, and that Broward County ranks second in the state with a round dozen successful spreads?

Among them can be counted The Contented Stables owned by West Hollywood's Joseph S. Binstock; The Hilton Dabsons with their Everglades Farm at Davie; the 200-acre Golden Shoe Farm of Architect Stefan H. Zachars and Mrs. Zachars; Fort Lauderdalean A. Brown McCarty's Nob Hill spread, which has racers that compete annually at Gulfstream; and Louis Schlosser, also of Fort Lauderdale, who has 12 mares and a half mile training track on his 120 acre farm. Everyone Now Says That Word

Tis time, though, Palm Beach County Commissioners knew how to pronounce it. (the same word stymied them several weeks back at a conference meeting.)

But Monday when Arbortum Island came up for discussion they knew what the word was all about. And even went along with it.

They approved, in principle, the proposal of Lake Osborne Estates Civic Association to develop Arboretum Island off Lake Osborne Blvd., into a recreational beauty spot.

Plans for the island include a picnic area, a site for the civic association's community building, a playground — and, of course, an arboretum — that's loosely, a garden of trees.

Arboretum Island, five acres in area, is owned by the county.

Commissioners also endorsed the planting of trees along Lake Osborne Blvd.

The projects are part of the association-sponsored program to beautify the Lake Osborne area.

State Printing Costs High

Central Purchasing Appears the Remedy

(Last of a series)
By JOHN L. BOYLES
Capitol Bureau Chief

BOYLES

TALLAHASSEE There is a trend among the states toward centralized purchasing to eliminate waste and duplication in government printing.

Thirty-two states have set an example for Florida by taking the control of printing expenditures away from individual state agencies.

Gov. LeRoy Collins has said he will ask the 1959 legislature to put printing under Florida's central purchasing system so that some degree of uniformity can be applied to printing purchases now handled by individual state agencies.

* * *

THE COMPLAINTS ARE: Under Florida's antiquated printing law, competition does not always prevail and result in better prices because only two bids are required.

In some state agencies little effort is made to obtain bids from several printing firms.

There are no standardized procedures or ground rules within the law to prevent agencies from overbuying or duplicating expensive promotional booklets published by other state agencies.

A chain of printing corporations headed by one man or group, or a "closed club" of a few printers, can at the discretion of individual purchasing agents freeze out competition.

Since the moral obligation is on the purchasing agent and not the printer who is a private contractor operating under the existing law, there are varied procedures, some good and some bad, in the state's 127 different departments and agencies.

* * *

BIDS IN SOME CASES where only three printers bid, appeared to have been drawn up on the same typewriter. In one case a word was misspelled the same way on two bids although there was a slight difference in price.

The Council of State Governments reports that 43 states now have some degree of centralized purchasing.

Regulations of 32 states include printing among those supplies which must be centrally purchased.

Five states maintain their own printing establishments. In several states, the printing section of the prison industries furnishes a part of state printing.

In two states, the state plants, in addition to ordinary government printing, print some of the text books used in public schools.

But the overwhelming consensus among experts on government is toward central purchasing which would provide a screening agency to impartially approve or disapprove the printing of necessary or unnecessary publications and to regulate both quantity and quality.

Surveys also show that publications often designed to benefit only a specific group are distributed to that group at the expense of all taxpayers, subscription free.

One report to the Council of State Governments showed that attempts to achieve certain objectives result in the printing of publications of doubtful value. In these cases the same objectives can and are achieved by cheaper methods of reproduction.

* * *

A GLARING EXAMPLE of duplication of promotional effort is found in the Florida Development Commission and the Department of Agriculture.

Both handle a big volume of printing business and both distribute some of the state's fanciest publications.

* * *

Under central purchasing, a central purchasing director or commission could be held responsible for determining which agency should publish a book or whether it should be published at all.

Rep. John E. Mathews Jr. of Jacksonville has called for a legislative study of printing purchases, explaining he had received complaints from several printers that Rose Printing Co. and other Tallahassee firms gobbled up most of the state's business and they were not being given an opportunity to bid.

* * *

GOV. COLLINS FOUND that in six agencies directly under his office, printing cost had been reduced since 1955 through bid invitations to more printers, resulting in sharp competition.

Rose, and two independent firms, Bulkley-Newman and Artcraft however were invited to bid more consistently than other printers by the Florida Development Commission, Railroad and Public Utilities Commission and the State Department of Education.

Rose, which got $700,000 of the state's two million dollar printing business last year, had the edge in business awarded by those agencies.

Agency officials explain that because of proofreading and other production problems involved they got bids only from Tallahassee firms.

Although it is doubtful such necessity has a bearing on the bulk of state printing it is generally conceded to apply to legislative printing.

Rose holds the contract for printing senate and house journals after each day's session which must be on legislators' desks the next morning.

A Development Commission employe said in one case the sales manager for Rose Printing Co. delivered all three bids.

Collins said such practice would not be good public policy, although he had found NO evidence of law violations.

* * *

Opponents of centralized purchasing point out that under the present central purchasing system, bids are invited only on items costing $1,000 and must be advertised for on supplies costing more than $2,000.

The answer to that seems elementary and State Auditor Bryan Willis recommends that bids be required only for printing jobs over $50.

Critics of central purchasing forget the objective is not to fight the battle of any printers but to provide a uniform procedure for wisely spending the state's money.

Bonn Hit By Whirl Of Events

By DAVID M. NICHOL
Miami Herald-Chicago News Wire

BONN, Germany — Bonn has so many sensations today it scarcely knows in what direction to look.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer is leaving for Paris.

Soviet Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev is coming to Leipzig.

Prof. Ludwig Erhard, economics minister who can claim much credit for West Germany's "economic miracle," may turn down the nomination to be the next federal president.

Two high officials closely associated with Dr. Adenauer in West Germany's frantic formative days are on trial for slander in a case which has politicians on edge.

Even the weather has been a considerable distraction. For several days it has been sunny with record temperatures.

* * *

Dr. Adenauer left by train last night for his third meeting with French Premier Charles de Gaulle. The two leaders—and to a much greater degree than many appreciate is possible, their countrymen—are getting along famously.

The Bonn-Paris axis is one of the firmest features of Europe's current political scene.

Obviously they will talk about Khrushchev and his plans for Germany in preparation for their individual meetings next week with Harold Macmillan.

Space Flight Safety Rests With Pioneer IV Research

WASHINGTON —(AP)— The new space-probe launching may go a long way toward determining what science must do to assure safe space flight for man.

The key scientific experiment in Pioneer IV is designed to get fuller information about the possibly deadly "Great Radiation Belt" which was discovered during the past year.

And, one of the new twists in the current probe is one aimed at determining how much shielding will be required to reduce the radiation to a "tolerable level" for any animal—or human—in space flight.

The launching had four other objectives:

(1) THE QUEST to put a satellite in orbit around the sun as the Russians claimed they did early in January;

(2) TO GET NEW information about the moon as the space probe zooms past it;

(3) TO TEST a gadget which would play a key role in enabling the taking of television-type pictures of the moon in future flights; and

(4) TO FURTHER test a long-range communications system deemed capable at present of tracking a satellite to altitudes of more than 400,000 miles, almost twice the distance to the moon.

But the radiation experiment is the big deal from the standpoint of its importance in relation to man's hopes to explore space in manned spacecraft.

* * *

OBJECT OF inquiry is a belt of radiation — actually two belts — called the "Van Allen" belt. It's named for Dr. James Van Allen, State University of Iowa physicist who headed a research team that discovered the belt last year while analyzing data from two of the explorer satellites.

Later information on it was obtained in the partially successful flights of the Pioneer III space probes.

The source of this radiation is unknown; indeed, scientists don't yet know what kind of radiation it actually consists of.

But enough is known about its intensity to say that man could not safely fly within it without shielding protection.

And the big question is: how much shielding? And how much would that shielding weigh?

Keeping weight of materials down is obviously an important objective in space flight.

* * *

PRESENT conception of the radiation belt is that it consists of two belts, each shaped like a doughnut.

One of these belts extends roughly between 1,400 and 3,400 miles from the earth; the other between 8,000 and 12,000 miles.

The peak of radiation intensity is estimated at 2,400 miles for the inner belt and 10,000 miles for the second one.

Estimates of the peak intensity range from 10 to 100 roentgens an hour—a roentgen being a unit of radioactivity.

The wide range of estimates of peak intensity stem from the fact that scientists don't know whether the radiation consists of electrons or protons.

But, in either case, the peak intensities would be greatly in excess of the maximum permissible doseage for man.

The latter is 3-10ths of a roentgen per week.

* * *

VAN ALLEN figures there is negligible radiation danger to man below the first belt—and between the first and second belts.

Also, he figures the radiation tapers off to safe levels after reaching its second peak of intensity at 10,000 miles.

But he and most other scientists figure there would be danger to unprotected men within the known limits of the belts—at least for any extended flights within those limits, such as in an orbiting manned satellite.

Even a half-hour top speed flight right through the bands might have long-range harmful effect, provided the radiation is made up of protons, some observers believe.

If it proves necessary to shun these belts entirely — even for speedy passage through them — scientists still have a possible ace-in-the-hole.

It's estimated that the radiation belts do not extend over the Arctic and Antarctic regions—that is, that there are radiation-free voids over the North and South Magnetic poles.

Thus there might be "escape hatches" through the radiation, provided the spaceships were launched from polar-based launching pads.

In the tiny space vehicle launched by the U.S. were two Geiger counter tubes to detect and measure the radiation.

Similar tubes were carried in the Pioneer III flight last December. But this time, one of the tubes was shielded with one-eighth-inch thick lead. This is designed to cut out all high-energy radiation.

The other tube, measuring low-energy radiation, is unchanged.

* * *

THE IDEA of the new twist is "to test the penetrability of the radiation in space and determine how much shielding will be required to reduce the radiation to a tolerable level for any animal or human in space flight," said Dr. Van Allen before the launching.

Results will be radioed to the earth from the space probe.

The information will be transmitted to earth by a battery-powered radio transmitter designed to transmit continuously on a frequency of 960.05 megacycles for about 90 hours.

That would last long after the space probe passes the moon because it is expected that the vehicle will intercept the moon's pathway n space about 34 hours after launching time.

Costs Billions, Frays Nerves

Reorganization Pains Sting In Plane-to-Missile Switch

Our "Moment of Peril" is the way famed reporter Bob Considine views the U.S. lag in the missiles race with Russia. This is the fourth in a series of articles analyzing our danger.

By BOB CONSIDINE
Herald Columnist

There's a saying in the Pentagon that goes, "If you can't cook it, kiss it or mimeograph it, reorganize it."

CONSIDINE

The greatest Air Force in history is undergoing the pangs of the latter. It is changing man's role from that of steersman of a cumbersome flying machine to manipulator of "little black boxes" that cause missiles to accomplish miracles.

It is an agonizing reorganization that costs billions, frays nerves, torments the impatient, has made nervous wrecks here and there of men who were icy calm in combat.

Its reprisal force, the jet bombers of the Strategic Air Command, is largely outmoded, air officers have testified under oath. It will not have its first intercontinental ballistic missilebase — composed of 10 Atlas missiles and attendants — until at least Jan. 1, 1960. The base, at Camp Cook, Calif., will not be a "hard" base, i.e., the complicated gear for fueling and launching the even more complicated ICBM will be on the surface and susceptible to destruction from a Russian ICBM or a lesser missile lobbed inland from a Soviet submarine off the California coast.

* * *

Bomber Fleet Was Bad Bet

IT IS HAUNTED by past mistakes, briefly cheered by a few instances of visionary thinking that panned out.

It continued to invest heavily in a big bomber fleet long after the Russians drastically cut their own bomber production and bet their science, engineering and rubles on missiles.

It delayed its own serious rocket development until a long series of tests conducted by the Atomic Energy Commission produced an atomic bomb small enough to be packaged in a rocket nose-cone.

As for its vision, the Air Force owes such missile strength as it now possesses — and the promise of much more to come — to the findings of a board set up late in 1953 under the guidance of Trevor Gardner, then Air Force assistant secretary and top missile man. It was the Strategic Missiles Evaluation Committee out of which emerged the Atlas development group headed by the late John von Neumann, world famous mathematician and member of the AEC.

Today, Gardner is revered as the father of the probe that changed the mood and mission of the Air Force for all time to come. His group, the Nuclear Weapons Panel, called upon to project Air Force thinking into the 1960s, painted a vividly realistic picture of the shape of things to come.

* * *

Russia Jumped Early, Decisively

IT WAS NOT an easy step, the Air Force's first fumbling strides into the missile age. Tradition was tougher to alter than the shape and propulsion of the vehicle that would thereafter carry The Bomb fastest and farthest.

"You've got to remember how little we thought of the German V-2 at the end of the war," a harried Air Force colonel told me in the course of a chronological rundown of the service's coming-of-age.

"The Russians thought differently. They rounded up hundreds of them, dismantled the plants that produced them, commandeered a lot of the German scientists, engineers and technicians who had ideas about bigger and better missiles, and put everybody to work on V-E Day. We came home.

"We put our money and thinking into SAC, which was wise but did put us behind the Russians. We designed and built bombers around a nuclear bomb that would weigh tons. They had to be big enough to lift it and carry it thousands of miles. Remember the B-36? Ten engines and big as a football field. The B-52 is a whopper, too.

"Then they found a way to put all that power into something hardly bigger than your arm. We had to make the hard decision to change. Now we've reached the point where we must make our second hard decision. We've got to find the ways and the financial means of catching up with the Russians in ICBMs and create better weapons than they've got.

"We've got to build bases for these ICBMs that will withstand the initial attack which we'd have to take in the event of war. And we've got to do it faster than we've ever done anything in our lives."

* * *

The Man Who Carries Ball

THE COLONEL stood up suddenly. Maj. Gen. Bernard Schriever, the brilliant young Air Force missiles development chief, had entered the little room. He is a tall, sun-tanned man in his 40s, with grave wide-set eyes that show the weight of the great responsibility vested in him. But his nerves are super-steady, as his "scratch" rating in golf indicates.

"I have unique authority," he said calmly, when we asked him to describe his job. "My responsibility is the research and development of the hardware, the production of it, putting it in operation and supporting it. It would be simpler, I guess, just to say that my job is to 'get 'em working.'

"It calls for constant evaluation of the state of the art; constant risk. We've been experimenting with solid fuel propellants since 1956, for example, but our Minuteman, though technically feasible, is still some years away.

"We work very close to industry. I'd say industry is responsible for 95 per cent of the Air Force's development. But it needs us, too. It needs us for things it couldn't know about, such as logistics."

* * *

$7 Billion Spent For 'Complex'

THESE OTHER missiles born or gestating, are the fruit of Schriever's Space Technology Laboratories, a model of civilian-military teamwork. A "management complex," he calls it. More than seven billion dollars has been spent to date by the Air Force alone on its missiles program — three and a half times as much as was spent to develop the atomic bomb.

Rebel May Represent Mounting Opposition

By EDWIN A. LAHEY
Chief of Our Washington Bureau

WASHINGTON — Stanley Yankus, the Dowagiac (Mich.) farmer, had just finished telling a House subcommittee what he thought of the federal farm subsidy program.

LAHEY

"I wasn't just talking to these congressmen," he says. "I was trying to talk to all the people in America."

And as the 40-year-old chicken raiser strode to the office of his congressman, Clare Hoffman (R.), there were those in the hearing room who wondered whether Yankus had a pretty formidable snowball in the making.

It is the Michigan farmer's desire to destroy the farm program under which the government, through its support payments, has piled up 9 billion dollars worth of surplus food and fiber in warehouses all over the land.

"How do I know I'm right?" the aggressive Yankus says. "Because nothing I've done has violated the principles of the Ten Commandments, that's how."

* * *

YANKUS IS FAST becoming the Dred Scott of the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended.

He thinks the farmers under this act have made a crazy exchange of freedom for security, and he refuses to be bound by what the other farmers have done.

Yankus says the hundred acres in Cass County, Mich., where he raises chickens commercially are his. And no government bureaucrat is going to tell him how much wheat he can grow on his own land to feed his own chickens.

This attitude has brought him into constant turmoil with the agricultural act, because of the "wheat allotment" system that is part of the price support program.

* * *

AN INTERESTING aspect of Yankus is that he is not alone, by any means.

He speaks the thoughts of Secretary of Agriculture Benson, who is trying to cut back on the subsidy program.

And Yankus also speaks for hundreds of other individuals of the soil who have likewise defied the wheat planting regulations.

WILTON MANORS—Mayor Frank Starling said Tuesday night he will try to take the "barstool" case against him directly to Circuit Court.

Starling announced his decision to the City Council after it was asked by Frank Akerman, representing the complainants, to appoint him special prosecutor in the case set for City Court trial Saturday.

City Attorney William Miller has said he will not appear at the trial, leaving no one to prosecute.

Miller told the council only the municipal judge could appoint a special prosecutor as a "friend of the court."

Council did not act on the request after getting this opinion and hearing Starling's statement.

The mayor and Lamar Braddy, operators of the Manor Flame bar and restaurant, are accused by the Broward County Liquor Dealers Association of violating a city law by using stools at their bar with a restricted license.

The Flame owners claim the seats are chairs, or "chools."

Starling said he decided Tuesday night to move the case by writ to a higher court "to avoid any embarrassment or cost to the city and the men I have appointed city judges."

Starling's attorney, Warren Windle, said he probably would proceed on a writ of habeas corpus, since the defendents are technically under arrest.

"We'll try to get a ruling on whether the city ordinance is constitutional," Windle said.

Bids High, But Pools Authorized

Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — City commissioners Tuesday authorized construction of swimming pools at Sunrise Junior High and Lauderdale Manors schools, though the lowest bid was $17,148 over funds budgeted for the pools.

Rule Pool Co. got the contract to build the two pools for $84,148.

While commissioners authorized taking $17,148 from the general fund to help meet the pool cost, they recommended use of the more elaborate Sunrise Pool be restricted to neighborhood high school age and younger children plus a few programmed activities for adults.

The restriction will help prevent any "problems" arising from construction of the pool, they said. The problems were not further identified.

A committee from the Sunrise Pool Association, which raised $15,000 toward the pool's cost, the City Commission and the School Board will be asked to formulate policies for operation of the pool.

Commissioners also decided to hold a public hearing on a request by developers of the Las Olas Plaza to count attendant parking in some instances when determining the number of parking spaces required for a building.

Citrus Groups Meet

LAKELAND —(UPI)— The legislative committees of Florida Citrus Mutual and the Florida Citrus Commission will hold a joint meeting Thursday to discuss the industry's 1959 legislative program.

Beach Case Is Denied

FORT LAUDERDALE — The State Supreme Court has refused Hollywood Inc.'s petition for a rehearing of its suit challenging the validity of the county's public beach purchase.

"This would seem to terminate the issue finally," Joe Easthope, assistant county attorney, notified the County Commission Tuesday.

"I see no questions presented for a Federal Court appeal," he added.

5 County Area Tax Districts Urged

By PETER LAINE
Herald Bureau

FORT LAUDERDALE — Five tax districts for fire protection in unincorporated areas would be better than one, county commissioners advised volunteer association officials Tuesday.

M. L. Lehman, president of the Broward County Volunteer Fire Association, submitted a bill to finance fire operations by creating a special tax district of the areas outside city protection.

He suggested imposing either a one to five per cent utility tax, or a one to three-mill ad valorem tax.

"The situation gets more acute every day," Lehman warned. "More city departments are pulling in their horns."

The Deerfield Beach and Lighthouse Point Commissions recently forbade their units to answer out-of-town calls, he said.

Other cities passed similar measures in recent months. Some county areas at present depend on the good will of volunteer departments.

Commissioner Frank Adler warned that grievances between different parts of the county might arise under one district. Commissioner John Bell said if five districts are formed, each would defray its own expenses.

The districts could be the same as county voting districts, he added.

Commissioners agreed wholeheartedly with Lehman that all existing volunteer departments should be retained.

"It's too bad that you are forced to raise your own funds," Chairman George Petersen said.

Lehman proposed a five-man board appointed by the governor to supervise operations. Commissioners said they would prefer to appoint the board themselves.

Commissioner Horbert Burke pointed out that city residents cannot be taxed to provide fire protection for the county.

Petersen told Lehman that the county is preparing its own legislation for fire protection. The two bills will be incorporated, he said later. The fire officials are to meet with the legislative delegation this morning.

In other action Tuesday, the commission:

AWARDED the public beach ferry contract to Jack Wright at a cost of $941.70 a month, Petersen dissenting.

DEFERRED the award for the Griffen Rd. Bridge over the Hollywood Canal. The apparent low bid, $37,495.25, from Powell Bros. Inc., exceeded estimates.

Police Car Races Boat; 2 Give Up

Herald Bureau

HOLLYWOOD — Eau Gallie police arrived here Tuesday to pick up two teenagers who attempted to escape from police in what was believed a stolen boat.

The chase took place on the intracoastal waterway Sunday night.

Detectives Louis Ottuso and Glenn Lightle, riding south on State Rd. A1A with their squad car siren wailing and red light flashing, overtook the youths near the Attache Motel.

The suspects were identified as Thomas Rae, 17, and Gerald Bedell, 18, both of Carthage, Mo. They were held for investigation of grand larceny. ceny.

The boys told police they stole the 16-foot fiberglass boat when their car broke down in Eau Gallie. They left Carthage nine days ago, en route to Miami.

Lightle and Ottuso went to the scene when told a boat was aground on the west side of the waterway.

As they arrived, the boys, hiding in a clump of brush, started the boat's engine and sped south. They surrendered, however, when they saw their baot was no match for the squad car.

Overfishing Blamed

Tampa Shrimp Catch Hits Six-Year Low

TAMPA —(P)— The shrimp catch landed in Tampa in 1958 was the smallest in six years, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service reported Tuesday.

This service reported the catch was 7,612,000 pounds, a drop of more than one million pounds from 1957 and a decline of about four million pounds from the record year of 1955.

Local shrimp fishermen varied in their reactions. Big dealers look on it merely as a passing trend. Smaller producers are worried.

The shrimpers were in agreement of the cause. More boats from more ports are fishing the same grounds, thus carving the shrimp pie in the Gulf of Mexico into smaller pieces.

More Tampa boats than usual went to the Texas grounds last summer and landed their catch in Texas, accounting for some of the drop.

Some operators said the big Campeche grounds, off the Yucatan coast, are being overfished, with the result that more of the catch is going to Fort Myers, Key West, Texas and Mexican ports.

Miami Asks For Gas Tax Hike

By JOHN McDERMOTT
Herald Political Writer

Miami City Commissioners asked the Dade legislative delegation Tuesday to support a one-cent additional gasoline tax—the money to remain in the municipality where collected.

Commissioner B. E. Hearn Sr. said the cities desperately need the revenue to cope with increasing wear and tear on streets.

"Other cities also are clamoring for this help," Hearn told legislators at the closing session of pre-legislative public hearings.

Dade County Metro officials have gone on record urging passage of a one-cent additional gasoline tax.

A warning that anti-Metro forces may attempt to upset Dade's metropolitan home rule was voiced by a spokeswoman for the Dade League of Women Voters.

Mrs. Charles Whiteacre urged legislators to be on guard and "protect us from any legislation which might take away the gains for which we have fought so hard."

Rep. Cliff Herrell said he had heard rumors of such legislation but had seen no bills which might jeopardize Metro.

Castro Raps Acquittal of 45 Batistans

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday denounced a Santiago tribunal's acquittal of 45 airmen of mass murder charges as "a great error" and a service to ex-Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Prosecutor Lt. Antonio Cejas already has appealed the verdict and the airmen are in jail pending a new trial to be held in a few days before another tribunal.

Castro said in a statement published by Revolucion, organ of the revolutionary government, that the prosecution has as much right of appeal as the defense "if the sentence is not just."

Demonstrators ranged through Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, shouting protests against the acquittal. The protests abated after announcement of the prosecution's appeal.

The court held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of Batista's campaign against Castro.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente Province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

PB Negro Announces New Suit

More Palm Beach News P8A, 1B, 2B, 10C

By ARTHUR JOHNSEY
Herald Staff Writer

A Negro father made another legal bid Tuesday to get his son in an all-white West Palm Beach elementary school.

The father, William H. Holland, filed notice that he's taking the two-year-old case to the U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals for the second time.

This time he is appealing a lower court ruling that he must try all state-level procedures before seeking federal help to enroll his son in the white school.

Holland wants to enter his son, William Jr., in the Northboro Elementary School, instead of the Negro school to which the boy was assigned by the Palm Beach County School Board.

He claims the Negro school is sub-standard.

Thus far, the case has bounced back and forth like this:

HOLLAND FILED suit to allow his son to enter the school.

FEDERAL JUDGE Emett C. Choate dismissed it.

HOLLAND APPEALED to the federal Circuit Court of Appeals and won a reversal. The higher court sent the case back to Choate, telling him to keep it under advisement during "a period of transition" when the school boards might make a start on integration.

HOLLAND BEGAN re-pressing for action by Judge Choate.

CHOATE responded by ruling on Feb. 11 that Holland should seek admission through state procedures — specifically the pupil assignment act — before asking for federal intervention.

This is the ruling Holland now intends to appeal.

There was no indication of when the appeals court will hear Holland's suit.

Lou Costello
. . . heart attack fatal

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Actor Lou Costello, 53, died Tuesday of a heart attack in a Beverly Hills hospital.

The veteran comedian suffered a heart attack a week ago and seemed to be improving, his manager, Eddie Sherman, said.

However, Costello suffered another attack Tuesday, which was fatal.

Sherman said Costello's wife, Ann, was visiting him and left just before he died at 6:55 p.m. Miami time.

He said the attack a week ago was followed by a blood clot.

ABBOTT

One of the first to be informed was his long-time partner in comedy and close friend, Bud Abbott.

When told of Costello's death, he sobbed and in a barely understandable voice said — "I can't talk now, call me back later please.

"I was sitting here watching re-runs of our old TV show," Abbott cried. "We were doing the 'Who's on First' bit. And I was laughing my head off. Then

Yanks Hide in Bolivia

Embassy Staff Flees Rioters

La PAZ, Bolivia — (AP) — The U.S. embassy staff here went into hiding Tuesday to escape demonstrations set off by a Time Magazine article that enraged Bolivians. The Bolivian government itself was harassed by a tin miners' strike.

The embassy personnel were reported to have slipped out under guard and taken refuge near the seething two-mile-high capital.

The whereabouts of the embassy staff was kept secret. The embassy phone went unanswered.

Bolivian officials and businessmen paraded late in the day past the Government Palace in a new demonstration against the Time Magazine article. The article quotes a member of the U. S. embassy as suggesting the country solve its troubles by being split up among its neighbors.

Tin miners, also a target of the article that offended Bolivia's national pride, went on strike for higher pay, paralyzing the government-owned mines, backbone of Bolivia's faltering economy. The workers walked out at the end of their 10-day deadline for the government to meet pay demands.

Capital police were out in force to head off any violence such as marked Monday's wild anti-American demonstrations. Rioters burned an American flag in front of the U.S. Embassy and stoned the building.

The new demonstration, termed a civic parade, included top officials, military leaders, veterans and businessmen. All government and private offices closed for the demonstration.

A 15-year-old boy was killed in Monday's outburst but no U.S. citizens were reported molested.

(In Washington, the State Department told the Bolivian ambassador it expects his nation "to take all possible measures to safeguard the lives" of an estimated 1,800 Americans in Bolivia. The staff of the embassy in LaPaz has moved to the outskirts of the city "for better protection by the Bolivian army," the State Department said. One official said the action was taken because of the possibility of additional rioting.)

President Hernan Siles made a special effort to stem the tide of anti-American feeling by saying that U.S. officials had denied the statement in Time that touched off Monday's outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official. It said he made the following assertion as a "wisecrack":

"The only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition.

Issues of Time were burned by mobs in front of the embassy as windows were broken. Offices of the U.S. Information Center were broken into and books and magazines destroyed.

The Bolivian government protested the article both in La Paz and Washington.

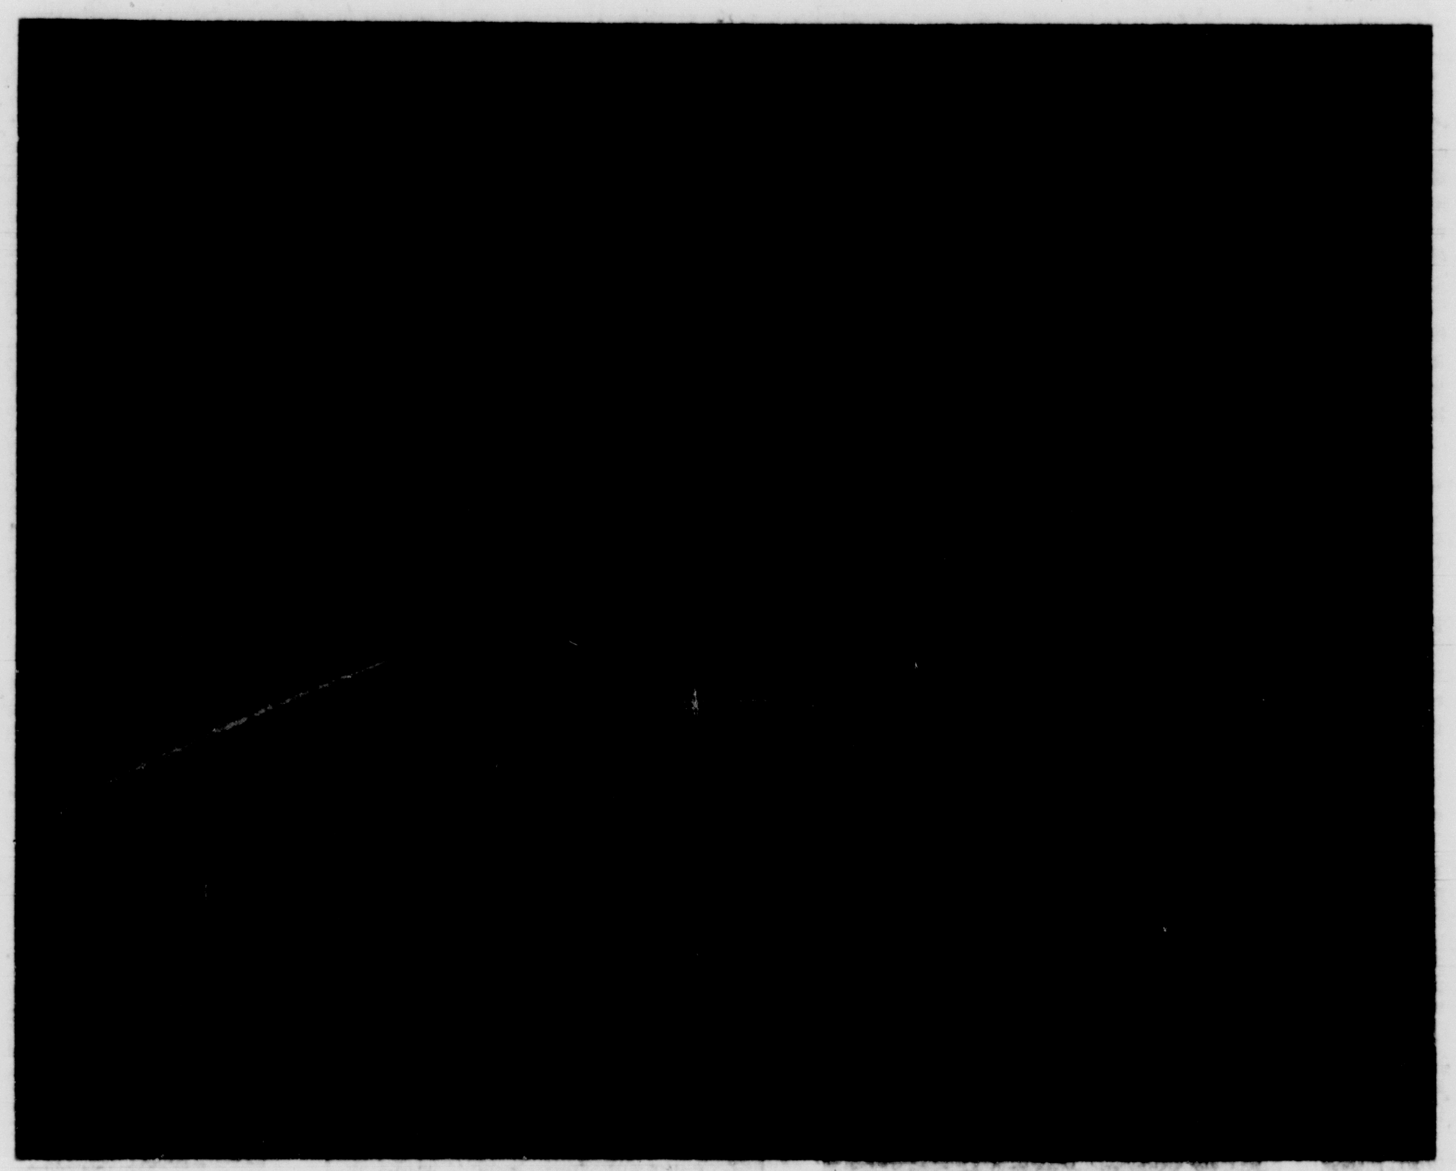
Pioneer Nearing Moon In Its Run for the Sun



Moonshot Over Miami

This dramatic photograph of Pioneer IV's flight toward the sun was taken from Homestead moments after the launching Tuesday by Dallas Espenschied, a Hartsville, Ohio, photographer. Snapped at 12:12 A.M., the photo shows 30 seconds of the rocket's life as it sped southeast toward its rendezvous in space. Stars are blurred as a result of the earth's rotation during the exposure. Espenschied made the picture with a Speed Graphic with Aero-Ektar lens wide open at f2.5. Espenschied, a member of two photo-tracking and moonwatch teams in Ohio, has photographed three satellites in flight, but this is his first shot of a launching.

It Breaks Record for U.S. Shots

Expected to Join 'Lunik' in Orbit

Tough to Hit Moon, 6B
Space Man Problem, 7A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — America's gold-plated Pioneer IV satellite climbed toward a brief rendezvous with the moon Tuesday and was confidently expected to join Russia's Lunik in an orbit around the sun.

Opening a new frontier in U. S. space exploration, the pint-sized artificial planet was 118,852 miles from the earth at 5 p.m. Miami time and had far outstripped the previous two American moon probes. It was clocking 5,675 miles an hour in its race to space.

The only man-made object that had climbed higher was Russia's heavier Lunik. The Soviets said Lunik actually achieved a solar orbit and U.S. scientists generally credit the claim.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the 13.4 pound Pioneer is on a track that will make it a satellite of the sun. Only a collision with a meteorite can stop it, they said.

The vehicle, gold-plated so the shell would act as a radio antenna, is expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon at 2 p.m. today. Its distance then will be 236,100 miles from the earth.

Then it is expected to continue its flight to join the 3,245-pound Lunik as a man-made planet.

President Eisenhower was quick to praise the successful team that sent Pioneer IV skyward. He sent NASA Director T. Keith Glennan "warm congratulations" for a "splendid achievement" that "marks yet another major step in scientific space exploration."

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, followed up with a forecast that the U.S. should put the first man "Voyager" into space within 10 to 12 years. He said the Pioneer's flight will provide "more grist for the mill" in finding out how it can be done.

"This also puts us very close to being in the same league with the Russians," he said, "— if what they say about their moon shoot is true."

"Everything we put up in space now brings us nearer to the day when we will have the first man Voyager there," he said.

The Pioneer roared off the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday atop a 60-ton four-stage Juno II Army rocket.

The launching went off without a hitch. But scientists noted a deviation in the course that will take the satellite farther from the moon on its outward journey than they planned.

The satellite is rigged to

New Cold Pushing Into State

A new cold front pushing into North Florida may bring showers and a bit cooler weather to Miami late today.

But the Weather Bureau said Tuesday that even if it does get chilly again tonight, it won't be bad.

The chill from a cold front that drifted over South Florida during the weekend was blown off Tuesday by south and southeasterly winds. Temperatures during the day pushed well into the 70s after Tuesday morning lows ranging from 42 at South Miami to 52 at Miami Beach.

It wasn't expected to go below 60 in the Miami area Tuesday night, and more warm temperatures were forecast for today. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said weathermen weren't sure how much the new cold front would affect Miami later in the day and tonight.

In North Florida, temperatures Tuesday morning hit a low of 34 at Ocala, then warmed up to the 70s during the day. Tonight and Thursday morning, the Weather Bureau said, temperatures might be "near the danger point" in the northern part of the state because of the new front.

Jobs Offered Evans

Headley Holds On: 'I Won't Resign'

By JOHN MORTON
AND JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writers

Headley declared almost gleefully:

"I won't resign."

And neither the new city manager, Ira Willard, nor the city commission can fire him outright without formal charges, a public hearing and a court fight.

Often a target of city commissioners, Headley has held on to the top job in the city police division for 10 years.

After Monday's surprise shakeup Mayor Robert King High promised "a lot of changes in the old brass at the police department."

He said he expected Headley to resign.

"So the mayor wants to get rid of me?" asked Headley. "Well, I'll go along with him on the same thing. I would like to get rid of him."

The youthful mayor led a lone attack against Evans and Headley for more than a year. Then Monday he suddenly found support from Commissioners Otis Shiver and George Dubreuil and the trio immediately fired the city manager.

The action brought a quick verbal resignation from City Commissioner James W. High. But in Tuesday's calm following Monday's uproar there emerged doubt as to whether High's post will be vacated.

High said Tuesday he is "reconsidering" his resignation. The commission had postponed action on it until its formal meeting Wednesday.

"There is a legal question," explained High, "about the resignation I tendered Monday."

It was made verbally and High has not yet put it in writing.

At the time, Assistant City Attorney Jack Rice said no written resignation was necessary.

Later, however, Rice said there was a "vast area of difference" of opinion on a verbal resignation.

Apparently throwing the decision to the commission, Rice added, "the interpretation of Mr. High's resignation will lie with the commission."

High also asserted that a

Suit Hits Levies by Pilots Unit

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Two airline pilots filed suit Tuesday charging that the Air Line Pilots Association officials improperly assessed members to pay benefits to Capital and Eastern Air Lines pilots when they were idled last fall by strikes called by other unions.

The complaint asked that Federal District Court hold the assessments null and void, restrain union officials from fining or expelling members for non-payment, and order credited against future dues any payments that have been made under the assessments.

The suit was filed before Federal District Judge Philip L. Sullivan by James R. Eads of Sepulveda, Calif., a pilot for Trans World Airlines, and Lawrence S. Shapiro of Los Angeles, a pilot for United Air Lines.

It named as defendants Clarence N. Sayen, president of ALPA, and Don J. Smith, union treasurer.

The suit attacked two assessments. One was levied in November, 1958, to pay benefits to pilots of Capital Airlines idled from Oct. 15 to Nov. 19 by a strike called by the International Association of Machinists.

The other assessment, the complaint alleged, was levied by a mail ballot of ALPA directors in December for the benefit of Eastern Air Lines pilots out of work because of strikes called by the IAM and the Flight Engineers International Association.

Bob Hope Confident

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bob Hope entered Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday for examination of his ailing left eye, remarking confidently: "I'm going to be all right."

Dr. Algernon Reese, clinical professor of ophthalmology at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was waiting to examine Hope.

An aide said Hope still was able to play golf, one of his favorite sports, but was limited to nine holes three times a week.

The aide said Hope suffered an eye hemorrhage shortly after his return from an overseas tour of armed forces bases Dec. 29. The aide said the only sign of thir hemorrhage was a slight dizziness which comes on with any sudden movement.

Organizer Accused of Fire Attack

LEBANON, Ind.—(AP)—A union organizer was jailed Tuesday on a murderous assault charge after an itinerant printer accused him of trying to set him afire.

Held for $1,000 bail was Harvey Fitzwater, 33, Crawfordsville, Ind., an International Typographical Union organizer who has led a 3½-month strike for union recognition at The Lebanon Reporter.

Harold Lutz, 53, complained Fitzwater poured an inflammable liquid on his coat and set his clothes afire as he was eating in a restaurant. Others in the cafe helped put out the fire, and Lutz was not hurt.

Lutz came to The Reporter from Berwyn, Ill., after four of the printers walked out Nov. 17. The newspaper has continued daily publication, with nine printers at work.

New Pioneering Spirit Is Rejuvenating Old Areas

Miami Beach--Where What's Past Is Future

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

It's utterly unthinkable to most hep visitors to Miami Beach at the winter season peak to check into anything except the latest of hotels. Each year since World War II, as new palaces have sprung up literally out of the water, the affluent tourists have leap-frogged northward with the hotels on this most fabulous resort beach in the world. To be fashionable, one has had to be seen in the latest version of a French chateau or Arab harem.

But while by Miami Beach yardsticks the newest is automatically the best, this year on my annual trek to the sun I rebelled.

Back to the comparatively "unfashionable" southern area and into one of Miami Beach's oldest hotels I went. And there, to my delight, I not only rediscovered the charm, the dignity and spaciousness of an "ancient" Miami Beach inn; I also stumbled on an exciting new tale of pioneering.

Coming directly from Louisville, Ky., where businessmen are quibbling over the need for sprucing up structures dating from the 19th century, I still find it hard to believe that in Miami Beach, any luxury hotel over five years is no longer considered in the luxury class, any building over 15 years is "old," any in the 20-30 year group, no matter how grand, is an "antique!"

Nevertheless, this is a fact, as awesome as any other aspect about this place. Although the Roney Plaza, the hotel in which I stayed, would be a showplace in most other resort cities, here it is out of date.

Although it has been filled to capacity during this season of spectacularly good weather, rumors persist that the Roney will be significantly expanded so it can fight the brutal competition from the new marvels. And therein lies the story.

For what is starting to happen here is the rediscovery and rejuvenation of the original Miami Beach. Even as the fickle, fad-conscious tourists concentrate on new areas, astute financiers and businessmen are concentrating on revolutionizing the old.

In Miami Beach, the South Beach was developed first as the prime property in the 1920s but while its location is as superb as ever, the area has been deteriorating rapidly. Now, though, the largest construction venture in the entire state of Florida — a 1,600-room, 500-unit apartment building — is going up in this section, and business leaders believe this will spark a restoration of the South Shore as a region for permanent residents.

Says Nathan S. Gumenick, builder of the Southgate: "We will revive the South Beach with apartments in every income range. We'll prove you don't have to be a millionaire to live on the Beach, and by so doing we'll strengthen the Beach's entire economy.

In Miami proper, Biscayne

Macmillan Flies Home With 'Half a Loaf'

No Berlin Accord But Soviet Pledges Early Negotiations

MOSCOW —(UPI)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ended Anglo-Soviet summit talks Tuesday with complete disagreement on Berlin but with a Russian promise of early negotiations to save "peace and security" in the world.

Macmillan flew home in a cheerful mood and announced on his arrival in London he hopes to visit Washington shortly to report to President Eisenhower and "concert our policies." He will go first to Bonn and Paris next week.

The British and Russian statesmen agreed in a final communique signed in the Kremlin that they would look into a partial East-West troop withdrawal and removal of nuclear weapons from Central Europe — a variation of the "atom free zone" plan of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki which has been rejected by Washington and Bonn.

Khrushchev and Macmillan reported they were "unable to agree about the juridical and political aspects of problems involved" in the Berlin crisis.

"At the same time they recognize that it was of great importance for the maintenance and consolidation of peace and security in Europe and throughout the world that these problems should be urgently settled," the communique said.

Macmillan declined at a news conference before his departure by jet plane to "go into specific details of confidential talks" with Khrushchev. But he confirmed the Central Europe pullback plan would be the subject of negotiations.

"Our first duty is to consult our French, German, and American friends," he said.

"The problem (of Central Europe) must be urgently settled. In these lines there is hope for progress."

He ended the news conference because Khrushchev was waiting and rushed off with his host to Vnukovo airport. There, in his white fur hat, and bearing a bouquet, he wished Khrushchev "all the best" in Russian as he stepped into the plane.

"God speed and au revoir," Khrushchev shouted back.

Thus ended 10 crucial days in the fast-developing Berlin crisis during which Macmillan had:

—Failed to budge Khrushchev's determination to give East Germany control of the Allied lifelines to Berlin by May 27.

—Drew agreement for a foreign ministers' conference on the subject before the deadline.

—Warned Khrushchev in "firm" terms that the West will not surrender its rights in Berlin.

—Reached a cultural agreement with the Soviets, particularly in the TV and movie fields, and arranged trade talks.

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

all of a sudden I get this call about poor little Lou dying.

"I just can't believe he's gone."

Abbott's family called a physician to treat him for shock.

Costello teamed with Abbott in 1930, after breaking into the entertainment business by the vaudeville route. The two formed one of Hollywood's most successful comedy teams, but Costello split with his partner recently and had not been active in the movies.

Costello was born in Paterson, N.J., and after working at a few odd jobs, including those of new boy, soda fountain clerk and salesman, he got a job in burlesque.

Teaming with Abbott, his first movie venture was the picture, "Caribbean Holiday." They made many films together and were among the top 10 money-making stars in the Motion Picture Hall of Fame poll from 1941 through 1944, and from 1948 through 1951.

The "Who's on First" baseball routine the two developed was one of the most famous in modern movie comedy and was played, in person, too, before Presidents of the U.S.

Costello was working in a Brooklyn burlesque house when he and Abbott got together.

They got their first big break in 1938 when they were booked into Loew's State in New York. Ted Collins saw them and auditioned them for the Kate Smith radio show.

Their rise to fame was rapid after that.

Although it wasn't generally known, Costello was a standout basketball player for many years before he got interested in show business.

In later years, Costello devoted much of his time to youth work and set up a foundation for this purpose.

Admiral Warns Of Sub Warfare

WASHINGTON—(AP)—Adm. Arleigh Burke said Tuesday a day-to-day possibility of Russian submarine warfare against the free world's ocean commerce demands constant alertness.

The chief of naval operations spoke of this possibility in an address at the Navy League's annual symposium on seapower. This year the two-day session is devoted to the subject to Anti-Submarine Warfare.

The Navy sent some of its top-ranking officials and experts on the subject to the symposium, including Rear Adm. Charles E. Weakley, executive officer for anti-submarine warfare readiness in the office of the chief of naval operations. The league is a civilian organization of Navy supporters.

Burke said that:

"We know that the employment of submarines by an enemy need not necessarily be confined to a major war. A war of naval attrition — of commerce attrition — fought almost exclusively at sea could pose a very serious problem for the free world.

"Enemy submarine action against free world shipping would not necessarily require the use of nuclear weapons. This makes the ever-present threat even more serious. It is a day-to-day possibility against which U.S. naval forces must be alert constantly, day and night, no matter where our ships sail."

The admiral also commented that to the threats of attacks on commerce there now has been added the menace posed by missile - launching submarines. This, said Burke, "brings the problem right to our homeland."

Dulles Given Atomic Gold

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Doctors gave Secretary of State John Foster Dulles an injection of radioactive gold Tuesday in a new attempt to control his abdominal cancer.

An announcement through the State Department said this treatment was decided upon by a panel of medical experts meeting at Walter Reed Hospital "to reinforce" his regular X-ray treatment.

The X-ray treatments from the Army hospital's million-volt machine will be resumed "in a few days," it was announced.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the radioactive gold was given in fluid form as an injection directly into the abdominal cavity.

9 Students Drown in Bus Plunge

TIFTON, Ga., —(UPI)— A school bus jammed with more than 80 Negroes plunged into a pond Tuesday, and authorities said at least nine were drowned.

Three children were hospitalized for effects of shock, exposure and minor injuries. The other frightened children who were pulled safely through windows of the bus were sent to their homes.

Driver Doyer Jones, 40, who had been making the bus route rounds for 23 years, said his bus hit two bumps in succession on the dirt road, causing him to lose control "unavoidably."

The bus turned over on its right side and plunged into the water. The vehicle was about two-thirds submerged.

The accident happened near the community of Brookfield, about seven miles east of Tifton.

Jones said he kicked out the window at the driver's seat mounted the overturned bus, kicked out other windows and hoisted to safety screaming children who were standing on top of other children.

"The larger ones were standing on the little small ones," Jones said. "That's what caused so much trouble. Those (the small ones) were the ones we lost."

Jones said two white men from nearby farm houses helped him lift some of the larger children through the windows. Someone reached a telephone and soon an array of emergency apparatus was put into use.

take radiation readings as it passes within 15,000 miles of the moon. But the actual course is 20,000 miles farther from the moon than planned.

Pioneer IV became America's deepest space probe less than nine hours after blast-off, when it passed the 71,300 miles traveled by the Air Force's Pioneer I lunar probe Nov. 11.

Earlier, it had surpassed the Army's first moon shoot Dec. 6, 1958, which soared 63,580 miles. Lunik went up Jan. 2, 1959.

The Juno II, a four-stage, 76-foot rocket with 150,000 pounds of thrust, shot the satellite into the skies at 24,890 miles an hour, or 305 miles an hour faster than needed to overbalance the earth's tremendous backward pull and the smaller tug of moon gravity.

It slowed down as it climbed, but the speed was calculated as ample to achieve a solar orbit. The scientists figured the artificial planet will go into an orbit slightly larger and more enlongated than the earth's path around the sun, but take about the same time — a year — for a complete orbit.

Cat Lovers Give Arthur the Bird

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Arthur Godfrey raised the dander of cat owners Tuesday by complaining to his nationwide radio audience that cats were killing song birds and quail on his farm.

Godfrey registered the protest on his morning Columbia Broadcasting System show.

He brought the matter up by announcing the American Feline Society had sent him a letter addressed "Dear Friend of Cats" and asking him to join, despite several public complaints he had made about cats dining on his quail.

"This is a canard, to begin with," Godfrey said. "I want you to know I am no friend of cats. But I've got nothing against cats at all, except I don't want to catch them wandering around in our bird covers looking for quail."

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline Society, said his telephone began ringing immediately after the show and never stopped all day. Every call, he said, was a vigorous protest against Godfrey's charge.

"Mr. Godfrey hit a sensitive nerve when he alleged that cats are destroying song birds and covies of quail on his farm," Kendell declared. "It is not so, and we have considerable statistics to disprove Mr. Godfrey's statement."

Kendell cited a scientific report made on the examination of the contents of the stomachs of 193 cats killed in highway accidents in 1955. This report showed that the cats had consumed mice, rabbits, rats, table scraps, turtles, fish, pork, grasshoppers, chickens, grass, herbs and other matter, he said, but not one single bird.

"In all probability," Kendell said, "only man kills for sport while an animal kills generally only for food or out of fear."

Kendell claimed that no cat can move fast enough to capture an adult, healthy bird. All birds have such keen vision that it would be impossible for a cat to strike one down, even from behind, he said.

Eban Resigns Israel Posts

Beach Looks To Its Past For Future

Blvd. also was developed first as a key site for hotels and commercial buildings in the 1920s. It, too, has been rapidly losing out to newer sections in the mushrooming city.

Today, though, nearly every hotel along the Biscayne strip — the McAllister, the Columbus, the Colonial, etc. — has had its face lifted, re-lifted or even veiled entirely with a new exterior in the last few years. New buildings are going up as well. And now being finished is a complete overhaul of the Everglades Hotel, Miami's largest. Says its owner, Vaughan B. Connelly, who is pouring millions into the improvements: "Without this rebuilding, this area would be rushing headlong for ruin, but with it, we'll force an upgrading throughout the region to meet our competition. The whole section will be reinvigorated."

These are just two illustrations; I could submit many more. For in 30 years, this city has gone through cycles that usually aren't covered by cities in a century or more.

First came the feverish, speculative development of the '20s — a boom killed by the land crash later in that decade.

Then came this dazzling decade of the '50s — with its new skyscraper hotels year after year, its lush nightclubs, worldwide publicity.

Now comes the third phase and rebuilding of areas settled so short a time ago — a pioneering all over again.

Miami Beach truly is a city of fantasy. Here, even time has different dimensions, and the past becomes the future under our eyes.

Headley Refuses To Resign

"constant stream" of people is urging him not to resign. His vacancy could be filled by a man picked by the new majority.

Evans, in the meantime, reported that he already has received two job offers in the wake of his surprise firing Monday.

He said he would consider neither immediately.

One reportedly is from St. Petersburg, now looking for a man to replace Ross Windom, who resigned his $23,000-a-year city manager's job Jan. 1. Evans is said to have been offered $25,000, which is what he was making here.

"I'm not going to do anything," said Evans, "until I can get in an old rocking chair, prop my feet up and rest awhile."

Losing his Miami job, he said, "was like having a big block of lead taken from my shoulders."

City commissioners can't fire Headley without formal charges, as they did Evans, because the Police Chief is not a department head. He merely heads the Police Division, which is part of the Public Safety Department.

Heading this department is supposed to be a public safety director. But this job was held by Evans, serving simultaneously as city manager.

The city charter decrees and court tests have confirmed that the police chief can be suspended by the city manager, for one of these reasons: Incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, failure to obey orders given by proper authority or for any other just and reasonable cause.

Then the charges must be aired by the city commission. And their judgment can be challenged all the way to the state supreme court.

There was talk around city hall about appointing a separate public safety director who would not double as city manager and who could tell Headley how to run his department.

But not even Mayor High was ready to comment publicly on the possibility.

City department heads considered on shaky ground because of Mayor High's sudden rise to power were still working at their jobs Tuesday. And there was less talk about head rolling.

Willard told department heads at a get acquainted meeting Tuesday afternoon that he has no changes of personnel in mind.

But he warned them against going over the head of the city manager and making direct approaches to the city commissioners about anything.

"I will be conferring continually with County Manager (O. W.) Campbell," he said, "on each municipal service that will be affected by Metro."

His first task will be to work out an orderly transfer of city traffic cases to Metro court.

Evans is scheduled to leave his rocking chair Wednesday to make a speech to Miami Rotarians, who scheduled the speech before the fateful Monday city commission meeting. He will speak on "Progress in Our City."

National Summary

Sunny mild weather across the southern half of the country produced 50 degree readings from Nevada to Kansas and 70s in Florida by noon and raised the mercury to 80 degrees at Thermal, California in mid forenoon. Most of the nation's precipitation was associated with cool air flowing across the Midwest into the Appalachians and cooling Pacific winds urged inland by high pressure off the Northwest coast.

Chilly 20 and 30 degree temperature ranges and numerous snow flurries were common through low pressure circulation extending from Canada across the Great Lakes region and a few showers drifted through the Ohio Valley. A narrow band of rain and snow stretched from New York state into Georgia and Alabama marking the cold front approaching sunny 50 and 60 degree warmth in the mid and south Atlantic states. Some rain reached into western sections of the Carolinas and Virginia by early afternoon and snow was noted in the hills as far south as Tennessee. By tomorrow cooler air will restore generally fair weather through he east and develop showers into southern Florida.

B. Arnold Straightens His Tie

. . . came to PB from Flood Control District post

'No Politics in PB,' He Says

'Country Boy' Manages Plush Resort

By ROSE ALLEGATO
Herald Staff Writer

PALM BEACH — B. (for Bartlett) Arnold is a graying country boy who once "plowed a mule many a day and picked cotton."

He is now the new town manager of this rich resort town, and he likes it, even with the tie he finds himself wearing more than not.

Born in Lost Mountain, Ga. ("it's near Atlanta."), Arnold, 61, drawls with pride, "I'm a farmer, just a country boy." In fact, his nickname was "Cracker." Now most folks call him "B."

Arnold left the sawgrass of the sprawling Flood Control District for the seaweed of Palm Beach early this year. To him, this is a Utopia.

"This town is operated without politics," he says. "It's the best managed and operated town in the U.S."

There's also a devotion among longtime town employes "that you don't find everywhere." It's catching, he says, talking like a man who had been in town hall for years instead of mere weeks.

Arnold gets $12,000 a year for running this resort town of 7,000 people. It's the same he received at the FCD, where his bailiwick covered 17 counties.

He served as general manager of FCD and also as its executive director.

He came out of the Georgia mountains in 1924 to Florida. Eventually, he dug in at Fort Pierce, where he was mayor three times and also city manager. He served on the School Board 16 years and as county manager of St. Lucie for a time.

He likes to talk of the old days back in Lost Mountain. ("It was named for a legend. A Cherokee princess got lost at that spot. The history books say so.")

Back in 1910, he was operating the telephone exchange. "I claim I had the first broadcast that was ever done," Arnold says.

The telephone exchange closed down at 9 p.m.

"I'd call all the young folks then and plug them all in. Then I'd get out my Edison phonograph — you know the one with the big horn — and play it. I had the only one in the area."

These post-9 o'clock record sessions are Arnold's claim to the title of the nation's first disk jockey — one dating back to pre-radio days.

Well-Rounded Vs. Educated

Author Wylie Takes Pot Shot At College Goals of Today

Herald Bureau

PALM BEACH—Philip Wylie stood at the podium of the Society of the Four Arts fingering his horn-rimmed glasses Tuesday and decried the "fraudulent focus on the well-rounded personality." He called it the "idiotic icon" of these days.

"Fifty-two per cent of the young people in college today believe the principal reason they are there is to develop a well-rounded personality," the vitriolic author of "Generation of Vipers" lamented.

This "burning urge" to conform has "set aside the whole meaning of education," he said.

What is the relation of the well-rounded test, starting with Shakespeare and going to:

Edgar Allen Poe — "He was a drunkard who took dope."

Isaac Newton — "He was so cantankerously anti-social that no one could bear to call on him in his later years."

Leonardo DaVinci — "His sex morals were so bad that in Fort Lauderdale he would have spent his life in prison. Or even in Palm Beach for that matter."

Philip Wylie

. . . hits conformity

If the most educated man of the 19th Century were brought back to life today, he would be an "ignoramus." James Joyce would give him the "jim jams," Wylie said. He'd be "horrified" by Ernest Hemingway and "bewildered" by William Faulkner ("I am bewildered by him too.")

Furthermore, he'd know nothing about TV "which would be an advantage." Wylie's point — education changes.

He pulled up his coat sleeve frequently glancing at his watch as he went back to an attack on conformity and the well-rounded personality "Personality is formed or deformed by blunders in the playpen or nursery . . . how silly it is in the university to think something finished essentially when you went into kindergarten can be done over in college."

Yet more than half of today's collegians are trying to do just that, he said. What do they take out of college? Isolated facts like "Troy is the place where Helen lived."

In seeking the well-rounded, America has avoided knowledge and ducked criticism, said the author who's known for his social criticisms.

"The wretched thing we call peace of mind insists the status quo must be maintained . . . nothing can be improved until it is criticized . . . in conformity, there can not be progress."

What then is an educated man?

One who must keep up with physics, math, genetics, biology, psychology. In brief, one who tries to learn the fundamentals of arts, sciencies and humanities.

"Believe me," he said, "it is not hard." With a slight bow, he was off stage.

3 Storm Planes Readied

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH — The National Hurricane Research Center which pioneered aerial research into tropical storms from this point three years ago, will move to Miami about April 20.

Acting Director R. C. Gentry, who made the announcement Tuesday, said the organization from this city will be combined with the Hurricane Forecasting Service of the Miami Weather Bureau. It will be known as "National Hurricane Central."

Gentry disclosed at the same time that the new combination operating out of Miami will be equipped with three planes fitted with highly specialized instruments, including radar, to probe hurricanes.

He quoted from an announcement by Dr. F. W. Reichelderfer, head of the U.S. Weather Bureau, as saying two of the planes would be DC6s leased from Trans-Airways.

The third plane, a B57 light bomber, will be provided by the Air Force, which made available and manned the planes used for the past three seasons in research work from this city.

Two of the planes, one DC6 and the B57, have already been made available and currently are having instruments installed. The third will be delivered in April. All three will be stationed at Miami International Airport.

Combined with the regular service of the Navy and Air Force "Hurricane Hunter" planes, the fleet is expected to set a new high in the observation of tropical storms.

Gentry quoted the weather chief as saying that although the amount of data gathered during the past three seasons in hurricane research has amazed scientists, it will require several more years to obtain the objective of the study—the gathering of complete storm data which is expected to help control hurricanes.

Murder, Larceny Charges Filed

WEST PALM BEACH — County Solicitor Charles A. Nugent Tuesday filed an information for second degree murder against Willie J. Henry for the fatal stabbing of Riley Witherspoon, Feb. 21.

He also filed two informations for grand larceny. One charges Claude R. Hughes with stealing merchandise, including two mink trimmed sweaters, from two local stores, Feb. 19. The other, against Don R. White, involves the theft of skin diving equipment from Dr. Ray Stephenson, Feb. 25.

Not Just for Kids

Have You Taken Your Polio Shots?

Herald Bureau

WEST PALM BEACH—Maybe we ought to pass out lollipops to adults too for getting their polio shots.

Youngsters stand up bravely to get their cherry-red polio shots. If they shy away — like, for instance, kick, scream, and bolt from the needle, you can sort of charm them back by foisting a lollipop (any candy will do, really) at them.

"The susceptible age group is 40 and under," said Dr. C. L. Brumbach, Palm Beach County health director.

And clearly too many adults are ignoring the vaccinations which could virtually wipe polio out of Palm Beach County, he added.

The Palm Beach County Health Department hasn't figured out a come-on for adults yet except to appeal to their good sense.

If everyone in the danger age group started their series of three shots now, Palm Beach County could rub out polio in about a year, Dr. Brumbach said.

"Next year polio would be a rarity," he added. But it is only an "if" right now.

"A neighbor's immunization will not protect you," he warned. "Unlike other diseases, polio can be transmitted by a person who has been immunized."

The health official urged more people to go to their private physicians for the vaccinations.

"Many come to the public clinics who could afford to go to their family doctor," he said. He favors the family physician who is better able to cope with reactions from the shots and who also keeps records on each patient.

In 1958, Palm Beach County had 23 polio cases of which 14 were paralytic. So far in 1959, there have been two polio cases. But the peak season is approaching.

The meeting, scheduled to begin at 9 a.m., has been shifted from the FCD headquarters here to Miami at the request of the Dade Chamber of Commerce.

Hospital Official Denies Charge

By ED PFISTER
Herald Bureau Chief

LAKE WORTH—A former Army nurse charged Tuesday she lost her job as supervisor at the Southeast Florida Tuberculosis Hospital at Lantana because she complained to authorities when a drunken patient struck her.

The charge was leveled by Mrs. Bonnie Neeham, 32, of 112 Wisconsin Ave., here, who is registered in both Florida and South Dakota as a nurse.

She said that ten days after she advised the county solicitor's office that a positively infected drunken patient had attacked and injured her, she was advised she had been demoted to head nurse with a $30 cut in pay.

She said the reason given in a letter from Margaret Smith, director of nurses, was that she lacked the "personality traits" to get along with patients.

Dr. G. H. Hames, medical director at the hospital, denied Mrs. Neeham's charges.

"That is not true," he said. Mrs. Neeham had "made an excellent head nurse," he said. "But after she was promoted to supervisor," she had difficulty in her approach to people."

The director added that "on the day that happened, the supervisor of nurses talked with her about her problem." He said, "There was no connection between the incident and the demotion."

Dr. Hames said, "Mrs. Neeham was not fired. She has not returned since she was given the position of head nurse."

But both the doctor and Assistant County Solicitor Fred R. Hope confirmed Mrs. Neeham's story that she had been attacked by a drunken patient.

The doctor said, "the patient was drunk and was removed to Tampa."

Hope said he had filed a three count information against the patient, who was identified as Cary Croswell, charging him with drunkness, possessing alcoholic beverages in a state institution and with assault and battery.

A detainer has been placed against him so he will face charges when released from locked facilities in Tampa.

Mrs. Neeham said Croswell had been brought to the hospital from the stockade in Miami with a positive case of tuberculosis. She said infected patients have no difficulty getting out of the hospital to get liquor.

"I stopped a lot of the liquor coming in," she said.

The incident which resulted in her ouster as supervisor, she charged, occurred on Feb. 17.

"The nurses aides had difficulty with the patient and called me," Mrs. Neeham said. "I tried to persuade him to go to bed, but he struck me, causing injuries that developed into an infection." She said he also struck a guard who was doubling as a switchboard operator and, "I had to call Lantana police."

She charged she had been advised when troubles arose to call Lantana police rather than Lake Worth police "so there won't be any publicity."

Dr. Hames denied that charge also. He said neither police force has any right in the hospital but "Lantana police have been very kind to us."

Prior to joining the hospital staff, Mrs. Neeham said, she was released from the Army in 1956. Thereafter she was supervisor at the Hendry County Hospital in Clewiston and more recently administrator at the Okeechobee Hospital.

Ex-Mayor Hits Sewer Plan

Herald Bureau

LAKE WORTH — Recovering from an illness that forced him to resign as mayor here, Robert T. O'Connor Tuesday unloosed a blast at the City Commission for pushing ahead with a "pre-payment" sewer plan.

The ex-mayor said the commission is "giving no consideration" to the public in proceeding with a project "residents will be paying for three years before they get it."

He said one alternative would be for residents to refuse to make the "pre-payments on the sewers they haven't got" so the case would go into the courts.

O'Connor added that he has no intention of dropping out of politics and hinted that he will be back in the middle of things within two years, possibly bidding for a county job.

Pre-Broadway Showing

Cronyns Score 'Triple Play'

Herald Staff Writer

PALM BEACH — The little man, his fights, frustrations, small rages and triumphs, have their innings this week at the Royal Poinciana Playhouse.

Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy are supported by talented artists in the presentation of three short plays. As lagniappe there is a monologue delivered by Cronyn.

Palm Beach is a guinea pig for "Triple Play." The Theater Guild and Dore Schary production is shown here prior to Broadway. British and Irish plays, their appeal is so universal that they could have been set in Delray Beach and Miami.

"I Spy," by John Mortimer details the course of true love between a private detective and a pretty waitress he was sent to spy on. Helen Seamon lends assistance to this play while Francis Compton as the lawyer and Geoffery Lumb as the aggreived husband give penetrating portrayals.

High point is the scathing dressing-down wherein Compton puts Cronyn in his place—definitely beyond the pale.

The stage is a scenic collage for this play, with lights taking the place of separate scenes or partitions.

In "Bed Time Story," by Sean O'Casey, Jessica is a bold, brash, and utterly delightful jade and Cronyn her guilt ridden partner of the evening who prays to the saints that he might get out of this scrape without being found out. Biff McGuire is the drunken friend who complicates matters.

Such is Cronyn's artistry that the denouement leaves you feeling sorry for this futile sinning little man who deserves no sympathy. The way Jessica Tandy dresses on stage is a revelation of skill and daintiness.

"Pound on Demand," is another O'Casey play, laid in a Dublin postoffice. Cronyn and McGuire need a pound of Biff's money to continue their spree. Suspense is provided by Cronyn's agony in getting Biff to stand still and sign the application.

Biff McGuire added friends to those he made when he was here two seasons ago with Gracie Fields.

The Cronyn monologue is a masterpiece. As a henpecked professor he delivers a lecture on the harmful effects of tobacco.

Sets are David Hays. The play will run all week with matinees Wednesday and Saturday.

HUSBAND and wife acting pair Hume Cronyn and Jessica Tandy star at Royal Poinciana Playhouse in Palm Beach.

Flower Shows, Science Fair on March Agenda

By EDITH E. VOSS
Herald Correspondent

AROUND MISSILE COUNTRY (Brevard County)—As this is written we can see an interesting looking calendar for the month already. The sun obliged for a short while after several days of rain so we'd say the spring season is off to a good start.

MRS. VOSS

The customary and expected flower shows and fashion shows will naturally take up several of the March days. County-wide Science Fairs and county-wide presentations of another Brevard Light Opera Association musical show will help round out an interesting calendar.

Along the gardening line (Cocoa, Titusville and Melbourne Garden Club flower shows have already been mentioned in previous columns) we noted a new idea in a little squib sent us from Melbourne. Ever hear of adopting a tree? Neither have we, but members of the South Beach Garden Club have decided to do just that to the tune of three trees to each of the 25 members.

These will be trees to be planted by the county in Spessard Holland Park on the beach. The club, with the cooperation of the South Brevard Beaches Chamber of Commerce, is also sponsoring four more picnic units in the park area.

Church to Float Up the River

I DARESAY none of us really expect to see any one walking on water within our lifetime. We'll have to be satisfied with Bible stories with this theme. If you suddenly see a church floating on the Indian River one of these days, don't think you've flipped your lid. It'll be true.

It seems there's a church building available at Fort Pierce which a group in Brevard County is considering buying. Floating the building up the river would be the most feasible way of transporting from one spot to the other.

The countywide dinner scheduled by Home Demonstration Clubs for April 1 at the Brevard Agricultural Center in Cocoa sounds like a sound method of raising funds to make a scholarship loan available to a deserving student or students each year.

Preference will naturally be given 4-H members, since these clubs are sort of sponsored by the HD clubs and all come under the guiding hand of the county agent and county HD club agent. Each HD club in the county will participate in the dinner.

The home of Mrs. William Ross, Ave. A. and Riverside Dr., Melbourne Beach, will be the setting for the annual silver tea and reception for officials of the Children's Home Society this Friday from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Pauline West and Mrs. Mayme Winter of Jacksonville will be the honor guests. The public is invited.

Who Is 'Best Dressed Woman'?

"FASHIONS ON BROADWAY," theme of the annual show sponsored by the Cocoa Junior Women's Club, will be enhanced by a musical background of organ melodies from Broadway shows this year. March 13 is the date set for the show; Cocoa High School the place.

Mrs. J. C. Wegendt and Mrs. Robert Ginn are co-chairmen. Students of the Treleven School of Dance will be seen in dance numbers during show interludes. Kay Wright will serve as fashion moderator.

Proceeds from the show, which always plays to a packed house, will be divided between three of the sponsoring club's projects: Teen Town, Civil Defense and Wuesthoff Memorial Hospital.

New angle in this year's show will be the selecting of the ten best dressed women in the Central Brevard area. Clubs have been asked to nominate a member for the coveted "best dressed" title and the ten chosen by fashion experts will be announced at the style show.

One week from today, at the regular meeting of the South Brevard Republican Womens Club, Mrs. Edith Lacey, research specialist for the South Brevard League of Women Voters, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Lacey will report on the workings of the County Health Department. Meeting will be held at 11 a.m. at the Melbourne Beach Women's Club.

LaRoches Are Wed for 50 Years

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. LaRoche of Courtenay, North Merritt Island, on their 50th wedding anniversary. Considering that the LaRoche clan was one of the first to settle in Brevard County, it is no surprise to find that this name in the Central Brevard telephone directory out-numbers the supposedly more common names such as Jones and Smith.

Adding our congratulations to those of their relatives alone would make quite a long list of well wishers. Many friends called during the day and a reception was held for the honor guests with many long-time friends calling to extend best wishes.

Science Fairs in Brevard County last year won considerable recognition. They were a fairly new innovation on the extra-curricular schedules of schools of the county. This year's fair, which will extend from March 16 to 21, will have the full cooperation of schools throughout the county.

The regional fair, to be held March 28, in the Melbourne High School gym, will show some of the best entries on the local level. Twenty-six of the 250 exhibits in the state science fair will also be from Brevard County. All local fairs will be during the evenings of March 16-19.

March 16: Riverview Elementary, Rockledge Elementary, Merritt Island Elementary and Melbourne Airport Schools. March 17: Titusville Primary and Melbourne Elementary. March 18: Cocoa Beach Elementary and Indialantic Elementary. March 19: Eau Gallie Elementary and Cocoa Junior High. Other schools will have schedules set this week.

Want to Join 'Hit the Deck'

THERE'S STILL TIME to join hands with the Brevard Light Opera Association if you're interested in participating in the forthcoming production, "Hit The Deck." Performances are set for March 20-21 in Melbourne; March 27-28 in Cocoa; and April 4 in Titusville.

If you'd like to sing in the chorus or help with stage settings, lighting, costumes or makeup, you're most welcome to contact this active group at the Eau Gallie Civic Center any Monday evening at 8:30. Otherwise phone NEwton 6-7256 in Cocoa or AL 4-3757 in Eau Gallie after 6 p.m. any day..

Chorus is practicing on such well known melodies as "Through The Years," "Sometimes I'm Happy," "Time on My Hands" and "Hallelujah."

Sounds like fun. Incidentally, for obvious reasons, the association would still like to locate some more Navy uniforms ex-service personnel may have around in moth balls. Call one of the above numbers if you can help out.

Everyone Now Says That Word

WEST PALM BEACH — There's that word word again —arboretum.

Tis time, though, Palm Beach County Commissioners knew how to pronounce it. (the same word stymied them several weeks back at a conference meeting.)

But Monday when Arbortum Island came up for discussion they knew what the word was all about. And even went along with it.

They approved, in principle, the proposal of Lake Osborne Estates Civic Association to develop Arboretum Island off Lake Osborne Blvd., into a recreational beauty spot.

Plans for the island include a picnic area, a site for the civic association's community building, a playground — and, of course, an arboretum — that's loosely, a garden of trees.

Commissioners also endorsed the planting of trees along Lake Osborne Blvd.

The projects are part of the association-sponsored program to beautify the Lake Osborne area.

Castro Raps Acquittal of 45 Batistans

HAVANA, Cuba—(AP)—Premier Fidel Castro Tuesday denounced a Santiago tribunal's acquittal of 45 airmen of mass murder charges as "a great error" and a service to ex-Dictator Fulgencio Batista.

Prosecutor Lt. Antonio Cejas already has appealed the verdict and the airmen are in jail pending a new trial to be held in a few days before another tribunal.

Castro said in a statement published by Revolucion, organ of the revolutionary government, that the prosecution has as much right of appeal as the defense "if the sentence is not just."

Demonstrators ranged through Santiago, capital of Oriente Province, shouting protests against the acquittal. The protests abated after announcement of the prosecution's appeal.

The court held the charges had not been proved. They were accused of bombing and strafing civilians as part of Batista's campaign against Castro.

The defendants claimed they deliberately dropped their bombs in open country to avoid killing civilians.

The prosecution based its case on action reports which the defendants admitted signing, but the fliers said they faked them to escape punishment by air force authorities.

Seven convicted war criminals were executed in Oriente Province Monday, bringing the unofficial total to 362.

Yanks Hide in Bolivia

Embassy Staff Flees Rioters

La PAZ, Bolivia — (AP) — The U.S. embassy staff here went into hiding Tuesday to escape demonstrations set off by a Time Magazine article that enraged Bolivians. The Bolivian government itself was harassed by a tin miners' strike.

The embassy personnel were reported to have slipped out under guard and taken refuge near the seething two-mile-high capital.

The whereabouts of the embassy staff was kept secret. The embassy phone went unanswered.

Bolivian officials and businessmen paraded late in the day past the Government Palace in a new demonstration against the Time Magazine article. The article quotes a member of the U. S. embassy as suggesting the country solve its troubles by being split up among its neighbors.

Tin miners, also a target of the article that offended Bolivia's national pride, went on strike for higher pay, paralyzing the government-owned mines, backbone of Bolivia's faltering economy. The workers walked out at the end of their 10-day deadline for the government to meet pay demands.

Capital police were out in force to head off any violence such as marked Monday's wild anti-American demonstrations. Rioters burned an American flag in front of the U.S. Embassy and stoned the building.

The new demonstration, termed a civic parade, included top officials, military leaders, veterans and businessmen. All government and private offices closed for the demonstration.

A 15-year-old boy was killed in Monday's outburst but no U.S. citizens were reported molested.

(In Washington, the State Department told the Bolivian ambassador it expects his nation "to take all possible measures to safeguard the lives" of an estimated 1,800 Americans in Bolivia. The staff of the embassy in LaPaz has moved to the outskirts of the city "for better protection by the Bolivian army," the State Department said. One official said the action was taken because of the possibility of additional rioting.)

President Hernan Siles made a special effort to stem the tide of anti-American feeling by saying that U.S. officials had denied the statements in Time that touched off Monday's outburst.

The Time article quoted an unidentified U.S. Embassy official. It said he made the following assertion as a "wisecrack":

"The only solution to Bolivia's problems is to abolish Bolivia. Let her neighbors divide up the country and the problems."

The quote in question appeared in the current hemisphere edition of Time which circulates in Latin America, but not in the U.S. edition.

Issues of Time were burned by mobs in front of the embassy as windows were broken. Offices of the U.S. Information Center were broken into and books and magazines destroyed.

The Bolivian government protested the article both in La Paz and Washington.

Jr. College Opening Due in Fall

Cocoa Bureau Chief

COCOA — Brevard's Junior College will open next fall if the Florida legislature votes operating funds, a school official said Tuesday.

Bob Hudson, chairman of the Brevard School Board, said the legislature is almost certain to provide the money because it has already voted to establish the college.

School Superintendent Woodrow Darden, who has prepared an operating budget for the college, couldn't be reached for an operating cost estimate Tuesday.

The college will be tuition free for Florida residents, but registration fees will be charged.

Selection of the temporary site will come March 10 when the school board will select a permanent site for the college.

The College will be established in Cocoa if the city improves a city-owned site on Clear Lake, Hudson said Tuesday.

Hudson's board has formally asked the Cocoa council to add 20 acres to the 40-acre site and give it frontage on the lake and on Clear Lake Rd.

But the council last Friday voted to support a privately owned 80-acre site on Merritt Island and took no action on the school board request.

Hudson said if the council does not improve the site, the school will be established in Eau Gallie or on Merritt Island.

"We'll consider both Eau Gallie and Merritt Island with Eau Gallie leading because it has the backing of the State Education Department, the board chairman said.

Hudson also said the board has already interviewed "several applicants" for the position of college president and will be ready to select the officer soon.

Opening the college would be a triumph for school officials and Kiwanis Club officers who have been working for its establishment since November 1957, shortly after the Florida legislature set up a junior college program.

Colleges already have been established at Daytona Beach, Pennsacola, Madison and Ocala under the program and fast-growing Brevard has top priority "in a second wave of colleges," Hudson said.

The top priority was won at a meeting with the State Education Department last December.

Both public schools named as temporary college sites by Hudson are now in use, but both will be replaced with new schools by next fall.

An elementary school at Sea Park south of Patrick Air Force Base will replace the Melbourne school and a clear Lake Junior High School is nearing completion in Cocoa.

Lou Costello
. . . heart attack fatal

Comedian Costello Dies at 53

BEVERLY HILLS, Calif. — Actor Lou Costello, 53, died Tuesday of a heart attack in a Beverly Hills hospital.

The veteran comedian suffered a heart attack a week ago and seemed to be improving, his manager, Eddie Sherman, said.

However, Costello suffered another attack Tuesday, which was fatal.

Sherman said Costello's wife, Ann, was visiting him and left just before he died at 6:55 p.m. Miami time.

He said the attack a week ago was followed by a blood clot.

ABBOTT

One of the first to be informed was his long-time partner in comedy and close friend, Bud Abbott.

When told of Costello's death, he sobbed and in a barely understandable voice said — "I can't talk now, call me back later please.

"I was sitting here watching re-runs of our old TV show," Abbott cried. "We were doing the 'Who's on First' bit. And I was laughing my head off. Then

Satellite's 118.852 Miles Out in Space

Pioneer Nearing Moon In Its Run for the Sun

It Breaks Record for U.S. Shots

Expected to Join 'Lunik' in Orbit

Tough to Hit Moon, 6B
Space Man Problem, 7A

WASHINGTON — (UPI) — America's gold-plated Pioneer IV satellite climbed toward a brief rendezvous with the moon Tuesday and was confidently expected to join Russia's Lunik in an orbit around the sun.

Opening a new frontier in U. S. space exploration, the pint-sized artificial planet was 118,852 miles from the earth at 5 p.m. Miami time and had far outstripped the previous two American moon probes. It was clocking 5,675 miles an hour in its race to space.

The only man-made object that had climbed higher was Russia's heavier Lunik. The Soviets said Lunik actually achieved a solar orbit and U.S. scientists generally credit the claim.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said the 13.4 pound Pioneer is on a track that will make it a satellite of the sun. Only a collision with a meteorite can stop it, they said.

The vehicle, gold-plated so the shell would act as a radio antenna, is expected to pass within 35,000 miles of the moon at 2 p.m. today. Its distance then will be 236,100 miles from the earth.

Then it is expected to continue its flight to join the 3,245-pound Lunik as a man-made planet.

President Eisenhower was quick to praise the successful team that sent Pioneer IV skyward. He sent NASA Director T. Keith Glennan "warm congratulations" for a "splendid achievement" that "marks yet another major step in scientific space exploration."

Maj. Gen. John B. Medaris, Army missile chief, followed up with a forecast that the U.S. should put the first man "Voyager" into space within 10 to 12 years. He said the Pioneer's flight will provide "more grist for the mill" in finding out how it can be done.

"This also puts us very close to being in the same league with the Russians," he said, "— if what they say about their moon shoot is true."

"Everything we put up in space now brings us nearer to the day when we will have the first man Voyager there," he said.

The Pioneer roared off the launching pad at Cape Canaveral, Fla., at 12:10 a.m. Tuesday atop a 60-ton four-stage Juno II Army rocket.

The launching went off without a hitch. But scientists noted a deviation in the course that will take the satellite farther from the moon on its outward journey than they planned.

The satellite is rigged to

Moonshot Over Miami

This dramatic photograph of Pioneer IV's flight toward the sun was taken from Homestead moments after the launching Tuesday by Dallas Espenschied, a Hartsville, Ohio, photographer. Snapped at 12:12 A.M., the photo shows 30 seconds of the rocket's life as it sped southeast toward its rendezvous in space. Stars are blurred as a result of the earth's rotation during the exposure. Espenschied made the picture with a Speed Graphic with Aero-Ektar lens wide open at f2.5. Espenschied, a member of two photo-tracking and moonwatch teams in Ohio, has photographed three satellites in flight, but this is his first shot of a launching.

New Cold Pushing Into State

A new cold front pushing into North Florida may bring showers and a bit cooler weather to Miami late today.

But the Weather Bureau said Tuesday that even if it does get chilly again tonight, it won't be bad.

The chill from a cold front that drifted over South Florida during the weekend was blown off Tuesday by south and southeasterly winds. Temperatures during the day pushed well into the 70s after Tuesday morning lows ranging from 42 at South Miami to 52 at Miami Beach.

It wasn't expected to go below 60 in the Miami area Tuesday night, and more warm temperatures were forecast for today. Forecaster Arnold Sugg said weathermen weren't sure how much the new cold front would affect Miami later in the day and tonight.

In North Florida, temperatures Tuesday morning hit a low of 34 at Ocala, then warmed up to the 70s during the day. Tonight and Thursday morning, the Weather Bureau said, temperatures might be "near the danger point" in the northern part of the state because of the new front.

Jobs Offered Evans

Headley Holds On: 'I Won't Resign'

By JOHN MORTON
AND JUANITA GREENE
Herald Staff Writers

Headley declared almost gleefully:

"I won't resign."

And neither the new city manager, Ira Willard, nor the city commission can fire him outright without formal charges, a public hearing and a court fight.

Often a target of city commissioners, Headley has held on to the top job in the city police division for 10 years.

After Monday's surprise shakeup Mayor Robert King High promised "a lot of changes in the old brass at the police department."

He said he expected Headley to resign.

"So the mayor wants to get rid of me?" asked Headley. "Well, I'll go along with him on the same thing. I would like to get rid of him."

The youthful mayor led a lone attack against Evans and Headley for more than a year. Then Monday he suddenly found support from Commissioners Otis Shiver and George Dubreuil and the trio immediately fired the city manager.

The action brought a quick verbal resignation from City Commissioner James W. High. But in Tuesday's calm following Monday's uproar there emerged doubt as to whether High's post will be vacated.

High said Tuesday he is "reconsidering" his resignation. The commission had postponed action on it until its formal meeting Wednesday.

"There is a legal question," explained High, "about the resignation I tendered Monday."

It was made verbally and High has not yet put it in writing.

At the time, Assistant City Attorney Jack Rice said no written resignation was necessary.

Later, however, Rice said there was a "vast area of difference" of opinion on a verbal resignation.

Apparently throwing the decision to the commission, Rice added, "the interpretation of Mr. High's resignation will lie with the commission."

High also asserted that a

Suit Hits Levies by Pilots Unit

CHICAGO — (UPI) — Two airline pilots filed suit Tuesday charging that the Air Line Pilots Association officials improperly assessed members to pay benefits to Capital and Eastern Air Lines pilots when they were idled last fall by strikes called by other unions.

The complaint asked that Federal District Court hold the assessments null and void, restrain union officials from fining or expelling members for non-payment, and order credited against future dues any payments that have been made under the assessments.

The suit was filed before Federal District Judge Philip L. Sullivan by James R. Eads of Sepulveda, Calif., a pilot for Trans World Airlines, and Lawrence S. Shapiro of Los Angeles, a pilot for United Air Lines.

It named as defendants Clarence N. Sayen, president of ALPA, and Don J. Smith, union treasurer.

The suit attacked two assessments. One was levied in November, 1958, to pay benefits to pilots of Capital Airlines idled from Oct. 15 to Nov. 19 by a strike called by the International Association of Machinists.

The other assessment, the complaint alleged, was levied by a mail ballot of ALPA directors in December for the benefit of Eastern Air Lines pilots out of work because of strikes called by the IAM and the Flight Engineers International Association.

New Pioneering Spirit Is Rejuvenating Old Areas

Miami Beach--Where What's Past Is Future

By SYLVIA PORTER
Financial Analyst

It's utterly unthinkable to most hep visitors to Miami Beach at the winter season peak to check into anything except the latest of hotels. Each year since World War II, as new palaces have sprung up literally out of the water, the affluent tourists have leapfrogged northward with the hotels on this most fabulous resort beach in the world. To be fashionable, one has had to be seen in the latest version of a French chateau or Arab harem.

But while by Miami Beach yardsticks the newest is automatically the best, this year on my annual trek to the sun I rebelled.

Back to the comparatively "unfashionable" southern area and into one of Miami Beach's oldest hotels I went. And there, to my delight, I not only rediscovered the charm, the dignity and spaciousness of an "ancient" Miami Beach inn; I also stumbled on an exciting new tale of pioneering.

Coming directly from Louisville, Ky., where businessmen are quibbling over the need for sprucing up structures dating from the 19th century, I still find it hard to believe that in Miami Beach, any luxury hotel over five years is no longer considered in the luxury class, any building over 15 years is "old," any in the 20-30 year group, no matter how grand, is an "antique!"

Nevertheless, this is a fact, as awesome as any other aspect about this place. Although the Roney Plaza, the hotel in which I stayed, would be a showplace in most other resort cities, here it is out of date.

Although it has been filled to capacity during this season of spectacularly good weather, rumors persist that the Roney will be significantly expanded so it can fight the brutal competition from the new marvels. And therein lies the story.

For what is starting to happen here is the rediscovery and rejuvenation of the original Miami Beach. Even as the fickle, fad-conscious tourists concentrate on new areas, astute financiers and businessmen are concentrating on revolutionizing the old.

In Miami Beach, the South Beach was developed first as the prime property in the 1920s but while its location is as superb as ever, the area has been deteriorating rapidly. Now, though, the largest construction venture in the entire state of Florida — a 1,600-room, 500-unit apartment building — is going up in this section, and business leaders believe this will spark a restoration of the South Shore as a region for permanent residents.

Says Nathan S. Gumenick, builder of the Southgate: "We will revive the South Beach with apartments in every income range. We'll prove you don't have to be a millionaire to live on the Beach, and by so doing we'll strengthen the Beach's entire economy.

In Miami proper, Biscayne

Bob Hope Confident

NEW YORK — (AP) — Bob Hope entered Columbia-Presbyterian Medical Center Tuesday for examination of his ailing left eye, remarking confidently: "I'm going to be all right."

Dr. Algernon Reese, clinical professor of ophthalmology at the Columbia University College of Physicians and Surgeons, was waiting to examine Hope.

An aide said Hope still was able to play golf, one of his favorite sports, but was limited to nine holes three times a week.

The aide said Hope suffered an eye hemorrhage shortly after his return from an overseas tour of armed forces bases Dec. 29. The aide said the only sign of this hemorrhage was a slight dizziness which comes on with any sudden movement.

Macmillan Flies Home With 'Half a Loaf'

No Berlin Accord But Soviet Pledges Early Negotiations

MOSCOW —(UPI)— Prime Minister Harold Macmillan and Premier Nikita S. Khrushchev ended Anglo-Soviet summit talks Tuesday with complete disagreement on Berlin but with a Russian promise of early negotiations to save "peace and security" in the world.

Macmillan flew home in a cheerful mood and announced on his arrival in London he hopes to visit Washington shortly to report to President Eisenhower and "concert our policies." He will go first to Bonn and Paris next week.

The British and Russian statesmen agreed in a final communique signed in the Kremlin that they would look into a partial East-West troop withdrawal and removal of nuclear weapons from Central Europe — a variation of the "atom free zone" plan of Polish Foreign Minister Adam Rapacki which has been rejected by Washington and Bonn.

Khrushchev and Macmillan reported they were "unable to agree about the juridical and political aspects of problems involved" in the Berlin crisis.

"At the same time they recognize that it was of great importance for the maintenance and consolidation of peace and security in Europe and throughout the world that these problems should be urgently settled," the communique said.

Macmillan declined at a news conference before his departure by jet plane to "go into specific details of confidential talks" with Khrushchev. But he confirmed the Central Europe pullback plan would be the subject of negotiations.

"Our first duty is to consult our French, German, and American friends," he said.

"The problem (of Central Europe) must be urgently settled. In these lines there is hope for progress."

He ended the news conference because Khrushchev was waiting and rushed off with his host to Vnukovo airport. There, in his white fur hat, and bearing a bouquet, he wished Khrushchev "all the best" in Russian as he stepped into the plane.

"God speed and au revoir," Khrushchev shouted back.

Thus ended 10 crucial days in the fast-developing Berlin crisis during which Macmillan had:

—Failed to budge Khrushchev's determination to give East Germany control of the Allied lifelines to Berlin by May 27.

—Drew agreement for a foreign ministers' conference on the subject before the deadline.

—Warned Khrushchev in "firm" terms that the West will not surrender its rights in Berlin.

—Reached a cultural agreement with the Soviets, particularly in the TV and movie fields, and arranged trade talks.

all of a sudden I get this call about poor little Lou dying.

"I just can't believe he's gone."

Abbott's family called a physician to treat him for shock.

Costello teamed with Abbott in 1930, after breaking into the entertainment business by the vaudeville route. The two formed one of Hollywood's most successful comedy teams, but Costello split with his partner recently and had not been active in the movies.

Costello was born in Paterson, N.J., and after working at a few odd jobs, including those of new boy, soda fountain clerk and salesman, he got a job in burlesque.

Teaming with Abbott, his first movie venture was the picture, "Caribbean Holiday." They made many films together and were among the top 10 money-making stars in the Motion Picture Hall of Fame poll from 1941 through 1944, and from 1948 through 1951.

The "Who's on First" baseball routine the two developed was one of the most famous in modern movie comedy and was played in person, too, before Presidents of the U.S.

Costello was working in a Brooklyn burlesque house when he and Abbott got together.

They got their first big break in 1938 when they were booked into Loew's State in New York. Ted Collins saw them and auditioned them for the Kate Smith radio show.

Their rise to fame was rapid after that.

Although it wasn't generally known, Costello was a standout basketball player for many years before he got interested in show business.

In later years, Costello devoted much of his time to youth work and set up a foundation for this purpose.

Admiral Warns Of Sub Warfare

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Adm. Arleigh Burke said Tuesday a day-to-day possibility of Russian submarine warfare against the free world's ocean commerce demands constant alertness.

The chief of naval operations spoke of this possibility in an address at the Navy League's annual symposium on seapower. This year the two-day session is devoted to the subject to Anti-Submarine Warfare.

The Navy sent some of its top-ranking officials and experts on the subject to the symposium, including Rear Adm. Charles E. Weakley, executive officer for anti-submarine warfare readiness in the office of the chief of naval operations. The league is a civilian organization of Navy supporters.

Burke said that:

"We know that the employment of submarines by an enemy need not necessarily be confined to a major war. A war of naval attrition — of commerce attrition — fought almost exclusively at sea could pose a very serious problem for the free world.

"Enemy submarine action against free world shipping would not necessarily require the use of nuclear weapons. This makes the ever-present threat even more serious. It is a day-to-day possibility against which U.S. naval forces must be alert constantly, day and night, no matter where our ships sail."

The admiral also commented that to the threats of attacks on commerce there now has been added the menace posed by missile - launching submarines. This, said Burke, "brings the problem right to our homeland."

9 Students Drown in Bus Plunge

TIFTON, Ga., —(UPI)— A school bus jammed with more than 80 Negroes plunged into a pond Tuesday, and authorities said at least nine were drowned.

Three children were hospitalized for effects of shock, exposure and minor injuries. The other frightened children who were pulled safely through windows of the bus were sent to their homes.

Driver Doyer Jones, 40, who had been making the bus route rounds for 23 years, said his bus hit two bumps in succession on the dirt road, causing him to lose control "unavoidably."

The bus turned over on its right side and plunged into the water. The vehicle was about two-thirds submerged.

The accident happened near the community of Brookfield, about seven miles east of Tifton.

Jones said he kicked out the window at the driver's seat mounted the overturned bus, kicked out other windows and hoisted to safety screaming children who were standing on top of other children.

"The larger ones were standing on the little small ones," Jones said. "That's what caused so much trouble. Those (the small ones) were the ones we lost."

Jones said two white men from nearby farm houses helped him lift some of the larger children through the windows. Someone reached a telephone and soon an array of emergency apparatus was put into use.

Dulles Given Atomic Gold

WASHINGTON —(AP)— Doctors gave Secretary of State John Foster Dulles an injection of radioactive gold Tuesday in a new attempt to control his abdominal cancer.

An announcement through the State Department said this treatment was decided upon by a panel of medical experts meeting at Walter Reed Hospital "to reinforce" his regular X-ray treatment.

The X-ray treatments from the Army hospital's million-volt machine will be resumed "in a few days," it was announced.

State Department Press Officer Lincoln White said the radioactive gold was given in fluid form as an injection directly into the abdominal cavity.

take radiation readings as it passes within 15,000 miles of the moon. But the actual course is 20,000 miles farther from the moon than planned.

Pioneer IV became America's deepest space probe less than nine hours after blast-off, when it passed the 71,300 miles traveled by the Air Force's Pioneer I lunar probe Nov. 11.

Earlier, it had surpassed the Army's first moon shoot Dec. 6, 1958, which soared 63,580 miles. Lunik went up Jan. 2, 1959.

The Juno II, a four-stage, 76-foot rocket with 150,000 pounds of thrust, shot the satellite into the skies at 24,890 miles an hour, or 305 miles an hour faster than needed to overbalance the earth's tremendous backward pull and the smaller tug of moon gravity.

It slowed down as it climbed, but the speed was calculated as ample to achieve a solar orbit. The scientists figured the artificial planet will go into an orbit slightly larger and more elongated than the earth's path around the sun, but take about the same time — a year — for a complete orbit.

Cliburn Improving

NEW YORK — (UPI) — Pianist Van Cliburn continued to show improvement Tuesday in a hospital where he underwent surgery for an infected finger.

Cat Lovers Give Arthur the Bird

NEW YORK—(UPI)—Arthur Godfrey raised the dander of cat owners Tuesday by complaining to his nationwide radio audience that cats were killing song birds and quail on his farm.

He brought the matter up by announcing the American Feline Society had sent him a letter addressed "Dear Friend of Cats" and asking him to join, despite several public complaints he had made about cats dining on his quail.

"This is a canard, to begin with," Godfrey said. "I want you to know I am no friend of cats. But I've got nothing against cats at all, except I don't want to catch them wandering around in our bird covers looking for quail."

Robert Lothar Kendell, president of the American Feline Society, said his telephone began ringing immediately after the show and never stopped all day. Every call, he said, was a vigorous protest against Godfrey's charge.

"Mr. Godfrey hit a sensitive nerve when he alleged that cats are destroying song birds and covies of quail on his farm," Kendell declared. "It is not so, and we have considerable statistics to disprove Mr. Godfrey's statement."

Kendell cited a scientific report made on the examination of the contents of the stomachs of 193 cats killed in highway accidents in 1955. This report showed that the cats had consumed mice, rabbits, rats, table scraps, turtles, fish, pork, grasshoppers, chickens, grass, herbs and other matter, he said, but not one single bird.

"In all probability," Kendell said, "only man kills for sport while an animal kills generally only for food or out of fear."

Kendell claimed that no cat can move fast enough to capture an adult, healthy bird. All birds have such keen vision that it would be impossible for a cat to strike one down, even from behind, he said.

Beach Looks To Its Past For Future

Blvd. also was developed first as a key site for hotels and commercial buildings in the 1920s. It, too, has been rapidly losing out to newer sections in the mushrooming city.

Today, though, nearly every hotel along the Biscayne strip — the McAllister, the Columbus, the Colonial, etc. — has had its face lifted, re-lifted or even veiled entirely with a new exterior in the last few years. New buildings are going up as well. And now being finished is a complete overhaul of the Everglades Hotel, Miami's largest. Says its owner, Vaughan B. Connelly, who is pouring millions into the improvements: "Without this rebuilding, this area would be rushing headlong for ruin, but with it, we'll force an upgrading throughout the region to meet our competition. The whole section will be reinvigorated."

These are just two illustrations; I could submit many more. For in 30 years, this city has gone through cycles that usually aren't covered by cities in a century or more.

First came the feverish, speculative development of the '20s — a boom killed by the land crash later in that decade.

Then came this dazzling decade of the '50s — with its new skyscraper hotels year after year, its lush nightclubs, worldwide publicity.

Now comes the third phase and rebuilding of areas settled so short a time ago — a pioneering all over again.

Miami Beach truly is a city of fantasy. Here, even time has different dimensions, and the past becomes the future under our eyes.

Headley Refuses To Resign

"constant stream" of people is urging him not to resign. His vacancy could be filled by a man picked by the new majority.

Evans, in the meantime, reported that he already has received two job offers in the wake of his surprise firing Monday.

He said he would consider neither immediately.

One reportedly is from St. Petersburg, now looking for a man to replace Ross Windom, who resigned his $23,000-a-year city manager's job Jan. 1. Evans is said to have been offered $25,000, which is what he was making here.

"I'm not going to do anything," said Evans, "until I can get in an old rocking chair, prop my feet up and rest awhile."

Losing his Miami job, he said, "was like having a big block of lead taken from my shoulders."

City commissioners can't fire Headley without formal charges, as they did Evans, because the Police Chief is not a department head. He merely heads the Police Division, which is part of the Public Safety Department.

Heading this department is supposed to be a public safety director. But this job was held by Evans, serving simultaneously as city manager.

The city charter decrees and court tests have confirmed that the police chief can be suspended by the city manager, for one of these reasons: Incompetence, neglect of duty, immorality, drunkenness, failure to obey orders given by proper authority or for any other just and reasonable cause.

Then the charges must be aired by the city commission. And their judgment can be challenged all the way to the state supreme court.

There was talk around city hall about appointing a separate public safety director who would not double as city manager and who could tell Headley how to run his department.

But not even Mayor High was ready to comment publicly on the possibility.

City department heads considered on shaky ground because of Mayor High's sudden rise to power were still working at their jobs Tuesday. And there was less talk about head rolling.

Willard told department heads at a get acquainted meeting Tuesday afternoon that he has no changes of personnel in mind.

But he warned them against going over the head of the city manager and making direct approaches to the city commissioners about anything.

"I will be conferring continually with County Manager (O. W.) Campbell," he said, "on each municipal service that will be affected by Metro."

His first task will be to work out an orderly transfer of city traffic cases to Metro court.

Evans is scheduled to leave his rocking chair Wednesday to make a speech to Miami Rotarians, who scheduled the speech before the fateful Monday city commission meeting. He will speak on "Progress in Our City."

National Summary

Sunny mild weather across the southern half of the country produced 50 degree readings from Nevada to Kansas and 70s in Florida by noon and raised the mercury to 80 degrees at Thermal, California in mid forenoon. Most of the nation's precipitation was associated with cool air flowing across the Midwest into the Appalachians and cooling Pacific winds urged inland by high pressure off the Northwest coast.

Chilly 20 and 30 degree temperature ranges and numerous snow flurries were common through low pressure circulation extending from Canada across the Great Lakes region and a few showers drifted through the Ohio Valley. A narrow band of rain and snow stretched from New York state into Georgia and Alabama marking the cold front approaching sunny 50 and 60 degree warmth in the mid and south Atlantic states. Some rain reached into western sections of the Carolinas and Virginia by early afternoon and snow was noted in the hills as far south as Tennessee. By tomorrow cooler air will restore generally fair weather through he east and develop showers into southern Florida.

City to Start Accepting Gas Applications

By ANNE WILDER
Herald Correspondent

FORT PIERCE—The city will start accepting applications for natural gas service next week, according to City Manager J. Floyd Glisson, and the issue of natural gas is already producing some heat.

Fort Pierce has a contract with Houston Texas Gas & Oil to purchase natural gas when the pipeline is completed, and will open bids for a gas distribution system March 16.

Opposing the city's plans to distribute natural gas is an organization of local bottled-gas dealers, known as the Liquid Petroleum Gas Dealers Assn. of Fort Pierce. Earl Kicliter, speaking for the bottled gas dealers, says that the organization is not against natural gas, but is against its distribution by the city.

Objection to city distribution were brought up before the city commission. However the commission felt that the report of the engineering firm of Reynolds, Smith and Hill, retained by the city to study the situation, indicated that the most benefits would accrue from city distribution.

Mayor James L. Howe commented that the city distribution plans will depend solely on the number of residents who sign up for the natural gas. Since the plans have been announced, the city has been receiving numerous requests from residents who wanted to get their names in for the natural gas service.

The city manager said that on Monday, a crew of five women will be canvassing the city to take applications. Applications can also be made at the city utility billing department, or residents may write in for application blanks. The city is charging a $5 fee. If the application is made before the revenue certificate issue is sold to finance the gas system, the city will pipe the gas into the homes and modify present gas appliances for the $5 fee.

Kicliter said he honestly doubted if as many home owners will convert to natural gas as the city expects.

Committee On Zoning Overruled

By ZOLA SWARTHOUT
Herald Correspondent

STUART — The Martin County Planning Board has voted 3-1 to overrule the Jensen Beach Zoning Committee's refusal to grant a building permit to Johnny Hendry for a contractor's storage building on the Jensen Cutoff Rd.

The Jensen Beach member of the county board, Edwin A. Whitman, voted "no" on the controversial issue, with three members, Chairman Arnold Bauer of Stuart, Al Seigfried of Hobe Sound, and Horace D'Ambrogio of Palm City voting "yes."

The fifth member of the board, Thomas Gartland, of Port Mayaca was absent when the vote was taken.

The county planning board took the position that the zoning committee "abused its discretionary powers as provided by law."

Stuart Attorney Thomas Thurlow, representing Hendry, reminded the group that the zoning committee ignored a clause in its regulations, defining properties in commercial two areas, which permits the committee at its discretion to add other businesses not spelled out.

The local zoning committee, headed by Warner B. Tilton, based its argument for refusing the permit on three points: plans for the building indicated that the approved set back would cause a road bottleneck; that the building was not in keeping with C-2 provisions, and that a public hearing should be held on the issue.

The zoning board made two changes in granting the permit. The narrow end of the building, which is 50 by 30 feet, must face the Jensen Cutoff Rd., with a set back of 30 feet on both streets, and all building materials must be stored inside the building.

The building is to be occupied by the Crestcliff Construction Co., which gave a general delivery, Jensen Beach address. Two men, Gino Tomasi and William Yurillon are said to be the owners.

Tilton told the planning board, "We're trying to upgrade our community, what is the use of having local zoning committees if you overrule our decisions?"

The matter will be presented to the Martin County Commission March 10 for final action. The commission will sit as a zoning board of appeals.

College Concert At Stuart

200 School Safety Patrol Members Help Their Classmates Stay Alive

By THELMA FROSCHER
Herald Correspondent

VERO BEACH — The Police Benevolent Association of Vero Beach shows its appreciation in a number of ways for the students who are working with the police to help their schoolmates cross busy streets safely.

With the American Automobile Association the PBA sponsors the Vero Beach School Safety Patrol, its members from six schools totalling more than 200.

At the end of each school year the PBA takes the safety patrol members on a three-day camping trip about Florida. Many of the foremost tourist attractions in the state are on the itinerary.

Every May the police organization sends two of the patrol members to the national school safety patrol gathering in Washington.

Three of the student patrolmen, Lloyd Crosby, Ronny Meeks and Jimmy Capone, high school Seniors, have become regular members of the police force. They are the only students allowed to direct motor traffic.

The others hold the school children on the sidewalk at busy corners until a police officer stops traffic for them.

Sgt. Ted Arendas, president of the PBA, is directly in charge of the safety patrol and Police Chief Wallace Gossett works with them.

They meet monthly at the Youth Center or Vero Beach High School auditorium for instructions. The senior patrol at the high school is for boys only, but the junior patrols at the elementary schools include some girls.

Literature they use for instruction is supplied by the AAA as well as their belts and badges.

Sale of Securities Could Be Spread Or Made at Once

VERO BEACH—Approval of the issuance of $750,000 in bonds for the Indian River Memorial Hospital was given Tuesday by the Indian River County Commission.

The hospital board had requested approval for the entire $750,000 bond issue approved by county freeholders last November.

Commissioner Donald MacDonald recalled that in a discussion of the bond issue before the election, hospital representatives said that probably only about one-third of the bonds would be issued the first year.

County Attorney Sherman Smith explained that although the hospital board had asked that the entire $750,000 bond issue be authorized, it was his understanding that it may schedule the sale of them over a number of years as the hospital is expanded.

However, there also is the possibility that the hospital board may find it more economical to sell all the bonds and do all the expansion work at once, the county attorney said.

Paul Goodridge, hospital board chairman, said Tuesday afternoon that the rate of bond sale will not be determined until a fiscal agent and hospital authorities discuss it with the county commissioners.

The county commissioners accepted the invitation of the hospital board for a joint meeting Monday at 2 p.m.

Red Cross Called 'Best Investment'

Herald Service

STUART — "The best investment in Martin County," said Mrs. Dorothea Routa, executive secretary of the Red Cross Chapter, on the eve of the chapter's annual drive for funds, "is your American Red Cross."

Lacking public swimming pools to teach children to swim, the local chapter spends more than $500 a year for the upkeep of several private pools, the use of which are given by civic minded residents.

Saving of lives daily, comes under the free first aid classes, given by the Red Cross, as well as the payment of instructors' salaries and textbooks.

The chapter house, gives service to all, regardless of race, creed or color. The building is used by the Blood Bank, the Stuart Beautification Council and Martin Memorial Hospital Auxiliary for a meeting place.

The local chapter spent nearly $350 in aiding victims of the Hotel Commodore fire. The chapter, also this year obtained $800 for a serviceman's mother who needed a cancer operation.

One of the most active units in the local Red Cross Chapter is the production group. Layettes, wheel chair cushions, hot water bottle covers, kit bags, pajamas, robes are made for Veteran's Administration and military hospitals. About $500 a year is spent on materials.

A mother and three small children were given a place to live. A widow and five children needed aid immediately. The roof of their house leaked so badly that rugs were put over beds to keep them dry. The Red Cross had a new roof put on the house and assisted the family in other ways.

Generally, when a serviceman is allowed to come home on emergency leave, the Red Cross confirms this necessity.

This past week, Mrs. Routa said, the local chapter arranged for four emergency leaves. During the same period, health and welfare reports on family conditions were sent to four servicemen. One veteran was sent to a Veteran's Hospital and his transportation was paid.

A Red Cross Nursing Class was taught this past year at the Stuart Training School. There will be a class starting after Easter at the Martin County High School.

The local chapter is on the job seven days a week, 24 hours a day.

Stakeout Nets Suspect In Holdups

TAMPA — (UPI) — FBI agents arrested Thorne Kling, 41, Tuesday on a warrant charging him in a $25,000 Los Angeles robbery. The FBI in Los Angeles said Kling was involved last year in a plot to kidnap the wife of crooner Bing Crosby.

Lee O. Teague, agent in charge of the Miami FBI office, said agents were waiting for Kling when he returned to his trailer home early Tuesday.

Teague said Kling is also wanted in connection with a series of other robberies in the Los Angeles area.

Teague said the FBI received a tip Kling might be living in a trailer park and conducted a canvas of all trailer parks in the area. Agents received a description of a man living in one of the parks which matched Kling's.

Indian River Park Land Will Be Made Available

VERO BEACH — Land for a county park along the Sebastian River at Roseland will be made available soon, the Indian River County Commission was told Tuesday.

Commissioner Donald MacDonald reported that A. R. Smith, chief of the disposal branch of the General Service Department of the federal government, had told him that 75 acres of the former Roseland Airport property may be purchased by the county for half its appraised value.

The appraisal will be sent here from Atlanta and the commission will have 30 days in which to buy all or part of the property, MacDonald said.

The commissioners asked the federal government for the park site several months ago, but some of them said Tuesday they hadn't known it would cost the county anything.

Citrus Law Next Week?

LAKELAND —(UPI)— Former Congressman J. Hardin Peterson Sr., counsel for interests seeking a new law to permit color to be added to oranges, said Tuesday there is a good chance the legislation will be passed next week.

The bill was held up in the House Monday when the House Commerce Committee, which has approved the measure, reported out the original version of the bill, not the one amended by the Senate.

But Peterson said Tuesday it appeared that supporters of the bill would be successful at getting the Rules Committee to permit the bill to come up for a vote in the house next week.

Flower Shows, Science Fair on March Agenda

By EDITH E. VOSS
Herald Correspondent

AROUND MISSILE COUNTRY (Brevard County)— As this is written we can see an interesting looking calendar for the month already. The sun obliged for a short while after several days of rain so we'd say the spring season is off to a good start.

MRS. VOSS

The customary and expected flower shows and fashion shows will naturally take up several of the March days. County-wide Science Fairs and county-wide presentations of another Brevard Light Opera Association musical show will help round out an interesting calendar.

Along the gardening line (Cocoa, Titusville and Melbourne Garden Club flower shows have already been mentioned in previous columns) we noted a new idea in a little squib sent us from Melbourne. Ever hear of adopting a tree? Neither have we, but members of the South Beach Garden Club have decided to do just that to the tune of three trees to each of the 25 members.

These will be trees to be planted by the county in Spessard Holland Park on the beach. The club, with the cooperation of the South Brevard Beaches Chamber of Commerce, is also sponsoring four more picnic units in the park area.

Church to Float Up the River

I DARESAY none of us really expect to see any one walking on water within our lifetime. We'll have to be satisfied with Bible stories with this theme. If you suddenly see a church floating on the Indian River one of these days, don't think you've flipped your lid. It'll be true.

It seems there's a church building available at Fort Pierce which a group in Brevard County is considering buying. Floating the building up the river would be the most feasible way of transporting from one spot to the other.

The countywide dinner scheduled by Home Demonstration Clubs for April 1 at the Brevard Agricultural Center in Cocoa sounds like a sound method of raising funds to make a scholarship loan available to a deserving student or students each year.

Preference will naturally be given 4-H members, since these clubs are sort of sponsored by the HD clubs and all come under the guiding hand of the county agent and county HD club agent. Each HD club in the county will participate in the dinner.

The home of Mrs. William Ross, Ave. A. and Riverside Dr., Melbourne Beach, will be the setting for the annual silver tea and reception for officials of the Children's Home Society this Friday from 2 to 4:30 p.m. Mrs. Pauline West and Mrs. Mayme Winter of Jacksonville will be the honor guests. The public is invited.

Who Is 'Best Dressed Woman'?

"FASHIONS ON BROADWAY," theme of the annual show sponsored by the Cocoa Junior Women's Club, will be enhanced by a musical background of organ melodies from Broadway shows this year. March 13 is the date set for the show; Cocoa High School the place.

Mrs. J. C. Wegendt and Mrs. Robert Ginn are co-chairmen. Students of the Treleven School of Dance will be seen in dance numbers during show interludes. Kay Wright will serve as fashion moderator.

Proceeds from the show, which always plays to a packed house, will be divided between three of the sponsoring club's projects: Teen Town, Civil Defense and Wuesthoff Memorial Hospital.

New angle in this year's show will be the selecting of the ten best dressed women in the Central Brevard area. Clubs have been asked to nominate a member for the coveted "best dressed" title and the ten chosen by fashion experts will be announced at the style show.

One week from today, at the regular meeting of the South Brevard Republican Womens Club, Mrs. Edith Lacey, research specialist for the South Brevard League of Women Voters, will be guest speaker. Mrs. Lacey will report on the workings of the County Health Department. Meeting will be held at 11 a.m. at the Melbourne Beach Women's Club.

LaRoches Are Wed for 50 Years

CONGRATULATIONS to Mr. and Mrs. Edward W. LaRoche of Courtenay, North Merritt Island, on their 50th wedding anniversary. Considering that the LaRoche clan was one of the first to settle in Brevard County, it is no surprise to find that this name in the Central Brevard telephone directory out-numbers the supposedly more common names such as Jones and Smith.

Adding our congratulations to those of their relatives alone would make quite a long list of well wishers. Many friends called during the day and a reception was held for the honor guests with many long-time friends calling to extend best wishes.

Science Fairs in Brevard County last year won considerable recognition. They were a fairly new innovation on the extra-curricular schedules of schools of the county. This year's fair, which will extend from March 16 to 21, will have the full cooperation of schools throughout the county.

The regional fair, to be held March 28, in the Melbourne High School gym, will show some of the best entries on the local level. Twenty-six of the 250 exhibits in the state science fair will also be from Brevard County. All local fairs will be during the evenings of March 16-19.

March 16: Riverview Elementary, Rockledge Elementary. Merritt Island Elementary and Melbourne Airport Schools. March 17: Titusville Primary and Melbourne Elementary. March 18: Cocoa Beach Elementary and Indialantic Elementary. March 19: Eau Gallie Elementary and Cocoa Junior High. Other schools will have schedules set this week.

Want to Join 'Hit the Deck'

THERE'S STILL TIME to join hands with the Brevard Light Opera Association if you're interested in participating in the forthcoming production, "Hit The Deck." Performances are set for March 20-21 in Melbourne; March 27-28 in Cocoa; and April 4 in Titusville.

If you'd like to sing in the chorus or help with stage settings, lighting, costumes or makeup, you're most welcome to contact this active group at the Eau Gallie Civic Center any Monday evening at 8:30. Otherwise phone NEwton 6-7256 in Cocoa or AL 4-3757 in Eau Gallie after 6 p.m. any day..

Chorus is practicing on such well known melodies as "Through The Years," "Sometimes I'm Happy," "Time on My Hands" and "Hallelujah."

Sounds like fun. Incidentally, for obvious reasons, the association would still like to locate some more Navy uniforms ex-service personnel may have around in moth balls. Call one of the above numbers if you can help out.

Cotton Talks Slated in PB

CHARLOTTE, N. C. — (UPI) — Three U. S. Senators will go before the American Cotton Manufacturers Institute at the organization's annual convention in Palm Beach, Fla., March 19-21.

The main speakers March 21 will be Sen. Norris Cotton (R., N.M.) and Sen. Strom Thurmond (D., S.C.), both members of a Senate subcommittee which investigated the problems of the textile industry in relation to government policy and action.

Sen. B. Everett Jordan (D., N. C.) will introduce both speakers. Jordan is a textile manufacturer.

DAV Sponsors Essay Contest

WEST PALM BEACH — "What My Country Means to Me" is the topic for the first high school essay contest sponsored by Palm Beach chapter of Disabled American Veterans, Commander Elliott S. Kravetz said Monday.

He said the contest is open to all high school students. Entries must be in before the end of the school term. A $25 prize will be awarded the winner.

Everyone Now Says That Word

WEST PALM BEACH — There's that word word again —arboretum.

Tis time, though, Palm Beach County Commissioners knew how to pronounce it. (the same word stymied them several weeks back at a conference meeting.)

But Monday when Arbortum Island came up for discussion they knew what the word was all about. And even went along with it.

They approved, in principle, the proposal of Lake Osborne Estates Civic Association to develop Arboretum Island off Lake Osborne Blvd., into a recreational beauty spot.

Plans for the island include a picnic area, a site for the civic association's community building, a playground — and, of course, an arboretum — that's loosely, a garden of trees.

Commissioners also endorsed the planting of trees along Lake Osborne Blvd.

The projects are part of the association-sponsored program to beautify the Lake Osborne area.

WEST PALM BEACH — One of two suspects in recent holdups here is in custody at St. Augustine and another is known and may be picked up soon, Lt. W. M. Barnes said Monday.

U. S. Senator Paul H. Douglas

In an exclusive article published in the current issue of Coronet Magazine, Senator Douglas writes: "I think a Catholic can be elected President of the United States. Given the right man, a Catholic should be elected President."

Senator Douglas backs up his controversial statement with figures, and cites successful campaigns and records-in-office of Catholics in the Senate, state governments, Supreme Court.
